Bandits Steal Airplane But Can't Fly, Soon Crash

By JACK LAMONT,
Airport Manager, Larder Lake.

LARDER LAKE, July 20—In a way, it's too bad I couldn't get the Fox Moth started. Those punks might have been sorry.

I was getting the ship ready for flight when they came running along the dock. They wanted to leave in a hurry. One of them kept waving a gun in the air and shouting.

Anybody who's ever seen a Fox Moth knows the pilot has a definite upper hand in cases like this. He sits up in a glass-covered cockpit above and ahead of the passenger compartment.

My only thought in the excitement was to get the Moth started and into the air. By then, I'd be in command. At low level, I might even have ben able to bale out. The fellows inside wouldn't get vary far.

Shown How To Fly

When the engine wouldn't kick over, I showed the two how to fly an Aeronca. It was probably the world's shortest flying lesson. They wouldn't wait for anything. They wanted to get away.

I twirled the propellor for them and the plane moved away from the dock. I had to jump to get free. My clothes aren't dry yet.

TheAeronca moved out into the lake and taxied toward a large peninsula at the west end of the bay. In a few minutes, it was out of sight.

At any time, I expected to see the plane take to the air. I was prepared to close my eyes. I doubt if either of the two had ever been up before. And they were going to do their own flying.

The way they acted, I'm sure they'd been taking dope. They were nervous, jumpy, ready to shoot anybody who tried to cross them.

Don't Shoot

One of the fellows kept telling his buddy: "Don't shoot. Don't get itchy fingers."

It was obvious they didn't know much about airplanes. When they were getting out of the Moth, one of them shoved his foot through the wing.

I flew over the Aeronca's wreckage a few minutes ago. It was pretty hard to tell from the air how bad it was. The floats appeared to be badly damaged. The fuselage didn't look too bad.

Before nightfall, we hope to have the machine beached. We won't bother about salvage until tomorrow.

But right now, I'm going to get some dry trousers. I was an awfully damp swim.

Can't Find Boys

ST. CATHARINES, July 20.—(CP). —Police Tuesday night made an unsuccessful search along the nearby Port Dalhousie shoreline for two unidentified boys seen during the day clinging to an overturned boat in Lake Ontario. Three people told police they saw the pair drifting on the lake. Two airplanes and a power cruiser searched the area. Earlier, Mr. and Mrs. McFarlane of St. Catharines, said they attempted to reach the capsized craft but high wayes caused their motor to stall. They were towed back by police.

Earl Engaged

LONDON, July 20—(AP)—The Earl of Harewood, handsome young nephew of the King and one of Britain's most eligible bachelors, has become engaged to a 22-year-old London pianist, Miss Marion Stein. He is 26. The Earl of Harewood, 11th in line of succession to the throne, must have consent of the King and Privy Council, which advises the King on certain affairs, before he can legally marry. This dates back to a law of 1772. The London star, however, quoted friends of the couple as saying the King already has given his consent.

Driver Faces Manslaughter Charge

QUEBEC, July 20 (CP) — Already in jail under a 30-day sentence for driving while under the influence of alcohol, a Lavollette county engineer faced possible additional charges today because a youth he struck with his auto died in hospital.

Jean Fiset, 22, of suburban Cap Sante, died late Tuesday, less than 24 hours after he was struck by an auto that caused considerable damage to property.

Driver of the auto was Roger Ouellet, 46, of St. Roch de Makinac, who pleaded guilty Tuesday to the drunk-driving charge. In addition to the maximum penalty of 30 days, Ouellet's driving permit was suspended for three years.

Ouellet was arrested a few minutes after his auto tore wildly through the suburb of Cap Sante, struck a fire hydrant, tore off a front-door balcony, smashed a telegraph pole, struck young Fiset and finally came to a halt after overturning three times.

Still Big Unfilled Demand For Cars, City Dealers Say Two Months To Year Lag

New car shortages persist in Peterborough four years after the war ended and car makers turned to civilian production, although some dealers see an end to the scarcity in the next few months. General Motors products seem to be lagging most, while Studebaker buyers have to wait only about six weeks to two months.

There have been no Cadillacs or Buicks imported to Canada since restrictions were imposed November, 1947. The big Pontiac is in about the same position. Chevrolets and some Oldsmobiles which are manufactured in Oshawa are still not available enough to supply the demand, but it was thought by the end of the year increased production and a tightening market would combine to relieve the pressure to some extent.

Year and Half Lag

The local Plymouth and Chrysler dealer is about a year or a year and a half behind in his orders, but he feels that probably only about one third of those orders are from people who are waiting specifically for his products. The rest are orders from people who have orders with practically every other dealer in town. But there are signs the overwhelming demand is beginning to break and there is a feeling the dealers are 'going to catch up quick."

Restrictions Hit

Dealers of cars such as Nash, Hudson, and Packards which are all completely imported from the United States have been hardest hit by the 1947 restrictions. The Nash dealer has received only three 1949 Nash cars. A few Hudsons have been supplied to the local dealer, but the supply of Packards has been less.

Relief is in sight for the Nash dealer. The company is building a plant in Toronto which is expected to start production this winter. It has been producing parts for the past two years.

Dodge and DeSoto orders have been lagging behind, but the dealer is hopeful of catching up this fall.

Luxury Styles Scarce

Luxury styles have been very scarce. Station wagons and convertibles are mostly imported and the quota set on these lines has been small. Car manufacturers and dealers have been more concerned with supplying the demand for standard models for the average families.

The same holds true for the big cars, Cadillacs, Lincolns and to some extent Packards. But even here there are signs they might become available. The local Lincoln dealer said he thought he would have two Lincolns this fall, but he has not been taking any orders for the past two years because there had been no chance of filling them.

Ford was hitting peak production until the strike in May. However, Fords, Monarchs, Meteors and Mercurys are expected to come through at an increasing rate in the fall. The plants will be shutting down for the annual inventory, but after that it is expected there will be little delay in catching up with the demand.

Whitby Council Critical Of Provincials

An Ontario provincial police request that two additional police be added to the two-man detachment in East Whitby County has touched off a barrage of criticism in that municipality.

Leading the attack is Councillor Norman Down. At a council meeting he moved that the provincials be ousted from the township when the present agreement with the OPP expires at the end of the year.

He felt a four-man force was unnecessary and charged that "in some instances a child of 10 could do a better job."

"Nobody knows where they are or where they can be found," he said. "That is the kind of situation which exists now.

Wants Own Police

"The have made it plain they want a four-man force. If that is the case I move we go on our own and take steps to dig up someone to lead our own police force for us. I think there are a lot of square shooters standing six feet tall and weighing 200 pounds in this township without our having to go to Orillia for them."

Reeve William Noble complained that the "remote control" system of policing was unsatisfactory and that it was necessary to contact Aurora or Toronto if a resident was to be sure of receiving police assistance.

"I hear complaints from citizens that they can't get in touch with the police in the township," stated the Reeve. "There are others who have complained that speeding is not curbed in some cases . . ."

Pickering Example

The Reeve pointed to the example of Pickering Twp. which is not patrolled by the OPP but has its own police force of two men, both well acquainted with the district.

"I hear they are doing a good job," he said.

Reeve Noble explained why he thought four men were requested: three would be on an eight-hour shift and the fourth would replace the others on their days off.

"The OPP is trying to line themselves up with the Police Association of the province who are seeking an eight-hour day," he said.

Council approved a resolution that Commissioner W. H. Stringer send a representative to discuss police protection in the township. The lone dissenter was Councillor Down who went on record as opposing any new agreement with the OPP when the present agreement expires.

Unsightly Lot Weeds Galore

The city itself is right up in the front row of eligibles for the most disreputable looking piece of propety in the municipality. It is the $3,500 lot at the southwest corner of Monaghan and Romaine streets. Burdocks, thistles, sweet clover, sapling Manitoba maples, heaps of gravel someday to be levelled perhaps, but hardly as foundation for a neighborhood green spot, comprise a neglected patch of realty owned by the people as a whole. The explanation is that everybody is too busy on more pressing community work this summer, and simply hasn't time to waste on a mere grooming job. Meanwhile and without any effort, the property has quickly acquired a rating as a "horrible example" about which the Horticultural Society has been respectfully silent.

THE GHOSTLY ELVIRA played by Joy Lafleur in Noel Coward's Blithe Spirit is the most attractive spirit you're likely to see this side of the great beyond. Her harrassed husband Charles is played by John Primm who has appeared in all four of the Peterborough Summer Theatre productions.

Five Carloads of Italians Pass Through Peterborough

D.P.'s are still arriving, but the several hundred Italians, all but a few of them men, who leaned out the train windows Tuesday afternoon and stood in the sun along the tracks as the train took a breather in Peterborough, could not have been regular D.P.'s. They could more properly be termed immigrants. One of Italy's present problems is that she has too many mouths to feed and a large surplus of labour. So Italians are emigrating to France, to South America, and obviously to Canada.

This was a shipload of them, who arrived in Halifax from Italy on Sunday aboard the Vulcania, so one of the men said with gestures and a few words of English. He said that they were going to Hamilton to work on farms.

There are no farms in Hamilton itself; he may have meant the Niagara district, although it is rather late in the season to be hiring new farm help. There are steel plants in Hamilton, however, and a couple of the men knew that. One in a confidential tone even said that he hoped to work in the steel mill there. Language difficulties prevented finding out whether the hope was general. A trainman said that they all were going to work a year on farms.

National Employment Service officials at Hamilton when queried by Canadian Press denied that five train coaches of Italians were coming to Hamilton. They said that there was no need for farm help. Of the two steel plants, Dolfasco were not hiring anybody, and Stelco preferred Anglo-Saxons. Wherever the Italians were going, they were heading towards Toronto, and, they said, to Hamilton, and there was a host of them, even if some of the five coaches had other foreigners in them.

Five Coaches

The Italians came into Peterborough CPR station in five rather old and very hot day coaches attached to the end of the regular 5:35 (DST) train from Montreal, which arrived Tuesday afternoon three-quarters of an hour late. It stopped for 20 minutes or so, loading freight, and many of the Italians got down along the track —their cars did not come right into the station—to stretch their legs.

The reporter spoke to one man, who understood no English and had but one English phrase: "I speak no English." Did the Italian speak French? No, but he hailed another fellow who was supposed to be able to do so. This man's English turned out to be better than his French. By this time, a matter of seconds, the reporter was surrounded by thirty eager Italians.

They explained with gestures, a word of English and forty of Italian, that they were tired, having sat up a couple of days in the coaches. They liked the sun and were disconsolate Monday because it rained. All beamed and looked as if they really did enjoy the brilliant afternoon which reminded them of home. They came from Naples and other southern cities, but judging from the fairer appearance of some, there were men from northern regions too. One young fellow looked as if he might have belonged in the Italian Alps. He wore green breeches.

Varied Appearance

Not all appeared to be husky sons of the soil or even laborers. There was a wide variety of dress. Some wore jackets and ties, others coarse trousers and jerseys and open shirts. Most seemed to be between 20 and 30 years old.

When the reporter mentioned that he had been in Italy, they were delighted. When he mentioned "Roma" (Rome) the chorus around him murmured "Ah." When he said "Firenza" (Florence) the chorus swelled; when he mentioned "Livorpo" (Leghorn) there was almost an organ response.

Treasured Card

One man then opened his pocket book and exhibited a treasured card. It said that the bearer Signor X had been of personal and valued assistance to His Majesty's and Allied forces during the war, and that his services were hereby gratefully appreciated. At the bottom there was a printed signature of the Commander-in-Chief. The name was Alexander.

The Italian finger pointed to the signature proudly. The reporter attempted to explain that Field Marshal Alexander was in Canada and very like the King. This apparently settled an argument which had been going on for days, for the holder rapidly explained to the throng the gist of the reporter's words and beamed and nodded at them as if to say "I told you so." Certainly he was proud of his card, and put it back in his pocket-book reverently.

The train showed signs of moving. The Italians went back on board, the reporter said "Arrivederci" (the Italian au revoir), and the men responded "'derci." Thus did five car loads of Italians pass through Peterborough, full of hope and buoyant gaiety

CUT DOWN TREES

The Parks Dept. has cut down three dead trees — two silver maples on McDonnel St. and one elm in Confederation Park. Workmen are busy pruning the dead wood out of the trees and trimming them.

Rambling Reporter

JET FISHERMAN

One of the better fish stories of the year concerns a Chemong cottager who has been getting his quota by slightly unorthodox methods. While the rest of the fishermen troll slowly around the lake, this man hooks his trolling motor on a heavy punt and opens her up. In this way he makes several circuits of the lake while the others sit and watch him. The funny part of it all is that, proceeding in this jet-fashion trolling, he gets as many fish as any of the rest.

BUS TO SHANGRI-LA . . . .

In the early hours of this morning, a huge bus was seen coming across Hunter St. bridge, empty except for the driver. Either the destination had not yet been decided, or the man in charge felt that citizens should know at all times where the vehicle was going. At any rate, the slot above the windshield was not filled with the name of the far-distant city. Instead, the sign, in large letters, read simply "NOWHERE." It is to be hoped he got there.

Grassland Day A Success In Dollar Terms

Wilson Gemmell reported a balance of $151.13 at the final meeting of Grassland Day committee Tuesday night.

Total receipts were $750, and expenditures $598.92, and it was undrstood tht all accounts were received. G. A. Gillespie, chairman, said that comments from many sources were complimentary to the Grassland project and its promoters, indicating that it was generally regarded as a fine success.

Thanks of the committee are being written to F. W. Rowland, of Smith, on whose farm the Grassland demonstration was held; to M. Andrews of Central Smith Creamery for his co-operation; James Young of the neighboring farm home; to Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, and various representatives of the department and OAC; provincial police, and to the district office of the Department of Highways, and others.

The surplus of $150 will be retained as a nest egg for some other agricultural project.

Mr. Rowland's bill was only for $25, covering the cost of temporarily removing fences and several other small items of expenses. The members of the committee were unanimous in their appreciation of the assistance received from Mr. Rowland. Th grassland machines baled for him a ton or more of hay that went into the barn in prime condition.

Eavesdropping

Overheard in the Chamber of Commerce office on George St. Tuesday was the following conversation:

"Can you tell me how I get a driver's license please?"

"Take this form home, read it and fill it in."

"But I can't read."

"Well-er-just take it home."

Planning of Peterborough's future city hall took most of the members of the council to Toronto this morning to visit the architects, Marrani and Morris. They were accompanied by Jas. Hamilton and G. Harry Thompson, members of that special committee in charge of the preliminaries of designing the building, allotting space and other details.

Brantford council is spending $3,200 on radio communication equipment for apparatus of its fire department. It will include a transmitting station and three communicating units and will be used in ambulance service and on fire trucks. Apparently the city operates a municipal ambulance service earning $200 to $300 a month.

No Polio Cases Reported In Peterborough

No cases of poliomyelitis have been reported this summer in the city, and there have been no suspects. To date the rural district has also been free although one suspect was held for about a week in a Toronto hospital.

The lone suspect was a male patient in Lakefield. He was taken to Riverdale Isolation Hospital, Toronto about five weeks ago, for further examination and was later discharged.

Precautions Commended

Dr. R. A. Kelly, Peterborough MOH, endorses the list of precautions issued by the Canadian Foundation for Poliomyelitis as the best means of cutting the risk to a minimum.

1. Avoid crowds and places where close contact with other persons is likely.

2. Avoid over-fatigue caused by too active play or exercise or irregular hours.

3. Avoid swimming in polluted water; use only beaches or public pools declared safe by local health authorities.

4. Avoid sudden chilling, remove wet shoes and clothing at once and keep extra blankets and heavier clothing handy for sudden weather changes.

5. Observe personal cleanliness; keep food tightly covered and safe from flies or other insects; garbage should be tightly covered awaiting disposal or burning.

This fifth point is emphasized by Dr. Kelly.

"Concentrate on flies," he says. "Keep them down to a minimum. Swat them whenever you see them, or better still, do away with refuse dumps where they breed."

Endemic Elsewhere

Some parts of Ontario are fearing a serious epidemic of polio this year. In London last week seven victims were brought to hospital within 12 hours; deaths have occurred at both Wingham and Oshawa; and other cases were reported at Oshawa, Kingston and Galt.

The incidence of polio this year is slightly below that of last year for a comparable period, according to Dr. J. T. Phair, Deputy Minister of Health. Sixty-one cases have been reported in the province to date and this compares with 63 in 1948. There was also one more death at this time last year.

"No, there have been neither actual cases nor suspects in Peterborough," Dr. Kelly told the Examiner today.

Then he bridged the gap between science and superstition with two small words.

"Touch wood," he said.

After 21 Years As CDS Big Store To Be 'Eaton's' Name Change Canada-Wide

The T. Eaton Co. is coming to Peterborough. And retail goods bearing the label of Canada's largest departmental chain will be on sale Thursday morning. Customers who walk into the large, modern premises of CDS Thursday will find the old name missing and that of the T. Eaton Co., Peterborough Branch, substituted. A similar transformation will be made in the other 21 CDS stores in Ontario as well as those outside the province.

To many local shoppers the change in name will eliminate confusion as they generally referred to it as "Eaton's" in any case.

Herbert Jamison, manager of the Peterborough branch, said CDS was now joining the parent organization because improvements had brought it up to the T. Eaton standard. The move was being made to keep pace with the increased patronage of the public and because there had been a corresponding improvement on the building and stock.

Has Come Of Age

"We are now 21 years of age," he said, "and are now large enough to join the parent company. We both hope and expect to give better service and increase our business with the people of Peterborough."

While CDS has had a branch in the city since 1928 it was not on the present site until November 1932.

Turnbull Store

The T. Eaton Co. on February 11, 1928, purchased the Turnbull department store on the northwest corner of George and Simcoe Sts., the present location of Zeller's Ltd. In May of the same year it bought 22 stores in various municipalities throughout Ontario. One of them was the Cressman Building, on the George St. site now occupied by Ed. Riley and the Agnew-Surpass Shoe Store.

Both stores operated until November 1932—the first under the name of TECO and the second CDS.

The new branch on the Charlotte and George corner was opened to shoppers in November, 1932, after the old building owned by the Taylor Estate was torn down. A modern, attractive and well-equipped building was put in its place.

1946 Addition

Next move in the growth of the business was three years ago when the Capital Grill, immediately to the south, was acquired. It was joined to the larger building and a modern appliance shop was opened. A well-stocked record library is also located in that section.

This year the management tried another novel idea. It started an outdoor display of certain goods on the lot immediately north of the Grand Hotel. Washing machines, boats, motors, and sporting goods generally, are all offered for sale there.

Mr. Jamison is of the opinion that this outdoor department is the first of its kind attempted by a store similar to the one he manages.

Manager Since 1933

Known among his business colleagues as a hard worker and efficient manager, Mr. Jamison has held his present position since coming here from North Bay in 1933. He succeeded William Butcher, now a CDS manager at St. Catharines, and Jack Hall.

Under his guidance the store has expanded in physical size as well as sales and volume. The has quadrupled to more than 100, roster of permanent employees plus extra help. He will remain as manager now that the branch has reached its majority and joins the long list of T. Eaton stores in Canada.

May Do Without Sidewalks For Ten Years

The legal committee of the council lacked a quorum for its Tuesday afternoon meeting, possibly because it was called on Monday, providing short notice for some of the members.

The chairman, Ald. Adam Sands and Mayor Swanston spent half an hour or more discussing several matters of possible interest to the council.

Mayor Swanston expressed an opinion that new subdivision streets might dispense with sidewalks for the next ten years or so, until the city catches up with all the work of putting in services, and repair work elsewhere that has been deferred for nearly a decade in the older sections.

Street Paving

Paving of subdivision streets, with the widening of lawns, would eliminate sidewalks in those areas where traffic is only for the requirement of the residents of the neighborhood. Brookdale subdivision was mentioned as an example of residential area in which the idea might be applied as an experiment.

Mayor Swanston pointed to the west side of Monaghan Road south from Charlotte St. which has been enhanced by deeper lawn frontage and left without a sidewalk.

Hazard For Children

Ald. Sands commented that most of the new subdivision residents were young married people with children.

Although street traffic is light in those areas, parents would feel that they had more protection for their children if there were sidewalks to keep them off the paved roads.

The discussion was only casual, relating to the amount of work the council is trying to get done this year in laying new streets and generally providing services for many new houses.

Guilty Of Theft

LINDSAY, July 20—(CP)—Two Oshawa youths, Ray Wood, 17, and Herbert Duffell, 18, pleaded guilty today to charges of stealing a blanket from the parked car of Leo Hamlin of Oakwood, seven miles west of here. The pair were picked up by Provincial Police from Whitby and returned here where they were placed on two years suspended sentence by Magistrate W. R. Philp of Peterborough.

NOTICE

Owing to the death of Mr. Arthur Hill, John Hill Wholesale will be closed Thursday, July 21st.

DOROTHY DIX

Babies Sluggard's Alibi Make Good Disorder Excuse

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married for three years and have a sweet baby girl. Even before the baby came my wife and I quarreled over her slovenly way of looking after the house and untidiness. Still, then she would make an effort to clean up for a while, but now she just lets everything go and uses the baby for an abili. I am able to afford one servant for her. What can I do?—SALESMAN.

ANSWER: If a woman is just naturally trifling and lazy and slovenly, she is incurable. She will always love her ease better than anything else on earth and no consideration of her family's comfort will galvanize her into action. The only thing that a man cursed with that kind of wife can do is to make enough money to hire a good maid who will make him a comfortable home in which to live.

There are some faults in a wife that a husband can correct if he goes about it with tact and firmness, but he wastes his time trying to reform a lazy one. There is nothing in her to which he can appeal. She has no sense of duty, or else she would realize that she isn't playing fair in not being a good housekeeper. She has no sense of pride, or else she would be ashamed to go sloppy and untidily dressed and to keep a house that loks like a pigsty. Hence the man with such a wife must either get rid of her or make up his mind to endure her as she is. He can never change her.

As for your wife making an alibi of the baby, that's a common feminine practice. Thousands of women use their children as a standing excuse for everything they do and leave undone.

Plenty of women simply slump after the first baby is born. They let themselves go untidy. They never read any more. They give up their music or their painting or whatever accomplishments they had. They drop out of their old clubs and associations and get dull and unattractive and lose all their old graces and charms.

And the excuse they offer for it is the baby. They make a smoke screen of the poor little mite in the cradle behind which they hide their indolence and general lack of pep and ambition. Also this supermother devotion saves their faces because it sounds grand and noble to them to be devoting themselves to their children.

But in reality, it is only a subterfuge. It is a lazy woman hiding behind the baby's pinafore, because any woman who wants to find time to take care of her children and do everything else she desires to do. As is witnessed by the myriads of women who are model mothers and housewives and yet frequent beauty shops and belong to clubs and play golf and help run the communities in which they live.

But as a standing excuse there is nothing equal to a baby.—DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX: What do you think about the married woman who makes a personal friend out of another woman's husband and make him handsome presents, but makes no effort to be friendly with his wife- Naturally the wife objects, displays jealousy, which results in her husband lying about the gifts he receives. What should the wife do?—JANE.

ANSWER: I think a married woman who tries to take another woman's husband away from her commits one of the most cruel and dastardly crimes in the world, for she is ruthlessly breaking up a home just to gratify her own vanity and to get a thrill out of the flirtation.

But a woman can't have too much confidence in her charms if she feels that she has to woo a man with expensive gifts. Evidently your husband is not in love with her for her own sake, but he puts himself in a very contemptible position when he becomes a sort of male golddigger.

The only thing you can do is to sit tight and to hide your jealousy. You will get nowhere by making scenes and reproaching him with his affair, but you might shame him out of it by making him see what a ridiculous position he is putting himself in if you would laugh and point out his presents to your friends and make a few wisecracks about them.—DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 26 years old and my husband is 27. We were secretly married in December. I have learned that he is running around with women of bad character. He justifies himself in this by saying that it is his right. I have been raised in a Puritan home with very rigid ideas about marriage and divorce and find it difficult to believe that all men are untrue to their wives, as my husband says they are. I am thinking of getting a divorce, as there is no home or children for us to break up. I am making my own living. Please advise me—DISAPPOINTED.

ANSWER: It is not true that all men are unfaithful to their wives. There are plenty of husbands who are just as true to their wives as their wives are to them. Perhaps every man who really loves his wife is loyal to her. Certainly a husband of a few months' standing cares very little for his wife if he has already begun to roam.

Jesuit To Address Kiwanis About 'Salute To Canada'

Father F. J. Lynch, S.J., rector of the Jesuit Seminary, Toronto, and chairman of the "Salute to Canada" pageant being presented at the Martyrs' Shrine, near Midland, July 27 to 31, will be the guest speaker at a meeting being held in the Empress Hotel, at noon Thursday under the auspices of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club.

Father Lynch, who has been invited to address the luncheon meeting by Ralph Standish, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club, will undoubtedly speak about the "Salute To Canada" pageant.

This pageant, designed to honor the memory of Jesuit missionaries who were martyred three hundred years ago, will be a colorful, musical spectacle, with a cast of 500 participating.

Canadian Talent

The pageant has been written and will be produced by Father Daniel A. Lord of St. Louis, Missouri, but Canadian talent only is being used. The majority of the cast of 500 will be drawn from townspeople from Midland, Barrie, Orillia, Penetang and other points not far distant from the Martyrs' Shrine.

Theme of the pageant is "out of the ashes of a seemingly conquered nation of Huronia arose our glorious Canada." The pageant will be presented on four stages at various levels on a country hillside in a natural outdoor amphitheatre.

Special trains and buses are being run from many provincial points to the Martyrs' Shrine for this historical pageant. Information regarding the spectacle can be obtained from the Martyrs' Shrine at Midland or from the Jesuit Seminary, 403 Wellington St. W. in Toronto.

3-Man Council Governs Yukon

DAWSON, Y.T., July 20 (CP) A three-man elective legislative council to govern 207,076 miles of sprawling northern territory will be elected July 25 in the Yukon.

The governing angle is limited but there still remains a lot of work to be done by the compact body. The Governor-General-in-Council or the Department of Mines and Resources actually control major issues.

The three main districts in the Yukon territories — Dawson, Whitehorse and Mayo—serve as electoral districts.

One candidate already has been re-elected by acclamation and the Dawson district where the council sits looms as the toughest election battle with three candidates entered.

No one is running against veteran miner Ernest J. Crop who has represented Mayo district for years.

July 25 is the best date for elections in a country that stays ice-locked long after most of the rest of Canada basks in summer temperatures.

Strict election procedure prevails with persons eligible to vote having lived 12 months in the territory and at least one month in the district where they vote. There are'nt any voter's lists but the poll clerk knows most of the district residents.

Overheated Food Said Possible Cancer Source

By WILLIAM BOSS.

LONDON, July 20 (CP)—Overheated foodstuffs are being investigated as a possible source of cancer, the British Empire Cancer Campaign has announced.

Tabling its annual report, the Society, of which the King is patron and Viscount Hailsham, chairman, noted that malignant tumors have been induced in mice fed with emulsions of cottonseed oil previously heated to 350 degrees centigrade.

"A study of the temperatures reached during various types of cooking procedures showed that in open frying, temperatures above 320 degrees centigrade may be concerned," said the report.

Normal frying temperatures for deep fat frying were given as 250 degrees "whereas the temperature of fats in the open frying pan frequently exceeds 320 degrees."

The document reviews cancer research throughout the Commonwealth, and besides various Canadian provincial reports includes one from the National Cancer Institute of Canada.

In its first report to the co-ordinating organization, the NCIC disclosed the establishment in Ottawa of a Canadian central tumor registry under Dr. Desmond Magner, Pathology Professor at the University of Ottawa.

He was working underneath a car in the garage when a second car owned by Herb Lindsay drove in, hiting the car on which Johnston was working and causing it to fall on him.

OBITUARIES

MISS MYRTLE ANNA SHAVER

Miss Myrtle Anna Shaver of 317 Pearl Ave., died in hospital on Tuesday following a lengthy illness She was born in Newboro, Ont., daughter of the late John W. Shaver and Anna Brady, and before coming to the city nine months ago, lived in Ogdensburg, N.Y.

She leaves one sister, Mrs. J. W. Geraghty of Peterborough. Her brother, Morley Shaver, former city treasurer for many years, predeceased her.

Miss Shaver was public health nurse for St. Lawrence County, N.Y., and was a graduate of Mercy Hospital in Watertown. While living there she attended St. Peter's Cathedral.

Funeral will be on Friday from the Anglesly Funeral Home to St. Peter's Cathedral, where Requiem Mass will be said at 9 a.m. Burial will be at St. Peter's cemetery

PETER GEORGE DINESEN

Peter George Dinesen, 68, of 257 Carlisle Ave., died today at his residence following a lingering illness. He was born in Denmark, son of the late Whilamena and Jens Dinesen, and came to Peterborough from his native country 26 years ago. He was employed by the Western Clock Company.

He leaves his wife, the former Gertrude Laut, and four sons, Viggo of Haileybury, Eric, Walter and Kaj of Peterborough. There are two sisters living in Sweden and Denmark, respectively, and 12 grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at the Comstock Funeral Home and arrangements will be announced later.

Jalopies Used For Boats, Not Highways

Grandfather's new car of 1920 is now the main factor in the latest fad of Peterborough youths. Steering wheels, motors and other usable parts of the elderly cars, some now on the road and others long laid up, are being used or will be used in their home-made cabin cruisers.

For the past couple of years around the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School the boy with the open touring car of long ago was a pal of all. Now the fun of a breezy ride has worn off, broken parts causing more trouble than fun.

There are only about five jalopies in Peterborough. None of these is souped up for faster driving by the youths. Two of the models are nearly in perfect running order as they have made trips to Toronto, Haliburton, several trips to Lindsay and Port Hope. On the trip to Haliburton the only trouble to be encountered by the Model T boys was one flat tire. Two models made the trip.

No Complaints

Police Chief John Thompson said Tuesday that no complaints have been received about the older types of cars. What cars are on the road, he said, have been checked or are subject to a stiff check on brakes, steering apparatus, lights, horns and other parts to ensure safety to all while the car is on the road.

In Toronto the police have found it necessary to stage a drive against jalopies owned by youths. In ten days they took 46 cars from the road because they had mechanical defects making them unroadworthy. Other cities in Ontario report no trouble by youth-owned jalopies.

One owner of a jalopie said: "When our car, if you pardon the expression, has travelled further in the last month than my father's. We've had no trouble than couldn't be fixed with a screwdriver and a piece of wire. "Dad's car needed the battery charged, a new fuel pipe and the door handles fixed."

Retired Farmer Dies At Age 91

NEWTONVILLE, July 20 (ENS) Robert Henry Brown, well-known retired farmer, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. Stevens, here on Tuesday after an illness of nine weeks, at the age of 91. Mr. Brown was born in Alnwick Township, near Roseneath, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, and had been engaged in farming in this district all his life. He retired from active work about 20 years ago and had been living here with his daughter for the past eight years.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret Ann Brown, one daughter, Mrs. W. Stevens (Mary) of Newtonville; three sons, Alex J. Brown, 267 McDonnel St., Peterborough; Ray of Roseneath, and Cephas of Cobourg; one brother George of Toronto, and one sister, Mrs. Emma Loughin, Kansas City, Missouri. Also surviving are seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Mr. Brown and his wife celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary in October, 1947.

The deceased was a member of the United Church of Canada.

Funeral will be held from the home of his son, Ray Brown, at Roseneath on Thursday afternoon, hour not yet set, with interment in Merrils cemetery. The remains are resting at the home of Ray Brown.

Burial Thursday Arthur Hill

Funeral services for Arthur Allen Hill of 514 Monaghan Rd., who died suddenly on Monday, will be held Thursday at 2.30 p.m. at the Comstock Funeral Home. The Rev. W. A. Smellie of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church will officiate, and burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

An autopsy performed by Coroner Dr. Herbert Young resulted in the conclusion that Mr. Hill came to his death as a result of a fall in the bathroom of his home. Death occurred in hospital.

Mr. Hill was in the wholesale confectionery and tobacco business.

McCarthy Funeral

The funeral for William McCarthy, Asphodel township farmer who died suddenly at his home Friday, was attended by many of his friends on Monday. Requiem mass was held in Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church by Rev. J. J. Garney who also conducted the graveside service in Mount Carmel Cemetery.

Pall-bearers were Daniel Noonan, John Jenkinson Sr., Timothy and Bartholmew Crowley, John Jenkinson Jr., and David Walsh.

Uranium Booklet Becoming A Best-Seller

OTTAWA, July 20 (CP) —It's not "Forever Amber," but considering its technical nature, the "Prospector's Guide for Uranium and Torium Minerals in Canada" rates an A for popularity.

The Department of Mines and Resources disclosed today that about 7,000 copies of the brown-covered, 41 page booklet have been distributed since the first printing last year.

By scientific standards that would make it a best-seller except that it's not sold. The government sends it on request to anyone who needs it.

Most of the copies have gone to companies and private prospectors in Canada and the United States who are interested in joining the growing hunt for uranium. The number of copies and the surprising demand for them is an indication of how the search for the precious mineral has caught the fancy of Canadians.

The Dominion government threw uranium prospecting open to private interests in December, 1947 and since then more and more prospectors armed with Geiger counters have joined the search. Experts have described the finds as the most promising known in the world.

Tells Him All

The guide tells the prospector what he must know before he sets out to look for uranium. It tells him there are five minerals which supply the bulk of the world's uranium. Pitchblende is "the richest and most important." Other sources are: carnotite, Tyuyamunite, autunite, and tobernite. These are seldom found in quantity.

The guide gives instructions on how to handle and care for the Geiger counter, the most important instrument in uranium-prospecting. It reacts to radio-activity signalling the presence of the hunted material.

There is no government control in the exploratory stage and it is only after a commercially valuable find of uranium is made that the explorer must advise the Federal government. Otherwise, all he needs is a prospecting licence from the province.

Octogenarian Woman Buried At Lakefield

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Sara Duff, 84, was held today at the home of her son, Clare Chittick of Lakefield. The Rev. W. R. Archer of Lakefield United Church officiated and pall-bearers were Irwin, Clare, Robert and Jack Chittick, Thomas Hawthorne and Oswald Boyce. Burial was at Lakefield Cemetery.

Mrs. Duff died on Monday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. G. Rutherford, Riverside Dr., Peterborough, following a lengthy illness. She was born in Smith Township, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Waram. She was married twice and both husbands are deceased; her first husband was John Chittick and the other, Robert Duff. Mrs. Duff lived in the Lakefield district a lifetime.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. G. Rutherford (Bertha) of this city and two sons, Irwin Chittick of Smith Township and Clare Chittick of Lakefield. There are three grandchildren, Robert and Jack Chittick and Mrs. Doris Payne of Dummer Township, and three great-grandchildren, Barbara Marie and Perry John Chittick, and David Payne.

Mrs. Duff was a lifelong member of Lakefield United Church.

Brother of Belleville Girl Says Rich Uncle Eccentric

TORONTO, July 20—Robert Mulligan, an eccentric old New York furniture maker Tuesday night was identified as the rich uncle who left a fortune to his unseen niece, Mrs. Grace McGuire, of Belleville.

Though Mrs. McGuire had declined to name her benefactor ever since word of her $1,250,000 inheritance leaked out, her father and brother said Mulligan, killed in a highway accident while visiting near North Bay last fall, was "definitely the man."

Elderly Arthur Lalonde, father of the heiress, was overjoyed at the news of his daughter's good fortune. He said he had met Mulligan, a brother-in-law, several times since he moved away from Ontario more than 50 years ago to make his fortune.

Hope It's True

"I was sure happy for her," Mr. Lalonde said in a telephone conversation from his home in Cache Bay, Ont. "Think I'll drop her a line and tell her so . . I hope it's true."

Felix Lalonde, a 40-year-old Toronto gas house worker and brother of Mrs. McGuire was first to identify Mulligan.

He said Mulligan, who made his fortune making furniture in the U.S., was a bit eccentric, apparently deciding to leave his money to Mrs. McGuire because she was a youngest child, rather than divide his wealth among a score of nephews and nieces.

Mrs. McGuire said Monday she had never met her aged uncle. Her brother, on the other hand, claims he's the only one of the large batch of nephews and nieces who had met him. That had been several years ago, he said, at a Mulligan family reunion near Ottawa.

Big Ben 90 Years Old Has Stopped Only Once

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, July 20—(CP)—On the first strike of Big Ben—acurate to within one second—millions of Londoners check their watches every day. Millions at home and abroad listen for Ben's sullen boom on the radio. Every time they adjust their watches to this sound, men pay tribute to the most famous, most powerful, most accurate clock in the world.

Big Ben was 90 years old this summer, yet only once in that 90 years has he failed because of a mechanical fault. That was in 1944 when the pendulum suspension spring broke. Otherwise Ben's record is unblemished.

Only war damage he received was in 1941 when an anti-aircraft shell struck the tower, but did not stop the clock.

It was in 1859, after 15 years of controversy and mishap, that the great clock went into service in the Houses of Parliament. A name for the great bell, weighing 13½ tons, was the subject of a long debate. It ended when Sir Benjamin Hall, one of the largest men in the House, sat down with a thud.

A thunder of applause settled the bell's name forever.

One odd thing is that if you stand in the belfry at the top of great tower the noise of Big Ben striking is much less than in the street below.

Fraction of Sound

"The reason for this," one of Big Ben's attendants told The Canadian Press, "is that only a fraction of the sound waves reach you before they escape from the belfry. Outside the waves unite and gather their full intensity."

The great clock's mechanism occupies one whole room in the belfry, its weights totalling nearly 2½ tons. On the flange of the 13-feet pendulum rest nine copper pennies and one halfpenny, some of which have been there since Queen Victoria's reign.

Remove one penny from the flange and the clock loses fourtenths of a second a day. Add one penny and it gains that amount.

Until 1913 the clock had to be wound by hand. The operation kept two men busy five hours a day, three days a week. Then a motor-driven winder was installed and now it takes only 40 minutes three days a week.

Unknown to many, Big Ben is not the biggest clock in London. That distinction goes to the clock on Shell-Mex House overlooking the embankment, whose dial is 25 feet across. Big Ben's measures 22½ feet.

Hold Negro With Gun

CHICAGO, July 20—(AP)— A negro man carrying a .38-calibre pistol was seized by police Tuesday near the gate at Soldier Field through which President Truman passed to address the Shrine convention. Affected By Storm

TORONTO, July 20 (CP)—An electricity cut-off, affecting both east and west ends of Toronto and dimming power in the downtown area shortly after 3 p.m. EDT Tuesday was believed caused by a storm outside the city limits. Power officials said the three-minute cut-off probably was caused by an electrical storm. The decrease in power stopped for a few minutes transmission equipment of The Canadian Press, carrying dispatches from the news agency's headquarters to all parts of Canada.

Mrs. Mike Sees Own Story Being Filmed

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, July 20 (AP)—"Make-believe is a lot different from the real thing," said Mrs. Mike as she watched her own life being filmed.

Mrs. Mike is Katherine Mary Flanagan, a plump, sweet-faced woman of graying years, who came from her home in Vancouver to see the filming of the best-selling novel about her life.

She viewed a scene of an old mission in Alberta. It was converted into a hospital during a diphtheria epidemic, in which Mrs. Mike's two children died. She said she was pleased to have Evelyn Keyes play herself in the film.

"I was just about her size — weighed just 95 pounds," she remarked. "But we wore our hair longer in those days."

"We have a hard time pretending we're in below-zero weather," said Miss Keyes. "Did you really wear parkas like these?"

And Underwear

"Oh yes—and two suits of underwear, too," was the answer.

Mrs. Flanagan said she was shocked to see Dick Powell, who plays her husband.

"He seemed much like the real Sgt. Mike. My husband was quite a singer, too. He was in all the amateur theatricals. You know, he really should have been in the theatre."

She talked eagerly of her life in the northwest. "I went to Canada when I was a young girl," she related. "I had a spot on my lungs and was advised to go north."

"At first I was terribly homesick and lonely. The first night I heard the wolves howling and a lynx that sounded like a woman screaming. I cried all night.

"But the next day the sky was so beautiful and everything was so peaceful, I forgot my fears. I met Sgt. Mike at my uncle's house and we were married the day I was 16."

Many Feasts

"No one locked his door up there," she said. "You always left it open for travellers who might be hungry and cold."

"You could go out and kill some meat. And when an Indian killed a big buck, there was feasting for all."

The Flanagans often discussed writing their story. After he died, she had Benedict and Nancy Freeman create the book, "Mrs. Mike." So many people have written her to ask what has happened in later years she is now planning a sequel.

She has written a children's book, "Mrs. Mike's Animal Family of the North," which will come out this fall. And she's discussing a plan to adapt the book to a children's television show, with herself as narrator. There's no stopping Mrs. Mike, once she's set her mind to things.

Churchill, Bevin Doubted Wisdom of Surrender Proposed by Roosevelt

Declare Policy Left Germany A Shambles Allies Not Even Consulted; U.S. Announcement Took Britain By Surprise

LONDON, July 21—(AP)—Winston Churchill and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said in parliament today they doubted from the beginning the wisdom of President Roosevelt's unconditional surrender policy for Germany. Bevin said in a House of Commons foreign policy debate the policy had left "a shambles" upon which to rebuild Germany. If he had been consulted at the time, he said, he would never have agreed to it.

Bevin, who was a member of Churchill's war government, said he first saw the surrender phrase in the newspapers. He said he would not have agreed if he had been consulted at the time.

Churchill, now leader of the opposition, said he first heard the phrase from President Roosevelt "without consultation with me." He said he did support it.

"But it was not the idea I had formed in my own mind," Churchill said. "But working in a great alliance with loyal and powerful friends across the ocean, we had to accommodate ourselves."

Doubted Acceptance

He added that he doubted the British coalition cabinet would have agreed to the unconditional surrender policy if they had been able to consider it at the time.

Opening the debate, Bevan said: "Unconditional surrender left us with a Germany without law, without a constitution, without a single person to deal with and without a single institution to grapple with, and we have had to build from the bottom on nothing at all."

Replying, Churchill recalled that he first heard of unconditional surrender from the late president, and added

"I had very rapidly to consider whether the state of our position in the world was such as would justify me in not giving support to it.

"I did give support to it, but it was not the idea I had formed in my own mind. If the British cabinet had had to consider the phrase, I have not the slightest doubt that they would have advised against it."

Report Heiress Critically Ill Wants Her Son

DEDHAM, Mass., July 21. — (AP).—A probate court judge was told Wednesday that Barbara Hutton Troubetzkoi, heiress to the Woolworth millions, is critically ill in Europe and down to 88 pounds.

The statement was made by counsel for the heiress in probate court where Judge Arthur W. Davis granted her custody of her 13-year-old son until Sept. 15.

Counsel John J. Burns told the court the heiress has undergone four surgcal operations in the last three years and "is so critically ill that she needs her son with her.

The boy is Lance Haugwitz-Reventlow, whose father, Danish Count Curt Haugwitz-Reventlow, ordinarily has custody of the boy during the late summer months under arrangements reached after her divorce.

Burns said the countess had asked her former husband for his consent to extend the boy's visit in Paris, but the father would permit Lance to remain with his mother only until Aug. 5.

Count Haugwitz - Reventlow was Miss Hutton's second husband. Her first husband was Prince Alexis Mdivani, her third was Cary Grant, the movie star. All those marriages ended in divorce.

She married her present husband, Prince Troubetzkoi, March 1, 1947.

Girl Escapes Prison Officer

LONDON, Ont., July 21 (CP)— A girl who had already fled Toronto twice and breached probation there, showed Major Tom Hobbins, London Salvation Army prison officer, a clean pair of heels when he took her back to Toronto Wednesday.

Marlyne McDermiad, 18, appeared with Shirley Courier, 19, in city court Wednesday on a charge of vagrancy. The charge was withdrawn, and the court ordered their return to Toronto.

Major Hobbins, accompanied by the parents of the Courier girl, took them back Wednesday.

He delivered Miss Courier to the York County probation office.

When Major Hobbins arrived at the office he found the probation officers had left. He left the room to make a telephone call and the girl escaped through an office window.

Detectives Get Clue To Attack On Girl

TORONTO, July 21.—(CP).— City detectives said today they think they have established the type of car used by two men when they kidnapped and raped a 30-year-old Toronto office girl in suburban North York last Sunday.

Police said if the type proves correct a squad of detectives will be assigned to trace all owners of the type of car in the Toronto area. They said investigation makes it fairly certain the car was not stolen.

Police describe the rape as one of the worst criminal assaults in the city's history. A reward of $500 has been posted for the arrest of the two men.

Taking Out Tracks

OSHAWA, July 21—(CP) —Oshawa city council said today that work has started on removing street car tracks on Simcoe St. North. The job, costing an estimated $34,411, will be completed in about three weeks. The tracks are those formerly used by Oshawa street cars before a bus service was installed.

Hold Youth 17 For Theft Of $70,000 Loot

TORONTO, July 21 (CP) — William E. Christianson, 17, of Oakville, faces 17 charges of housebreaking and police said his loot to date may total $70,000. Arrested in Suburn Long Branch Tuesday, the youth was charged with four break-ins at Long Branch, three in New Toronto, two in Hamilton, two in Etobicoke and the others in the surrounding districts.

Suspicion was directed towards Christianson when two East York constables pulled him from underneath a car in a Summers Ave. garage. He was booked on a charge of attempted housebreaking.

Largest single haul with which Christianson is charged is the robbery of the Long Branch home of George Cook, Bell Telephone executive, in July, 1948. Some $50,000 worth of stocks and bonds was stolen.

Most of the bonds, police say, were recovered in Christianson's home at Oakville. Others were found in a dirty paper bag by an employee of the Bay St. bus terminal cleaning out lockers.

On Probation

With detectives of five municipalities enquiring into the case, Christianson will also be asked about 20 housebreakings which occurred in the east end of Toronto. When arrested he was on three years' probation on another charge.

He spent most of Wednesday with detectives touring the city and suburbs in areas where recent break-ins had been reported. Officers worked all night on the investigation.

Taking pjart in the investigation were Chief Robert Smythe, Long Branch, Chief Frederick Herman, Mimico, and Constable John Price, New Toronto. It was stated that many of the stolen articles had been pawned in Toronto.

Chief Robert Smythe said that the youth was also being charged with forgery in connection with one of the stolen bonds.

3 Girls Adrift For 20 Hours

OSCODA, Mich., July 21.— (CP).— Three sunburned and frightened girls were brought here in an army crash boat after drifting on Lake Huron for more than 20 hours on an air mattress and in a one-man rubber boat.

While jet planes, coast guard boats and fishermen sought them, the girls paddled with their hands into the path of a freighter, 10 miles off Oscoda, Wednesday. Their screams were heard by members of the crew of the J. F. Schoellkopf, Jr., and a ladder was lowered.

One of the three, Mary Jean Rodgers, was able to climb the ladder. The other two, Jean Burns, and Lucille Dailey, were carried aboard the freighter.

The girls, all 18, were blown away from shore Tuesday afternoon while swimming near a beach.

Aboard the freighter their burns were treated and they were fed and put to bed to await a boat from shore, summoned by radio.

They told of the horror of floating in the cold darkness aboard the two crude crafts which they had tied together when they realized they had blown beyond their depth.

Through the night, they said, they took turns riding, one in the small life boat and the others on the thin, flexible mattress.

Hint Stevedores May Call Quits

LONDON, July 21.—(CP). — Conciliation moves in London's vast port tie-up went forward today with a hope expressed in several quarters that striking stevedores might soon be back on the job.

Meanwhile, although conflicting rumors still circulated in political quarters there was nothing definite to indicate that Lord Ammon would resign his chairmanship of the National Dock Labor Board following his clash Wednesday with the Labor Ministry regarding the best method of getting the men to return.

Ammon told reporters today: "The best thing now is to hope all will go smoothly and men will return to work for the good of our country. I am hoping some of them will take that decision today."

At a meeting of workers employed at the West India docks, the strikers voted by what was said to be a margin of 1,000 to 3 to return to work, but they decided not to act on the resolution pending Friday's scheduled meeting of all strikers.

LONDON (Reuters) — Lord Ammon, who has clashed with the government concerning methods of settling the London dock strike, today resigned as government chief whip in the House of Lords at the bidding of Prime Minister Attlee.

U.S. Admits U.N. Can't Settle Atomic Problem

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., July 21 —(AP)—The United States acknowledged Wednesday the United Nations atomic energy commission cannot settle the Russian-Western deadlock over control of atomic energy. It proposed the commission suspend talks on the issue until the big powers and Canada can agree.

The United States delegate, Frederick H. Osborn, put his government's views before the commission in a resolution.

The general assembly last fall told the commission to keep trying for a plan for atomic control. The United States resolution Wednesday was the first sign since the Paris assembly that the United States has finally given up hope of doing anything in the commission.

The commission adjourned until July 29 without acting on the resolution. Delegates of the Soviet Union and the Soviet Ukraine said they want to study it and speak on it.

Osborn proposed that the commission officially state that the impasse continues; that the differences cannot be settled at commission level; that more talk will only harden the differences and will serve no useful purpose until such time as the sponsoring powers report there is a basis for agreement.

Truman Eases Minds On Sharing A-Secrets

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) —Some lawmakers who had expressed misgivings that President Truman might act on his own to give Britain some atomic-bomb secrets seemed to have their finds easier today.

They said, after another top-level, hush-hush atomic conference Wednesday, that they would not now press for a move to keep the president from acting by executive order in this field.

There had been talk of putting at least the Senate on formal record as saying that the atomic energy law forbids the supplying of atomic secrets to any foreign power unless Congress approves. Apparently, they are now satisfied that Truman plans no by-passing of Congress at this time.

Thieves Take $1,300, Safe In Afternoon Cafe Robbery

A safe containing $1,300 was stolen from the Hollywood Cafe, Charlotte St., Wednesday afternoon in a daylight robbery. At 4 p.m., when the staff returned to the cafe after a two-hour absence, they found the back door had been jimmied and the 200 lb. safe kept near the front entrance to the cafe was missing. The restaurant is closed every Wednesday.

Everything was left in order and only evidence of the break-in was the broken bolt on the slightly bent door.

In addition to the $1,300 in cash, Yee Shung, proprietor, had some $50 bonds.

Nothing Unusual

Back entrance to the cafe is through a courtyard overlooked by a number of upstairs apartments. None of the tenants interviewed by Detective Sgt. John Stevenson recalls having seen a car or truck enter the courtyard.

During the afternoon a decorator was busy attending to the neon sign at the front of the cafe. After being held by city police for questioning he was released and cleared of any suspicion.

Identification Officer William Aggas took finger prints shortly after the theft had been discovered and other members of city and provincial police forces have been alerted.

Officials Worry About Oil Slick

TORONTO, July 21 (CP)—A heavy oil slick covering a large part of Toronto's harbor constitutes a definite fire hazard, the Toronto Harbor Commission reported today following extensive tests of surface oil during the last 10 days.

Harbormaster Harold Snelgrove said the Commission plans to take legal action against the ship or ships which dumped the oil in te harbor. He said a European vessel, now on Lake Ontario, is believed responsible and officers will be questioned when the ship returns here next week-end.

Police were patrolling beaches and rubbish-disposal areas as a precautionary measure and harbor officials said a night patrol boat may be used to watch lake boats.

Last Saturday, a 21-year-old girl was drowned in the harbor and it is believed heavy oil plugking her nostrils contributed to her death.

PC Leader Walks Out After Scrap With Premier

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 21. — (CP).—Opposition Leader John J. Higgins was expected back in the Newfoundland Legislature today after his Wednesday "walk."

The Progressive Conservative leader walked from the chamber protesting that his stand on the economic development bill had been "distorted" after Premier Smallwood declared the Opposition was in effect saying: "You and the Lieutenant-Governor can make regulations under this Act but we don't trust you or like you and we vote against you."

The Economic Development Bill came through committee stages with minor amendments over the opposition of Progressive Conservative members. Mr. Higgins and other members contested bitterly a clause giving the government the right to impose penalties on persons or businesses that did not abide by its regulations.

Mr. Smallwood said the purpose of the clause was merely to put teeth in the act.

Leonard Miller (PC-Placentia-St. Mary's) and David Jackman (PC-Harbor Main-Bell Island), expressed surprise that there was no mention of Labrador in the Throne speech. Mr. Jackman asked: "Are we going to let the French - Canadians — Duplessis and St. Laurent—have the full benefit of those vast resources?"

Mr. Higgins said Newfoundland's 12-man cabinet is too large and expensive. It compared with a six-man cabinet—costing half as much—in Nova Scotia, which had twice the population of Newfoundland.

Find $10,000 Near Lake, Rest Of Loot

Bandit Leads Police To Hiding Place, Pair Faces 4 Charges

KIRKLAND LAKE, July 21 — (CP)—The last of the $12,000 stolen from the Imperial Bank of Canada branch at Larder Lake, 18 miles east of here, has been recovered.

Victor Desmarais, 23, of Noranda, Que., one of the two men charged in Tuesday's daring daylight holdup, late Wednesday led police to a spot near the shore of Larder Lake and disclosed the hiding place of more than $10,000.

Bank officials said they were satisfied the money was part of the loot. Earlier, police found $1,600 on Desmarais when he surrendered to searchers who had hunted him for 16 hours. Investigators also took $525 from Leo Martial, 24, also of Noranda, the other man charged.

Martial was captured shortly after the robbery. A posse found him on a gravel road near the point where a stolen seaplane the bank robbers tried to use for a getaway was smashed on shoreline rocks.

Face Four Charges

Desmarais and Martial were charged with armed robbery, assault, theft of an automobile and theft of an airplane. It is expected that they will face trial here.

Police said it appeared that, with the finding of the money in the woods, practically all the loot has been recovered. A story that the money had gone to the bottom of the lake with a companion who had drowned was told by Martial when he was captured, but police doubted the tale and pressed their hunt for the second man and the money.

It was recalled at Larder Lake that an attempt to steal a sister ship of the seaplane taken Tuesday was made in 1939. A former aircraft mechanic who wanted to fly plotted the theft of a plane from the base and went so far as to take the craft up for trial spins over the lake. The man later stole a plane at Sudbury and was sent to jail for a year.

Blame Blast On Zoot-Suiters

KINMOUNT, July 21 (CP)— Police said today a mysterious blast that shook this village from end to end Wednesday was probably the work of "Zuit-Suiters." The blast, which broke windows and knocked pictures off the walls of several homes, was originally reported as "a meteor hitting the town."

Police said several Zoot-Suiters have been seen in the area and are belived to b linked with othhr disturbances here last week. Kinmount is some 40 miles north of Lindsay.

Use Navy Bluejackets To Unload Coal Ship

MELBOURNE, Australia, July 21. (CP)—Australian Navy bluejackets today began unloading coal from the Canadian collier Haligonian Duke. Soldiers carted the coal to the city gas works two miles away.

During the night the destroyer Warramunga brought navy ratings from Flanders naval base to the wharf where the Duke is tied up. The destroyer came alongside the collier—blacklisted five months ago by the Canadian Seamen's Union—and the naval boarding party occupied the ship without incident.

This move ended a stalemate which had deprived fuel-starved Melbourne of the Duke's cargo of 6,700 tons of urgently needed Indian gas coal.

The use of Service personnel to unload the coal was authorized early today by the Federal Cabinet since the Waterside Workers' Federation had stubbornly abided by th CSU ban on the ship.

Hepburn Stirs Things Up Charges City Engineer

ST. THOMAS, July 21.—(CP). —Stormy audience interruptions early in Wednesday night's city council hearing of charges levelled at City Engineer W. C. Miller calmed down after Mayor J. Bruce Caldwell called for police to eject a member of the overflowing crowd.

The session was called to hear charges made more than two weeks ago before council in committee by Hon. Mitchell F. Hepburn, former premier of Ontario, as well as to hear replies by the city engineer.

Mr. Hepburn again charged that Mr. Miller turned a deaf ear when the former premier offered to sell gravel from his nearby Bannockburn pit to the city for a price at much less than their contractors were paying an outside source. Mr. Hepburn criticized "Mr. Miller's lack of co-operation and cold shoulder attitude."

He offered gravel at cost for use in building the new hospital in St. Thomas.

Mr. Hepburn denied remarks attributed to the city engineer about "clay balls" in the Bannockburn gravel and claimed that Mr. Miller "let his personal dislike color his decision about its quality."

Mr. Miller told council that he had told Mr. Hepburn that the clay balls could be remedied. He said that the assistant city engineer was willing to appear before council to back his statement.

In defence of the charges Mr. Miller, who was assisted by his counsel, H. C. Cameron, of St. Thomas, pointed out that gravel was not purchased directly by the city but by tendering contractors. It quality was later aproved by the city engineer.

Councillors voted to adjourn the hearing until the next regular meeting of council.

Say Shanghai Facing Bad Crisis

Sharp Slump Shown In Cotton Trade, May Write Off City

By FRED HAMPSON.

SHANGHAI, July 21 (AP) — Whether by Communist design or force of circumstances, Shanghai appears destined for an important change in character.

A sharp slump in production in the last 30 days in the city's single major industry—cotton textiles—shows how quickly Shanghai is sliding into its severest economic crisis.

Reliable but unofficial figures disclose textile production has skidded since June from about 65 per cent of capacity to the current level of 45 per cent. Primary cause is the shortage of raw materials.

Floods will interfere with the normal fall supply of native raw cotton and there seems little chance that cotton can be imported through the blockaded port. About a fourth of the city's labor force is employed by the textile industry.

Disappearance of maritime trade through the Nationalist blockade has made China's major port dependent on China's internal economy.

Write Off Shanghai

At the outset most observers felt the Communists, in a desire to get on with the job of industrializing China, meant to preserve Shanghai as the key to the maritime-industrial centre and build it up as one of several nuclei for industrializing the hinterland.

But there are some indications they prefer to write off Shanghai and concentrate on industrializing the program elsewhere, probably in the north where both industrial raw materials and foodstuffs are closer.

The policy seems to have changed from "keep the foreigner here and learn from him" to "get all you can from him and kick him out."

The government seems to have embarked on a campaign to reduce the population here. Communist newspapers have advocated shifting 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 persons to the food producing areas. Since almost all China is overcrowded there may be repercussions but at least the Reds won't have to ship so much food to this economically-moribund city at the extreme end of an expensive supply line.

Potsdam Mulligan Denies Leaving Million to McGuires

POTSDAM, N.Y., July 21—(CP)—Whoever is leaving Mrs. Grace McGuire of Belleville, the sum of $1,250,000, it isn't James L. Mulligan of Potsdam. But Mrs. McGuire could possibly be his niece, Mulligan said Wednesday during an interview by telephone from New York.

"I have some mony but I intend to spend every cent of it myself," Mulligan said with a chuckle.

Mrs. McGuire said Tuesday in Belleville that she is inheriting $1,250,000 from a wealthy uncle. She declined to identify the uncle.

In Toronto, Felix Lalonde, 40-year-old gashouse worker and brother of Mrs. McGuire, told reporter he believed the uncle was a Robert James Mulligan who once lived in Potsdam. But Mrs. McGuire subsequently said "Robert James Mulligan is not the man."

"It is possible that Mrs. McGuire is the daughter of my younger sister, who died a number of years ago somewhere in Canada," Mulligan said. "My sister married a man named Lalonde. I believe they had a daughter but I do not know her first name."

Mulligan was asked if Mrs. McGuire could have been informed that she was to inherit $1,250,000 from his upon his death.

"No," said the Potsdam resident.

"I have three brothers living in Ottawa but I know none of them has left his money to Mrs. McGuire."

He did not amplify this remark.

"I read in a newspaper that I am supposed to have been killed in an automobile accident between Sudbury and North Bay, and to have left Mrs. McGuire $1,250,000," Mulligan said.

U.S. Senate To Ratify Peace Pact

Consider Reservations In Atlantic Treaty About Military Aid

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) —The Senate came up to a vote on the North Atlantic Pact today amid a stormy wrangle over sharing atomic secrets with 11 other countries.

Treaty foes demanded to know whether arms for Europe will mean giving the atomic bomb—or atomic secrets — to the Atlantic allies.

"We've got to have an aswer before the treaty is ratified—not after," Senator Kenneth Wherry (Rep. Neb.) told reporters. The final treaty vote is scheduled late this afternoon.

Senator Brien McMahon (Dem. Conn.), chairman of the Senate-House of Representatives Atomic Energy Committee, told the Senate Wednesday night that treaty approval will not obligate the United States to give the atom bomb secrets to pact countries.

The precise nature of military aid to be given to Europe must be determined when Congress acts on a proposed arms-for-Europe program, McMahon said in answering a question by Wherry.

Sure of Passing

Senate leaders said they were confident that even the atomic issue will not halt overwhelming approval of the treaty. They estimated no more than 15 votes—and perhaps less — against the pact.

The Senate will consider some treaty reservations.

The first reservation says it would be the understanding of the United States that article 3 of the treaty carries no obligation to supply military aid to pact countries.

Pact critics say article 3 would obligate the United States to re-arm western Europe, if it is not made explicitly plain that it does not.

Another would state in brief that the United States is not obligated by the pact to defend the North Atlantic area or to use armed force to resist attack until Congress aprpoves. The third would say Congress is not obligated by the treaty to declare war in event of an attack on a pact country.

Once the amendments are out of the way, the Senate wil vote on a resolution of ratification — the act which will instantly pledge the United States to a historic new foreign policy.

EYE TOPICS

A BLESSING AT A PRICE.

"The memory of the human race," 'tis said "is found in books," and it would be a poor world indeed if the millions of books of all times and ages were missing. From them, we derive, not only the great prose and poetry of the ages, but scientific and educational lore of inestimable value.

Where would our educational system be without books? Where would our scientists find their starting points for research without the records of investigators who have gone before?

Yet, books and the reading of them, demand a heavy price in vision from those who read them.

The continued use of vision at this near-point if successful, is frequently accompanied by loss of sharp vision in the distance — hence much myopia (near sightedness).

In recent years, how to restore good distance vision to these near-sighted people, has been discovered and so the old price paid for much reading is no longer necessary.

Perhaps, even more important, a way has been found to enable those far-sighted people who had no pleasure in reading (because they went promptly off to sleep, or developed headaches) now to enjoy the perusal of books to their heart's content without sleepiness or aches.

Canada Winning Fight On V.D.

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP)—Canada is slowly winning the fight against venereal disease.

Dr. B. D. B. Layton, chief of the V.D. control division of the health department, said today considerable progress has been made in the Dominion during the last few years.

Year by year the V.D. rate in Canada has been dropping and although there was no reason for complacency, the results permit "one to be cautiously optimistic," Dr. Layton said in a statement.

In 1946 there were 41,556 cases reported. The number was down to 33,476 in 1947 and dropped to 27,491 last year. The first quarter of 1949 showed 6,307 cases reported compared with 7,303 in the same period a year ago.

Dr. Layton said the steady downward trend was reversed in the last three months of 1948 when it took a slight upsurge.

"Happily," he said, "the first quarter of 1949 showed a return to the former pattern.

"It must also be kept in mind that there is a reservoir of unknown numbers of venereal disease victims in our midst. The extent of this cannot be determined, but we feel reasonably sure that even this is being progressively reduced."

Getting Weather Monotonous Job

SAINT JOHN, N. B., July 21—(CP)—Gathering weather information in Canada's Arctic waters often gets monotonous for the 111 men and officers aboard Canada's weather ship St. Stephen, now here for her annual refit.

During 21-day stretches at lonely Station Baker—halfway between Greenland and Labrador—the men take pictures, crochet or make fishing rods to use when they get back to their Halifax base.

George Harris of Toronto, Chief Meterological Officer and one of the Court Department of Transport Officers aboard, and Sub-Lt. W. M. Lanazue of Calgary sum it up this way: "The whole thing is routine, just like any other job."

But there is little time for boredom on winter trips to and from Station Baker. Lieut. D. K. Gamblin of Saint John, navigating officer, has a tough time to keep the ship dodging dangerous bergs in the iceberg-infested seas. The crew are kept busy chopping ice from the decks and rigging of the 1,900-ton Frigate.

Stationed just outside the Arctic circle, the ship gathers meterological information within an area of 10 miles in Davis Strait chiefly for use by trans-Atlantic planes.

May Change Name

HALIFAX, July 21—(CP)—The Church of England in Canada is thinking of changing its name. The subject will come up at the church's general synod here Sept. 4-17. Church spokesmen explained Wednesday that the Church of England in Canada has been an autonomous, national church since 1893. Its present name, they said, leads many to think it still is tied to the Church of England in the United Kingdom.

Base Metals Continue Their Strong Trend

TORONTO, July 21.—(CP).—Base metals continued their strong trend on the Toronto stock exchange today. Golds took on an easier tone while industrials moved in a narrow range.

A few key industrials slipped fractions to a full point. Canada Cement lost a point at 24, and was accompanied downward by Canada Steamships which eased ¼ at 12½.

Base metals were the only strong point in trading today. Sherritt Gordon regained its rising ways to register a five-cent gain at $1.99. Waite Amulet also followed the trend and managed to pull up for a 10-cent addition at $8.85. Today's rise was the fourth successive improvement in the base metal list.

Gold stocks slipped slightly. Junior producers showed losses ranging up to 9 cents in fairly moderate dealings. Lake Shore went against the trend and registered a gain of ⅛ at 14⅛ in the senior list.

Execute 6 Men For Revolting

BEYROUTH, Lebanon, July 21 (AP)—Six alleged members of the National Syrian party, an outlawed political group, were shot to death today in a mass execution. They had been convicted of armed revolt against the government.

They were tried last weekend by a military tribunal which sentenced 53 others to prison sentences or from three years to life. The death sentences of six others were commuted to life imprisonment. Three of those shot were Palestinians, two Lebanese and one Syrian.

Anton Saaden, president of the group, was executed July 8 after being sentenced in a secret court martial. His party was accused of attempting to incite revolt against both the Syrian and Lebanese governments.

The group's ultimate aim was said to be a "greater Syria" under Saaden's leadership, incorporating Lebanon, Syria, Hashemite Jordan (Trans-Jordan) and Arab Palestine.

Can't Find $1,000 Order Grave Opened

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—When Charles H. Oster was buried here last April 9, did he have $1,000 in the breast pocket of his suit?

His widow, Margaret, and son, Franklin, of Matawan, N. J., think there is a good chance he did. They plan to have the body disinterred and the pocket searched.

Before Oster died April 5, he told his son he was leaving him his "sole property," $1,000."

But the money could not be found and the family thinks it may be in the pocket where he usually kept it.

Set Floor Price For Oats, Barley

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP)—Prairie farmers will receive initial payments of 61½ cents a bushel for oats and 90 cents a bushel for barley when the Canadian Wheat Board takes over marketing of these two feed grains at the end of the month.

Trade Minister Howe, acting head of the government while Prime Minister St. Laurent vacations in New Brunswick, made the announcement at a news conference Wednesday.

The prices are for No. 1 feed grains. Out of those prices, farmers must pay delivery charges to Port Arthur or Fort William, plus 1½ cents a bushel for oats and three cents for barley to cover the operating expenses of the marketing pool at the lakehead.

They come into effect Aug. 1 the start of the 1949-50 crop year.

The announcement was the final step of a steady march toward complete government handling of coarse grains. It ended the Winnipeg Grain Exchange's functions as a price-fixing mechanism as far as the producers of these grains are concerned.

But Mr. Howe's announcement said the Wheat Board intends to use "existing facilities for the distribution of these grains."

That, apparently, left the door open for continued buying and selling between grain distributors and consumers. And there was nothing in the announcement to indicate they won't be able to use grain exchange facilities.

N.Y. Star Plays Arsenic And Old Lace

Arsenic and Old Lace, starting Monday at Queen Mary school auditorium, is considered one of the funniest plays ever presented on the stage and is the fifth production of the Peterborough Summer Theatre.

The play is a fantastic mixture of comedy and genteel murder which ran five years on the New York stage and four years in London. It was later made into a film starring Cary Grant, Boris Karloff, who was also in the Broadway stage production, and Peter Lorre.

The Summer theatre's production of the play will feature Catherine Proctor, a veteran actress who played in Arsenic and Old Lace two years in New York and on the road. Miss Proctor plays the part of one of the old spinster aunts who takes such a sympathetic interest in aging unmarried men. Her sister and partner is played by Margot Christie, wife of Robert Christie, the old professor in Fortune My Foe.

Return Appearance

Two actors who made a hit in the Theatre's first production and have not been seen since, will return in this play. Bill Needles who was the DP puppet master in Fortune My Foe will be Teddy, the effervescent nephew of the two old ladies. Gerry Sarracini, the bootleg bartender in the same play will be Jonathan, Boris Karloff-like brother of Teddy.

Jonathan's cautious partner, Dr. Einstein, is played by Frank Perry, the newspaper man in Fortune My Foe and the visiting friend in George and Margaret.

Directors To Play

Both Michael Sadlier and Graham Ferguson the company's top executive, will get into the act in the roles of friendly policemen. Mr. Sadlier, appropriately enough will be an Irish policeman with a yen for play writing.

Jeri Sauvinet, Ruth in this week's Blithe Spirit and Frankie in George and Margaret, will be Elaine, the eager young girl from the house next door, whose chief interest is in marrying Mortimer, another strange member of this remarkable family played by Michael Lynd.

Arsenic and Old Lace has long been a favourite with theatre audiences and Peterborough people who have seen it will probably want to see it again and are recommending it to their friends.

Local Motorbikers Win At Michigan Picnic

H. Lapp of Peterborough, placed third in the backward race, with R. Millet of St. Thomas and L. Poirier of Hamilton, first and second. In the dealers' pie eating contest, Clare Heard of Peterborough, captured the first place honors. Motorcylists from Stratford, Hamilton and St. Thomas swept away most of the prizes.

Funds Of WA Increased By Quilt Sales

ROSENEATH, July 21. — (ENS.) Mesdames Harold George and James Thompson were joint hostesses to the WA of Roseneath United church for the July meeting, held in the town hall on Wednesday, with the president, Mrs. Ford Derry, presiding. The devotional exercises were in charge of Mrs. A. Nill.

The sum of $32.90 was received from Mrs. Clarke Sandercock, realized from sales of sewing. Ten dollars was receieved from the sale of a quilt.

The blue material used in the quilt was donated by Mrs. Marsena Davey of Toronto, a former member. The quilt top was pieced by the late Mrs. Leonard Brisbin, a former member of the society, one of the last of her many pieces of fine needlework. It was quilted by Mrs. Brisbin's daughter, Mrs. Ella Brown.

Another daughter of Mrs. Brisbins, Mrs. Storey Redshaw of Oakville, purchased it when completed for $10.

Mrs. Fred Norris donated a quilt to the society, that she had made and with which she won first prize at Roseneath Fair last year. This quilt will be on display and sold subject to a reserve bid.

Another gift to the society was the material for a fancy apron donated by Mrs. R. C. White.

Plans were made for the August meeting, Mrs. Alf. Pringle to be hostess.

Mrs. Bart Thackeray was in charge of the following program: community singing, reading by Mrs. Fredgett, Toronto; vocal solo, Mrs. Douglas Coyle, "My Ain Folk,' and contests.

Haigh, The Blood Drinker

We deplore murder, particularly when it becomes a habit. However, if murder must be done, it might as well be done with a certain degree of style and imagination. For—let us face it—we all have a certain interest in horrors, and we like our horrors to show a touch of genius when possible, and at the very least to depart in some way from the dreary shootings, axe-cloutings and lead-pipe pummelings which crowd the newspapers with offensive matter. We confess, then, to a keen interest in John George Haigh, who killed a woman on February 18 last, drank a glass of her blood, and destroyed her body in a bath of acid. His action, though sordid and reprehensible, was not in the rut of common killing. He will be hanged shortly.

* * *

Haigh is 39, and is said to be an attractive, well-spoken, gentlemanly fellow; his victim was a woman of means, and we presume that she was attracted and flattered by the attentions which Haigh paid to her. But it appears that Haigh is a paranoiac; we do not know enough about paranoiacs to attempt any complex explanation of their nature, but they are people of divided mind, capable of concealing the oddest aberrations and theories under an unremarkable exterior. Haigh had odd religious notions, and a strange concern with blood. From his sixteenth year he had dreams of forests of bloody crucifixes, of the wounds of Christ, and of his own responsibility to do something spectacular about blood. His latest victim (the one for whose murder he will be hanged) was his ninth. In every case he drank a glass of his victim's blood before dissolving the body in a bath of acid.

* * *

It is this drinking of blood which gives Haigh's criminal career its special quality. British papers have named him "the Vampire Slayer" though this is not precisely correct; vampires suck blood from living victims, they do not drain it from dead ones. Rather than "the Vampire Slayer" we should be inclined to call Mr. Haigh "The Blood Drinker", recalling one of the best scenes from Dickens' Nicholas Nickleby.

* * *

Many of our readers, we are sure, will remember that scene in the twenty-fifth chapter of Nickleby in which the theatrical manager, Mr. Vincent Crummles, holds forth upon the talents of his wife:

"Mrs. Crummles was the original Blood Drinker."

"Was she, indeed?"

"Yes. She was obliged to give it up, though".

"Did it disagree with her?" asked Nicholas.

"Not so much with her as with her audiences" replied Mr. Crummles. "Nobody could stand it. It was too tremendous. You don't quite know what Mrs. Crummles is yet". Presumably "the Blood Drinker" was a role which Mrs. Crummles acted in some forgotten Gothic melodrama.

* * *

Haigh's name will doubtless become a byword among connoisseurs of murder, of whom there are many—chiefly mild-mannered men. We shall always link him in recollection with Mrs. Crummles "the original Blood Drinker"; Haigh certainly surpassed that lady in the tremendousness of his performance.

The C.C.F. And Foreign Policy

Last week the Manitoba C.C.F. expelled two members who hold seats in the Legislative Assembly, but who have expressed themselves publicly as being opposed to the Atlantic Pact; they are Mr. Berry Richards and Mr. Wilbert Donelyko. Mr. Fred J. Tipping, who is one of the party stalwarts in Manitoba, was elected provincial chairman of the party, but soon resigned that post because he too opposes the Pact and felt that he could not hold office when he was in disagreement with the majority of his party. He, too, was an M.L.A., and campaigned in the last election, though he knew that his party favoured the Pact which he opposes. Mr. Topping, it seems clear, has no Communist leanings; he is, rather, a convinced pacifist. Richards and Donelyko appear to be "fellow-travellers".

These incidents are significant, for they show that there is strong disagreement within the C.C.F. on foreign policy. They also suggest that a small group might secede from the C.C.F. on this issue, adding another minute party to the Canadian political scene.

Such a split, if it comes, is likely to show itself first in British Columbia. Last winter at the provincial convention the C.C.F. passed a resolution which condemned the Atlantic Pact; how this is supposed to fit in with the decision of the national party to support the Pact we cannot guess. The B.C. section of the C.C.F. is the farthest to the Left of any of the provincial organizations, and it is very powerful, persuasive and courageous. If the C.C.F. really means to clean house it will have to reform the B.C. party or lose it.

The fact is that foreign policy is one of the vital factors in Canadian politics at present, and no party can be strong which is divided on that point. The C.C.F. has begun to enforce its national and official opinion in Manitoba, and we shall watch with interest to see what it does elsewhere. The C.C.F. and the unions are both anxious to be rid of any hint of Communist influence.

What Can Be Done About Poison Ivy?

We have received a letter from a Toronto reader who complains of the frequency with which poison ivy is met with in this district; she has been badly burned by it.

Poison ivy is a great nuisance. Most people are suceptible to it in some degree; a few people suffer dreadfully from its inflammation. The kind which is common around here is a type of sumac. A physician can treat it with acetate of lead, if he sees the case soon after exposure, and people who have stumbled into it can help themselves by washing the exposed skin carefully with soap and water, or wiping it with alcohol. When the burning begins, we believe that it is treated with a solution of potassium permanganate, but of course a doctor should be consulted before trying anything of the kind.

But what can be done about the plant itself? We have been told that burning it off a field discourages it only for a year. Is there no way of getting rid of it permanently?

Wedding Toots

For years editorial writers in other papers have complained at this season about the noise which wedding parties make as they drive through the streets tooting their automobile horns; and for years The Examiner has insisted that a wedding is a joyous occasion, and that a few honks of an automobile horn are excusable under the circumstances. In the honk of the horns we hear an echo of the silver trumpets which rang out when the Sleeping Beauty was wedded to Prince Charming; it is a faint echo, but our extremely sensitive ear can just catch it.

[illegible] very

indeed. We do not intend to go back on what we have said, but we suggest that a little moderation in the use of the horn would do no harm. In our celebrations we should take care not to overstrain the patience of those who wish us well, but who quickly tire of loud and continuous noise.

NOTE AND COMMENT

You can always win an argument by ad-libbing a few statistics.

A Toronto hobby show, which dealt chiefly in miniature objects, was nevertheless decorated with live full-sized bathing girls. Of course, they provide a popular hobby, too.

A beauty columnist advises women to "stand with your feet wide apart, swing your arms between your legs and try to spank yourself". Surely it would be easier to ask someone to spank you in the usual way?

German Election Campaign

(NEW YORK TIMES)

OVERSHADOWED for the moment by more dramatic world events, an election campaign is getting under way in Germany which is bound to have repercussions far beyond that country and poses many delicate problems for both the Germans and the Western Powers. This is the campaign for the election of the first Federal Diet of the Federal Republic of Germany, scheduled to take place Aug. 14. It will be the first free national election in Germany since the advent of Hitler, and its outcome will go far to determine both German progress toward a workable democracy and the stability of the new German state established under Western auspices. In that respect, the new election law, which is weighted in favour of direct election by majority vote, holds out better promise than the previous system of straight proportional representation which wrecked the Weimar Republic and proved to be the Trojan horse for totalitarianism, although the effects of a mixture of both these systems embodied in the law remains to be seen.

BUT it will be in the relations and the attitudes of both the German leaders and the electorate on the one hand and the occupying Powers on the other that the election is likely to produce strains which will require considerable statesmanship to overcome. For the election is taking place in an occupied country in which the supreme authority remains in the hands of the occupying Powers. These Powers are pledged to create a peaceful, free and prosperous Germany capable of being integrated into the European family of nations, for which purpose they are extending to the Western Germans both economic aid and protection against the menace of being absorbed by the Soviets. In these respects they undoubtedly meet the wishes and at least the present ambitions of the great majority of the Germans themselves. But for reasons of their own security as well as their policy vis-a-vis Russia, these Powers also find themselves compelled to impose certain disabilities on the Germans which no nation aspiring to self-respect can be expected to relish. It is therefore inevitable that these disabilities should become issues in a free election campaign sponsored by the Western Powers themselves.

THEY are becoming issues under the headings of German unity, freedom from Allied control and early withdrawal of the occupation forces. To the Germans they involve not only reunion of the Western and the Soviet occupation zones but also return of the territories annexed by Russia and Poland, the Ruhr Authority, the Occupation Statute and military security. There are, without doubt, few Germans who expect to attain such objectives imediately. But there are also few German leaders who can ignore them or fail to espouse them as ultimate national objectives and still expect to be elected. Their position becomes especially delicate because some of these objectives are espoused by the Russians within a German "national front" designed to detach the Germans from the West as a first step toward their incorporation in the Soviet orbit. And though most Germans may be expected to see through the Russian game, politics is never purely rational or objective, and the irritations of an immediate situation often overshadow the long-range view.

◇ ◇ ◇

IT is, of course, easy to denounce the German campaign slogans as a revival of German nationalism which must be suppressed. But, as General Clay told the Germans, it is necessary to distinguish between a chauvinistic nationalism that seeks to conquer other nations and has been outlawed, and a nationalism which merely represents the natural love of the Germans for their homeland and their desire to see it united under their own government. The Western Powers have themselves invoked the latter German nationalism in their struggle against the Russians, and as long as German nationalism remains within these bounds it will be difficult to object to it in the West while encouraging it in the East. In consequence while it is necessary for the Germans to face the realities of their situation and refrain from turning their election campaign against the West, it will be also necessary for the Western Powers to take account of the fact ha his kind of nationalism does exist and is bound to find expression in the election campaign. For only then will it be possible to avert a split between the West and the Germans and to realize the aim of a United Europe which both sides seek.

Another Cautionary Tale

We commented recently on the impossibility dilatory methods of a British exporter [illegible] his order. Here is another.

A Toronto man had to buy a portable typewriter in a hurry. He went to a shop near his office which had an attractive new model in the window. The dealer told him the price and, after some hesitation, let him try it. Then he said: "Of course, there's a cheaper model. But I haven't got one here. It's much the same but there are a couple of gadgets it doesn't have." What the gadgets were the dealer was unable to say. Call this model A.

Dissatisfied the buyer returned to his office and telephoned two typewriter makers whose names he remembered from advertisements. He asked the price of their cheapest portable. Maker B told him at once, described the machine, and added, "If you'd like to see it I'll send one up to your office this afternoon."

Maker C's telephone operator plugged the call through to an extension and nothing whatever happened. The persistent buyer called again. This time the operator said, "I'm sorry, none of the salesmen are in. If you leave your number I'll have them call." He did; and a short time later a salesman called. After a description of the machine the buyer asked where he could see it. "We can show you all the models in our showroom any time you can come in."

Letters To The Editor

COMPLAINS OF POISON IVY

Sir: Please don't think I am vindictive or revengeful in what I am going to say, but I feel it is my duty to warn the public in general of a situation existing at Bewdley, a suburb a few miles north of your fair city.

As this town or village or whatever you may call it lies on the shores of Rice Lake, it is quite popular for tourists to drive along and spend a few days there, just as we did, which I was to regret very greatly afterwards. The grassy banks along the one side of the street which look so cool and inviting to rest upon, are simply congested with that terrible obnoxious and vicious weed called "Poison Ivy". There are no signs to this effect, and I can only hope that others are more fortunate in noticing the horrible plant, than we were. I have suffered very greatly now for two weeks—being tortured with an itching rash which nothing in the drug store seems to relieve, and I have certainly bought and tried everything under the sun that has been recommended to me to alleviate the misery and discomfort resulting from the horrible attack of this Poison Ivy which infests the grassy banks of Bewdley.

If you wish to publish this letter it's all right with me using my initials, as I feel quite deeply about the matter.

In my estimation they should either destroy the weed or place signs warning visitors of its location.

Thanking you, I remain,

Yours very truly,

MRS. J. E. BOYCE.

THE PAVING OF BURNHAM ST.

Sir: In reporting the favourable support given by the Ontario Municipal Board to the protest by Burnham St. property owners—against the paving of Burnham St.—you erroneously state that the protest was against the division of expense between the owners and the city.

The question of the division of the expense was not mentioned by the property owners. The protest was solely and justifiably founded on the fact that we already have an entirely satisfactory road, with demonstrated low maintenance (except in one small area). To tear up this excellent roadway and install a better one would have been an extravagance that neither the Burnham St. property owners nor the city taxpayers in general should agree to.

The proposed widening of the north portion of the street to give better parking facilities for baseball fans was a different matter. This might well be the best scheme for providing the needed parking space—but it would be palpably unjust to ask the property owners in that immediate location to pay for the parking area—for which they have least use of all.

Yours truly,

G. R. LANGLEY.

APPROVES STRONGLY OF CITY TRUST

Sir: I can assure you that I would be very glad to have the City Trust continued. Never was there any person or organization that did better financial work for any city than the City Trust of Peterborough. It put Peterborough on the map financially—without it we can expect most anything. Our City Council, with all due respect, are not trained for this in most cases, while the City Trust is controlled by men trained for this special work. Yes, do not let this group be abolished.

Yours for sound financing,

J. A. GIBBS.

NO HELP

Filling out an application for a job, the chap answered "no" to a question as to whether he had dependents.

"Say, you're married aren't you?" asked the clerk who knew him.

"Oh sure," came the answer, "but my wife ain't dependable."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the vision of all is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I cannot; for it is sealed: and the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I am not learned....

Is it not a very little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest? And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness. The meek also shall increase their joy in the Lord, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel. (Isa. 29: 11, 12, 17-19.)

Now about the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?

Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me. If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. (John 7: 14-17.)

"I'll take the twenty dollars, Judge," said the accused.

The gang was having an old-fashioned sleigh ride, and everybody was having a wonderful time. But one girl sighed deeply.

"What's the matter?" demanded the handsome senior.

"Nobody loves me," she sobbed, "and my hands are cold."

"Oh, that's all right," he answered softly, "Your mother loves you, and you can sit on your hands."

At a religious meeting a lady persisted in standing on a bench, and thus intercepting the view of others, though repeatedly requested to sit down. A reverend old gentleman at last rose, and said gravely: "I think if the lady knew that she had a large hole in each of her stockings, she would not exhibit them in this way." This had the desired effect—she immediately sat down.

A young minister standing by, blushed to the temples, and said: "O, brother! How dare you say what was not a fact?"

"Not a fact!" replied the old gentleman, "if she hadn't a large hole in each of her stockings I should like to know how she gets them on?"

Wilson Ahead Of Petes And The COBL

Pat Wilson of the Petes is currently leading the COBL hitters with a hefty .480 average in eight games. The Toronto import outfielder, who plays hockey for Washington in the winter, was out the early part of the season with a bad leg. Al Menzies is next among his teammates with a respectable .396, one point ahead of Howie Dalton, last year's leading Central League slugger. The schedule has more than a month to go yet. The Petes were in front on July 18, just ahead of Oshawa, while Batawa is third and Brockville fourth. Oshawa lost a four-point game to Brockville.

Ticcony is leading Oshawa batsmen with 458 in a dozen games, while Blaziak tops Brockville with .391 and Bush leads Batawa with .346. Lefty Dadson of the Petes is best pitcher so far with six wins and one loss as Gunner Whitehill—who led last year in the loop—has four victories and one reverse. Gingerich of Oshawa had four and two, as teammates Knight, Sutton and Michaels each have two triumphs and no defeats. Smith won two against four for Batawa, the only winning pitcher on that team, and Thomlinson has the only win among the Brockville twirlers. Following is the local list of batting averages up to and including July 18:

Campbellford Wins Against Havelock

CAMPBELLFORD, July 21 (ENS)—The local club trounced Havelock 10-1 in a TVL baseball fixture at the fair grounds Wednesday before one of the largest crowds of the season. The visitors were unable to cope with the homesters' air-tight infield and the steady hurling of McNaughton. Herd played stellar ball in left field, making several brilliant catches. Costly errors and indifferent pitching plagued the Havelock boys throughout the contest.

The teams:

Havelock: Bales, ss; J. Laing, 2b; Heath, 1b; H. Laing, lf; Smith, c; W. Vaughan, 3b; Thompson, rf; Pollock, cf; Vaughan, p.

Campbellford: Bennett, c; Jeffs, cf; Macoun, 1b; Darrah, ss; McNaughton, p.; Neil, rf.; Herd, lf; MacFarlane, 2b; Hardy, 3b.

LAWN BOWLING

At 7.30 o'clock this evening we continue the men's club singles. At 7.30 the ladies are holding a rink tournament, draw from the board. Also at 7.30 p.m. there will be the provincial play-offs for rinks, doubles and singles. It looks like a big night.

Over at Port Perry Wednesday, G. Coleman, Sr., A. Maunder and G. Coleman, Jr., came first with three wins; N. Routley, J. Detcher and R. F. Downey came second with three wins, and P. Hooper, C. Lawrence and P. Moore were only one down (7-6), with three ends to go. If they could win this game they also would win three games. It was close to midnight when we left and they were still playing. The winners received merchandise vouchers. The other three local rinks were in the "also ran" department.

Down at Port Hope on the half-holiday, our club was represented in the Rosevear Memorial Trophy with six rinks. Only one rink reached the prize departmentMrs. R. Dyer, R. Dyer, Mrs. C. Renaud and C. Renaud. They received first for two high wins. They each received a sheet and a pair of pillow cases.

Ashby's Victors In 11th Over Marines

Ashby's squeezed out a 4-3 Girls Softball League win in 11 innings over Marines last night at the Bowl. It was a thriller, run off in 1.20, with D. Callan driving in the winning run in the extra overtime stanza. Both sides hit pretty solidly and the fielding wasn't perfect, but it was a nip-and-tuck tussle from start to finish between two good squads. E. Whittaker fanned four while D. McFadden whiffed six.

J. Dunk shone afield for, the winners, and was in on a double play with E. McFadden. D. Callan led her side at bat. B. Larmer and M. Behan were the pick of the losing side in the field, and B. Larmer's four-bagger in the eighth tied up the game and sent it into overtime for two heats.

The teams:

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Bruce Humber, of Victoria, 34-year-old coach of Canada's track team for the British Empire Games at Auckland, doesn't figure his charges will have any trouble with New Zealand's grass tracks.

The change to grass from the cinders they've been used to, he said at Victoria in an interview, "won't be any disadvantage — except that times will be a little slower. But it will be the same for everyone."

Humber has had plenty of experience with grass tracks in Victoria "and I've found they're fine. As a matter of fact, they're easier on the feet than cinder tracks."

Humber, who has been around the track sport since 1927 and has several spring records to his credit, is pleased with the selection of the Empire Games committee.

"I feel that officials did a fine job in selecting the team, representing as it does almost every part of Canada. And I feel sure this team will uphold Canada's good record in British Empire competition."

Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday recalled infielder Mike Goliat from Toronto Maple Leafs and sent pitcher Jocko Thompson and second baseman Ralph Caballero to the International League club.

Goliat, who is hitting .293 and has batted in 40 runs, is expected to make his debut with the Phillies at first base against Cincinnati Saturday.

Thompson was sent to the Leafs on a 24-hour recall basis. Caballero went to the International League club outright.

Achille Castoldi, Italian speedboat ace, will not compete in the Harmsworth Trophy race at Detroit July 29-30, he said Wednesday at Milan, Italy. Castoldi told reporters he has not been able to get his boat, the San Ambrogio II, in shape since the transmission was damaged during a trial run here some time ago.

At Exeter, that rarity in harness racing, a dead heat, occurred Wednesday in the co-featured 2.17 class of a program witnessed by more than 300 fans. Lionel Browne informs us that entries are coming in fast for the big three-day open amateur golf tournament at the Kawartha Club on Civic Holiday week-end. Play is 36 holes Saturday and Monday for the Walker Trophy, with team play competition on Sunday—four low scores of each club competing—for the Schneider Trophy. So far, $800 in prizes up and this tourney had the largest amateur entry in Canada last year, with 88 first flight golfers and 142 second flight ones taking part. Jerry Kesselring was the winner in 1948 and he may be back this time. Draw made next Wednesday. Ornamental Swimming Club will perform in the illuminated pool on the course during the Saturday night party.

St. Catharines Athletics play the Armstrong-sponsored Petes an OLA senior "A" game at 8.45 tomorrow night in Miller Bowl. It ought to be an outstanding gutted-stick attraction as St. Kitts haven't shown much superiority o'er the Creighton crew so far this semester, especially here, as local fans will recalled. A bit of bad feeling between the clubs, too, should make it interesting. Several St. Catharines' players are doing their stuff now for Peterborough and they'll really be trying all the way. No doubt another hefty crowd on deck, if the weather is right. Petes go to Weston on Monday and have Hamilton here the next Friday.

Senior Ball Averages

COBL averages are in tonight, including July 18, but exclusive of Tuesday's game in Oshawa. The latter game will make changes in the Oshawa and Petes' hitting and pitching, but Pat Wilson is well in front of the locals and the loop in hitting, while Dadson and Whitehill are in front now of the flingers. As Brockville games count four points, the Petes and Oshawa are tied atop with 28 points, Batawa having six and Brockville four. You see, the Petes swept four from Brockville, and Batawa won one four-pointer, while Brockville beat Oshawa once. Ticcony (Oshawa), Blaziak (Brockville) and Bush (Batawa) led their clubs at bat. Petes are playing in Oshawa this Saturday aft.

Two men's softball games at the Bowl tonight, nine-inning frays, starting at seven: Cosmos vs. Uniteds, and Knights vs. Cosmos. One tilt Saturday, Uniteds vs. Knights to end the schedule. Outlaws and Jewellers have defaulted remaining games and, according to our figures, the standing—counting all defaults—now has Uniteds in front with 18 wins and five losses. Cosmos next with 15 and six, while Knights have 14 and nine. Yeh, that's it, as previous arrangements had tonight's setup listed as a triple-header, Knights vs. Jewellers, latter vs. Outlaws, and Uniteds. vs. Cosmos. With Saturday supposed to have Knights vs. Jewellers, and Outlaws vs. Uniteds. Next Tuesday should have seen Outlaws playing Uniteds, while Thursday had Jewellers in a game 'gainst Cosmos.

They'll Be Okay Now

Instead of that, we've got the messy windup to the schedule of two clubs dropping out and defaulting remaining tilts. Tonight's and Saturday's games will be good ones—as these three top teams battle it out for preferred playoff spots—and the playoffs, starting next week, will be tops again. All worthy of big crowds. But some confusion could result if it's as close a scramble as expected, since Cosmos will have played two games less than Uniteds and Knights. Just figure it out yourselves. While much of the blame can be spread among the two defaulting clubs and the shop holidays—which take so many players out of town—the loop executive is not guiltless, and should take steps ere next spring to see that the schedule is completed properly.

Holidays didn't hurt Westclox or Ashby's girls when they returned to thesoftball wars last evening in the Bowl. Clockers romped to a 12-4 victory over Woollens back of neat flinging by M. Downer, good fielding by M. Hawthorne and some hard hitting by J. McIntyre and A. Anderson. M. Laing led the losers at bat. The other joust was a honey, going 11 innings ere Ashby's yanked out a 4-3 win against the Marines. D. McFadden and E. Whittaker went the mound distance, while D. Calan led the victors at bat. B. Larmer hit a homer; she and M. Behan for Marines, and J. Dunk for Ashby's shone afield. Games there on the morrow: Ashby's vs. Woollens, and Westclox vs. Marines.

Young Petes In Tie With Hopers

By FRED MAYBEE

Baseball fans were treated to the finest game of the season last evening at Riverside as McGuinnes' Young Petes played a thrilling 2-2 draw against Port Hope, in a Lakeshore League game.

George (Red) Sullivan was at his best, scattering seven hits, striking out nine and walking two besides driving Stewart home with a long double in the fourth. Jack Dawley however, was equally effective for the Ontarios in a real pitchers' duel.

Sullivan's effectiveness with men aboard shows in the summary as 12 visitors were left stranded despite five errors against three left for the Pagett crew.

Collins played a bang-up game as did Millar and Swanston, while Keeler, Foote and Thixon were the big three for the Hopers apart from Dawley.

More Donkey Ball

MARMORA, July 21.—(ENS). Marmora fun lovers enjoyed donkey baseball in the arena on Tuesday, for few had witnessed this type of comedy before. Branch No. 237 Canadian Legion made arrangements whereby 12 donkeys were furnished for the game. The Legion fielded a team to play the Marmora hockey team and Tommy Cousins had the difficult assignment of umpire. The teams:

Hockey Team—B. Gray, c; K. Trumble, p; R. Hagadoren, 1b; E. Trumble, 2b; P. Gray, ss; C. Loveless, 2b; W. Empey, cf; R. Goodchild, rf R Darrah, lf; subs, E. Leonard, E. Cousins.

Legion— C. Goodchild, p; E. Gordon, c; C. Cronkright, 1b; W. Hipson, 2b; R. Warren, 3b; W. Nayler, ss; T. Brawley, cf; H. Doyle, rf; M. Campbell, cf; subs, N. Mumby, R. Gray, B. O'Connor, J. Lowery.

The donkeys filled their positions as follows Hammer Head, 1b; Red, 2b; Proctor, 3b; Satan, ss; Velvet, rf; Lady, cf; Honey, lf. Base runners, Dynamite, Patches, Pappy and Maggie. Corky was the utility steed.

No future rodeo rider was seen in any of the players in this game. Bill Nayler for the Legion, with all other resources failing him, got his donkey home for a run by pulling him around by his front legs. Pappy, the senior of the donkeys, kept his temper for three innings, but having acquired a temper in a Colorado mine that could suddenly change from the docile, unseated a few riders and gave impersonations of a bucking broncho. Patches also did some bucking, but the mirth went on with nobody getting hurt. Scoring was almost as difficult as star counting, but theare being no official score the following is allowed to stand.

Legion	013 5x—9

It was announced that 907 persons paid admission of which number 311 were children.

Westclox Gain Girls' Win Over Woollens

Westclox celebrated their return on the Girls Softball League after vacation with a 12-4 victory over Woollens last night in the Bowl. Errors hurt the losers, but the victors had eight-hit pitching by Mary Downer—she fanned nine—and good hitting. L. Derry struck out three. The game was interesting enough and run off in a trifle more than an hour before a fair-sized crowd of fans.

M. Hawthorne stood out in the field for the Westclox, while J. McIntyre led her side at bat with three hits, she and A. Anderson smacking out three-baggers. S. Harris and M. Laing looked best defensively for Woollens, the latter leading them at bat with three bingles. E. Humphries hit a homer and J. McIlwain a three-bagger for them.

The teams:

Beat The Bankers

Grant and Loucks softball team of the Civic League cashed in on eight errors by the Bankers to win 12 to 3 at the Ashburnham field Wednesday night. The G-L team each batted in the fourth and fifth to push across nine runs. In the sixth they picked up three more runs on errors. The Bankers, led by Henry Robinson, rallied in the last of the seventh to score twice and leave two men on bases.

Lineups:

Grant and Loucks: Craig, Russelle, Riches, Byers, Chenier, Little, Dracup, Gauthier, Birchenau, Reilly, Doucette.

Movie Producer Dempsey's Ally With New Boxer

By BOB MYERS

HOLLYWOOD, July 21 (AP)—Life is indeed beautiful for Sam H. Stiefel.

You probably aren't acquainted with him, but Mr. Stiefel is a busy, friendly little man who makes motion pictures, shows them in his theatres, makes a lot of money, races horses, lives in a big house—and is slightly nuts about the fight game.

He's been a fight fan for 35 years, at ringside in his native Philadelphia, in New York and Chicago and three times a week out here.

He never missed a fight and never had a fighter.

Today he owns a heavyweight, and he has himself a partner—and such a partner—Jack Dempsey.

"Meet my partner, Jack Dempsey," beamed Mr. Stiefel as he and Jack finished signing contracts in his studio office on a desk about the size of a well-appointed ping pong table.

Dempsey, the one and only, shook hands, waved his as usual unlit cigar, beamed and started telephoning on one of Sam's battery of telephones, lining up matches.

Fighter Is Negro

The fighter is a 21-year-old Negro lad named Clarence Henry, and the co-managers' campaign is simple. They're going to pool their resources—Jack's contacts and Sam's money—in guiding him to the heavyweight championship.

"—of the world," said Mr. Stiefel, with enthusiasm.

"It'll take time," said Jack, sparring over the telephone. "But he's a good looking young prospect."

Sam was so busy extolling his fighter's merits he forgot that he was making a movie epic downstairs. He left it to an aide to say that it was an auto racing picture called "The Big Wheel," and that 118 extras had to be laid off because Mickey Rooney got sick that day.

Has Good Punch

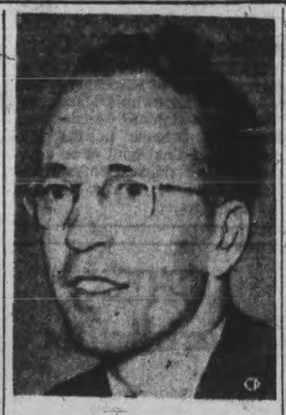
He told of the 185-pounder's ability to take a punch, how he could punch, how he won the Los Angeles Times and Chicago Tribune Golden Gloves titles last year and lost in the inter-city finals at New York, how he had 40 amateur fights and is unbeaten in 10 pro matches.

Abe Roth, astute judge of fistic flesh and a pal of Dempsey's, added a word of praise, and Stiefel declared, "He looks better than Joe Louis did at the same stage of his career. I've seen 'em both."

"Don't worry," chimed in Dempsey, still on the phone. "We won't rush him. We won't get him knocked off."

For Jack, uncovering new talent is nothing new. But it is for Stiefel.

"This," he said, "is a big day in my life. Henry my fighter, Dempsey my partner." Life can be beautiful for the partnership.



SASKATCHEWAN'S PREMIER—Head of the only C.C.F. government in Canada is Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan. A former Baptist minister in Weyburn, Sask., he won a Commons seat in 1935 and held it until he resigned in 1944 to take over leadership of the C.C.F. in its successful campaign to unseat Saskatchewan's Liberal government headed by Premier W. J. Patterson.

Royals Take Bisons Twice To Cleaners

By The Associated Press.

Brooklyn Dodgers, who have one of the best shortstops in baseball in Pee Wee Reese, also have one of the top short fielders in the minors in Bobby Morgan.

Morgan, because of Reese's presence, tried to stick with the Dodgers this spring as a third baseman, but it was no soap. The Brooks sent him back to their Montreal farm club in the International League and Bobby is sparking the Royals' bid to take over the top rung from Buffalo Bisons.

The heir-apparent to Reese's post is banging away at a .348 gait. He has cracked out 116 hits in 333 trips and driven home 80 runs. Among his blows are 10 home runs and 26 doubles.

Morgan, batting in the third slot, belted out six hits in 10 trips to the plate Wednesday night as the Royals took the Bisons to the cleaners twice, 10-5 and 8-5, before 14,191 fans, largest Buffalo night crowd of the season.

In Second Place

The double defeat of the Bisons moved the Royals from third to second place, five games behind the Bisons. Rochester Red Wings dropped to third place as a result of their 2-1, 12-inning loss to Toronto Maple Leafs.

Morgan shared batting honors with Sam Jethroe in the opener. Jethroe belted a homer, double and single and sent home three runs to extend his batting streak to 20 games. He was blanked in the night cap.

The Royals pounded Bob Hooper and two relief pitchers for 14 hits while Dan Bankhead and Clarence Podielan restricted the Bisons to seven hits. The loss was Hooper's first against 11 victories and the triumph Bankhead's tenth against four setbacks.

Clyde King picked up his 13th victory in the finale but the crafty righthander failed to finish. He was shelled out during a five-run eighth inning rally and Johnny Van Cuke finished up. Morgan drove home a pair of runs with his 10th homer in the seventh inning.

Payoff Run

Bill Glynn tripled home Chet Laabs with the payoff run in Toronto's triumph over the Wings before 13,035 fans at Rochester. The blow was Glynn's third of the game.

Russ Derry sent the game into overtime when he slammed his 25th homer in the ninth inning off Toronto starter Max Peterson, who previously had shut the Wings out twice. The homer enabled Derry to break his tie for the league leadership with Toronto's Ed Sanicki.

Baltimore Orioles crushed Jersey City Giants 11-4 and moved to within two percentage points of the sixth-place Syracuse Chiefs The Chiefs dropped a 9-7 game to the last-place Newark Bears.

Baltimore wrapped up the decision with a six-run blast in the fifth inning that was featured by Ken Wood's bases-loaded homer.

Buddy Heslet and Jim Dyck drove home three runs apiece to spark the Bears to victory. Dyck and teammate Ed Little homered for Newark while Bob Usher whacked a three-run homer for Syracuse in the ninth off winning pitcher Frank Lamanna.

GUELPH, July 21.—(CP). — Prisoners at the Ontario reformatory are hard at work these days turning out Ontario's 1950 automobile license plates. Made here since 1931, the 1950 white-on-black plates are expected to number more than 2,000,000. Due to the rapid growth in the province's car population. By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Larry Doby's "skull" and Joe DiMaggio's hitting have put the cooler on Cleveland's pennant drive—at least temporarily.

Doby drew a fine of an undisclosed amount Wednesday night after he was thrown out, trying to steal home with the bases loaded and nobody out in the eighth inning. Doby's Cleveland mates trailed the American League-leading New York Yankees, 7-3 at the time. That turned out to be the final score.

Doby broke for the plate as Lefty Joe Page walked back toward the resin bag. Page whirled and threw to catcher Yogi Berra who tagged Doby as he dove head first across the plate. Page fanned Jim Hegan and made pinch-hitter Ken Keltner ground to Bobby Brown.

After the game Boudreau said he fined Doby "not only on that attempt to steal home" but because he had taken several unnecessary chances lately.

"This should make him more careful," said Lou.

DiMaggio drove in three runs with a triple and homer and scored twice as the Yanks again stretched their lead to 4½ games.

Driven From Hill

The biggest night crowd of the major league season—75,340—saw the game. Bobby Feller, driven from the hill in the third inning, was the loser.

The Yanks also gained on Boston Red Sox who dropped 6½ games behind the leaders by bowing to Chicago White Sox, 8-7. Boston overcame a 6-0 Chicago lead and finally tied the score at 7-7 on Ted Williams' 22nd homer with two on in the ninth. The White Sox came back on a triple by George Metkovich, two intentional passes and Eddie Malone's outfield fly, scoring Metkovich.

Detroit pushed over three runs in the eighth to shade Washington, 6-5. Johnny Lipon's squeeze bunt single scored Hoot Evers with the winning run. Evers led the attack with three singles.

Cards Clip Braves

Brooklyn lost a full game of its advantage in the National. St. Louis Cardinals clipped Brooklyn's margin to 2½ games by a 10-inning night game decision over Boston Braves, 6-4, after the Dodgers lost an afternoon 8-6 verdict to the onrushing Pittsburgh Pirates.

Ralph Kiner lowered the boom on the Brooks, driving in five runs with home runs No. 25 and 26.

Hank Sauer drove in all the Chicago Cubs' runs with two homers and a triple in their 11-inning 4-3 win over the Phillies. Dutch Leonard went all the way to defeat his old Phil mates on a seven hitter, his fourth victory.

New York Giants set a major-league consecutive inning scoring record while whipping Cincinnati, 5-1. By scoring in each of the first three innings, they extended their streak to 14 innings. The old record was 12, set by the Giants in 1923.

Sid Gordon, who started the streak with his 18th homer, ended it with his 19th off Ken Raffensberger. Dave Koslo pitched a neat seven-hitter for his sixth win.

ACTIVE CENTENARIAN—Mrs. Angus Mercier of Cornwall, Ont., who celebrated her 101st birthday July 19 is shown brewing her usual morning cup of tea as she carries out her usual household duties. Still in good health, Mrs. Mercier is the mother of 18 children, six of whom are still living. She was born at Vankleek Hill, Ont.

Families In Prairies Unit Having Fewer Divorces

WINNIPEG, July 21 (CP) — Prairie families live and play together more than families in other parts of Canada, and that is one of the main reasons why prairie marriages are long-lasting, say authorities on domestic problems.

In Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba the divorce rate is only about three-tenths of one per cent of the population—lower than in any other part of Canada, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics has reported.

"I think prairie marriages are longer and happier than in other parts of Canada because most people live in small communities or in the country," said Miss M. L. Moore, director of Winnipeg's Family Bureau.

"Out here our families stay together as units. Divorces are always more numerous in large industrial cities like those in Ontario. In those cities members of families are not together as much as they should be," she said. She also cited better housing conditions in the West as a factor in healthier marriages.

Dan Young, administrative officer of Winnipeg's juvenile and family court, said home life "is a frugal thing at best" in eastern industrial centres.

"Families there live at too fast a pace to enjoy home recreation." The West's lack of entertainment spots makes for quieter living centred about the home.

With true western hospitality, the family man here is more apt to invite his friends to his home for an evening than to "go cavorting around night spots," said Mr. Young.

Rev. Dr. Hugh A. McLeod of Knox United Church, Winnipeg, said the low divorce rate "certainly speaks well for the integrity and stability of western families."

"A rigorous country that still requires struggle on the part of most of its people in order to earn a livelihood promotes family solidarity," said Dr. McLeod.

Britons Decide Their Meals Not Good For Tourists

LONDON, July 21—(CP)—A standard complaint of Canadians visiting Britain is that English cooking is atrocious. They grouse about the lumpy, unbuttered potatoes and say the flavorless "spring greens" should have been left to rot in the garden. There are signs that even Britons agree. In surprisingly self-critical fashion, press and parliament have decided, that tourist standards aren't exactly up to snuff.

During a debate on holiday and tourist accommodation, the House of Commons looked at the homely fare of not-so-merrie England, found it sadly wanting. Members urged bigger and better meals to lure more and more dollars from North American visitors.

Outside parliament, a government spokesman took up the cry. Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, told a travel association "what we eat and drink makes the foreigner wonder whether the British have become a great nation because of their diet or in spite of it."

Indignant Letters

Warming to the theme, ordinary Britons wrote indignant letters to their newspapers. They criticized English cooking and urged restaurants and cafes to restore such forgotten frills as napkins and ice water.

The Sunday Observer, commenting on the new mood of self-criticism, contributed an iron note. It said English fresh vegetables are as good as any in the world—"until they are cooked."

In the same vein, Columnist Alastair Forbes wrote in the Sunday Times:

"I sometimes think that (Sir Stafford) Cripps is right, and that the only decent things to eat in England are raw English vegetables, untouched by any desecrating hand in an English kitchen."

But the sign on the grubby, undistinguished little restaurant which serves the regulars in Fleet Street still proclaims proudly: "Meat, two veg," inevitably, the "veg." are potatoes and spring greens. British habits die hard.

Waste Products Pose Problem

WASHINGTON, July 21—(AP)—The United States' bacteriological warfare plant is faced with the same problem perplexing the atomic material factories—disposal of highly dangerous waste products.

This came to light today in an army report disclosing new details of the operation of the germ warfare research project at Camp Detrick, Md.

"Both the sewage which is extremely virulent and the air which comes in contact with it must be sterilized to prevent contamination of operating personnel at Camp Detrick, and of citizens and property of the adjacent community," the army states.

In asking for $303,000 to build new decontamination facilities at Camp Detrick, the army said that present equipment is wholly inadequate "for the expanded" research and development program.

This was the first official indication of intention to augment the bacterial warfare studies. The army has asked Congress for $3,313,500 for new facilities and construction at Camp Detrick.

The military includes among its plans construction of a new building for "aero-biological research." In this project, the "BW" experts are seeking to find how effective the spreading of bacteria can be when released from an airborne carrier. The report speaks cryptically of studies of "aerosol clouds." This is presumed to refer to a cloud of bacteria which is fairly cohesive and will not be dispelled by normal wind action or the naturally purifying action of sunlight.

Baxter Thinks U.S. May Join Empire

LONDON, July 21 — (CP) — The possibility that the United States might become a member of the British Commonwealth was envisaged Wednesday in the House of Commons by Beverley Baxter, Conservative member for Wood Green.

"I am not at all certin that the third British Empire will not see the return of the American continent," the Toronto-born member said during a debate on the colonies.

"Americans are faced with a problem which they cannot solve —of how to sell goods to a world which has no dollars to buy them.

"There is only one solution to the world's economic disaster which is approaching and that is for Americans and Canadians to find some way to come into the sterling economy with free, interchangeable currency, as this country in the 19th century went into America after the civil war built up American economy."

Calls Lawyer Names Judge Dismisses Case

MONTREAL, July 21 (CP) — A charge of theft against Marie Claire Fournelle was dismissed in Criminal Court Wednesday when the complainant called the defence counsel names.

Eugene Lacombe of Cornwall, alleged that Miss Fournelle had stolen $300 from him. Judge Edouard Archambault maintained objections on defence counsel Gerard Laganiere that parts of Lacombe's testimony were not pertinent to the case but Lacombe went right ahead with it.

When Lacombe called Laganiere a "prevaricator" and the "woman's accomplice," Judge Archambault discussed the charges and told Lacombe: "If you had been the accused and not the complainant in this case, I would have sent you for a mental examination."

Banquet Sponsored By Cavan Institute

CAVAN, July 21 (ENS)—Cavan Women's Institute sponsored a dinner Tuesday evening in the community hall. The guests, who were present by special invitation, numbered 85 and were welcomed by the president, Mrs. W. Howden.

At the conclusion of the dinner the dietitian in charge gave an instructive talk on the preparation of foods to retain all the health giving minerals. Tickets were sold on a serving set and the draw was made later in the evening. The winner was Fred Hunter. Dancing brought the evening to a close.

Lords Change Bill On Steel

LONDON, July 21—(Reuters)—The predominantly-Conservative House of Lords, which is hostile to nationalization, Wednesday night gave third reading to a government bill to nationalize Britain's iron and steel industry. But since it made some important changes, the battle with the government still continues.

One of these changes would postpone nationalization until after next year's general election with a view to giving the country a chance to have second thoughts on it.

The government is expected to reject this amendment.

If the Lords then refuse to give way—and they say they will not—the government can make its original bill law before the end of the present parliament without the approval of the Upper House.

This can be done through the parliament bill which the government introduced last year to reduce the Lords' powers to delay legislation from two years to one.

No vote was taken on Wednesday's third reading. The House of Commons already has passed the bill.

Delay Building Ship

KINGSTON, July 21—(CP)—Construction of the new passenger steamship Kingston for Canada Steamship Lines has been suspended pending decision by Canada and the United States on the building of the St. Lawrence River deep waterway. T. G. Bishop, general manager of Canadian Shipbuilding and Engineering, Ltd, said Wednesday that if the seaway is started, it will not be possible for vessels to go through the St Lawrence Rapids. In that case, the design of the ship will be changed.

A CLEAR INDICATION of the Government's determination to offset the calamitous effects of the continuing London dock strike is provided in this picture. Troops erect field kitchens near Clapham South, London, to feed the soldiers unloading precious cargoes at the strike-bound docks. Provision is being made to feed 8,000 troops, if necessary.

Angling More Popular Than Ever In Canadian Lakes And Rivers

By The Canadian Press.

More Canadians and Americans appear to be taking advantage of the continent's favorite fishing ground than ever before.

A Canadian Press survey of provincial fisheries' officials indicates that the age-old sport of angling is more popular than ever this summer in the Dominion's myriad lakes, streams and rivers.

Sure gauge of fishing's popularity is the sale of fishing licenses. While no exact figures are available yet on this year's sales, officials estimate there are more being sold than in 1948—a record year.

Also indicative of a fishing "boom" are reports from hardware dealers and other fishing tackle retailers. They say sales are brisk. And owners of fishing camps report a first-rate season.

Exceptional Luck

In general, fishermen's luck seems good—in some cases exceptional.

Two instances of the exceptional occurred on Lake St. Louis, near Montreal. Fishermen there on two separate occasions have reported sturgeon jumping into their boats. One weighed 20 pounds, the other 55 pounds.

To top this, Mayor John Marks of New York Mills, Minn., fishing at Rush Lake near Ottawa, said he cast a plug, a bass took it, fought it and threw it. Before the plug hit the water a second bass grabbed it. That's what the Mayor said.

Although not every angler could boast such good fortune, there were few who could not take the legal limit if they fished long enough.

Officials reported fishing good in every province except Newfoundland, where light rainfall has lowered river levels and made salmon fishing difficult.

Big Business

In Ontario, where the lake and river area has been estimated at 30,000 square miles, one-fifth the total area of the province, fishing has reached big-business proportions.

Officials of the Fish and Wildlife Division of the Department of Lands and Forests say that last year 139,500 individuals and 84,000 family licenses were sold, mostly to Americans. Residents are not required to buy a license. Revenue from the sale of these was well over the $1,000,000 mark.

Many types of game fish abound in Ontario's vast waterways but the most popular, say wildlife officials, is the bass. Next to it comes the pike and pickerel and, of course, the muskellunge—the big-game fish of Canada's inland waters.

This summer the division has had reports of "good" fishing from Rice Lake, the Kawartha Lakes region, and the North Bay-Lake Nipissing district.

Some American anglers have flown as far north as the Albany River, which flows into James Bay, to fish for trout.

The Ottawa Valley and neighboring Quebec is experiencing a big year with the Gatineau and Upper Ottawa Rivers thronged during week-ends with fishermen who have been having good luck catching muskies, small and large-mouth bass, pickerel and sturgeon.

Report CSU No Longer Representing Crew

OTTAWA, July 21 (CP)—The Labor Department said Wednesday it has received a telegram signed "D. McAugher for crew of the Beaverbrae" claiming that the Canadian Seamen's Union no longer represents the crew of the strike-bound vessel.

The telegram said 60 per cent of the crew had returned to the ship.

The Beaverbrae is one of two Canadian ships tied up in London by the strike the Communist-influenced CSU has been waging against deep-sea shipping since March. British dockworkers have refused to unload the vessel and walked out in support of the seamen.

Willing To Help

KITCHENER, July 21—(CP)—The 23 Estonian political refugees who arrived in Halifax last weekend will receive any necessary assistance from the Canadian Lutheran World Federation if they are permitted to remain in Canada, Rev. Paul Eydt of Brunner, Ont., said Wednesday. There was a possibility some may be brought to the Kitchener district. The refugees arrived in Halifax from Sweden aboard the schooner W. E. Gladstone and now are awaiting admission—decision of the Federal Resources Department.

U.S. May Have Market

CHATHAM, July 21—(CP)—Southwestern Ontario potato dealers said Wednesday that the United States market may save growers in the area from a "grim situation." Pointing to increasing loss of the domestic market as crops mature in the Maritimes, Quebec and the west, the dealers said the United States may provide a solution. To date, 35,000 bags from southwestern Ontario have been sold in United States.

5 RAF Planes Arrive

GREENWOOD, N.S., July 21—(CP)—Five RAF Lancasters arrived at this Annapolis Valley air base Wednesday after a flight from Leuchars, Scotland, on a combined courtesy and training mission. The squadron will carry out operations with the Canadian Navy while in this area.

Peterboro' Dogs Few Cases Of Distemper

Despite reports of outbreaks of distemper amongst dogs in other parts of Ontario, Dr. Harry Hamilton at the Animal Clinic on Aylmer St. reports few cases in Peterborough. Dr. Hamilton said that in the last couple of weeks he has innoculated about 50 dogs for distemper. He added that dogs suffer most from the disease in the fall and winter.

At the present time dogs hit by cars or dying of old age are leading the mortality list. Many people, the veterinarian said, are so attached to their pets that they cannot destroy them when they are old. The dogs are sent to the clinic where they are killed quickly and painlessly.

A week ago a collie puppy fell off the locks at Young's Point, breaking three legs. Although the legs could have been mended, the owner did not have enough money to pay for the necessary treatment and the dog was destroyed.

Besides dogs being treated for broken bones, Dr. Hamilton said that this summer he has treated dogs with fish hooks through their skin and porcupine needles, results of a fight with the prickly fellows.

Distemper Signs

Distemper amongst dogs is rarely spotted by the dog's owner, Dr. Hamilton said, until the dog starts taking fits. Then it is too late to do anything about it because the disease has reached the creature's nerve centres.

The first signs to a veterinarian are a rise in temperature up to 104 to 106 degrees. The dog then appears sleepy and lazy. This may pass off until finally the dog begins to take fits. Another type of distemper begins with pneumonia.

Dr. Hamilton warned that distemper is highly contagious. He said that keeping one's dog away from another dog is good but that people in contact with a dog which has the disease could easily carry the disease back to their own dog.

Seeing-Eye Dogs Eat Off Silver Plates

BOSTON, July 21.—(AP). — Room service at the Hotel Statler is serving food on silver platters—and still getting barked at.

They're cheery barks, though, from 31 seeing-eye dogs here with their masters for the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of the Blind.

The elegant platters, the hotel explained, are part of the room service equipment.

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XCIX, No. 18 FRIDAY, JULY 22, 1949

First Estimate New City Hall Cost $625,000

A preliminary estimate of the cost of Peterborough's proposed city hall as designed by Marani and Morris, Toronto architects, is approximately $125,000 in excess of the $500,000 provided for that purpose in the bequest of W. G. Morrow.

Mayor Swanston told the Examiner today that this was one of the developments submitted to the deputation from the council in their interview with the architects in Toronto Wednesday afternoon.

"This is only a tentative figure" His Worship said. "It is an estimate by the architects on the basis of current costs, and it might be considerably reduced in firm bids from contractors when we get around to the stage of calling for tenders."

Nine Aldermen to Toronto

Nine members of the council were accompanied by James Hamilton and W. H. Thompson. They were joined by representatives of the National Trust Company, executors of the estate of the late Mr. Morrow. Ald. Waddell is the chairman of the special committee composed of members of the council, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Thompson, Judge Smoke and the executors.

Ald. Waddell said he was satisfied that the committee had fulfilled its mission of directing the preliminary phase of the city hall project. Its meeting yesterday decided that the city hall should be built of stone. The architects were instructed to proceed with the preparation of working drawings and specifications.

Mr. Hungerford of National Trust expressed agreement with our progress, the Mayor said, "and also with everything that has been done so far. A suggestion of the architects was to the effect that, if it is the intention of the city to go ahead with construction next year, plans should be submitted to contractors early in 1950.

"That gives the council ample time to consider what the next steps are to be, especially in regard to financing. The legacy from Mr. Morrow will amount to probably more than $500,000 by next year, and as it was said at the meeting, the cost of construction could only be estimated at present."

Mayor Swanston said the architects offered a suggestion that the terazzo flooring of the main vestibule might be a map in color of Peterborough County indicating its municipalities, lakes and rivers.

Rush Summer Resident To Toronto Surgeon

Unconscious in a Toronto hospital, Norman P. Davy, 63, a summer resident at Burleigh Falls from Hamilton, was awaiting a delicate brain operation Thursday morning.

While in Burleigh Falls he suffered three strokes and was taken to a Peterborough hospital where he was a patient 10 days. He was rushed to Toronto early Wednesday by ambulance after he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Hospital officials said today his condition was unchanged. It was not known when the operation would be performed. His family left Burleigh Falls Wednesday to go to Toronto.

Faint Traces Man Missing Five Months

OMEMEE, July 21 (ENS) — Members of the family of Thomas E. Rice, tax collector of this community, who has been missing from his home since the first week of March, are still completely in the dark as to what has happened to him. An intensive search conducted by the Ontario Provincial Police since early in May has failed to reveal any trace of his whereabouts.

Further inquiries have been made by the Lindsay detachment, OPP, during the past few days following receipt of reports that he might either have met with foul play or be working for Ontario Hydro or on a farm. So far, however, the police have not unearthed anything at all which would bear out either of these reports.

Inspector E. V. McNeill, in charge of the Peterborough headquarters of the Provincial Police, said today that while the possibility of foul play could not be discounted altogether, pending solution of the mystery, investigations indicated that this was highly unlikely.

Inspector McNeill said that he was checking with the Personnel Dept. of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission at Toronto regarding the possibility that Mr. Rice might have secured employment on one of their projects, although it is possible that if he had done so he might have used a different name.

Mr. Rice has been missing on one previous occasion for a few weeks, but he was found at that time by his wife in Lindsay when she went to the town on a shopping tour. He has been away from home much longer this time.

Since he has been missing the second time he was reported to have been seen at the Canadian Legion quarters in Lindsay, where he was believed to have stayed overnight, and on another occasion in Toronto.

Following the first report made of his disappearance, the Provincial Police sent out a general circular to all detachments of the force in the province, members of which have been on the lookout for Mr. Rice ever since, but to no avail.

Besides his wife, the missing man has one daughter Gladys, who, together with her husband and one child, is living at home with her mother.

Outboard Marine Addition Rises

Construction of the addition to the Outboard Marine plant is not being held up by any material shortages. It should be ready in October, according to Allan Franks, job superintendent. Contractors for the job are Richard and B. A. Ryan.

At present there are 27 laborers on the site, plus 16 tradesmen. Of the latter, five are steel construction men, three are plumbers, and eight are roofers.

Company officials, when news of the proposed addition was released last fall, said that the new part would increase capacity of the present plant by 100 per cent. Their aim is to centralize production and to consolidate storage space. At that time storage houses were scattered through the city.

CRUISER TRAFFIC ON THE TRENT waterways is at an all-time peak at the present time. Canal officials at Trenton reported 13 vessels were tied to the Town Wharf, northward bound, on Monday morning. Many of these have already passed through Peterborough and have tied up a short while at the George St. Wharf for water and provisioning. The FLAMINGO II of Toronto, owned by K. Link of that city, is shown above at the Wharf on Wednesday morning while owners went uptown to shop.

Locks On Trent Busy Season With Cruisers

Tax payers who think that Trent Canal employees are not a busy group of people should go over the hydraulic Lift Lock and watch cruisers going up and down over "The Hump" these days. Today, up to noon 16 vessels have used the lock, many of them part of a flotilla of 13 which was reported tied up to Trenton town wharf on Monday morning, mostly northbound.

These boats worked through 20 locks between Trenton and the Peterborough Lift Lock. Locks in the parlance of watermen are known as "flights", the highest on the above-mentioned stretch 54 feet in a two-lock series at Healey Falls. There is also a double lock at Campbellford with a drop of 48 feet; these two spots have the highest flights in the Trent Canal system.

Names of boats passing through the Lift Lock since Monday are Marney, P. J. Jackson, Happy Joe, Norlaine, Marie-B-Martha II and Alton Special. On Tuesday there were seven large cruisers: Cathy-Lou II of Syracuse, Earling of Cleveland, Flamingo of Toronto, Artemus II of Ottawa, Nomad of Montreal, the Sharlene and Jolity of Annapolis, Md.

Casual Cruise

The last boat, owned and skippered by H. O. Werner, left Annapolis on June 6th on a casual cruise. Mr. Werner is professor of naval history at the United States Naval Academy, an institution in the category with Canada's Royal Roads at Esquimalt, B. C. He was interested in seeing so many boys playing lacrosse at the Miller Bowl during the day and remarked that the American cradle of box lacrosse was in Baltimore but he would not venture to say players were on a par with Canadians at their national sport.

All water visitors praised the Trent system highly for scenery and courtesy along the route but there was one general complaint about an improperly-marked buoy off Glenn Ross, below Campbellford. It was reported that T. J. Ryan, Canal Superintendent, motored down to that spot on Wednesday to investigate.

Two more cruisers are going through the Lift Lock at the time of writing, the Captain and Chloe, both of Alcott, N. Y.

Stuart Hereford Herd Sale Among Greatest In Canada

"The Stuart sale of Hereford cattle Sept. 7 will be one of the biggest events of its kind in Canada," J. H. Miles commented to the Examiner today. And, Mr. Miles is not the auctioneer in charge of this sale, either, although he did sell the Holstein cattle and farm implements at another Stuart farm, south of No. 7 Highway, in Otonabee six weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stuart are offering 165 head of horned and polled Herefords, thereby dispersing the two herds that have been regarded as a great breed asset to the agricultural industry in this country.

"I can't say positively that it is the biggest private sale of pure-bred cattle ever held in Canada, because I haven't the facts before me, but we can say that it is one of the biggest," Mr. Miles said. "That applies to both quantity and quality. Most people know the breeding back of the Old Orchard Herefords, and I think there will be a general feeling of regret that this great herd is being lost to the district."

Notable Stock

The OOF offering comprises 75 cows, in calf or with calves at foot; 31 yearlings, all bred; 17 calves; and 10 bulls including the OOF herd sires, headed by WHR Monarch 60th and W.H.R. Proud Mixer 12th.

Mrs. Nancy Stuart's polled Herefords consist of 23 head including the herd sire C.M.R. Advance Domino 81st, bred by H. P. Moore of Mississippi. He was selected as the best polled Hereford bull in America from which to send semen to Britain through the facilities of Cambridge University.

Hays Limited of Oakville are directing this sale with a selling staff of four auctioneers, W. S. O'Neil, who handled the two other Stuart sales; Archie Boyce, Jewett Fulkerson and Paul Good.

Great Herd Developing

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart are using a six-page advertising layout in the Canadian Hereford Journal this month, featuring photographs of both polled and horned animals. The Journal itself says: "One leaves the farm with the feeling that in the not too distant future here would have been one of the great herds of all time".

And in their own statement to breeders, among whom they are widely known throughout Canada, OOF owners make this brief explanation: "Owing to circumstances beyond our control, it is necessary for us to take up our former residence across the border".

The Wyoming Ranch Hereford (WHR) blood lines which John Stuart brought into this district when he undertook the establishment of OOF herd are already widely disseminated throughout eastern and western Canada through the stock reducing sales of last April and November. They gathered up most of the Hereford prizes at the first Royal after the war, and the "get of sire of WHR Monarch 60th has been first at all major shows in that period.

Creek Clean-up Holidayed

Completion of the clean-up of Jackson Park Creek, launched early this month by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been held up by a temporary shortage of manpower occasioned by annual vacations of Jaycees, President Douglas Vaisey said today. Work of clearing out the large accumulation of rubbish which infests the creek from end to end will be resumed in August, he stated.

At least twenty workers are needed at a time to carry out the job properly and there are not that many available at one time just at the moment. When work was suspended a couple of weeks ago less than one-quarter of the creek had been cleaned out, down from Jackson Park to a point midway between Park and Donegal Sts.

The Jaycees have found the task a major one, as they have encountered a wide variety of refuse in large quantities at many points along the stream's course, all the way from linoleum and garden hose to tin cans and bottles.

SMOKER CAUSES FIRE

Slight damage was caused to a Beatty Transport truck Wednesday night by a small fire which a cigarette butt is believed to have started. One end of a stable at 500 Reid St., at which the truck was standing, was also burned, but damage was slight.

Model T Hits The Hills At Twenty MPH Tours Continent At Ripe Age Of 35

Jalopies are rare in Peterborough and youths who like to play with motor engines are using them for home-made boats, not to rattle along on four wheels and a hope that all holds together. But up Lindsay way there is a special old-timer. It's speed is not dangerous though its slowness may be. In fact its top speed of 20 miles an hour is attracting considerable attention in the Highlands of Haliburton, according to a CP account.

Owned by Don Brown, of Kitchener, the 1914 car has no trouble making the hills of Lindsay and Haliburton. It was originally purchased by Mr. Brown's father and has been in the family ever since.

Besides being used for many parades and as a bridal car for a number of weddings, the old machine takes the owner on a 1,000-mile vacation trip to parts of Ontario and U.S. each year. Original except for the converting of the old carbide lamps to electric and addition of a rear vision mirror and windshield wiper, the car's value has doubled to $800 according to the Ford Company who have offered to buy it.

FALSE FRONT

The name of Millionaires or Bankers for a ball team or hockey team does not mean the team is rolling in money. Such is the case of the Bankers team in the Civic Softball League which is financially embarrassed. Each member of the team had to give 50c towards the purchasing of a new bat and ball in order to play.

PROMOTE COBOURG MAN

William Percy Neals, a native of Cobourg and an employee of the CNR for 36 years, has been appointed city passenger agent for Toronto. He began his railway career in 1916. In 1939 he was appointed travelling passenger agent in Toronto, and four years later he became chief clerk. He was promoted to passenger traffic representative in 1947.

Aerial Ladder Pole Painter

"I didn't mind it at all; I felt as safe as a church," declared Art Finn, Peterborough painter, yesterday when an Examiner reporter asked him how he felt while painting the flag pole atop the main Civic Building while perched at the end of the Fire Department's 78-foot aerial ladder.

Mr. Finn said that it was the first time that he had ever fulfilled a painting assignment of this nature, but that he had not the slightest sign of nervousness. In fact, he appeared to have enjoyed the experience immensely, partly, perhaps, because of the excellent view of the city he received at the same time. He came down off the ladder with a broad grin on his face, which served to back up his words.

Mr. Finn was not without an audience, for quite a number gathered on Simcoe St. to watch him wield his brush. The ladder truck was manned by Firemen V. Barry and A. Vinette.

Dies Suddenly At Work

Frank Maloney, an employee of Outboard Marine died early this morning as he stood talking to a group of fellow-workers. The men were gathered around, just before the day's work was to start, when Mr. Maloney collapsed. It is believed he suffered a heart attack.

He is survived by his wife, the former Florence Killen; two daughters, Mrs. William Casey (Loretta) and Mrs. Gerald Healey (Margaret), Peterborough; two sons, John Herbert and Francis Gerald, Peterborough; a sister, Mrs. E. O'Malley, Chicago, and four brothers, Patrick, of Detroit, Eugene, Harry and Herbert of Ennismore.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Whitby Hospital Censured, Inadequate, No Cooperation Doctors Say At Conference

Must mental patients be potential murderers before they can be admitted to the Ontario Mental Hospital at Whitby? We get cases of attempted suicide—people who are dangerously ill—and yet our reply from the Hospital at Whitby is often "He is not a proper patient for this hospital." This question was put before a meeting of Peterborough doctors Wednesday in the City Building by Dr. H. G. Carleton at a conference of medical doctors called to discuss facilities in Peterborough for the mentally ill.

After making a severe attack on the mental hospital's lack of co-operation with doctors, Dr. Carleton continued to say that he had never known a patient who had been badly treated in it. They were fed well and had a good clean bed to lie on. "Thank God we have such places for our mentally ill patients," he declared.

The doctor's outburst came after Dr. A. Miller, a Toronto psychiatrist who was chairman of the meeting, explained that he had called the doctors together to discuss mental health facilities and services in Peterborough.

Party Survey

The Federal government has set up independent committees in every province to collect information on health services throughout the Dominion. He represented a sub committee of the Ontario Central Committee appointed to make a survey of Ontario services and had chosen Peterborough, among other Ontario centres, to provide information about this part of the province.

The meeting of doctors in the early afternoon, was followed by a meeting of representatives of several public organizations in the city.

The doctors and local organizations' representatives agreed unanimously that there were no facilities whatsoever for mentally ill people in and around Peterborough. At both meetings it was stressed that a mental health clinic was urgently required in the city and it was suggested that Peterborough ought to be the centre for patients in the city, Peterborough County, the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, Victoria County, Haliburton County, and perhaps other areas.

Asked for Health Clinic

James Dutton, who attended the laymen's meeting said he had addressed the Minister of Health on two occasions on the necessity of a mental health clinic. Twice he had been assured by the Minister that a clinic would be established in the city.

Closer co-operation between mental hospital staffs and doctors was the main theme of the doctors' session.

"You people in mental health hospitals are living in a little world all your own," Dr. Carleton told Dr. Miller.

"A patient goes into the hospital, you get a formal letter saying they have admitted the patient. Then probably a month later you see the fellow in the street. You ask him how long he has been out and he says about two and a half weeks. You don't even get a letter to say the patient has been discharged," Dr. Carleton complained.

Whitby Rejects Patient

"Would it not be worth a lot to to have reports back about the patients to say how they are getting on for a while?" he asked.

Dr. Carleton told how he had managed to place one 17-year-old patient in an Anglican institution after the hospital at Whitby had refused to keep her any longer. She now had a responsible job earning $50 a week. While at Whitby she had gained 28 lbs., the nervous tension had disappeared and she was looking well.

Dr. Carleton also complained that there was no place to put patients awaiting admittance to mental hospitals. The general hospitals did not like to have them because they were a disturbance to other patients and the result was they sometimes had to be kept in a jail for a time.

"I cannot think of anything worse for a mentally ill patient" the doctor declared.

Clinic For Diagnoses

Dr. L. W. Thompson said he agreed with a lot Dr. Carleton had said. General practitioners had little knowledge of diagnosis in mental cases and needed a little help, he said.

If a mental health clinic were set up for diagnosis and care, then some of the patients would be able to leave hospital earlier and be supervised at home.

Most general practitioners did not know how to handle such patients, he said.

T.B. patients were followed up for the rest of their lives but nothing like that was done for mentally ill patients.

Many people were on an economic level which did not allow them to consult a doctor. If they were on a better economic level they would not have so much trouble.

At this point Dr. Miller described how a mental clinic's staff consisted of a team including a psychiatrist and social worker who followed up the cases.

Better In Kingston

Dr. Thompson said he had written twice with no result for definite instruction on the types of patients to be sent to Whitby hospital.

Dr. Carleton said Peterborough patients were now being sent to Kingston and he thought they were getting better service.

Dr. T. Currier said he treated borderline patients himself. He thought only a small percentage of mentally ill patients in Peterborough went to the mental hospital.

Dr. Currier thought there was a lack of interest among general practitioners, surgeons and other medical men because they knew so little about mental health. Dr. Thompson said that students who went through medical school when he did knew very little about the subject. Since then it had improved a little, he thought.

Pasture Teachers

When Dr. Miller said that preventative psychiatry ought to start with children, Dr. Carleton said that the teachers who had been teaching for a long time often became nervous cases. "We have them here," he declared.

"I feel very strongly that it is not economy to keep teachers like that" he said. "I would be better to pay them and let them go to pasture for a year and maybe they would come back."

"I would like those who have been teaching for 10 years to have a year's break. They could go and wash dishes or do something else for a year" he said.

Asked whether they would like a mental health unit based in Peterborough with the medical Rouvier, a graduate of the University of British Columbia, has received the highest honors ever awarded to foreign students by the Sorbonne, University of Paris, it was learned here Tuesday. ANOTHER CHAMP—Just like her cousin, Primo Carnera, one-year-old Andrina China is a champion in her class. And while Andrina might have trouble going 10 rounds with the former heavyweight boxing champion, it's unlikely that "da Preem" would have given her much of a battle for top honors in a recent London, Ont., baby show. Andrina's family arrived in London from Italy a few weeks ago.

Movie Stars Greatest Picture Fans

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, July 21 (AP)—Wanf to know the world's greatest film fans? They're movie stars.

This comes from Scotty Brown, who operates a film library in Hollwood. His steadiest customers are the stars.

"That's why you don't see them so often at Ciro's or Mocambo," he says. "They're home watching movies."

Brown was a Scottish golf pro who came to Hollywood to play in an early talkie called "Follow Thru." He pursued an acting career until he got tongue-tied in a scene with Claude Rains. So he started his library and now has 2,000 feature films, with more being added every day.

Standard Equipment

Projection rooms, along with swimming pools, appear to be standard equipment in stars' homes. At Agent Minna Wallis' for example, Scotty would often find Cary Grant, Clark Gable and Tyrone Power seated on the floor watching the screen as intently as adolescents at a Saturday matinee.

Hollywood's favorite film, Scotty declared, is John Ford's "Stagecoach." Westerns are constantly popular with the movie crowd.

"But while the other actors are studying him, he is watching Buster Crabb and Johnny Mack Brown," said Scotty. Grant is an insatiable western fan and sometimes consumes four and five a week. A suppressed desire perhaps.

Contrary to what you might think, not many stars request their own pictures. But many of them have battled with their studios over getting 16MM films of their own films. Wallace Beery, for instance reportedly didn't want to re-sign with MGM because it wouldn't give him prints of "The Champ" and others.

The owner of two souvenir shops was convicted Saturday of exchange violations involving $12,328.

BC Gov't Discusses Aluminum Plant

VICTORIA, B. C., July 21 (CP)—The Provincial Government and the Aluminum Company of Canada conferred Wednesday on the $500,000,000 plant the company proposes to build in British Columbia.

Both government and company officials said progress has been made in discussion concerning the price the company will pay BC for the resources it may use in its plant development. The site has tentatively been decided for the Tweedsmuir Park area, about 250 miles northeast of Vancouver.

Spokesman for both sides declined, however, to divulge details of the discussions to date.

Opened Monday, the talks will continue today.

Three U.S. Naval Types Inland At Clear Lake

Spending two weeks' vacation at a cottage on Clear lake, three American Navy boys invaded Peterborough Wednesday afternoon to visit relatives and to get supplies. The boys, Dick Leether, Jack Leether, and Walter Gorecki, are visiting the Leether brothers' sister, Mrs. Eva Leether, and their uncles, Frank and David Leether. They are spending their next two weeks at the lake, having 25 days' leave from their base at Norfolk, Virginia.

A year and a half ago Dick and Jack decided to join the navy. Leaving school to join with his brother, Dick was put into another class because Jack had completed his high school training. Dick is at the present doing work on radio-controlled airplanes, while Jack and Walter Gorecki—who Jack met on the ship—are on a repair boat. They said that there was nothing that could not be repaired on board because the equipment is so complete.

This is not the first trip to Peterborough for the Leether boys, for they are annual visitors. A week from Saturday they will return to their base at Norfolk.

Franklin commanded two ships, Erebus and Terror when he left England in May, 1845. He was last seen two months later at the entrance to Lancaster Sound, at the northern tip of Baffin Island.

From 1849 onward, a series of expeditions was sent in search, exploring thousands of miles of the Arctic.

First traces were found in August, 1851, at Franklin's winter base at Beechey Island.

In 1859, skeletons were found on King William's Island.

Survey Reveals No Cases Of Tuberculosis

COBOURG, July 21 (ENS) — No cases of tuberculosis were found in the X-ray survey conducted at Gore's Landing, Castleton, Wooler and Carrying Place, it was revealed in the latest report of the Northumberland and Durham Counties Health Unit. The second mass X-ray service, designed to cover the two counties for the second time, was started in June of this year, with mobile X-ray equipment being used. 959 persons were examined.

The West and East Northumberland Tuberculoss Associatons, through funds raised by the sale of Christmas seals, assisted in defraying the cost of the surveys. Special committees of citizens carried out the local canvassing and completed the arrangements for the surveys.

Good Progress

Dr. C. W. MacCharles, senior medical officer of the health unit said in the report:

"This is an encouraging indication of the progress that has been made in the TB control campaign in these counties since the first mass X-ray surveys were started in 1946. If the public support of the Christmas seal campaign continues, it is hoped that the resurvey of the counties by mass X-ray can be completed during the next two years."

June of this year was an outstanding month for the number of people who had chest X-rays at clinics. In addition to the regular monthly clinics at Cobourg, Port Hope and Bowmanville, travelling clinics were held at Campbellford, Brighton and Colborne. At these places 283 persons had chest X-rays at the request of their family doctors. During June, health unit nurses made 65 home visits to TB cases, contacts and suspects.

CANADIAN SEAMEN'S UNION LEADERS, accused of seeking to disrupt the flow of United States and Canadian aid to the British Isles and Europe, achieved their greatest success when they convinced more than half of the 25,000 London dock workers that the C.S.U. strike against Canadian shippers was a normal labor dispute. The strike on British docks has seriously threatened food supplies for Britain. John Harkin, in a series of articles released to the press this week, explained how only 250 Communists in the C.S.U. ruled its 5,000 members. Here are some of the London strikers in Trafalgar Square. They have ignored orders of their leaders and pleas of the British Labor Government to return to work—another example of a few being able to rule many.

Manitoba Scouts Present History Lesson

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Ont., July 21—(CP)—Manitoba Boy Scouts gave their comrades a history lesson at this big Scout camp Wednesday.

While more than 2,000 Socuts and visitors watched, the Manitoba boys presented a pageant depicting the settlement of the Red River and the Seven Oaks massacre, focal points of the early 19th century in the prairie province.

It was the prairies day at the first Canadian Scout Jamboree, camped on Connaught Rifle Ranges, 14 miles west of Ottawa.

The jamboree continues today with Ontario Forest Rangers scheduled to put on a display of forest-firefighting methods. And it's the turn of British Columbia and the Maritime provinces to display their talents in the camp's assembly area.

Acting prime minister Howe is scheduled to visit the camp today. Plans have been made for him to lunch with Scouts from Port Arthur, Mr. Howe's home town.

Scouts from Alberta Wednesday showed off their province's growing oil industry. They rigged a derrick from tree limbs and struck oil—previously buried in a drum beneath the ground. It gushed 15 feet in the air.

Dressed in period costumes, the Manitoba Scouts depicted the arrival of the first Scot settlers in the Red River Valley. They showed the first contact between Hudson's Bay Company traders and the settlers — financed in their new colony by Lord Selkirk—and recalled the incident when the traders gave the settlers a piece of sod from Kildonan, their new home, to send to Lord Selkirk.

Market Gains Seen Hopeful Economic Factor

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Current actions of stock markets could be a very good omen for, traditionally, they are supposed to foreshadow things to come.

For instance, they have been relatively depressed since 1946, and this, their followers say, was because they knew boom times couldn't last indefinitely.

Actually, they were forecasting a recession for 1947 which didn't come, and they kept on forecasting it until it would come.

This year, something happened in the United States which is regarded as a recession of sorts, though so far it is hardly more than a readjustment to competitive conditions.

In this recession, or whatever it is, the pessimistic attitude of markets over the last three years looks to have been a good thing. For if markets had ridden high with the boom of 1948, it seems likely they would have suffered quite a crash this year. And a real market crash, added to the uneasiness of recent months, would have amounted to a major upset.

Take Odd Jolt

However, having anticipated a recession for three years, and kept quotations at low figures, there wasn't much more the market could do when things did start to go back this spring.

They did take the odd jolt, but declines from low levels simply uncovered bargains which brought in buying and halted the drops.

All of which makes the present situation worth looking at. The so-called American depression still is on and world trade is encountering major problems.

But, for the last six weeks, stock markets have been making moderate advances. Is this a sort of confession that prices have been too low? Does it indicate that investors think the end of the American economic setback is in sight?

It is difficult to say, because markets haven't distinguished themselves as short-term prognosticators in the post-war period. But it is reasonable to put their present action on the hopeful side of the ledger.

MIDLAND, July 21.—(CP).—Canada's Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, Wednesday visited this Georgian Bay area in which Jesuit missionaries were martyred 300 years ago. He saw the Huronia House museum and visited the partly-reconstructed Fort Ste. Marie, headquarters of the Jesuit missions in this area. In the evening, his party took a sunset cruise through the inside channel of the 30,000 islands.

WESTWOOD, July 21 (ENS)—A paper on "Confederation of Canada" was given by Mrs. H. S. Neilson on Tuesday afternoon at the July meeting of the Women's Institute. Mrs. W. Post, president, presided and the meeting was held in the Town Hall.

Mrs. Neilson also conducted a quiz on Confederation, which was won by Mrs. J. Thompson and Mrs. S. Graham. Events of current interest were discussed by Mrs. W. Morris.

A demonstration on making a graham wafer cake was prepared by Mrs. W. Renwick, and in her absence was explained by Mrs. H. Pacey.

Hostesses for the lunch hour were Mrs. Neilson, Mrs. Dickson and Mrs. G. Hutchinson.

The August meeting will be held on the lawn at Elm Grove Farm, the home of Mrs. S. Graham. Members were reminded to bring a contribution for the Tweedsmuir Village History Book.

End Demonstration

WELLAND, July 21.—(CP).—A food demonstration staged by 10 prisoners in one ward of Welland county jail ended Wednesday, and the prisoners had their first real meal since Tuesday night when the disturbance started. The 10 inmates had thumped their tin plates and cups since the evening meal Tuesday because, they complained, the soup was too thin. Disciplinary action will be taken against the men involved.

McCormick Buys Washington Paper

CHICAGO, July 21 — (AP) — Purchase of the Washington Times-Herald by the Chicago Tribune was announced Wednesday night by the Tribune's editor and publisher, Col. Robert R. McCormick.

McCormick's two-sentence announcement said:

"The Chicago Tribune bought the Washington Times-Herald today. The present management will be continued."

No further details were given.

The Times-Herald was published by the late Mrs. Eleanor M. (Cissy) Patterson until her death of heart disease July 24, 1948. She willed the paper to seven of its executives.

Mrs. Patterson, a member of a distinguished newspaper family, was a cousin of Col. McCormick.

Mrs. Patterson became editor of the Washington Herald, then owned by William Randolph Hearst, in 1930. Later she leased the Herald and Times, also owned by Hearst, with an option to buy both papers.

She exercised the option July 1, 1939, then consolidated the two papers into the Washington Times-Herald, the country's first round-the-clock newspaper.

HE'S THE BOSS — Bruce Humber, Victorian-born athlete, has been named coach of the Canadian track team for the British Empire Games at Auckland, N.Z., in February. A sprinter at the 1936 Olympics, he reached the semi-finals in both the 100 and 200 metres. While attending the University of Washington in 1935, Humber was clocked in 9.6 seconds for the 100-yard dash and 20.8 in the 200-yard event—both university records that still stand. Now a furniture dealer in Victoria, Humber is coach of the Y.M.C.A. track team there.

Pianist's Mobile Library Visits Australian Children

MELBOURNE, Australia (CP)—A world-famous pianist is running a mobile library service for Australian children living in "the outback."

The pianist is Hepzibah Menuhin, sister of the celebrated violinist, Yehudi Menuhin. In private life, she is Mrs. Lindsay Nicholas, wife of a grazier at Terinallum, Pura Dura, in the western district of Victoria.

Her travelling library is housed in a post-war model utility truck, in the back of which are wooden boxes arranged as bookshelves. These contain over 1,000 children's books.

The unit has travelled more than 2,300 miles in the last year, visiting small settlements, schools and farms in outlying areas and opening new worlds of color and adventure to lonely youngster...

Dance For Funds

Raising funds to start the library was the first job that Mrs. Nicholas and her helpers had to tackle. By holding dances in the wool shed at Terinallum and asking business firms to contribute, thy raised enough money to buy the utility truck and to have boxes made for the books.

Mrs. Nicholas said it was decided to distribute the books through bush schools, and teachers were asked to tell the children about the scheme. The children now look forward eagerly to "library day" once every 14 days.

HOT DOG! Not for eating, however, is this pet puppy. He belongs to one of the clowns who'll be in Peterborough on Civic Holiday, Monday, Aug. 1, with Dailey Brothers big Five-Ring Railroad Circus.

Civic Holiday Circus Old-time Treat

Holiday-at-home can be entertaining this Civic Holiday, for a circus will be in town, at the Exhibition Grounds. It is the Dailey Brothers' five-ring show from Texas. It is coming complete with elephants, camels and of course clowns.

Most clowns have pets—dogs, pigs, geese. etc., and they grow increasingly fond of their playmates of the animal kingdom. They train them, too, so that they share the spotlight under the big top when the band plays spangled music and the kids of all ages make the arena ring with applause. The circus presents performances 3 and 8 p.m. with the main entrance open an hour earlier in each instance to permit a leisurely viewing of the wild animal menagerie with its lions, tigers, leopards, polar bears, camels, zebras, monkeys chimpanzees and the huge herd of 25 elephants. The menagerie is a part of the main exhibition and is offered at no addition charge.

With the Dailey Brothers Circus the horse is still king and the show is said to have the finest stables of performing and work horses with any circus on tour. This is the only circus that uses horses for the pulling of the huge red circus wagons and the clatter of the steeds awakens many a memory of the by-gone days.

Of Interest to Women

Fashions of Four Centuries To Be Shown at Exhibition

TORONTO —(CP)—Four centuries of Canadian fashions, from the costume of the early North American Indian woman to that worn by the women of today will be presented as one of the feature highlights of the women's division at the Canadian National Exhibition.

The 10 mannequins to show these fashions are being specially made for the purpose by Art Bingham, leading Canadian display man. He is searching into historical records for typical measurements and physical characteristcs of women living in this country at important periods since the late 1500's.

There will be shown the authentic costumes of the early North American Indian woman, the early French settler, the first English woman colonist, the United Empire Loyalist, the Canadian woman pioneer of 1840, the "Merry Widow" type of the 1890's, the fashionable Canadian woman as she appeared in 1914 and her modern daughter.

An important part of the display, it is hoped, will be the costume worn by Queen Elizabeth during her visits to the Canadian Senate, now the property of the Royal Ontario Museum, as well as one of Queen Victoria's gowns which Mrs. Kate Aitken, the Exhibition's women's director, hopes to obtain from the British Museum.

The entire display will be set up under glass protection in the east wing of the women's building on the Exhibition grounds.

High Commissioner's Wife To Entertain in London

GENEVA (CP)——Mrs. Dana Wilgress, wife of Canada's newly appointed high commissioner to the United Kingdom, is looking forward to an exciting and stimulating life in London.

She and her husband have been living in Berne for the last two years, where he was Canada's minister to Switzerland. Life in Berne was a somewhat relaxed interval between appointment to Moscow and to London.

Mr. Wilgress was Canada's first ambassador to Russia. And Mrs. Wilgress, the former Olga Buergin, whose father was a Swiss engineer and whose mother a white Russian, was an ideal companion on the Moscow mission. She speaks Russian fluently.

In London, much of the social responsibility of her husband's position will fall on her. There are court presentations for visiting Canadians, receptions for Commonwealth visitors, and a great deal of entertaining.

The Wilgresses have taken a house in London while the high commissioner's residence is being rebuilt from the ground up, having received a direct bomb hit during the war.

They met when he was Canadian trade commissioner in Moscow in 1919, and were married in Vladivostok. They have two sons and one daughter.

THE ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: I notice in today's paper your reference to timbal cases and timbal irons. I would like to know where I could buy one of these irons. They are mentioned and a recipe given for the batter required to make the cases in the ..... Cook Book. But I have never even seen one of these irons nor tasted the cases they make. About what do they cost? The best kind of irons I mean.

In ..... catalogue a season or so ago they advertised what they called "Smorgasbord Molds"—aluminum for shaping pastry shells, one with a handle and additional handle fits other two. "They facilitate cutting out gracefully shaped pastry". That is what the ad said. I was wondering what they would be for. Might they be a new style of timbal iron made of aluminum?

When replying to this would you please tell me also where I could buy muffin rings for making crumpets. I bought a few just to try them out (only 4 or 5) some years ago,—intending to get more if I liked what they produced, but never went back until lately when I found that not a hardware store in this town handled them any more. I suppose few people bought them and it did not pay them to stock them in the smaller stores.

I notice you said in today's paper you would print recipes for the fillings to be served in timbal cases,—such as creamed asparagus. I wish you would print a variety of such fillings as I'd like to get an iron and try them out. I like experimenting with ideas (new to me) in the field of cookery and read your column with real interest. I have tried several and collected some good cookery information in general from your weekly articles. Thank you.

ANSWER:

You cannot know what a satisfaction your last sentence is to me. My general purpose is to help housewives to be better and more venturesome cooks.

Your enquiry regarding timbal irons is timely. When I was in Portland two weeks ago I bought a timbal iron as a birthday gift for a friend of mine.

Previously I had written to large department stores in Canada and the United States enquiring about these irons but with no success. The iron I bought is not the type of heavy steel iron I used many years ago with a non-detachable handle, but nevertheless does make timbals. It was $1.49 U. S. funds and has 3 timbal shapes, and one detachable handle, and instructions for using and recipe for timbal batter.

I can find no reference to a Smorgasbord Mold in my cook books—nor does my special librarian know what I am talking about. Maybe some of our readers would be able to enlighten us on this. If anyone writes to me about it I will pass their letter along to you.

I have started an enquiry for the rings for making crumpets and will write to you when I get some information on them.

Fillings For Timbal Cases

These should be delicate,—such as chicken a la king, or creamed tuna or lobster or the new choice green vegetables as they come on the market like asparagus and peas. I will give you my prize chicken a la king mixture, ready for you to try when you do get your timbal iron.

Chicken A La King (for serving in timbal cases, or puff paste patties)

One 5-lb. stewing chicken boiled until tender in 4 cups boiling water—covered; ½ lb. fresh mushrooms, ½ cup fresh or canned pimiento cut in fine pieces or ½-inch squares, 1½ cups fresh cooked or frozen cooked peas, ½ cup butter or chicken fat skimmed from top of cooking liquor, 1 cup sifted flour, 4 cups liquid (this can be half chicken stock and half cream or all whole milk), salt and pepper to taste. (Optional additions are green pepper, parsley and sliced hard-cooked eggs.)

In top of large double boiler melt butter or chicken fat; add the bread flour, stir, then stir in the chicken broth and cream or milk, until thick. Cook for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally, in top of double boiler. Add about 1 tablespoon salt and from ¼ to ½ teaspoon white pepper and the meat stripped from the bones and cut into suitable pieces—which could be long strips or dice. Saute the mushrooms in a little butter for 5 minutes and add them and the cooked peas and other ingredients. Serve in timbal cases or patties, and pass as soon as possible.

Adventure Calls Western Nurses Off to Alaska

VANCOUVER, July 21 (CP)—It's into the trunk with the crisp white uniforms and on with the dungarees for two west-coast nurses off on an adventurous 10-month trip in icy northern waters.

A few days ago Evelyn Hunter and Doreen Pendray had never met. Now they will spend almost a year on a small United States medical mission vessel, visiting settlements along the Alaska coast. They leave at the end of July.

Miss Hunter, a Vancouver nursing graduate, labels herself a "prairie sailor." She comes from Lacombe, Alta., and says that as a little girl she dreamed of living near the sea. During a year's nursing at upcoast Pender Island she spent all the time she could on the water, in any kind of craft, even fishing boats. She heard of the medical mission and decided to dedicate her life to it.

Miss Pendray, while anxious to serve her profession, is agog with the call of adventure.

"I've lived in Victoria all my life," she says, "so you can't blame me for being a bit excited."

She joined the crew after a meeting with Dr. Lindsay McClenney, head of the mission and the ship "Willis Shank".

Both girls are shopping for comfortable shoes, and are in the market for hip boots and muluks.

"We'll certainly need them on this voyage."

As for sea-sickness, Miss Hunter feels she has enough sea experience to avoid it. Miss Pendray shrugs her shoulders.

"That may be my first big adventure," she says.

One of these days you'll live in an . . .

aluminum house

MANY PEOPLE, perhaps you yourself, already live in houses which are as much "aluminum" as others are "brick" or "stucco".

Just look at the amount of aluminum which already is going into Canadian buildings:

Roofing and Siding — Last year alone about 100 Canadian fabricators shaped thousands of tons of aluminum for use as roofs and exterior walls.

Windows — Today a score of Canadian companies are making aluminum windows and sash which have unique advantages: they never warp, swell, shrink or crack, and never need painting.

Insulation — Aluminum has outstanding insulating properties. Already numerous Canadian companies adapt it to keep homes warm in winter, cool in summer.

Gutters, Flashing, Trim, Architectural Hardware — Because aluminum is attractive and lasts a lifetime, dozens of Canadian manufacturers are now kept busy making it into all sorts of forms for use outside and inside the house.

ALCAN ALUMINUM

ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD.

Producers and Processors of Aluminum for Canadian Industry and World Markets

MONTREAL • QUEBEC • TORONTO • VANCOUVER • WINDSOR

Why Aluminum?

Aluminum is becoming more and more popular for use in home building because . . .

. . . it does not rust . . . is practically indestructible. Therefore maintenance costs stay low.

. . . it is light and easy to handle, is very strong, needs only correspondingly light supports.

. . . it has an attractive natural finish, and can be painted if desired.

Ask your architect or contractor about aluminum for building. He knows the story of Alcan's continuing research into its uses. So he can tell you about its overall advantages and how you can profit from them when building or remodelling.

Bishop Weds Mary Overend To Michael O'Brien, Toronto

The marriage took place in St. Peter's Cathedral on Tuesday morning of Mary Madalen Overend, daughter of Mr. Frederick Joseph Overend and the late Mrs. Overend of Peterborough to Michael Joseph O'Brien, son of Mrs. O'Brien and the late Mr. William J. O'Brien of Toronto. The Most Reverend Gerald Berry Bishop of Peterborough, officiated. The church was decorated with white gladioli and the music was played by Mrs. R. G. Aman. During the signing of the register Miss Helen Hajnik sang "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father the bride looked charming in a gown of Swiss embroidered organdy over taffeta. It was fashioned with a sheer marquisette yoke outlined with a wide bias fold of the organdy and extending over the shoulder. From a fitted waistline the very full skirt swept into a cathedral train. A tiny brim of shirred tulle and lily of the valley held her full-length veil. She carried gardenias and white stephanotis.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Anne Overend as maid of honor, and Miss Mary O'Brien, sister of the groom, Miss Mary Taylor of Toronto, and Miss Joan Greenfield of Hamilton as bridesmaids. They were gowned alike in white starched organdy over heavenly blue taffeta fashioned on the same lines as the bride's dress. They wore picture hats of matching blue net and carried crescent-shaped bouquets of coral and yellow flowers.

The groomsman was Mr. John O'Brien, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Mr. James O'Brien, brother of the groom, Mr. Gordon DeLaat of Toronto, Mr. John Rutherford and Mr. Richard Rutherford of Peterborough. Mr. James O'Brien of Toronto, cousin of the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club where the bride's aunt, Mrs. F. C. Foy of Toronto, received wearing a gown of mist blue crepe with a hat of navy straw. She wore a corsage of pink roses with bouvardia. The groom's mother who also received, wore a gown of wood rose crepe with navy accessories, and a corsage of cornflower and yellow roses.

Later the bride and groom left for a trip to the Laurentians. For travelling the bride wore a pale pink tropical suit with white accessories. On their return they will live in Toronto.

Plenty of Room For Women In Scout Work

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Ont., July 21 (CP) —There's no "men only" sign on scouting.

Scores of Canadian women are in the Scout movement as lady Cub masters and some 25 of them are attending the first Canadian Boy Scout Jamboree, a huge tent city on Connaught Rifle Ranges, 14 miles west of Ottawa, where nearly 3,000 Scouts from Canada, the United States and Cuba are camping this week.

A lady Cub master—or any Cub master, for that matter—is known as "Akela" to members of a Wolf Cub pack—boys between eight and 12. The "Akelas" teach the boys the principles of the Wolf Cubs, lead them on hikes and sometimes lady Cub masters even lead them on camping trips.

Not Easy Job

It's not an easy job. They must be fully qualified for their work —and that includes a lot more than being able to tie knots or light a fire without matches—and get a certain percentage on examinations covering various phases of Cub work.

It is strictly voluntary. Their only reward is the satisfaction they get from their jobs.

Some of the lady Cub masters at the Jamboree—the biggest project ever undertaken by Canadian Boy Scouts — have travelled thousands of miles, to work in the camp canteen, the equipment store or the hospital.

Snider-Walker Vows Taken At Marmora

MARMORA, July 21—A pretty wedding was solemnized in the Free Methodist Church, Marmora, on Wednesday afternoon, when Clara June, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Walker, Marmora, was united in marriage to Mr. Kenneth James Snider, son of Mr. Courtland Snider and the late Mrs. Snider, of Verona. The Rev. L. C. Ball, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Bache, officiated. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with snapdragon, ferns and gladioli.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Ralph Wellman, cousin of the bride, and during the signing of the register, Mrs. J. Jackman sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was in a gown of ivory slipper satin, with bertha collar, outlined with tiny rosettes, centered with seed pearls. The tight fitting bodice was buttoned down the back, and the full skirt was caught up in folds to the front panel which was crinoline style with tiers of Valencienne lace. Her finger-tip veil was embroidered Chantilly lace and was caught with a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of red roses and white gladioli. Mrs. James Walker was bridesmaid for her sister-in-law and wore pink triple sheer with beret to match and carried a cascade of pink gladioli. Miss Shirley Walker was maid of honor and wore pale blue triple sheer with matching beret and carried a cascade of pink gladioli. Little Judy Robertson, of Peterborough, was flower girl and was pretty in a floor-length dress of yellow taffeta and poke bonnet and carried a nosegay of sweet peas.

Mr. Floyd Snider, of Westport, was groomsman for his brother. James Walker and William Derry ushered.

Reception of 100 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. Her mother received wearing a gown of light blue triple sheer with black accessories, and corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's aunt, Mrs. May Snider.

Later the bride and groom left for a trip to the United States. For travelling the bride wore a suit of grey gabardine with white accessories. On their return they will reside in Marmora.

McCutcheon-Jones

NORWOOD, July 21 (ENS) — The marriage of Ruth Elizabeth Jones to Stanley McCutcheon was quietly solemnized in St. John's Anglican Church, Toronto, on July 9 by the Rev. A. C. McCollum. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Jones of Norwood and the late Richard Jones. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. McCutcheon, Havelock.

A gown of blue taffeta with white eyelet trim, was the bride's choice with navy and white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses and baby's breath. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Edith Moroz who was gowned in white, with blue accessories and wore a corsage of red roses. The groom was attended by Mr. Joseph Moroz.

Several Presentations Made

WARKWORTH, (ENS)—A presentation party was held in the Masonic Temple, Warkworth, for a recently married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Marwood Mitchell (nee Hazel Dugan) and a large crowd was in attendance. Early part of the evening was spent in dancing to music by the Potter Orchestra of Warkworth. Later the young couple were called to seats of honor and an address was read by Miss Marion Stillman, (who had assisted at the wedding as bridesmaid.) On behalf of the community Messrs. George Sayles and Irvine Atkinson presented an upholstered chair and Miss Norma Ferguson presented a chest of silverware with service for eight. An electric fan, the gift from the charivari party was presented by Mrs. Gregory Towns. Several individual gifts from friends and relatives were also presented.

DOROTHY DIX

Young Man Wrecks Future Jumps Into Hasty Marriage

DEAR MISS DIX: My mother will not let me have any parties at home where boys are present. The reason of this is at one time I had a little gathering and she came in and some of the boys and girls were holding hands and others dancing and she said she would not have such goings on in her house. My friends are nice girls and boys and behave themselves properly and I am 20 years old and able to take care of myself. Don't you think my mother is wrong? —ROSE.

ANSWER: I certainly do. Any mother who does not let her daughter receive her company at home is simply forcing her out on the street for her companionship and depriving her of the protection that a home background gives her.

I should think that any woman who had a grain of intelligence in her head would realize this, and that she would be so glad that her daughter was bringing her friends home with her, instead of running around to roadhouses and Heaven knows where, that she would welcome them with open arms and not be too critical of their holding hands, or even of their petting a little. For she may be very sure of one thing and that is, there is no better chaperon than a girl's own house, and there won't be so much handholding and drinking and kissing there as there would be in parked automobiles or night clubs or places where parties are likely to get rough.

A lot of things that the younger generation do and see no harm in doing are shocking to their parents brought up in a stricter tradition. But it gets fathers and mothers nowhere to forbid their children to do these things and to shut their doors on their children's friends, because the youngsters are going to do as the others of their set do and they are going to have their friends secretly if they can't have them openly. All that the parents achieve by their sternness is just to alienate their children from them and keep their children from confiding in them, and this prevents them from having any influence over the youngsters and perhaps being able to steer them in the right direction in some time of need.

If a girl is not permitted to bring her boy friends to the house, her parents cannot know with whom she is associating, nor whether they are fit companions for her or not. Mother and father may think that they are keeping her away from boys, but instead they are simply forcing her to pick up boys on the street and at the corner drug store and exposing her to all the danger of blind dates and making her the more boy crazy because boys are forbidden to her.

But if a girl can have all the boys she wants and all the parties she wants at home and mother makes things happy for her, she is willing to listen to mother's rating of them because she knows that mother isn't a spoilsport.—DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What can an older sister do to keep her brother of 22 from making a marriage that will wreck his life? My brother is talented young chap, full of promise, and he has fallen in love with a silly little doll who is selfish, greedy and spoiled and thinks of nothing but indulging herself in every whim. Her sister, of the same type, has already wrecked the life of a fine young man whom she married and left in a few months when she found out that he could not give her all the finery she wanted. Can you help me avert this fate for my brother?—PEGGY.

ANSWER: When a boy becomes infatuated with that sort of sexy little creature he is deaf to all reason and there is no use in arguing with him about it. Every objection that you bring up merely fans the flame of his passion because it makes him become her champion.

The only remedy is to try in some way to throw them together for a few weeks in such a manner that he would have a chance to get bored to death with her chatter and see how brainless and self-centered she is. If he had to put up with a few of her tantrums when she was crossed and see how unreasonable she is, and especially if he had to make a few sacrifices for her, it would cure him.—DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX: Would you overlook the fault of conceit in a boy if you like him?—ANTONIA.

ANSWER: Surely. Provided, of course, that he was not so egotistical that he was unendurable. No virtue that a boy could possibly have would atone for the boredom of having to listen to him eternally monologue about himself, about how great and wonderful he is, and how all the girls fall for him.

But a fair amount of self-conceit one can stand, provided it is offset by other good qualities. Indeed, conceit is sometimes a virtue, for we can only do what we think we can do and occasionally it is an incentive to a boy to live up to his own opinion of himself.

But why not do some missionary work in deflating his ego?—DOROTHY DIX.

Youthful Redheaded WAAF Manages Power Jets Firm

By MARIENNE IZSAK.

NEW YORK (CP)—"Cynthia Holloway, General Manager," is the imposing title on the door. If you walked into her office in London you would find a vivacious 27-year-old redhead seated behind the desk.

She is general manager of Power Jets, a British concern responsible for many war-time developments in jet-propulsion and gas-turbine engines.

"I was rather a dunce at mathematics and science in school and yet here I am with a job like this," she laughs.

The "job like this" is one that requires her to travel all over the world, acting as liaison officer for her company, talking with engineers and urging co-operation between Britain and other countries developing gas-turbine engines. She was interviewed the other day in New York.

The secret of her rapid climb to success?

She Was Lucky

"I was lucky," she confesses. "My employer was in the Air Force and I had been in the WAAF, so that gave us something in common. He was very helpful—instead of simply telling me what to do, he'd explain how it should be done and why."

After her discharge from the Air Force, Mrs. Holloway got a job with Power Jets as secretary. Being a young company with lots of room for advancement for those with ambition, it promoted her rapidly.

Mrs. Holloway manages to combine successfully her career with her home-making. Her husband, a water-transport engineer, helps with the cooking, marketing and housekeeping in their apartment in Chelsea.

"He's really a better cook than I am," she acknowledges, "although I'm better at making soups."

She is amused at people's reaction in the United States when they find the general manager of Power Jets is a personable young woman.

"They expect to find a portly gentleman along the line of Colonel Blimp, I guess," she smiles. "But men in England aren't surprised—they got used to working with women in all sorts of jobs during the war."

Mrs. Holloway finds her job too intensive to permit hobbies. "But I did make this hat—the frame came from Paris and I sewed the ribbon on it." The hat was made entirely of lavender ribbons and she wore a pale lavender dress to match.

"I'm afraid I'm just not the domestic type—I love my work too much," she said in mock sorrow.

Boer War Nurses

LONDON, (CP)—The band on the dock played "Goodbye Dolly Gray" and 32 excited nurses were off to South Africa and the battlefields of the Boer War. That was July, 1899.

Fifty years after, Sarah Alice Claridge, one of the 32, is organizing a reunion of the survivors.

Miss Claridge is 78 now, but almost a toddler among some of the one-time nursing sisters who have accepted invitations to the reunion.

The oldest is 91. Some will come in wheel chairs, others on crutches. St. John Ambulance nurses will take care of them.

They'll talk about the field hospitals of 50 years ago, pitched within sound of shot and shell and within sight of the campfire's gleam.

"There was n oenemy for us," Nurse Claridge recalls, "only sick and dying men."

Fisher Warns Lions Guard Way Of Life

NEW YORK, July 21—(CP)—Walter C. Fisher of Queenston, Ont., newly-elected president of Lions International, today sounded a warning against forces which threaten "the supporting fibre of the christian or democratic way of life."

Fisher, unanimous choice of the 26-country service organization for the presidency, was the principal speaker at the final session of its four-day 32nd annual convention.

Fisher, 43, was named to the presidency after serving as first vice-president of the International Lions Club Association since 1948. He had also been third and second vice-president, as well as international director.

Fisher is a director of the Premier Trust company of Toronto and secretary-treasurer of C. Howard Fisher and Sons, Limited, which owns and operates the Dulverton fruit farm in Queenston.

He is the second Canadian to hold the post of president. The only other was Harry Newman, K.C., of Toronto in 1924. Fisher succeeds Dr. Eugene S. Briggs of Enid, Okla.

In his prepared speech, Fisher said some people in the world—he did not name them—"are using every conceivable means to accomplish the exact opposite of our aims."

He called on the thousands of delegates "to employ the forces of Lionism to uproot the undesirable practices in your community which may have a tendency to become fertile breeding ground for the spores of anarchy."

EMILY, July 21—Funeral service for John Milton Thurston, resident of this district, who died on July 11 in Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, was held in St. John's Anglican Church, Dunsford, Rev. P. Whitby Hospital staff travelling to outlying districts, or with the patients coming to a stationary unit, the doctors said they thought a lot of time would be wasted travelling around and wanted the patients to come to the city.

Dr. Carleton said there were a great many defective children in Peterborough.

Dr. Currier said that the new Civic Hospital would have a two bed unit for mental patients.

Lay Meeting

When the lay meeting was held discussion turned more to mental health problems among children. Those attending the meeting were James Dutton, Peterborough councillor, chairman of the Board of Health, and a leading public citizen; Dr. Ross Mathews, member of the Board of Education; Mrs. C. C. Pilon, secretary of the Directors of the Children's Aid Society; Harry Reid, reeve of Otonabee; Keith Birkin, county school inspector for Peterborough East; Miss Gene Clark, supervisor of Public Health nurses; J. E. Girven, assistant works manager of the CGE and president of the VON; Dr. Bruce Gordon, D.D., representing the Ministerial Association. Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., and Miss Rachael Young, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, were out of town.

Mr. Birken said there were a number of defective children in the schools. During the past year a survey had been taken among children who had been retarded 18 months or more. Special books had been provided for those having difficulty with reading. He said there were some children who were merely waiting until they reached the age of 14 to leave school.

Psychiatric Help Needed

Material from a psychiatrist was needed before the teachers could help their pupils, Mr. Birkin maintained. The teachers also needed guidance in dealing with the youngsters.

"We find many of the children do not get the home reading they ought to have," Mr. Birkin said. He said there were six youngsters in a Grade I class who had not heard the story of Humpty Dumpty.

Dr. Matthews stressed the need for trained personnel to give children suffering from maladjustment, specific defects such as inability to master reading, writing, etc., remedial exercises.

In endeavoring to impress Dr. Miller with the city's appreciation of its need for mental health facilities, Mr. Dutton said that the city had already told the minister that it would be prepared to provide and finance a clinic in the city for a staff to be paid by the Provincial Government.

The community had a fairly well organized group of organizations which would co-operate. There was the children's Aid, VON, Department of Health and many other organizations.

Mr. Dutton was not one of those people who believed that psychiatrists could work miracles. He thought the psychiatrist could do his best work when supported by such organizations.

Reference to the stigma which society places on people who have been to a mental hospital was mentioned by Mr. Dutton.

Will Recommend City

Dr. Miller said that in areas where there were mental health clinics with psychiatrists living among the community, there was less evidence of this objectionable outlook. He thought that as more psychiatrists were available to more communities that attitude would become less frequent.

Representatives attending the discussion were told by Dr. Miller that he would recommend that Peterborough become a mental health centre for the surrounding area. He said he thought it would be a long time before anything could be done because there were not enough psychiatrists at the present.

The places with the greatest need would be the first to have clinics.

Dr. Miller said there were seven mental health clinics in Ontario.

Britons Begin Battling For Sunday Entertainment

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, July 21—(CP)—With the usual vigorous sound effects on both sides, Britain's almost-annual battle for Sunday freedom is on again—in earnest. Supporters of a "do as you please" Sunday have reformed their ranks for another assault on the Lord's Day Observance Society, jealous guardians of sabbath "blue laws" since the early 19th century.

"It's an urgent matter of freedom," says 43-year-old John Parker, Labor member of parliament for Bagenham, Essex, and a leader of Britain's newly-formed Brighter Sunday Association.

"We shall fight any desecration of God's hallowed day," retorts H. H. Martin, who has spearheaded the observance society's fight against continental-type Sundays.

The Brighter Sunday Association was formed early this month at the suggestion of holiday resorts and theatrical organizations. Its aim will be to obtain legislation making all Sunday sport, recreation and entertainment a matter of local option. Scotland, which has its own laws on the subject, is not affected.

Bright Or Blue?

Two of every three persons in England and Wales now may attend Sunday movies, but Sunday plays are largely taboo. Seven years ago a move to permit Sunday theatre was defeated in parliament by eight votes.

Parker's group will prepare a new private members' bill for submission to the House of Commons. It does not expect that the bright-or-blue Sunday issue will reach the parliamentary battleground until after the next election.

One of the bill's objectives would be to "demolish" legislative anomalies which Parker claims are created by Lord's Day Observance Acts of 1625, 1677 and 1760.

For instance, he says, an entertainer's right to sing on Sunday may hinge on his costume. If he's wearing a business suit, it's all right; if he sports a bowler hat or other embellishments, his performance may be interpreted as an "act" and thus be illegal.

Inquest Into Hanging Postponed To July 26

BRADFORD, July 21—(CP)—Inquest into the death of Cecil Patterson, of Newmarket, found hanging in his cell with his belt around his neck last July 12, was adjourned Tuesday to July 26 for testimony by Newmarket doctor W. J. Dales.

Evidence at Tuesday's hearing was that Patterson was suffering from streptococcus of the blood, requiring penicillin and sulpha drugs for its treatment. Mrs. Norma Patterson, Patterson's widow, told the court the drugs often made her husband seem drunk. She said he never allowed drink to interfere with his work.

Patterson was arrested and lodged in Bradford jail last July 12 by police who said he was driving while "quite drunk." Police said Patterson was brought to headquarters and allowed to call his brother to come and get him but became abusive and was locked up for the night.

Police said Patterson acted quite rationally and was "much more sober" when he was locked up. They said he was asked if he wanted a doctor and declined.

THE ALGOMA BUSH COUNTRY to the north and east is teeming with prospectors and mining men, equipped with Geiger counters, to track down deposits of uranium-bearing pitchblende and other radioactive ores. Tent camps are mushrooming along King's Highway 17 from Mamainse Harbor to Trail's End at the mouth of the Montreal River. Since last November, more than 3,300 claims in the uranium staking rush have been recorded. Along the Algoma Central and Hudson Bay railroad at Frater in the Agawa Canyon area, prospecting camps are being established for summer prospecting and assessment work required on mining claims to keep them in good standing. In photo above prospectors unload packsacks and camping equipment from the "Carol K" at dock in the small harbor near the mouth of the Montreal River, after staking claims in MacGregor Cove area, five miles further up Lake Superior shore. In picture at left Reinhold Peterson (left) holds Geiger counter on No. 2 veinlet on uranium-bearing pitchblende in Campbell Gorge about 100 feet from Lake Superior shore on Camray Mines holdings, while Tom Heale (right), chief engineer and geologist of Camray, looks on.

Rap City Folk For Run-Down Farms

LISTOWEL, July 21 (CP) — The question of what to do about the city worker who buys a suburban farm for the sake of finding living quarters and then lets the farm buildings and land deteriorate was raised Wednesday before the Ontario Legislature's Committee on Conservation.

Representatives of Huron County farm organization told the committee that steps should be taken to remedy the situation.

In a brief placed before the committee, they said such action by home owners retards further production of the farm. They suggested that owners should at least maintain a proper grass cover on the soil.

However, S. J. Hunt, Progressive Conservative member of the Legislature for Renfrew North, said such condemnation of the urbanite was going a little too far. He said that many city people who had bought or rented farms were doing "as fine a job as any." Country representatives agreed but insisted that there were still others who weren't doing a good job.

The committee, which will make recommendations on conservation a four-month province-wide tour, asked for more detail on the subject.

Tells What Ended Stomach Distress and Backache

Suffered 5 Years With Acid Indigestion, Headaches and Dizzy Spells, Felt Nervous, Rundown, Had Many Aches and Pains. Tells of Relief.

MRS. ROSE HORVATH

"After suffering 5 years from stomach disorders and backache, I have found wonderful relief by taking Syntona Herbal Compound," said Mrs. Rose Horvath, 153 Simcoe Street, London, Ontario, in a recent report.

"I couldn't eat a meal without having trouble with gassy cramps and sour acid risings afterwards. I was subject to throbbing headaches and dizzy feelings and my nerves were all on edge. My back was aching so bad I could hardly straighten up and I developed rheumatic pains all through my limbs, joints and muscles.

"I had been trying many things without benefit and finally my daughter persuaded me to try Syntona. When I began taking this medicine, I knew almost right away that it was helping me. It wasn't long before my food began to digest better, my nerves calmed down and I found I was going through the day without having headache or that awful dizziness. I kept right on taking it and now the aches and pains are gone, my back feels fine and I can say I am eating better and feeling better than I did for years.

"I am very thankful for Syntona and I highly recommend it to others."

If you sufer as Mrs. Horvath did, why not give Syntona a chance to help you, too. Take it for a short trial and the chances are you will find this pure herbal medicine to be just what you need to make you feel like yourself again.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store.

Truck Hits And Kills Road Worker

Lakefield Foreman William Gray Fails To See Vehicle

BOBCAYGEON, July 22 (ENS) —Wiliam Gray, 74-year-old resident of Lakefield, was instantly killed at 3.15 p.m. on Thursday when he was struck by a truck while working on No. 36 Highway six miles east of here.

Mr. Gray apparently failed to see of hear the truck as it came over the brow of a hill. It is believed that noise created by a machine used in patching the road may have deadened the truck's approach.

The truck was driven by Von Kelso of Bobcaygeon and is owned by the Carew Lumber Company of Lindsay. It was loaded with logs at the time.

Mr. Gray recently assumed the post of acting district foreman for the Department of Highways following the resignation of Stanley Richardson.

View Blocked

The accident occurred at the foot of the hill at a point where a long-range view of approaching traffic from one difrection is not possible. The machine which caused the noise is a blower used in heating tar.

The accident was investigated by Provincial Constables Caldwell and Yorke of the Lindsay Detachment, Provincial Police, assisted by Corporal L. A. McClure, of the Peterborough headquarters staff.

Multiple Injuries

The victim suffered a fractured skull, crushed chest, two broken legs, and a broken left shoulder, said Dr. W. D. Thomas, coroner at Bobcaygeon. Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, Peterborough, said an inquest will be held, the date to be announced later.

Mr. Gray was a native of London, England, and had resided in Lakefield since 1927 except for a short time in Dummer. He had been employed with the Department of Highways for the past 14 years.

SHORT IN A WIRING CIRCUIT is believed to be the cause of a fire at Nick Peconi's slaughter house, three miles north of the city near Nassau, today at 1 p.m. An electric motor, weigh scales, hides and horsehair was salvaged from the blaze estimated by foreman Pat Killan at $50,000. —Stephen Rastall Photo

Fire Destroys Slaughterhouse Near Lakefield

The big wooden slaughterhouse owned by Nick Peconi, dealer in dead animals, on the east side of the Peterborough-Lakefield road, three miles north of the city, was totally destroyed by fire that broke out during the noon hour today.

Cause of the fire that reduced the spacious structure to ashes was believed to be a short circuit in the wiring of a freezer unit on the ground floor. The rough estimate of the loss by Pat Kallan, foreman, was something like $50,000.

Six employees of the two-storey barn-like building had left for lunch shortly after 12 o'clock, and while at the dining table Thomas Montieth ,an employee, was the first to notice smoke and flames from one corner.

Peter McAuliffe, another of the six men employed at the place, was first into the barn. He entered by the main door, rushed to the big freezer which contained 20 tons of meat. He said the flames appeared to be centered around that unit. He managed, with the help of others, to salvage the electric motor, weigh scales, and a quantity of hides worth about $200, and horse hair of about the same value.

A strong wind from the northwest quickly spread the flames about the wooden building and were unopposed by any aid of fire fighters. Telephone calls were sent to the fire departments at Lakefield, but it was said that Reeve Ross Harrison of Smith could not be reached by telephone presumably in regard to a detail of paying for the emergency service that was sought. Reeve Wm. Grant of Lakefield was not accessible either.

Derailment Cuts CNR Main Line

NORTH BAY, July 22 (CP)—The main line of the Canadian National Railways' transcontinental route was cut Thursday night when two locomotives and a freight car were derailed at Bala Park, about 25 miles northwest of Washago in the Muskoka Lakes district. No one was injured.

The derailment occurred about nine o'clock. Railway crews were not expected to have the line open until late today.

The CNR's trans-Canada trains are being re-routed through North Bay. Trains from the west are being re-routed from Capreol to North Bay and south to Toronto. Westbound trains are following the same pattern, with some minor changes.

A freight train was travelling at low speed when the derailment sent its two locomotives off the tracks.

Truck Driver Hanged For Bottle Slaying

MONTREAL, July 22—(CP)—Maurice Lebel, 28-year-old truck driver from St. Guy, Que., was hanged at Bordeaux jail early today for the beer-bottle murder of two Trois Pistoles, Que., men on July 1, 1948.

The noose was slipped over Lebel's neck shortly after midnight. He was pronounced dead by Dr. Romeo Plouffe, the jail physician, about 12:30 a.m.

An air of secrecy surrounded the hanging and jail officials steadfastly refused to give out information.

News of the hanging came only after residents of the area around the jail phoned a newspaper in Montreal and asked why the prison bell had tolled six times.

Senator Godbout Resigns As Quebec Liberal Leader

QUEBEC, July 22—(CP)—George Marler, Liberal opposition leader in the Quebec legislature, announced today the resignation of Senator Adelard Godbout as Liberal party leader in Quebec. Mr. Marler said he had been asked by Mr. Godbout to succed him "temporarily" until a Liberal party convention is held to choose a new leader for the party in Quebec province.

Mr. Marler said no date had been fixed for a Liberal party convention in Quebec. He could say however it would be held within the "near future" rather than "the later future."

While he would have the responsibility of calling the date of the convention he would not do so before consulting Liberal leaders throughout the province.

He would not say if he would be a candidate for the party leadership.

When asked if it was possible for a Federal member to present himself as a candidate for the post of Quebec Liberal leader, he said that "is possible."

Girl Friend Persuades Youth To Confess

TORONTO, July 22 — (CP) — Suburban Long Branch police said today that a total of 50 charges of housebreaking have been laid against William Christianson, 17, after questioning by police from eight municipalities.

The youth, allegedly pursuaded by his girl friend to "come clean," admitted the break-ins after police had established 40 of them Thursday.

Police indicated there would be other charges in addition to the 50 now listed.

They said the youth agreed to confess to the break-ins after his Toronto girl friend told him she would wait for him. Police declined to reveal the girl's name.

Flees Tortures Of Chain Gang

WINDSOR, July 22 (CP) — Fugitive from an American chain gang, Lawrence (Larry) Guy, 19-year-old Canadian, said today he "would rather die" than go back to "tortures" he suffered for six months.

Thursday American officials made their first attempt to return Guy to a Tennessee chain gang to serve at least 2½ more years. Guy won a preliminary skirmish to retain his freedom but he expects further extradition proceedings will be launched.

He said he had been beaten by chain gang "captains" because he was too small to work as hard as other prisoners.

The five foot five, 140 pound youth said he sawed his way to freedom through a kitchen window of a county penal farm in Tennessee.

He had pleaded guilty to stealing $1,200 and was sentenced to three years on the penal farm.

He told police here that the money was all returned to the owner, a relative of a man he was travelling with. Detective Inspector James Yokum asked him to sign a waiver to be returned to the United States. When he refused, Guy was released.

Liquor Board Checks Bars

TORONTO, July 22 — (CP) — Ontario Liquor Control Board officials have begun investigating reports published in a Toronto paper that "many cocktail bars in Toronto are gypping their customers to the tune of $800 a week . . . by short-changing on the amount of drinks served, using deceptive glasses."

Liquor Control Board officials said that inspectors have been ordered to visit bars in the city and confiscate "shot" glasses for a check against Bureau of Weights and Measures glasses.

This action was precipitated by the newspage story written by two reporters who made a survey of cocktail lounges in the city and measured each drink sold them with a surgical measuring glass.

Expensive City

SHANGHAI, July 22 —(AP)—Foreigners here today wondered if this Communist-dominated city was not one of the world's most expensive in which to live. Prices today ran something like this: butter almost $4 a pound; United States cigarettes 80 cents a package; gasoline $2 a gallon; bread 30 cents a loaf; imported toothpaste $1.50 a tube; milk $1 a pint.

Religious Outbreak Rocks Newfoundland Legislature

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 22—(CP)—Religious controversy hit the floor of the Newfoundland legislature Thursday and exploded before startled members.

Peter Cashin, Independent member for Ferryland, charged that "hell was let loose" and "sectarianism went wild" in the referendum campaigns before Confederation.

He quoted Chesley Fillier, Grand Master of the Newfoundland Orange Lodge, as saying in a circular letter that the Roman Catholic Church made "an unwarranted invasion in an effort to dominate the right of free choice of the individual elector" in the referenda.

Mr. Cashin, a Roman Catholic said the letter was a "filthy" attack on Roman Catholics. When he went on to say that Premier Smallwood had backed this purported stand of the Orange Lodge, the premier leaped to his feet and demanded that Mr. Cashin withdraw the remark or "I will demand that he be expelled from the House."

Mr. Cashin withdrew the statement and apologized after the Speaker told him he was "skating on rather thin ice."

Only the day before Opposition Leader John Higgins had stalked from the Chamber after a bitter argument with Mr. Smallwood.

From nearby Clarke's Beach, Mr. Fillier told The Canadian Press in a telephone conversation that the circular was "a private document issued through the mail to Newfoundland's 236 lodges." There are some 40,000 Orangemen in Newfoundland.

The circular, he said, was not meant for publication or for distribution except among those to whom it was addressed. Neither was it meant to be used for political purposes.

Men Decide To Work On Monday

In View Of Situation C.S.U. Compromises Davis Tells Strikers

LONDON, July 22 (CP) —London's dockers today voted at a mass meeting to call off their strike in support of the Canadian Seamen's Union and return to work Monday.

Harry Davis, CSU president, told a mass meeting in Victoria Park that "in view of the present position" the CSU had decided to call off the strike in Great Britain.

"Our struggle in Canada and the rest of the world will continue," Davis said.

The CSU declared "white" the Canadian ships Beaverbrae and Argomont whose blacklisting brought on the dockers' strike a month ago.

Davis thanked the London dockers for their support. He blamed the strike on Canadian ship owners and "our Canadian anti-labor government."

Not Kremlin Conspiracy

"This was not a planned conspiracy directed by the Kremlin and Moscow," said the CSU president.

Davis said the CSU decision to clear the way for resumption of work was made with a view to "the wider interests of the English dockers and the whole people of England."

"We accept the promise of Canadian Deputy Minister of Labor Arthur McNamara that if the union will call off the strike he will utilize the machinery of his department to bring both parties together," Davis said.

The dockers' unanimous vote to return to work followed a meeting earlier in the day between CSU chiefs and the strikers' lockout committee.

Costs Nearly 2 Million

The strike is estimated to have cost 15,600 strikers £400,000 ($1,600,000) in wages. Vital exports and food imports were held up while the government marshalled servicemen to work strike-bound cargoes.

Service personnel at work at the docks today totalled 11,397—only 4,000 fewer than the number of dockers on strike.

The C.S.U. called the strike March 31 after Canadian deep-sea ship-owners signed contracts with the rival Seafarer's International Union.

There had been signs earlier that the strike—denounced by the Labor government as communist-inspired—was breaking up.

Armed Robber Ties Up Boys

TIMMINS, July 22—(CP)—Police in Northern Ontario were searching today for James McGrath, 25, of Ansonville, in connection with an armed robbery at a farm house, four miles from Matheson. Police said he held a mother and two children at gun point while he stole an automobile and some clothing.

A neighbor said today that McGrath entered the house with rifle about 11:15 when the two boys were alone and tied them up. The mother was in Matheson at the time.

Morley Monaghan, a neighbor, said he learned of the incident from her sons.

McGrath told the boys to keep quiet, but said nothing else. He stood guard over them for an hour with his rifle. When Mrs. Tyynella returned from Matheson on foot he told her to keep quiet, but did not tie her up.

After an hour McGrath put on clothes he took from the family, and took the car which was parked in the yard.

Preliminary Hearing

NAPANEE, July 22 (CP)—The preliminary hearing of Alfred Childs, 16, on a murder charge arising from the rifle-slaying June 29 of 57-year-old Elijah McQuaig, will be held here July 28. McQuaig's 18-year-old helper, Don Ross, was wounded when he tried to dash to safety.

Twin Brother, Sister Die In Flaming Cottage After Oil Lamp Explodes

Three Others Suffer Burns Escaping From Summer Camp, Motorists Refuse To Pick Up Injured

NANTEL, Que., July 22—(CP)—Two young members of a vacationing family were burned to death and three others injured Thursday night when a flash fire following an explosion levelled a summer cottage near this village in the Laurentians. The dead: Doris and Harry Whellan, 15, twin son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Whellan of Montreal, owners of the cottage.

Injured: Miss Therese Rondeau of Montreal, 20-year-old Provincial government employee vacationing with the Whellans. She suffered first-degree burns and cuts. Robert Whellan, 19, brother of the twins, and Jean Benoit, 18, of Montreal, a friend. Both suffered minor burns.

Miss Rondeau is described as having a good chance of surviving. She said the twins came home about 10:45 p.m., and tried to light an oil lamp. There was an explosion which spread to a naphtha stove. The reservoir in the stove exploded, spreading flames about the one-storey wooden building.

Miss Rondeau escaped from the burning building by jumping through a window. Eyewitnesses said she lay screaming and bleeding outside the cottage for half an hour before she was brought to hospital.

The girl told a nurse that she heard motorists, who stopped to watch the fire, discussing among themselves whether they should pick her up. She said they finally decided against it "because they would dirty the seats in their cars."

She was finally brought to hospital by Detective Arthur Normandeau, a provincial police officer, who suffered burns about the hands in a vain attempt to rescue the twins.

Mr. and Mrs. Whellan were in Montreal at the time.

Ex-Chief Helps Fight $10,000 Lindsay Fire

LINDSAY, July 22—(CP)—Cliff Campbell, who resigned as Lindsay Fire Chief Wednesday, led his former fire-fighters today in halting a $10,000-blaze that damaged two stores here.

Campbell, who will join the Ontario Fire Marshall's department shortly, and his men confined the fire to Fulton Stewart's photography and gift shop, but the adjoining Stephen's barber shop was damaged by smoke and water.

Mrs. J. Walters of Lindsay, escaped injury when she was carried down an aerial ladder by firemen who spotted her screaming through a broken window on the second storey of her apartment building.

The woman, who with two other families was forced to flee from the building, was awakened by choking smoke. She found the only exit from the apartment, down a narrow staircase, blocked by dense smoke and smashed open a window.

The blaze, believed to have broken out in the developing room of a neighboring photographer's studio, gutted the studio and damaged three adjacent stores.

Ford Workers Preparing Strike Vote

DETROIT, July 22 (AP)—Final moves are under way to enable the United Auto Workers (CIO) to pull the Ford Motor Company production employees out on a wage strike.

Michigan's Labor Mediation Board is preparing for a secret strike poll of the 75,000 Ford workers in this State.

A strike to back up current wage and contract demands — including $100-a-month pensions —already has been approved in a UAW-conducted vote among 106,000 Ford employees.

That poll showed that they are 7 to 1 in favor of a walkout, if necessary, although they were idle for 24 days in a speed-up strike that shut down Ford plants in May.

But the State balloting is necessary to comply with terms of Michigan's labor law.

In other States, the strike vote conducted by the union is ample authorization for a walkout, and Ford workers may be called out by the UAW executive board at any time.

The UAW filed a 10-day strike notice with the mediation board Thursday, but said it would take no walkout action until the vote was completed. That may require three weeks, board chairman Noel P. Fox said.

Once such a vote is taken, there will be no legal barrier in the way of a strike.

Military Aid Plan Prepared

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) —The White House today announced that President Truman will send to Congress Monday a proposed program of foreign military aid to back up the Atlantic Pact. Vice-president Alden Barkley, said it will be pressed for passage at this session.

Barkley, who attended a Cabinet session at the White House, said the administration hopes to pass both an authorization bill and an appropriation to finance the arms program before it quits around Sept. 1.

He said he does not expect as much debate on the arms program as occurred in the Senate during consideration of the pact, which the Senate ratified yesterday by a vote of 82 to 13.

Churchill Promises Blast At Labor Gov't In Talk

LONDON, July 22—(AP)—Winston Churchill—fresh from a clash with Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin—is readying a new blast at the Labor Government.

The wartime Prime Minister, now leader of the Conservative opposition, will make a major speech on general policy Saturday before an expected 50,000 listeners at Wolverhampton.

The speech is timed to coincide with a Conservative statement of policy looking forward to the 1950 election.

Churchill's secretary acknowledged this week that the speech would be an important one, but declined to give details.

Some wondered whether it would be the opening gun of the election campaign.

Churchill has been warming up for the campaign for several months with sharp blasts at the Labor regime.

Last May, in an assault on the government's policies, the former Prime Minister charged that the logical end of socialism in Britain is a communist-like state.

He accused the government of having "derided and reviled" the capitalist economic system of the United States.

In another address Churchill called on the Conservatives to mobilize for a possible general election this fall.

Takes Train Through Raging Wall Of Flame

MONTEBELLO, Calif., July 22. —(AP)).—His clothing burning on his body, an engineer rode his train through a gigantic wall of flameh to save 150 passengers from harm.

H. E. Byers, 55, Las Vegas, Nev., was at the throttle of the Union Pacific's streamliner "The City of Los Angeles," when it struck a 7,300-gallon gasoline truck and touched off an explosion heard for miles. The driver of the truck was fatally burned.

Flames roared hundreds of feet into the air, witnesses said.

Byers stayed at the controls and pulled his train through the holocaust. Flames sweeping in through the window ate the clothing away from his upper torso.

He is not expected to live, said hospital attendants.

Studying Ways To Keep Men On Farms

WALKERTON, Ont., July 22—(CP)—That old question of how to "keep 'em down on the farm" has come up again, this time before the Ontario Legislature's select committe on conservation.

Answers suggested in a Bruce County brief presented to the committee as a hearing Thursday included financial assistance through long-term, low-interest loans and supervision "similar to that being given by the Veterans' Land Act."

Farm groups in this old, rich agricultural section of the province expressed concern that few young men are taking over as owners of farms. They said in the brief that many good farms are going out of production because young would-be farmers lack money and credit needed for a satisfactory start. Farms revert to pasture, or are rented or share-cropped.

With farmers' sons—and daughters—gone to seek city jobs, not only did the district suffer loss of prosperity but the land itself often fell victim to practice which lent themselves to soil depletion or erosion.

Robbing Land

The brief called for legislation to prevent what it called the "robbing" of the land experienced with renting, share-cropping and absentee ownership. It said share-croppers, renters and absentee owners were interested mainly in taking as much as possible out of the land in the shortest possible time without regard for the future productivity of the soil.

The criticism of share-cropping was prompted mainly by fear of Bruce County farmers that the farmers that the practice might be adopted in their area. The brief said it was important to guard against it, particularly as an estimated 50 per cent of the established farmers in the county have adopted conservation practices.

The Bruce group also asked that further investigation be made into the nutritrional value of both human and livestock foods produced on various types of soil and that some direction be fiven to correct deficiencies.

The question of fire protection in the wooded Bruce peninsula was brought up. Tourist organizations complained that lack of water conservation measures urged measures to protect summer cottages in woodlands. It was suggested that the area be given firefighting facilities similar to those used in Northern Ontario.

Members of the committee decided that a sub-committee would make a special trip to Bruce County in mid-August to investigate reports of forest fire hazards and the drainage of inland lakes.

Burnham St. Resident Protested Cost

In a brief reference today to Dr. G. R. Langley's letter to the Examiner about the propsed paving of Burnham St., Mayor Swanston remarked that it was not quite fair to the council.

"Dr. Langley does not mention the protest by a deputation from Burnham St. to the board of works, which was reported by the Examiner," Mayor Swanston said. "The objections of those residents on that occasion dealt almost entirely with the question of cost to them individually resulting from the proportional frontage charge for the propsed paving. The members of that deputation will remember the points they emphasized to the committee. They were concerned about the additional tax levy that would be involved if the paving job was proceeded with on that street. They distinctly said that they wished to avoid any additional payments on their houses which they were buying or building."

U.S. Senators Approve Atlantic Pact

WASHINGTON, July 22—(AP)—Overwhelming Senate approval of the North Atlantic Treaty cleared the way today for President Truman's formal request that the United States help arm its European allies.

This highly-controversial plan calls for more than a $1,000,000,000 worth of arms during the next 12 months. Truman was scheduled to send Congress a message on it Monday.

The 20-year treaty won through to ratification late Thursday by vote of 82 to 13 after administration leaders had given repeated assurance that senators who voted for the pact would not be obligated to vote for the arms bill. This means that now in urging passage of the bill the administration apparently will not be able to use any suggestion of obligation as an argument for favorable action.

On its face, the treaty is not a specific defence against any particular aggressor but its primary purpose is to provide security for the western European countries against any attack by Russia.

The 12 signers agree that they will regard any attack on one as an attack on all. For the first time in history, the United States is joining with European countries in a military alliance.

All the member countries are to join together in developing, as soon as possible, a grand strategy of defence for the west.

One group of workers had voted to remove a cargo of wheat from one of the Canadian ships. Another group of 1,000 strikers Thursday adopted a resolution expressing willingness to return to work if the main body of strikers voted to do so.

Send More Troops

The government, which is operating the seized docks under a State of National Emergency, meanwhile sent an additional 600 troops to handle cargoes today. That raised the total to 11,397 service men at work.

Before accepting the back-to-work resolution the dockers passed one demanding that 76-year-old Lord Ammon be dismissed as chairman of the National Dock Labor Board.

Prime Minister Attlee fired Ammon as Deputy Speaker of the House of Lords Thursday night in a clash over board policy in handling the strike.

The Board had told the strikers they were jeopardizing the entire dock labor scheme, which guarantees them a weekly income. The Cabinet repudiated that statement.

Ammon has more than a year to serve on his appointment as chairman of the Dock Board. Technically there is no way the government can remove him until his term is up.

Will Go On

MONTREAL, July 22—(CP)—The Canadian Seamen's Union, in a telegram to Arthur MacNamara, Federal Deputy Labor Minister at Ottawa, today said the CSU strike committee in Great Britain in collaboration with the rank and file dockers committee in Great Britain, has decided to "call off the British dockers strike."

"This must not be construed to mean that the CSU strike (against Canadian deep sea shipping) does not go on," added the telegram, sent over the signature of CSU secretary-treasurer T. G. McManus.

"Our strike shall go on as we have received assurances of support from the west coast of the United States and the World Federation of Trade Unions that they will not load or unload Canadian struck ships," the telegram added.

Expect Decision On Rent Rules

OTTAWA, July 22 — (CP) — Fate of the rental controls moved toward a cabinet decision Thursday as officials singled out Toronto, Ottawa and Edmonton as the three top crisis cities in Canada's housing shortage.

The cabinet was reported due to decide before parliament meets in September whether to let the controls lapse March 31 or to continue them in some form or other. The administrators in the prices board are proceeding on the assumption that they will end March 31 because of indications given by Finance Minister Abbott.

The problem in the two eastern cities is rooted in the lack of serviced land within the city limits and reluctance of adjoining municipalities to permit projects until somebody provides them schools and services, said Maj.-Gen. H. A. Young, general manager of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. The problem in Edmonton is largely based on its tremendous rate of growth —around 10,000 newcomers yearly.

Gen. Young noted a falling off in the demand for more expensive houses across Canada. This was mainly due to shortage of cash for big down payments. Demand would swing upward sharply if down payments were in the $500 to $800 category, he said.

TORONTO, July 22 — (CP) — All groups faltered slightly on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. The slow and tedious advance which base metals had made through the week was halted and they declined slightly. Golds showed a majority of losses as did industrial stocks.

The highlight of the market was the performance of Joliet Quebec in the junior gold list. It climbed nine cents in the first three hours on news that Noranda was cutting into its property in the first 1,200 foot level. Dome Mines slipped ⅛ at 18⅝ in the senior producers while Wright Hargreaves, another senior took a loss of 3 cents at $2.17.

Osisko Mines also came into some good progress in a tie up with Noranda. It climbed eight cents at 64. Steep Rock iron mine eased two cents on profit taking at $1.63. Sherritt Gordon was also lower by three cents at $1.94.

Want Doctors To Decide Case

LONDON, July 22.—(AP). — An Appeals Court ordered a new trial today on the queston: Can a man be the father of a child born 12 months after he last saw his wife?

Charles Jones charged that his wife had been unfaithful, and asked a divorce. The divorce court rejected his charge.

In ordering a new trial, Lord Justice Bucknill said justice would be served by having a new trial limited to taking expert medical opinion, with other testimony already received admitted as evidence. Lord Justice Asquith agreed.

In a dissenting opinion, Lord Justice Denning said a 360-day gestation period was "quite fantastic."

He urged that a judgment be returned allowing Jones' appeal and granting him a decree "here and now."

Jones contended at the divorce court hearing last March that the child was born in August, 1946, just 360 days after he left Britain for a tour of duty with the R.A.F. in Germany.

He testified that he did not return home until 186 days before the birth.

Divorce Commissioner George R. Blanco-White, who heard the case originally, said medical evidence eliminated the possibility that the 8½-pound baby was premature. He dismissed the divorce action.

"Mrs. Jones is a respectable woman who swears she has not committed misconduct," he ruled. "I do not think it is right to condemn her on speculation."

Fire Destroys

The building was a two storey affair, about 100 ft. by 50 ft., built three years ago by Peconi. The slaughter house was on the ground floor, with a big electric freezer in one corner. Hides were stored on the upper floor.

Peconi had built quite a substantial business, buying dead animals throughout the district for their hides and hair, and also certain commercial uses of the meat. He had left for Toronto this morning about 11 o'clock with a load of his products. By one o'clock there was nothing left of his building except some of the smoking larger timbers.

Employees expressed an opinion that the place was not insured.

Raging flames and clouds of smoke above the building attracted the neighboring countryside and also traffic on No. 28 highway. Hundreds of spectators watched the flames crackle through the dry wooden walls to the roof.

The Peconi busineshs was located about several hundred yards from the house. Intervening grass was ignited and some of the embers blew into a nearby bush, starting small blazes which were extinguished by farmers of the vicinity.

The loss of Peconi merchandise included the 20 tons of meat in the freezer and another 80 tons on the main floor. It was said there was an outside well with about five feet of water in it. But that source was useless. The spectacular fire simply burned itself out, fanned by the light gale from the northwest.

Cocktail Bars GyppingDrinkers

TORONTO, July 22 — (CP) — A Toronto paper says today that "many cocktail bars in Toronto are gypping their customers to the tune of $800 a week by short-changing on the amount of drinks served, using deceptive glasses."

In a newspage story, the paper says two of its reporters made a survey of 15 cocktail lounges in the city and, with a surgical measuring glass, measured each drink sold to them. Reporting their findings, it says:

"'Six lounges short-changed on the drink they advertised by a quarter of an ounce. Two short-changed by an eighth of an ounce. Three used misleading glasses but served what they advertised. Three served more. One was just right."

"None of the lounges broke the law by serving less than one ounce, but most of them advertised 1¼ ounces or more."

6 Babies Die Of Dysentery

MATTAWA, July 22 (CP)—An epidemic of dysentery in this Northern Ontario lumber town has claimed the lives of six infants within three weeks. Six other babies are in hospital, one in serious condition.

Dr. J. A. Bergeron, medical officer of health, said "there is nothing that we can do."

Dr. Bergeron said the disease was presumably caused by polluted waters. Mattawa residents have no waterworks system and must depend upon the Mattawa and Ottawa rivers for their supply, along with several wells. Of these wells the medical officer of health said that "very few are sanitary."

Only real hope of combatting the epidemic, municipal officials believe, lies in the installation of a waterworks and sewer system in the town. Mattawa council is now in the middle of an effort to have a waterworks system put in, and Mayor Albert Huot says the signs are "very hopeful."

Dr. Bergeron agrees. "As long as we have to depend upon rivers and wells for our water supply there is little that the health authorities can do," he said. "We can only stress the warning to parents to boil all water before use and keep flies away from the food of infants."

Flowers Early But Dwarfed By Dry Spell

Local garden lovers report that in most cases the dry weather and the intense heat has brought on their flowers more quickly than is normal. The plants themselves are smaller than average. While the dry conditions are unfavorable to most plants, they say there are some which flourish during the dry and hot weather.

Rock gardsn, such as that of Mrs. George Benton, 772 Water St. are reported to be growing normally. Mrs. Benton said that some of the sempervivums, which bloom when about three years old, are now in bloom in her rock garden.

Mrs. Benton said that nearly all her flowers are two to three weeks ahead of last year but the plants are dwarfed due to weather conditions. Mr. and Mrs. Benton have kept the garden well cultivated, thus allowing it to receive what little dew there has been at night. Nothing has been killed out so far.

Red Cardinals

Mrs. Benton's red cardinals, which she prizes as the only ones in the city, are smaller than usual and now are beginning to bloom ,which is early for them. A Blue Lily of the Nile, which is situated at the front of the Benton home is now in bloom, just on time.

Albert Speceley, 103 Auburn St. has a cross lily of Willimotti and Henrii which is nearly seven feet high. He has lilies from seedlings to bloom. His lilies were early in blooming. Mr. Spenceley's Canterbury Bells and Sweet William suffered under the hot spell, drying out completely.

Of the gladioli Mr. Spenceley said. "There'll be lovely blooms for Christmas."

Lilies Three Weeks Early

Jack Smith, 150 Benson Ave., reports his lilies are about three weeks early in blooming. He said the plants are smaller due to the lack of moisture. His perenial phlox are blossoming according to schedule with his gladioli behind, none budding yet.

All the gardeners said the recent light rainfall acted as a shot in the arm to most plants and noted already a difference in their verdure.

Yvonne De Carlo Plans Trip To Germany

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 22—(AP)—Yvonne de Carlo of Vancouver, a girl who likes to travel, plans a fall European trip, during which she'll entertain United States troops in Germany.

The shapely star says she'll motor through the continent and also visit D.P. camps in Austria. She plans to write articles on conditions there. She has been invited to visit Egypt and Turkey.

"With all my exotic roles, they probably think I'm one of them," says Yvonne.

The gal is underweight, but has little chance of regaining the poundage during "Buccaneer's Girl." She has five big fights in the film. I watched her do one with Andrea King, and the girls pulled no punches.

The wardrobe department has a monumental chore on this film. In it Yvonne has to masquerade as a boy. 'Twill be a neat trick. But it was done with Jane Russell in "The Paleface."

Lifebuoys Disappear Despite Best Efforts

Lifebuoys which are placed at the various locks along the route of the Trent Canal system are put there for use in case of need, and are not just to make the lock property look prettier, The Examiner was told today by T. J. Ryan, superintending engineer of the Trent ... Murray Canals. The Trent Canal authority endeavours to see that they are kept maintained at all times so far as is humanly possible..

It is impossible to blanket the whole course of the system with them, he said, but the Department of Transport does supply them for installation at points where the need of them would be most likely to arise.

The equipment consists of a ring buoy, with rope attached, which is hung on a post or other support.

It has been brought to the attention of The Examiner that in one or two places this equipment has been stolen and not replaced, one of these being at Young's Point. Mr. Ryan said that this particular case had not yet been brought to his attention. He added that his department tries to replaces the equipment quickly whenever any of it is reported missing.

Scouts Enjoy Many Pageants

CONNAUGHT RIFE RANGES, South March, Ont., July 22. — (CP).—Some 3,000 Canadian Boy Scouts shouldn't have much trouble with history examinations when they return home next week from the first Canadian Boy Scout jamboree.

They've seen graphic portrayals of the early days of Manitoba, Britishm Columbia and the Maritime provinces. Today the Ontario contingent of 941 Scouts presents an historical pageant in the big assembly area of the camp on Connaught Ranges, 14 miles west of Ottawa.

Thursday Scouts watched the last spike driven in the Canadian Pacific Railway's continental line, the United Empire Loyalists settle at Saint John, N.B., and King James VI of Scotland make Nova Scotia a province.

And they were reminded by 29 Prince Edward Island Scouts that Charlottetown is the birthplace of the Dominion.

Acting Prime Minister Howe, who represents Port Arthur in the Commons, visited the Port Arthur delegation in the camp Thursday, was made an honorary scoutmaster of the troop, and ate a barbequed dinner cooked under the supervision of a political rival.

The cook, John Dagsvik, Jr., is the son of the unsuccessful Social Credit candidate in Port Arthur, John E. Dagsvik, in the Federal election last month.

It Could Be Stupidity Or Laziness

The Peterborough Board of Education is greatly concerned about the high percentage of failures at the P.C.V.S. this year, and there has been a good deal of talk all over the city on this subject. Everybody seems to be agreed that something is wrong, but nobody knows what it is. In one grade (Grade 11) only 53 pupils passed their examinations out of 115 who wrote them, and yet these same boys and girls did well enough in the examinations they wrote in the summer of 1948. What is the trouble?

* * *

We do not pretend to know. The Board seemed content to say that the fault lay in one of three directions—the teaching, the examinations or the marking. We suggest that a fourth possible direction has been overlooked—the pupils themselves. Is it not possible that they have been a little stupider, or a little lazier in 1949 than in 1948? When looking for reasons for academic failure it is the easiest thing in the world to spare the feelings of the parents and the pupils by blaming those perennial Aunt Sallies, the teachers. If pupils do not learn, teachers have been idle, or their teaching "technique" is not "modern"; it is never suggested that pupils have been idle, or that their desire to learn and their application, and their home background might be at fault. As for "teaching technique", it is mostly nonsense trumped up by pedagogues who make a living by teaching teachers; there have been good teachers and bad since the beginning of time, and the good ones have achieved their ends by every possible means—by sweetness and light, by reason, by patient explanation, by stern discipline, by the utmost freedom, by implication, by dogmatic assertion, by rewards and by beatings. The idea that a technique dreamed up by some genius at the Ontario College of Education within the past five years can make any great difference to teaching is nonsense. The best teachers in the world can do nothing unless they have good pupils.

* * *

What makes good pupils? Nobody knows, but a majority of good pupils come from good homes, in which education is respected and in which a certain standard of achievement and self-discipline is demanded of the children. If the parents of Peterborough are dissatisfied with the examination results, let us look into the teaching situation at the Collegiate by all means; let us examine its discipline; let us give some thought to the fantastic curriculum devised by the Ontario Department of Education. But let us, first of all, realize that children who have not been brought up to respect, value and desire education, could not be taught anything at the Collegiate if Plato were its principal, Aristotle its Superintendent of Schools, and if a Pestalozzi sat behind the desk in every classroom.

Addressing The Clergy

Some new regulations respecting the registration of marriages come into effect in Ontario on August 2nd, and letters are being sent to clergymen all over the Province to advise them of this change. What interests us is the curious way in which the provincial government sets about the job of finding and addressing the clergy. Two letters have been sent to Catholic priests in this district, both of whom have been dead for twenty years or more; another letter has been forwarded to a local clergyman from a town in which he has not lived since the early days of his career. Surely this is a wasteful and inefficient way of conducting the public business?

The provincial secretary's department says that it is very difficult to obtain the correct addresses of clergymen. We wonder just how difficult it is. Most churches publish handbooks containing this information, and the Roman church revises its directory every year. Even if some of the handbooks were a little out of date every church has a head office which could be asked to supply a list of its clergy, with addresses, and would no doubt be to glad to cooperate in this manner. And even if lists of clergymen are not obtainable, there are lists of churches in each community, and the letters could be sent to the church secretary, or simply to "The Minister, Blank Church, Blankville".

Government business ranges in method from the most efficient and up-to-date practices to antiquated, slovenly and stupid practices. Among the latter we class the sending of letters to clergymen long dead, and to clergymen who have moved to new addresses many years ago. Once again we are compelled to reflect that if private business were discharged as wastefully and stupidly as some public business, the bankruptcy courts would have to work 24 hours a day.

Paying The Piper

A curious bit of news reaches us from Edinburgh: A Scottish dentist, working under the British scheme of socialized medicine, has made £25,000 (or $100,000) in eleven months. Sir William Marshall, the chairman of the Lanark County Health Service has drawn attention to this remarkable fact, saying: "It is hard to believe that the patients received in this case the painstaking, careful attention which we have a right to expect in our service". We should think not, indeed! It seems clear that this dentist has been plugging teeth and pulling them as fast as he can, without much regard for his patients—and the Government has been paying the bill.

We keep an open mind on national health service schemes. It seems to us that there are far too many people in the world who badly need medical attention who cannot afford it, or who do not know how to get it. But there are serious faults in every health service plan we have heard of, and the most usual fault is that the plan breaks the intimate relationship which should exist between a man and his medical advisor. This relationship is founded to some extent upon the fact that the patient seeks, and pays for, advice and care from his medical man. But in the health schemes another and disrupting partner—the Government—enters this relationship, for the Government pays the bills. The tendency for professional standards to drop under such an arrangement, and for the physician, dentist or surgeon to lose contact with his patients, is marked. The doctor's consulting-room, or the dentist's operating-room becomes a little too much like a factory, where the professional man looks upon his patients not as human beings, but as profitable raw material.

The profiteering Scottish dentist is a gross example of this kind of thing. But he points to the weakness which exists in any health scheme where the patient does not pay the piper.

A Vindication But Not A License

There has been satisfaction in newspaper circles all over Canada about the excellent report on the British press which was given by the Royal Commission which was appointed to investigate it. One might almost think that the press of Canada had somehow been complimented by the Commission's words about "high standards of public responsibility and service". We think that the press of Canada is a fine institution, but we would not like to think that it was becoming complacent.

We had meant to write something along this line, but the Ottawa Journal has forestalled us, and has expressed what we meant to say so well that we are content to quote it without further addition:

> Yet about this report of Britain's Royal Commission on the press one comment needs to be made. It is that freedom and responsibility and standards of public service with newspapers are not something that can be determined finally by the report of a Royal Commission; not something that newspapers can ever be done with, but something they must go on doing—a continuing process.
>
> Not enough therefore for newspapers, whether in Britain or here, to read the findings of this British Royal Commission, pat their chests proudly and say: "We are vindicated!" With newspapers, as with democracy, vindication is always tomorrow; not with what has ben, or is now, but with what is to be.

The Brockville Centenary

The city of Brockville has been celebrating the centenary of its incorporation; it has been in existence, as a settlement, since 1785. Its present name was chosen to do honour to Sir Isaac Brock, the hero of Queenston Heights.

Age is by no means Brockville's only claim to fame, though its years have given it a mellow charm. It has some fine old buildings, and in St. Peter's Anglican Church it has an edifice of rare charm, unspoiled by tasteless modern tinkering. But in business, in sport and in politics it is one of the most important centres in Eastern Ontario, and during the past year it has become the seat of the Eastern Ontario Drama Festival. It is the focus of a large rural area, and as it is the home of a number of people of means and taste it has many beautiful homes and gardens.

May we add our congratulations to the many which Brockville has received, and wish it well for its second century.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: Why have a Civic Holiday when nobody gives a tinker's damn about civic Peterborough?

ANSWER: Why indeed? To be just (and I think you are unjust by saying nobody cares about civic Peterborough) I must state that I believe Peterburians to be very civic-minded, compared with residents of many other cities. One reason is that Peterborough is off the beaten paths. It is not on the main railway lines; it is not on Highway 2. A place like Oshawa cannot hope to have the individuality Peterborough might have, nor the core of civic character it already has.

Peterborough is near enough to Toronto for that city to be readily accessible, but not near enough for it to dominate and warp Peterborough. In my way of thinking, Toronto is a bad influence on Ontario. I must say in fairness that Toronto is improving, despite the ridiculous business last week of Torontonians, including the mayor, making a hullabaloo at the Calgary stampede. One can perhaps excuse that as a jamboree and an advertising ramp.... Toronto has improved since it acquired bars. There is now a bit of city night-life, instead of mean sinning behind closed doors and shuttered window.... I am beginning to judge a country's cultural achievements by its drinking laws. There is a correlation.

Civic Holiday is designed primarily to give people an August holiday. If it were truly a civic holiday, Peterborough should have a separate one, on a mid-week day in spring, or something equally odd.

May I say here and now, that our city ought to have a special Civic Holiday next year, the 100th anniversary of the corporation's existence?

ALPHA: Did the Ark of Noah exist? And what animals, of the ones that came out "two by two" came first?

ANSWER: Ask your clergyman, not me. I am not learned in such matters. I guess that the first of the animals out of the Ark was Noah, if he had any sense at all. Somehow the thought of the Ark nauseates me. The sanitary arrangements must have been pretty crude. It's bad enough to take one trip across the Atlantic on a cattle-boat, as nursemaid to cattle. To have been on the Ark with all those varieties and species would have been insufferable. Think of the braying and cooing and whinnying, let alone the aroma.

DEAR ALPHA: If a Canadian girl marries, say, a Dutchman who is not a Canadian citizen, though he lives in Canada, will she lose her citizenship?

ANSWER: No, provided the marriage took place on or after January 1, 1947, when the Canadian Citizenship Act became effective. If she married before that she automatically took the citizenship of her husband.

Some time ago in Peterborough Court House a case in point for naturalization was heard by the judge. The husband was a Pole, had been in this country for several years, and applied for citizenship. His wife was a Canadian born and bred (and incidentally a cultivated, well educated person). They had married before 1947, so in the eyes of the law this Canadian was a Polish citizen, and could not have travelled even to the United States except as a Pole. She had never been in Poland and could not speak Polish. She, like her husband, had to petition for Canadian citizenship!

Persons qualified to seek naturalization appear several times at due intervals before the proper authorities, fill out papers and answer questions. During one of the intervals the wife had a baby and missed one of the hearings, so her Polish husband became a Canadian citizen before she did. At her final hearing she was designated in court as "a person of foreign nationality living with a Canadian".

The judge put the statutory question to her: "What are the duties of a Canadian citizen", which is put to all applicants, many of whom know very little English and less about democratic procedure. However, they learn a set of answers to give to this question. This young lady, Canadian-born, launched into an enthusiastic and rather fine dissertation on the privileges, duties and philosophic implications of Canadian citizenship, but failed to mention directly that a good Canadian should obey the laws. However, the judge leaned over and said magisterially: "And what about obeying the law, eh?" Thus prompted, she said: "Oh, yes, one must obey the laws". And so she became a Canadian citizen again.

SIR: When I was in London during the war, I visited Westminster Abbey, and of course the Poets' Corner. There was the bust of Ben Jonson and under it this legend, "O Rare Ben Jonson". That is a curious use of the word rare, isn't it?

ANWER: Yes, indeed. In the English sense, although, Ben Jonson was a rare person, a most excellent man. But the phrase is Latin, and the "O" should go with "rare"—"Orare"—the imperative of a Latin verb, and the meaning is "Pray for Ben Jonson".

FOR THE RECORD: There were 23 church weddings in Peterborough last Saturday, July 16, and probably half a dozen others not in churches. It was almost a case of bridal parties queueing up, in at one church door and out another. The record far surpassed any June day record. The principal reason for the great press of marriages on that day is that newly married couples still observe the quaint custom of taking honeymoons, and four of our big factories—Dominion Woollens, Raybestos, Peterborough Lock and C.G.E.—shut down for a couple of weeks of holiday the day before. Thus the grooms and brides could have a good long mooning period.... By the way, the streets were raucous Saturday with the blaring of bridal party car horns. It was quite wearing, even exasperating. Although bridal parties may feel that joy should be unconfined on such happy occasions, does not the blowing of horns make a mockery of the joy? We have an anti-noise by-law in Peterborough. Why don't the police enforce it?

REMOTE "CONTROL"

The Spectre

(MONTREAL STAR)

MANY honest and intelligent British labour leaders are hag-ridden. They know how a doctor feels when a patient dies of a simple operation or a general when an apparently safe battle deteriorates into disaster.

They know that omelettes cannot be unscrambled; that if the Conservative party comes to power the coal mines, the railways, the Bank of England, will remain national properties. There is no consolation in this knowledge. A change of management with no change in ownership spells a threat to all Labour's tomorrows.

The Socialist argument always has been—cast out the devil of greed by public ownership and the Garden of Eden will be regained. But the events of the last few months have shewn that greed is a human frailty and not necessarily a by-product of the profit system. The attitude of large numbers of British workmen is tainted with the same selfishness formerly attributed to the exploiting classes. "Why look after the other fellow—look after yourself first." Because of this unexorcised demon rifts have arisen between the working men and their comrades who manage the nationalized industries. These comrades feel that they owe their duty to the customers, who are the general public. As a result relationships between the Railway Commission and the transport workers, between the Coal Commission and the miners, are rather worse than in the shameful past, when one was master and the other, Man.

Equality has gone sour. Instead, it is in the unredeemed industries—wicked capitalist ventures like Imperial Chemical Industries, Lever Brothers, the cocoa combine, Morris Motors and many others—that labour and management and the general public are on good terms with each other, are pulling together, are making money and are building towards a better Britain.

This is all very saddening to the doctrinaires. In some incomprehensible fashion their world has turned upside down. The privately-owned industries are giving good measure and are satisfying employees and customers alike, while the nationalized industries greedily are demanding more for themselves and are playing the role of parasites—being carried at public expense.

This is not the worst. There is nothing to prevent nationalized industries from pulling up their socks and from competing for the goodwill of their customers, who happen by the same token to be their owners. But under the Labour regime they have not done so. What if the Conservative party comes into power and for purely selfish reasons Mr. Churchill decrees that all nationalized industries shall satisfy the public—or else? No longer will the old shibboleths suffice; it will have been a change in management and not an economic theory that has wrought a miracle.

So arises the spectre of One Employer—conceived as an ideal image but while yet in its infancy beginning to look to Socialist eyes like Mr. Boris Karloff in one of his specialty roles. For if a Labour Government creates an official monopoly which it fails to manage properly and the Conservatives take it over and administer it to public satisfaction, the party of the first part is going to be out of office for a long, long time.

Trouble In Paradise

This was the situation in Honolulu last week in the tenth week of a paralyzing strike by Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union:

In the bright tropic sunlight ships lay idle at the modern piers around Aloha Tower. No ukeleles thrummed a welcome and no tourists bought leis. Longshoremen pickets lounged around the docks and occasionally staged a march. Daily for two hours, militant housewives belonging to an organization called "We the Women" circled union headquarters with placarded brooms bearing anti-Communist slogans. Swank hotels on Waikiki Beach were half empty. In a port that normally handles about 3,500,000 tons of cargo a year cargoes piled up and unemployment mounted. Sugar worth $29,000,000 awaited export. So far the tie-up had caused a $160,000,000 business loss.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous: for praise is comely for the upright....For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth. He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord. (Ps. 33: 1, 4, 5.)

And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy; Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee.

And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth. And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?

But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house. And he arose, and departed to his house.

But when the multitudes saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men. (Matt. 9: 2-8.)

Letter To The Editor

BRING YOUR OWN CLOTHES-PIN

Sir: The representative of the Examiner that came down to the South End to determine the legitimacy of the protests from South End residents must have a coarse nose. However, he came down in the late morning and afternoon, and, not in the evening when the odour comes in like a fog. I challenge this reporter to come sit with me on my porch on a bad evening without putting a clothespin on his nose or a gas mask.

The proposed addition to the sewage plant is just a waste of money. Putting an addition on the plant is like building a small garage to accommodate an Austin, when next year you'll need one for a Buick. My house has depreciated in value since this odour came round but, my taxes have increased. So surely we can afford to build a brand new disposal plant a few miles down stream away from the population, and, we'll all be happy.

A SOUTH ENDER.

With A Chain Saw

A farmer in Downie township, who owns a bush lot in which some of the big trees had come to the age when they were due for cutting, hired a man and a chain-saw the other day at three dollars per hour. In a day he had cut down and hewn into cord-wood lengths enough trees to do his household for many months.

He stated that to cut down a big elm tree and trim off the big branches and to cut it into three-foot lengths consumed less than half an hour with this slick little chain-saw outfit, operating on a few pints of gasoline.

When one thinks of the heart-breaking spectacle of primeval forest which confronted the first settlers in this district, and how they, armed only with an axe and a couple of wedges, succeeded in clearing the land of very heavy bush, one begins to realize the tremendous advances that engineering has made.—St. Marys Journal-Argus.

HAVELOCK, July 22. — (ENS).—Roger Young entertained the guests at his summer resort, "Sylvan Lodge," on the east shore of Belmont lake, and the cottagers in the vicinity at a "hard time" party on Wednesday evening, when about eighty guests were present, most of them in costume.

Mrs. Grace Samson of Peterborough, who is officiating as recreational convener at Sylvan Lodge for the summer months, was mistress of ceremonies for the evening. The prizes for the best costumes were awarded as follows: Adult prize, 2 tickets to Peterborough Summer Theatre, won by Miss Leona Caldwell of St. Mary's, with the junior prize being won by Meredith and Rhys, sons of Dr. Russell Morgan of Peterborough.

Officials Worry About Attacks

TORONTO, July 22 (CP) — Civic officials said Thursday they have received reports that scores of women have been attacked or molested on dark Toronto streets at night. At the same time, police launched an all-out search for the two men who assaulted and raped a 30-year-old telegraph office clerk last Sunday.

Acting Mayor John Innes told reporters he has received "alarming letters" from numerous women reporting brutal attacks in recent weeks. He said he ordered Traffic Commissioner Tracy Lemay to conduct a survey of areas considered dangerous for women at night and to report on what steps can be taken to eliminate these spots as hiding places for "sex fiends."

Controller Innes quoted from one letter this said:

"The women of Toronto are becoming terrified. Many are afraid to be out on the streets after dark."

Finds Many Heronries Throughout Ontario

TORONTO, July 22 (CP) — Heronries are numerous in Ontario, especially in the southern part of the province, James Baillie, of the Ornithology Department of the Royal Ontario Museum, said Thursday.

One of the largest breeding grounds is on Thorah Island in Lake Simcoe, about 60 miles north of Toronto, he said. On the island, there are approximately 350 pairs of Herons.

Mr. Baillie commented on a news story which earlier this week told of the discovery by fishermen of a nesting ground of 200 herons on a northern Ontario island in Makobe Lake, 45 miles west of New Liskeard. Also on the island were many bodies of Herons.

"Dead herons are not an uncommon sight in the heronries," said Mr. Baillie. "They are an awkward bird and, when young, often fall from their nests. They crawl around on the branches before they learn to fly and sometimes lose their balance."

Uniteds Clinch Top Spot In Men's Loop

Uniteds defeated Cosmos 5-2 at the Bowl last night to clinch first place in the City Softball League standing. They now have a bye into city finals, as Cosmos and Knights meet in the semi-final playoff series. A good-sized crowd saw a neat tussle with Bob Greenlaw pitching steady ball. Howie Dalton gave way in the sixth to Ron Akers on the Cosmos' mound. There were but two errors in the tilt, one by Jake Wade being the first one this season by the starry centre fielder of Uniteds. He redeemed that with a fine catch in the fifth. George Sullivan led the winners with three for four at bat, as White got two in three and Scriver two in three, one a homer. Dalton got two in three times for the losers.

There are more than 150 entries from seven provinces.

Macken Takes Singles Match

MONTREAL, July 22 (CP)—Brendan Macken, of Montreal, whose inspired performance Thursday gave Canada her first match-triumph over Australia in Davis Cup Tennis Competition, today returns to action in the doubles fixture of the North American zone tie. The teams resume the five-match series deadlocked at one victory each.

Frank Sedgman squared the round in the other singles match Thursday with an impressive straight-set win over Henri Rochon of Montreal, Canada's No. 2 man. Sedgman also returns to action today, paired with John Bromwich, the ambidextrous captain of the Aussie squad.

Rugged Walter Stohlberg, of Vancouver will pair Macken, Canada's No. 1 player in the tie who upset Billy Sidwell in the opening singles match. The Aussie's No. 2 player bowed to the 26-year-old Macken only after a five-set thriller of 56 games that lasted three hours.

Macken's victory surprised the invaders who had predicted they would win the tie easily without the loss of a match. Australia entered this year's tie with a record of four consecutive whitewashings over Canada since 1914.

Bethany Victors

BETHANY, July 22 (ENS) — Bethany defeated Janetville 9-0 in the second game here of the Durham Baseball League playoffs. The first went to Janetville 11-10 last week. Reg. Edmunds pitched steady ball for the winners and it was a neat number the first while. The homesters counted three runs in the second, adding four in the fourth and two in the sixth. More than 400 fans attended the tussle, which was well handled by Umpires Harold Dormer and Wimp Borland of Peterborough. The final tussle will be in Blackstock on Monday night.

Batteries—J. McGill, J. Burns and N. McNeil; R. Edmunds and A. Stewart.

Cosmos Take Decision From Knights

Cosmos popped a 6-1 City Softball decision over Knights at the Bowl last night in a fair fray before a goodly gallery. Neither team had a chance by this time of making first place but they are scrapping to finish second before their semi-final series opens. It was pretty much a pitching duel with Crowley fanning nine and giving but six hits for the winners, while Saraceni allowed only 5 hits while whiffing four on Knights' slab. His support wasn't too good as Knights kicked in with six errors, though they ran off two double plays and Leether had a nice catch. None of the winners got more than one hit, but Dalton banged out a homer. Hunter had two in three tries for the losers and Leether a triple and single in five.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

A field of six boats is prepared for the Saturday test at Detroit that will determine which three will represent the United States in the Harmsworth International Speedboat Regatta this month.

A lot of edge was taken out of the race when Achille Castoldi, the Italian challenger, withdrew this week from the July 29-30 race because he was unable to get his boat ready.

That left E. A. Wilson, of Ingersoll, Ont., as the only challenger for the trophy, but he is rated a most worthy one. Wilson has built a new boat, Miss Canada IV, for the race, and also may use his Miss Canada III.

My Sweetie, owned by Horace Dodger of Detroit and winner of the gold cup race on the Detroit river course July 4, is rated a favorite among the American contenders.

The 58-year-old Dodge indicated he would pilot the boat himself with Wild Bill Cantrell, who drove My Sweetie in the gold cup assigned to pilot Dodge's second boat, Lotus.

Two wealthy Californians, R. Stanley Dollar and Henry Kaiser, have crews busy tuning up their craft. Kaiser has entered his Aluminum I while Dollar will shoot his Skip-along.

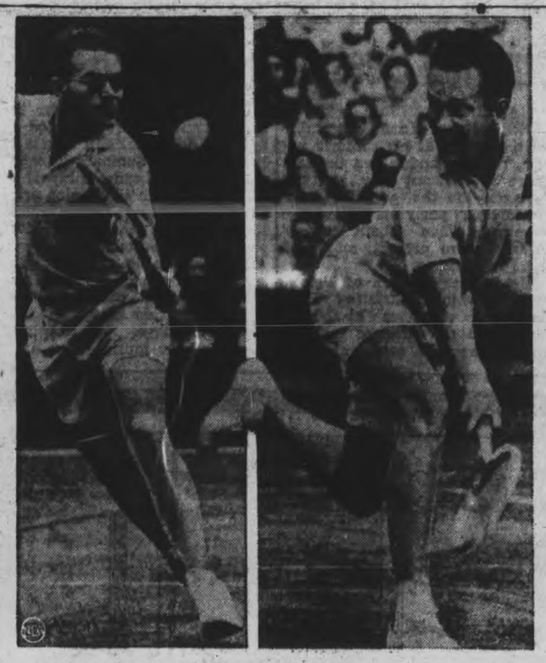
The other contenders are Astraea, owned by Cameron Peck of Chicago, and Such Crust II owned by Detroiter Jack Shaeffer.

Tom Brook, president of the Canadian champion Calgary Stampeders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, said Thursday at Calgary his team definitely will not play Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four in a pre-season exhibition game in Ottawa. He was commenting on a report from Ottawa which said Rough Rider officials were in communication with the Calgary club on the possibility of a mid-August exhibition game in Ottawa's Lansdowne Park.

At Quebec, Gene Letourneau, chief examiner of the Quebec Boxing Commission has lifted a six months suspension on Toronto boxer Teddy Swain. Swain was suspended when he failed to appear for a bout in Quebec against Ernesto Aguilar of Cuba July 4.

Plans are complete for staging of the Hamilton Power Boat Association outboard regatta Saturday afternoon. Entries have been received from outboard owners in St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Windsor, London, Dunnville, Simcoe, Port Colborne, and many centres in the United States as well as from the local organization.

Nearly 150 power boats from the hydroplane class to outboard motorboats from Canada and the United States will race in the annual Valleyfield Boating Club regatta at Valleyfield, Que., Saturday and Sunday, it was announced Thursday night. The classic, to be raced on St. Francis Bay, is jointly sponsored by the Canadian Federation and the American Power Boat Association.



MEN WITHOUT A COUNTRY—Ordered by the Czech government to drop out of the Swiss Tennis Championships because of the presence of the Germans, Rolf Goepfert and Werner Beuthner, Jaroslav Drobny, left, and Vladimir Cernik beat them in the final, 6-3, 6-0, 6-3. Drobny lost the singles final to Earl Cochell, sixth-ranking American of San Francisco, 3-6,6-3, 2-6, 6-3,7-5. Czechoslovakia's Davis Cup players do not plan to return to their native land, hope to compete in the United States.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Quite a few American tourists in this district are taking in the OLA senior "A" matches, and marvelling at the rugged sport served up in hot weather. A typically Canadian outdoor game, lacrosse is not for pantywaists. The Petes aren't unduly large gents but they generally hold their own against stiff senior competition. They'll be hustling plenty at 8.45 tonight in Miller Bowl, weather being right, to down St. Catharines Athletics, as this is one club they'd love to knock off. It should be a fine fray before another 2,000 or so customers. The peewee Cyclones and Terriers go between quarters.

A juvenile baseball joust at 6.15 this e'en in Riverside betwixt East City and the southenders. Northend midgets and juves have a practice game there at 2.30 tomorrow aft. Top two teams in each section go into city playoffs the week of Aug. 8, winners then advancing into OBA playdowns around Aug. 20. Albert Watkins advises that it will be east and north in midget city playoffs and east and south in bantam finals. The juvenile and peewee pictures are slightly obscured at the moment but will clear up shortly. Young Petes are off to Whitby tomorrow and the senior Petes play in Oshawa.

When Playdowns Come

OASA has drawn up the provincial playdown plan for men's softball victors. Zone 4 has Kingston, Oshawa and Peterborough in senior "B", there being four other zones, counting Sudbury. Same three towns are in zone 4 for intermediate "A", six zones entering in all. Again it's Kingston, Oshawa and Peterborough in intermediate "AA", while Oshawa, Ottawa and this borough are zoned together for junior "A". Juvenile "A" has Kingston, Oshawa and Peterborough bracketed, also. Intermediate "C" in zone 4 includes such district centres as Campbellford, Hastings, Lakefield, Stirling, Warkworth, Wooler, etc.

In men's softball at the Bowl last e'en, before a goodly gathering of paying customers, Uniteds beat Cosmos 5-2 and then Cosmos won from Knights 6-1. Two neat numbers, and there'll be just the one tomorrow p.m. there at 7.30, Uniteds vs. Knights. The Cosmos' crew kindly helped the loop executive out of a bit of a spot by again failing to hit in the clutches, their loss in the first fray giving Uniters top spot to keep the standing. Had they won both, they could have prolonged the race, but not now. They're in second place and Knights third, and these teams will meet in semi-finals, but we don't know the opening date yet.

* * * * * *

Co-Pilots Are Happy

Bob Greenlaw again was the winning hurler for Uniteds—a sound squad handled by co-pilots Fontaine and Hancock. They click in the right spots to win games. Red Sullivan, Russ Scriver, Jack White and Bud Harrison led the hitters and Jake Wade had a fine catch in centre. He also had his first error of the season on a high throw. He's a solid citizen in the middle garden. Second scrap saw Crowley and Saraceni come up with some nice twirling, but Knights were rather loose afield in the low-hitting tilt. Hunter topped 'em at bat, being a versatile and pleasant young guy, and going in left field this time. Reg. Leether pulled off one of his neat catches and the losers reeled off two twin-ply killings.

* * * * * *

While the Petes have a COBL game tomorrow in Oshawa, there'll be a ball game Tuesday evening in Riverside at six of the clock. Philadelphia Colored Giants, a touring semi-pro squad, will play the Petes at that time. Manager Ed Murphy, who is playing second base, now with Al Menzies on the injured list, will pitch either Lefty Dadson or Doug Plunkett, and it'll be the first appearance here of Danny Brown, in local livery. The Canisius College shortstop looks real good. Batawa beat out Brockville last gloaming in 11 innings down Belleville way to take over third slot in the COBL scramble.

Williams Keeps Crown, Crushes Bolanos

LOS ANGELES, July 22 (AP)—The championship dream of Mexico's Enrique Bolanos lay in shambles today, broken to bits by the devastating fists of Deadpan Ike Williams, lightweight champion of the world.

Bolanos went down and out before a furious fusillade of punches in the fourth round of their scheduled 15-round clash Thursday night. A crowd of 18,000 paid $108,274 to see the scrap.

This was not the same Williams who took 15 rounds to win a split decision over Bolanos in May of last year. Nor was it the Williams who stopped the then green challenger in eight rounds in 1946.

This was a Williams who walked out and started swinging away almost before the echo of the opening gong at Wrigley Field.

Champion Ike showed from the start that he intended to finish the chore quickly, to erase the memory of those 15 rounds when he took a stomach beating from Enrique a year ago.

End Came Early

The end came in sight early in the third when Bolanos' left eye started closing from the champ's jolting right smashes.

Bolanos persuaded his corner to let him go out for the fourth. Half blind, he battled on even terms for the first minute, striving to hurt Ike just once. He connected but that was all.

Then the sky fell on Bolanos. Williams uncorked a withering left hook. Enrique sagged and dropped to both knees. Dempsey, the old time heavyweight idol, began counting. Bolanos tried to rise at six and was on his feet at nine.

Williams closed in quickly, driving home a series of rocking blows to the head and body. Bolanos bled freely at the nose and mouth. He collapsed again under the beating.

Simultaneously, Dempsey and Enrique's handlers halted the proceedings, with 20 seconds left in the round.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Tonight it will be men's rinks. Draw from the board at 7:30 o'clock.

In the Provincial playoffs last evening C. Renaud won from J. Harrison in the singles competition and in the rinks, H. Freeman's boys won from Geo. Gimblett's rink.

We did not see the singles game but we understand it was pretty much Mr. Renaud all the time. In the rink games, Freeman's boys took an early lead and was never in trouble afterwards. There was some good bowling and some not so good. The playing of Gordon Freeman was the feature of the game.

In the doubles H. Coleman and V. Hill walked away from Nels Routley and R. Downey, and Bill Jeffries and R. Gamble had to go into overtime before A. Black and B. Collis would concede victory. At that Bill made a somewhat lucky hit with his last bowl to win the game.

We believe the doubles continue this evening.

Another possible end has cropped up. This time Mrs. Cullen got the big 8 from Mrs. Welbourne.

The winning skips in the ladies' tournament last evening were: Mrs. Renaud, Mrs. Baird and Miss Allan.

Hastings Wins

CAMPBELLFORD, July 22 — (ENS)—The Hastings club registered a convincing 10-2 victory over the local nine in a TVL softball tilt here Thursday night. Bunching their hits in the second inning the visitors crossed the plate four times to take a commanding lead that was never threatened.

Hastings played a stellar game with D. West hurling a tricky ball and Bradford clouting a homer with the bases loaded. McComb was a standout on the mound but costly errors around second base and in the outfield contributed to the homesters' one-sided defeat.

The teams:

Hastings: Phillip, c; R. West, cf; Morrow, 3b; Beavis, ss; Wilson, 1b; D. West, p; Stevens, lf; Scriver, 2b; Braford, rf.

Campbellford Robertson, ss; Herrington, cf; D. Holmes, 1b; Fralick, 2b; Robinson, rf; Blake, lf; G. Holmes, c; Bibby, 3b; McComb, p.

Seeking Fighters

LOS ANGELES, July 22 (AP) —Former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey and veteran boxing promoter Jack Allen, of Toronto, soon will begin scouring the broad miles of Canada in search of heavyweight fighters. Batawa Takes Close One In 11th Heat

BELLEVILLE, July 22 (CP)—Gordy Atkins, Brockville shortstop, raced after an eleventh inning Texas leaguer, Thursday night, dropped it and allowed the winning run to cross the plate to break up an error-garnished pitchers' battle, and give Batawa a 5-4 overtime victory over his team.

The victory won—and nearly lost — by shortstop bobles hurdled the Batawans into third place in the COBL standing.

The shoemen held a 3-1 lead in the seventh when with two gone shortstop "Mouse" Bush kicked Muldoon's bounder, sending the tying run across the plate after Ashley had scored on Seeley's clout.

Sixteen-year-old Tommy Tomlinson, Brockville's kid hurler, went the route yielding 10 hits and striking out seven. He issued two passes. Gord Muffitt, Batawa ace, deserved his out-of-the-air win, hurling seven-hit ball and whiffing eight. He also walked a pair. Both teams committed costly errors with Brockville charged with four and Batawa five.

Brockville scored its fourth run in the 11th. Wagar's single started the Batawa rally and he got to second on a sacrifice.

Beckstead clouted out a single, going to second on the throw to the plate as Wagar scored the tying run. Spencer hoisted the Texas leaguer which Atkins dropped and Beckstead raced home with the winner.

Spencer and Watson got two hits each for Batawa with Dafoe and Seeley doing likewise for the losers. Batawa had two double plays.

Vaughn In Hot Water Again For Talking Out of Turn

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, July 22—(CP)—It's nothing new for Maj.-Gen. Harry H. Vaughn to be in hot water. The 55-year-old military aide to President Truman is noted for his bluntness of speech. Several times in his four years at the White House he has exploded verbally into uncomfortable headlines.

But Vaughan's outbursts generally are one-day sensations. Truman seems inclined to ignore or forget them. The public soon loses itself in some new Washington wonder.

This time, though, a member of Congress has demanded that Truman suspend Vaughan, his cheery, cigar-smoking personal friend from First World War days.

Representative Paul W. Shafer (Rep. Mich.), citing the army's suspension of two other generals pending a Senate investigation of army contract handling, said Vaughan was "implicated in the same case." He gave no details.

Names of all three generals were mentioned in a recent newspaper story inspiring the inquiry into dealings of "five-per-centers" who hire out to obtain government contracts. Shafer said that Vaughan is on public record about "five-per-centers."

Vaughan did tell reporters last July 6 that he knows of "about 300 persons in Washington" who engage in contract negotiations. He identified none of them.

Stormy Petrel

Vaughan, frequently on the receiving end of stinging newspaper criticism, once remarked: "The principal thing which sets me apart from the other (Presidential) aides is that I am more unpopular with some columnists and editorial writers, which is, in some instances, a decided recommendation. . ."

Talkative Figure

For instance, he announced his own promotion last year. He told reporters he was being made chief armed forces aide to Truman, with three assistants. Later the same day, Truman's press secretary, Charles G. Ross, called in newspaper men to say: "There is no change in the White House setup. . . There seems to have been some misapprehension. . . There are no chief aides."

Vaughan took it all with good-natured bewilderment; he said he wasn't sore at anybody.

But it took everybody back to the other time, for instance, when Vaughan let out the news that the President swims with his glasses on.

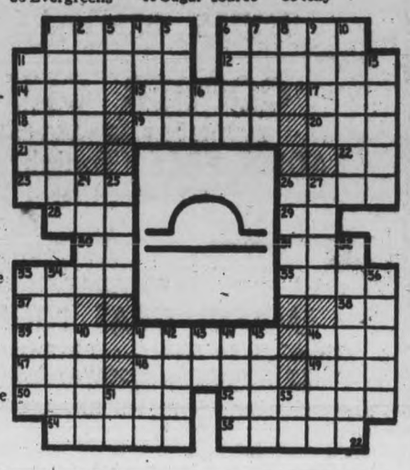
Answer to Previous Puzzle



Antarctic Preferred To Tropical Islands

WELLINGTON, N. Z., (CP)—Another blow to the myth of idyllic life in tropical South Sea islands is the New Zealand government's experience that, among its weather stations scattered widely over the Pacific, the happiest is on bleak Campbell Islands.

These are the sub-Antractic, 290 miles south of New Zealand.

On beautiful tropical and subtropical islands, with cooks and native servants to wait on them, officials find that men quarrel and are only too glad to leave when their spell of duty is over.

The staff of five at the mist-shrouded Campbell Islands, where nothing grows but tussock and the only living creatures are sea birds and seals, live in perfect harmony, return full of enthusiasm for the life, and volunteer for further spells of duty there.

The men at the Campbell Islands have no servants, do their own cooking and work very long hours on weather and other scientific observation. Government officials think the reason the station is a happy one is that the men are kept so busy they have no time to brood over their extreme isolation.

Grads Oppose Split

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland — (AP).—Graduates of the University of St. Andrews, founded more than five centuries ago, have voted in a plebiscite against proposed separate university status for Dundee, 12½ miles to the northwest.

The question is under study by a special committee. Dundee University College has been part of St. Andrews since 1897. The graduates voted 2,387 to 120 against separation in mail ballot. The University court and senate also are opposed to it.

Lakefield and Bridgenorth Shops Entered, Looted Stolen Car Clue To Thieves

Some smart detective work on the part of Mrs. Wallace Nichols of Bridgenorth may lead to the apprehension of several youths believed responsible for break-ins which occurred early this morning into her husband's barber shop and poolroom and Clifford Fife's grocery store in Lakefield.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Nichols noticed a car containing five young men acting suspiciously and she took the license number of it. She told police that the car drove back and forth several times in front of the shop. It was learned later that the car was one which had been reported stolen to the police previous to the burglaries.

Considerable quantites of loot were taken in each breakin. The following items were taken from the barber shop: one clock, two wrist watches, three billfolds, three lighters, two pipes, three jacknives, one flashlight, and $5.00 in coppers.

$500 Cash Register

From the Lakefield store, which Mr. Fife had only opened three weeks ago, there was taken a cash register valued at $500 and containing $20 in silver, and a quantity of cigarettes and chocolate bars.

Mr. Fife found a jacknife in his store after the break-in which Mr. Nichols has identified as one taken from his barber shop.

Mr. Nichols discovered the break into his premises at about 8:00 this morning when he opened up for the day, entry having been made by breaking a window.

Early Morning Break-in

The break into Mr. Fife's store occurred between 2:00 and 5:00 a.m., as he had been in the store up until two o'clock. At 5:00 Donald Marr telephoned him at his home to say that he had noticed the door of the store was open. Mr. Fife went to the store immediately to learn that it had been burglarized.

Entry was made into the Fife store by ripping out a screen on a door leading into a snack bar which is operated in connection with it.

The burglaries are being investigated by Provincial Constables E. J. Crough and R. Pope and Chief of Police Garnet F. Samis of Lakefield.

Hospital Board Will Confer On Park Area

Civic Hospital Board of Governors Thursday night received a request from City Council that part of the new hospital property be used as a park.

Exact size of the area was not indicated by Council but it would be part of the land northwest of Clonsilla and Sherbrooke Sts. The city already owns the property but it is controlled by the Board of Governors.

James R. Marshall, chairman of the Board, cautioned the members to consider the matter carefully before coming to any final decision. He said it would be a mistake to make the area into a public park where the noise of playing children might affect patients in the hospital.

No Playground

If it were made into a public place then a roadway running north and south would be cut through and he did not want this to happen.

Members seemed unanimous in the belief that if the city did convert the area into a park it should be more of a beauty spot than a playground. A letter is to be sent to Council indicating the willingness of the Board to confer with it further on the matter.

New Appointment

An appointment has been made to the medical staff of Civic. Dr. Donald Raymond Clark, who has come to Peterborough to practise as a child specialist, joins the staff immediately. After graduation he served for more than three years in the Canadian Army and has been doing internship work since.

An exceptionally high number of patients were treated during June, Superintendent John Hornal reported. Although two less than May, the number 530 is 54 more than the 1948 average.

Most of the patients, however, had a comparatively short stay in the hospital.

Hospitalized Days Less

The daily number of patients in hospital was 123.6, and the patient day's stay was 3,765. This compares with 121.2 and 3,760 for May and 130.8 and 3,990.5 for the 1948 monthly average.

Thirty patients were refused admission, five more than the previous month but 24 less than last year's monthly average. In June there were 56 major operations performed and 224 minor ones, a substantially higher number than May or the 1948 average.

At the Queen Mary branch 24 patients were treated—one for a communicable disease and 23 for other conditions. The daily average number of people in hospital was 5.6 compared with 9.3 in May.

A total of 12,002 hours of bedside care was performed by nurses of the main hospital, and this amounted to 3.2 hours a day for each bed patient. In Queen Mary the nursing hours were 4.5 a day.

Other Statistics

Here is a breakdown of other hospital statistics for June as reported by the medical staff. Of the patients discharged 22 recovered; 173 improved; two transferred; one not improved; one not treated; three diagnosis only; seven deaths under 48 hours; eight over 48 hours; and one stillborn child.

There were 1,892 laboratory examinations, 330 x-ray examinations, and 38 physiotherapy treatments. The 1948 monthly average was 1,339, 295, and 33, respectively.

This month there was a slight excess of expenditure over revenue ($558.43), but over the first six-month period revenue exceeds expenditure by $442.27.

Ibey Brothers 2 More Charges

The Campbellford Ibey brothers Albert and Fred, who were sentenced in city police court last week to seven years and two years respectively, on charges of breaking and entering and committing theft, pleaded guilty on Thursday to two more charges of stealing a canoe and breaking and entering at Algoma, Ont.

Magistrate W. R. Philp K. C., imposed the same sentence of seven and two years respectively to run concurrently with the previous sentence.

Offences to which the brothers pleaded guilty last week occurred in Havelock.

GUESTS OF KIWANIS

The following visiting Kiwanians attended Thursday's weekly luncheon of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club in the Empress Hotel: Dr. Mars M. Westington, Madison, Indiana; Bruce Clark, president of Riverside Kiwanis Club, Detroit, Michigan! and a native of Havelock; Victor Mathewson, Toronto; Gordon Brown, Kirkland Lake; and Ralph R. Knapp, Lockport, N.Y. His Excellency Most Rev. Gerald Berry, Bishop of Peterborough, was a guest at the luncheon.

BARN RAISING IS HARD WORK as well as a social gathering. On Thursday afternoon 40 neighbours turned out to help Ernie Bolton, one mile north of Nassau, on the River Road. Five carpenters had already worked five days to cut out rafters beams and plates. The LEFT photo shows the workmen swarming over the structure after the purline plates had been set in place. In RIGHT photo, Roland Tedford (Left), and Roland Payne, boss carpenter, both of Warsaw, fill their apron pockets with nails at the supply truck. —Examiner Staff Photos

Dobbin Elected To Board Of Grand Lodge

Ross L. Dobbin, general manager of the Peterborough Utilities Commission, on Thursday was appointed to the Board of General Purposes, Masonic Grand Lodge of Ontario. It is a two year term of office.

Several other local men were either elected or appointed at the two-day session of 2,600 Masons which concluded Thursday at Central Technical School, Toronto.

Ross A. Barrons of Cordova Mines, reeve of Belmont-Methuen, was elected District Deputy Grand Master for Peterborough.

The Grand Master appointed the following to the office of Grand Stewards: D. A. Loucks, Peterborough; N. G. Bradburn, Lindsay; James Turnbull, Peterborough; Archibald Bowman, Cobourg; and William D. Stevens, Lindsay.

Robert H. Saunders, Ontario Hydro Chairman, was appointed Grand Director of Ceremonies, and James P. Maher, Toronto shoe manufacturer, was elected Grand Master for the next two years.

Wins Fellowship $1,000 Chicago

One of four Ontario residents to receive fellowships to the University of Chicago, Joseph E. Laycock, River Rd., Peterborough, won a $1,000 award in social service administration.

The name of the award he won is the Sophonisba P. Breckenridge fellowship, named after the founder of that school's faculty of social service.

Mr. Laycock graduated from the University of Toronto in 1934, with a bachelor of arts degree, and in 1940 took his master's degree there. During the war he served in the forces, and reached the rank of major.

Mr. Laycock served on the faculty of McGill University, Montreal, for two years.

DOG RUNS LOOSE

For allowing the dog to run loose, Sylvan E. House, 473 Sherbrooke St. was fined $3 in city police court.

Traditional Neighborliness At Large Barn-Raising Bee

Like a giant spider's web, the skeleton of a barn went up Thursday afternoon on the farm of Ernie Bolton on the River Road just north of Nassau. About 40 men worked under the direction of Roland Payne, a carpenter from Warsaw. As Canadian farmers have been doing ever since they first began to settle the land, neighbours and relatives pitched in to help out Mr. Bolton replace his barn which had just been pulled down after more than 50 years of use.

Last year in June most of these same men were on hand to raise a barn for Ed Moloney, a neighbor of Mr. Bolton. Only the hired carpenters who worked with Mr. Payne are paid any money.

Timber Danger

Raising heavy timbers is a dangerous job. Roger Charlton who came over from Smith township, was struck on the left temple by a roof beam as it slipped from a rope noose by which it was being hauled up. Mr. Bolton rushed him to a Lakefield doctor to have the gash stitched up. These two men were the only ones to stop work because of the accident, but the man who took the victim's place made a point of not standing under the beams as they were swung into the air.

The new barn was raised on the foundation of the old while horses still stood quietly in their stalls unconcerned about the activity above them. When it is finished, the new barn will be almost twice as big as formerly. A new 42-feet section is being added, set on a new cement foundation. The old barn was 55 feet by 38.

Miscalculation

In spite of all the work done by the men in the afternoon only about two-thirds of their job could be done. A two-foot miscalculation was made in the measurements of the purlines of the end section of the structure. That part will have to wait until new timbers can be brought by horse and wagon from Burleigh Falls.

All the timbers were cut before barn raising day so that every piece would fit easily into its place and be spiked solid. The great frame sections were raised intact by the forty men first with their hands, then with pike poles. Ropes, previously attached, were anchored to solid framework to prevent the purlines from being pushed completely over.

Framework Completed.

Men swarmed up over the framework with spirit levels and hammers to set the timbers true. Once the framework was completed, there was the work of sheeting the sides and roofing the new barn, but that would wait till another day.

The men who came to help Mr. Bolton were mostly from Smith and Douro townships. Orville Elliott of Selwyn came from the longest distance. Some of the other men were Bert Rowland and Stan Boyce, Jack Leeson of Douro and Roland and Walter Telford from their farm near Indian River. Then there were the Moloneys and the Leahy's from farms near the Boltons.

Oldest man among the workers was the father of Ernie Bolton, Robert Bolton, who will soon be 74. He worked throughout the afternoon with the best of them. Ernie Boton's four children are all still too young to do heavy work.

In District 100 Years

The Boltons have been working farms in the neighbourhood for about 100 years. Robert Bolton's father, James Bolton who came from England and cleared the land as a young man. His descendants have prospered. Five farms in the neighbourhood are now owned by Ernie Bolton's brothers.

For the women folk who came with their husbands, it was a grand chance to talk over all the news—births and deaths and marriages among the families. It was a chance to take pictures of squirming and embarrassed children. But it was not all holiday. There was the men's lunch to be prepared. Great mouth-filling meat sandwiches and plenty of pies and cakes and tea were taken out to the lawn to feed the hungry men when they finished about six p.m.

Mrs. Bolton had the help of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Robert Bolton; Mrs. Harry Tamblin of Peterborough; Mrs. Charlie Bolton, Douro; Mrs. Ferd Rowland, Lindsay highway; Mrs. John Leeson and Mrs. Stewart Tedford, Douro; Jean and Guelda Bolton and Mrs. Cephas Bolton of Douro.

In the days when tractors had ousted horses and machinery did the work of many men, the farmers were glad to find they were unchanged in their willingness to take time off from their own pressing work to help a friend and a neighbour raise his new barn.

Man Attacked Robbed On George St.

John Crowley, 22, of 17 Cricket Place, was attacked by two men and robbed of $24 Thursday night while walking home on George St. near the CPR station.

"I was walking along when the two men approached, one from behind and the other from the front," Mr. Crowley told the Examiner today. "The one from behind tripped me up" Mr. Crowley said, "and the other hit me on the chin."

The $24 was taken from a pocket before Mr. Crowley was able to ward off the men and as they ran off, he telephoned city polcie from the CPR station.

Pair Disappears

Constable Douglas Farthing rushed to the scene and with Mr. Crowley in the cruiser, gave chase to the two men but was unable to catch up with them before they disappeared.

One of his assailants has very light hair, Mr. Crowley says and the other had dark hair.

The incident occurred shortly after midnight.

Dominion Store Building Fast

Unless setbacks are encountered in the next two months, the new Dominion store at the N-E corner of George and Sherbrooke Sts. should be completed by the middle of September. Job superintendent Bert Mortlock said "We hope it will be done then."

The only delay encountered so far was when a shipment of brick failed to come through because of four or five bad batches at the manufacturer's, but little time was lost.

Mr. Mortlock feels that the tough part of the job is over, and that, barring material shortages or other holdups, construction should finish on schedule.

East Wind Blows No Good To South-End Residents, Modern Sewage Plant Soon

Residents in the southern parts of the city are quite sure that day and night are different. The day may have a pleasant air, but when the good things of day begin to droop and drowse, a creeping stench envelops the air. It's at night, they say, that the worst comes to the worst from off the Otonabee and the sewage disposal plant.

A reporter down on an inspecting sniff in an afternoon or morning gets a false impression. That is their story and it has the air of truth.

Not all evenings and all times of the night are unbearably fetid, as several visits paid by the Examiner representative during this week showed. Hot still nights are the worst, along with evenings when an east wind is blowing.

One householder in the district gave about the most logical and calm assessment of the situation that has been heard among the hundreds of other statements and bitter complaints. He said: "It stinks like — every night. But any time there is a west wind blowing the people on the unpopulated country side of the river get it. Any time there is an east wind, the city side gets it."

Reports Denied

Reports that solid sewage was being dumped into the river by means of two valves on the south bank were authoritatively denied by an official of the plant. He said, "Of course a sewage disposal plant is not a perfume factory, but never at any time, on any occasion, is solid raw sewage dumped into the river." The two valves are used in an operation technically described as "taking off the load," a release of sludge that accumulates at the bottom of the clarifier tanks.

One woman resident of the neighborhood said she had never smelled anything like it, and that "Sunday night was dreadful."

Plant officials stated that rumors that some of the aeration plates in the tanks were broken were correct, but that "these do not have any appreciable effect on the gas or odors." It is not practical to replace the plates at the present time, because a new set of entirely differrent plates will be installed when the addition to the plant is erected.

Mayor's Statement

Mayor Max Swanston, asked for the official position of city council on the matter, said "We have been working on the plans for the new plant for three years, and have had the best consultants in Canada working on it." The Mayor is confident that construction will start as soon as possible, with the funds that were voted a few years ago by the people, for the purpose.

Mr. Swanston stated that plans thus far had been held up by the inability of any company to supply the special equipment needed for such a plant. With the present plans for the addition computed on a basis of a population of 50,000, it is felt that the combined capacities of the two will be adequate. He said "Gore and Storrie are famous in Canada in their line, and we have no reason to doubt their judgment."

Work to Begin Soon

Ald. Hurrell Dodds, chairman of the board of works committees of the city council, stated Thursday morning that it is a certainty that work on the addition will begin as soon as possible after the contract is let. He feels that the modernized plant will definitely remedy the faults of the old one.

City engineer A. E. Chalmers denied reports that sewage from the southern portions of the city was being washed down a creek on the west side of Park St. Said Mr. Chalmers, "We feel confident that the new plant will eliminate the faults." He considers that the position of Peterborough will be good when the plant is erected, and compared the city with Brantford, which has no sewage disposal plant at all and dumps all its refuse into the Grand River.

Mr. Chalmers said that at least two local contractors are studying the plans, and some in Toronto are interested.

Landlord Faces Prices Board Rental Charges

James E. LiHico, 748 Water St., faced six charges in city police court Thursday of charging excessive rents and contravening regulations governing housing accommodation for rent in respect of two premises in the city. After the charges were read by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, the cases were adjourned without plea to July 29.

The charges were laid by William Ross Payne, investigator for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. W. F. Huycke, KC, is prosecuting.

Charges Laid By WPTB

First charge is in respect of 748 Water St. which he is charged with renting at a figure higher than the maximum rental, after supplying appurtenances, furniture or equipment. He did not apply, the charge states, to vary the maximum as required by orders of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Second charge is that Mr. Lillico let an apartment at the same premises to Robert Rollwagen at $12 a week a rental higher than was reasonable or just, contrary to the Wartime Leasehold Regulations.

Letting an apartment at 176 McDonnel St. to H. J. Tone at rental higher than was reasonable and just ($10 a week) is the third charge and another charge claims that he rented another apartment at the same premises to W. S. Wildman for $40 a month.

Two Other Charges

Two other charges in respect of these premises are that he failed to make application to the Rentals Appraiser at Peterborough, within 30 days of making leases, to fix a maximum rentals.

Court In Two Minds About Brake-Tester

Because no one in city police court was sufficiently familiar with the performance of a brake tester used on cars by city police to answer all the questions asked by J. C. N. Currelly, defence counsel, Crown Attorney John Bradshaw Thursday asked Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., to acquit Eric Hunt, 240 King George St.

Hunt was charged with driving a car with inadequate brakes. Constable Harold Mesley told the court that he had measured the distance in which Hunt had been able to stop his car, when asked on a routine check, with a brake tester.

Travelling at between 20 and 25 m.p.h., the car had required 41 feet to stop, the constable had said. Mr. Currelly was not satisfied that the speed of the car had been measured accurately and claimed that had the car been travelling at 30 m.p.h., 41 feet would not have been too great a distance.

Guess vs. Test

The constable had said that the speed was usually measured by the car's speedometer and when that was not working he had to guess the speed.

Mr. Currelly maintained that if citizens were going to be subject to these tests and penalized in event of conviction, all details should be strictly acurate and not left to the constable's guess.

The constable said he thought it made no difference to the performance of the tester whether the car was travelling at 20 or 40 m.p.h. He could not, however, swear to this.

Half an hour later another case of a similar charge was heard against Karl Bull. By that time Constable Mesley had taken the tester on the road with the police cruiser and had ascertained the answer to the query which was the obstruction in the other case.

Bull was convicted and fined $10 with $2.50 costs. He said he was lining his brakes when stopped by the constable. He had completed only one wheel at that time, but the job was now finished.

He had been driving for many years, mostly in England, using all types of vehciles including buses. He had never before had a conviction.

Moscow Rages Against Vatican

LONDON, July 22.—(AP). — The Moscow radio charged today that Roman Catholic excommunication of Communists was a Vatican contribution to "the cold war that Anglo-American reactionaries are waging against the camp of peace and democracy."

It said the ban was intended "to split the united front of people fighting for peace against the Anglo-American war-mongers," and added that it was bound to fail.

The English-language broadcast by commentator Boris Isakov was the first public Russian reaction to the excommunication decree of July 13.

The broadcast accused Roman Catholic clergy of "preying on the religious traditions and feelings of many plain people in an attempt to disarm them morally and weaken their will to resist the danger of a fresh aggression which is threatening the world.

"But this manoeuvre is doomed to failure," the Moscow radio said. "The broad masses of the people have come to see very clearly that they can uphold peace only by drawing closer to each other; only through a staunch fight waged by a united front of working people irrespective of their religious convictions."

"CANADA UNLIMITED"

Mud! Ox-carts and carriages had a rough time on Canada's first highway from Quebec to Montreal in 1735. In the best dry weather it took four and a half days to complete the trip by carriage!

Road-building was slow until Asa Danforth completed a roadway from Kingston to Ancaster, Ontario, in 1800. Yonge Street in York (Toronto) was commenced about the same time, financed by the Northwest Company. By 1868, after Confederation, most settlements were connected by roads. But they were bumpy and full of holes and impassable in spring. Journeys by stage-coach were hazardous.

Then came the automobile—and the need for better surfaces. One of the first improved highways stretched from Toronto to Hamilton. It opened in 1917.

The Trans-Canada Highway and the Alaska Highway are today's developments that point to great super-highways of Tomorrow. With these highways will come increased industrial development that means great opportunity. Yes—there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited.

TRADING LULL—Traders are seen during a lull in the activity of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange pit. The exchange is a landmark in Winnipeg — a city founded on the grain trade. Before the Second World War the exchange was the world's largest food commodity in the market, but only rye and flax will be bought and sold through it when the Canadian Wheat Board takes over the marketing of coarse grains Aug. 1.

Drunk Driver Gets 7 Days Also Fined $15

Martin McNee, 240 Simcoe St., was sent to jail Thursday for seven days and fined $15 with $2.50 costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., in city police court. The jail sentence was in respect of a conviction of drunk driving and the fine was imposed when McNee pleaded guilty to having liquor in a place other than his residence.

Constable A. Edmison told the court that when he drove to Sherbrooke St. near Highway 28 on Saturday afternoon, he found McNee's car in the ditch and McNee and James O'Toole were sitting outside the car.

O'Toole pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and was fined $10 with $2.50 costs.

Lodged In Cells

Constable Edmison said he took McNee to the police station and placed him in a cell because he was drunk.

When McNee went into the witness box, he said he had asked Constable Edmison for a doctor and a lawyer but could get no satisfaction from him. The constable denied having been asked this, but Constable Ed Niziol said he had been asked to get a doctor but not a lawyer.

Constable Niziol said he called Dr. Robert Young. Dr. Young told the court he called at the police station around 6.30 p.m. which, according to the evidence, was approximately one and a half hours after McNee had been discovered in the ditch.

Dr. Young said McNee was sober when he saw him and he did not smell liquor from his breath.

Police Sgt. Leo Murphy and Constables Edmison and Niziol all said McNee had been drunk when he was brought to the police station.

Tow Truck and Police

Emmett Sheehy, defence counsel, said that after his car had gone into the ditch, McNee had called a tow truck and was somewhat annoyed when the police arrived at the same time as the truck.

"I suppose the tow truck people have some tie up with the police?" Mr. Sheehy queried. "Sir, we have not," Constable Edmison replied. "I suppose they make $5 or $10 every time they tow a car to the police station," Mr. Sheehy continued. "They are paid by the owners of the cars, I believe," the constable replied, "but we have no arrangement with the tow truck people."

Find Ten Bottles

Constable Edimson said McNee had admitted driving the car. He had searched the car while it was still in the ditch and found a case of six bottles of wine in the trunk, another contained three full bottle and one partly full. There was also a sealed case of beer in the back seat. After the car had been pulled from the ditch the constable found a bottle of rye and in the glove compartment was a glass containing some whiskey.

McNee denied having knowledge of the bottle of rye. You did not find it until you returned to the car, did you?" Mr. Sheehy asked. "Then someone could have put it there afterwards," he claimed. "They could have, but it is unlikely," the constable replied.

McNee said that after he had turned the car into the ditch, on a narrow section of the road, he realized he would have some time to wait for the tow truck and so had a drink of wine. He also said he had three beers during the afternoon.

Mr. Sheehy argued that even if McNee had been drunk on arrival of the police it did not mean he had been driving while drunk.

Suspended Sentence For Breaking In

Joseph Huard, Lake St., pleaded guilty in city police court Thursday to breaking into Thompson Brothers service station at the corner of George and Rink Sts. and stealing some coppers from the till and five flashlights.

Crown Attorney John Bradshaw asked for suspended sentence, which was granted, stating that drink was the accused's trouble. Huard had no previous criminal record but had appeared in court before on drinking charges. He said he was going to try to overcome his weakness for drink.

Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., told Huard that he was charged with a serious offence, maximum penalty for which could be 14 years. He told him it would be to his own disadvantage if he did not overcome the drinking habit and placed him on suspended sentence for two years.

Land Near Sudbury Pilots Get Rattled

SUDBURY, July 22 (CP)—Two men who set out to fly from Houghton, Mich., to Detroit landed here instead and now they are trying to untangle customs and immigration red tape.

The men, Alan Jermu, 23, the pilot, and Fred Koski, 42, both of Calumet, Mich., escaped with minor cuts and bruises from the forced landing of a wheel-equipped, two-seater light plane on a farm 10 miles southeast of here late Wednesday night.

The landing damaged the propellor of the plane, which the men said is owned by the Lake Superior Aviation Company of Houghton, crushed the engine cowling and snapped off the front wheel of the landing gear.

The men told immigration officials here that they thought they were following the shoreline of Mackinac Strait when they became lost. Finally, they decided to try a landing and set the plane down in a field on a farm owned by Clovis Faulkner at nearby Richards Lake.

Fight Price Decline

ANNECY, France, July 22 (AP) —Britain Thursday proposed immediate international action to prevent a violent decline on commodity prices. British delegate R. J. Shackle urged the 23 member countries of the Geneva 1947 Tariff Agreement to put into immediate effect one of the chapters of the pigeon-holed Havana Trade Charter, which would permit the 23 countries to take joint action to prevent violent price drops.

Rapes Baby Daughter

LOS ANGELES, July 22 (AP) —The brutal rape of his two and a half year old daughter has brought a prison term for Carl M. Hott, 28, a 220-pound boilermaker's helper. Hott was convicted Thursday and sentenced to one year to life in San Quentin Prison. He admitted the offence against his daughter while he was caring for her and her twin brother, Carl, in a trailer.

Can Stay In Canada

HALIFAX, July 22.—(CP). — Seventeen of the 23 Estonian refugees who arrived here Saturday from Sweden in an 80-foot schooner have been given permission to stay in Canada, an Immigration Department official said Thursday. The other six still are undergoing examination. The 17 who were admitted had obtained Canadian visas before leaving Sweden.

Early Martyrs Gave Lesson To Canadians

The martyrdom of the Jesuit Fathers of Huronia 300 years ago, commemorated by the Martyrs' Shrine at Midland, was not in vain; out of their deaths grew the Canada of today. So declared Rev. Father F. J. Lynch, S.J., rector of the Jesuit Seminary, Toronto, and general chairman of the pageant, "Salute to Canada," being presented at the shrine July 27 to August 1, in describing the pageant to the Peterborough Kiwanians on Thursday.

The deaths of the heroic Jesuits at the hands of the Indians provide "a very definite lesson for us today," said Father Lynch. This lesson is that "We must love God and be willing to die for our faith in the same way that they did; if we observe this lesson we need have no fear of Communism."

Father Lynch, who was introduced by Dennis Fitzgerald, said that the pageant was not intended to be a religious spectacle, but strictly entertainment. Neither is it purely a Roman Catholic event.

To Cost $150,000.

The speaker told the Kiwanians that the pageant would cost about $150,000 and that he expected to barely make expenses on the paid admissions. Four special stages have been erected on the side of a 120-foot hill and 8,000 people can be seated at each performance. A cast of 500 will participate, all being Canadian talent, drawn for the most part from surrounding communities.

Father Lynch said that Fort St. Marie originally on the shrine site and which was burned by the Indians, was the scene of the first Christian colonization of Ontario, pre-dating the founding of Montreal by three years. He said the fort was the scene of the "first experimental farm in Canada."

The speaker said that his lighting bill alone for the pageant would amount to $12,000. He expressed grateful thanks to Elwood Hughes, manager of the CNE, Toronto, for the loan of lighting equipment which required the services of nine trucks to transport it to the shrine.

Walter Howell expressed the thanks of the club to the speaker for his address.

Members of the club were treated to a number of piano renditions of selections especially composed or arranged for the pageant, which were played by Miss Mary McDonald, accomplished Canadian pianist, harpsichordist, and coloratura soprano, who will be one of the guest artists at the pageant.

British Most British Without Their Clothes

WASHINGTON, July (CP) — If you're going to Britain, says a man who's done so, don't miss the big, easy-going beaches.

"At their watering places, the British are even more British than in town with vests and bowlers on."

That's the observation of Tibor Koeves, travel editor of the magazine "United Nations World."

The sea, he said, "is not only in every Briton's blood, but in his backyard as well; and he likes to spend his vacation reassuring himself that he is still surrounded by water."

Britain's beaches, Koeves finds, have a characteristic resemblance "conspicuously fashioned after the demands of the British middle classes."

"And that means, first of all, that 'frivolity' in the style of the French Riviera for instance, is noticeably absent from the daily —and nightly—life. No sensational bathing suits on England's beaches, no gambling fever, no carousing.

"The evident truth is that when they go vacationing, the British simply transport their quiet family life, their reserve, their distant politeness and their self-centred impersonality to the chosen resorts."

TIMMINS, July 22 (CP)—Two miners died under a 30-ton fall of loose 2,335 feet underground at the McIntyre mine at Schumacher during the night shift Wednesday. The victims were L. J. Soucie, 22, of Timmins, and Frank Krajacich, 41, of McDonald Hill. A third man, Charles Parker of Timmins escaped injuries. The three men were mucking in a drift when the loose fell off the wall, killing two, it was Soucie's first shift after returning from his holidays.

YOU CAN'T BUY A BETTER MOTOR OIL

Not one but the three things you want most in a motor oil can be found in PEERLESS: 1. PERFORMANCE: PEERLESS maintains cleaner working parts in engines and provides faster heat transfer from hot engine surfaces. 2. QUALITY: PEERLESS is refined from carefully selected crude oils, and to the refined product, certain protective agents are added to produce the PEERLESS Alloyed Oil.* 3. ECONOMY: Economy starts with better lubrication. PEERLESS reduces friction and heat caused by metal-to-metal contact, thus reducing the causes of many motor failures.

* To improve Peerless Motor Oil, chemical agents are combined with refined mineral oils to form the alloy. The added protection given to the oil by the "alloying agents" increases its resistance to high engine temperatures—helps protect engines from corrosive acids—keeps them cleaner.

"Peerless certainly has what it takes for hot summer driving, motors run cooler—and longer—with fewer expensive repairs," says Dollard Marchand, Marchand Automobile Co., Magog, Que.

"I wish every motorist could realize, like a mechanic does, the benefits of using Peerless. It pays off in cold cash," states Gordon Gibson of Gibson's Service Station, Main and Hawthorne Sts., Ottawa, Ontario.

"Our Peerless customers never seem to have very big repair bills. There certainly must be something to the Peerless economy story," says W. T. A. "AB" FLAVELLE, President, Mer-Lin Motors Ltd., Saskatoon, Sask.

Douglas Urges Reconvening Dominion Parley

REGINA, July 22—(CP)—Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan in a letter to Prime Minister St. Laurent has suggested the reconvening of the Dominion-Provincial conference on reconstruction, it was announced Thursday.

Its purpose would be to discuss health insurance, old-age pensions and provisions for safeguards against economic recession.

A statement from the provincial executive council said Mr. Douglas wrote in his letter that since the adjournment of the 1945 conference both Saskatchewan and later British Columbia have placed province-wide hospitalization schemes in operation. These had received widespread acceptance and he felt that most provinces now would welcome an opportunity to discuss a health insurance program.

His proposal brought little immediate comment from other provincial premiers, several of whom are on vacation.

Premier Frost of Ontario declined to say whether he thought the conference should be resumed. He said in a statement:

"I would prefer to make no comment on Mr. Douglas' proposals at the moment. It is quite a problem to discuss what the province is for or against and, until I have had a chance to review the situation, it would be best if I said nothing."

Manitoba's Premier Campbell was not available for comment.

Dies From Beating

SARNIA, July 22.—(CP). — Andrew Kiyoshk, 59-year-old Indian beaten in a week-end brawl, died Thursday from his injuries a short time after Silas Shobavoy, 62, alleged to have struck him, was arraigned on a charge of assault. Police who arrested Shobavoy, also an Indian, said in court they did not want him to enter a plea as Kiyoshk was not expected to live. Twenty minutes later Kiyoshk died from a skull fracture suffered in the scuffle on the week-end. Shobavoy was remanded o July 28.

Old Swimmin' Hole Top Priority For 1,400 Army Cadets At Camp

VERNON, B.C., July 22 (CP).—The old swimmin' hole was a top priority spot, along with the mess halls, for 1,400 Royal Canadian Army Cadets who attended annual summer camp near this interior British Columbia city.

On the shores of Long Lake, with the mercury soaring to the 100 mark, the swim parade during the 12-day camp found as many as 500 boys charging into the cool waters.

It was the largest post-war Cadet camp ever held in Western Canada, bringing together youths from all sections of British Columbia and Alberta. They came from isolated northern districts and from the big cities.

Special trains brought the cadets to the army training centre for a program of squad drill, marksmanship, boating and bivouacing. Team sports also were featured.

One Thrill

One thrill was the search for two-year-old Mickey Funk, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Funk of Armstrong, B.C. He strayed from his parents' car and was missing for 24 hours while 250 cadets searched the bushlands. A search plane and portable radio sets were used in the hunt. Deep in the bush, Mickey was found unharmed.

Today, 1,200 of the bronzed cadets are back home, with many stories of camp life, but 200 stayed for a special six-weeks' trades training course. Tried on an experimental scale in Eastern Canada last year, this is the first time cadets have received this type of training in Western Canada.

Officers and mess attendants are still amazed at the food capacity of the cadets. Army rations were stowed away in great quantities, topped with bricks of ice cream.

Castor oil was the main order from the field hospital -- to relieve the strain of too much ice cream and pop.

Records, Films Replace Sunday Evening Band

At 8:15 p.m. the record concert will commence with Chopin's Les Sylphides and continue for one hour when the Film Council will start their presentation with "Three Bruins in a Canoe." This is an interesting film both for the children and adults. The other three films are colored.

Program of record concert from 8:15 to 9:15 p.m. is: Les Sylphides, Chopin; Piano Concert in A Minor, Grieg; South Pacific, Rodgers and Hammerstein; Masquerade Suite Khatchaturian.

The Film Council program which begins at 9:15 p.m. is: Three Bruins in a Canoe; Picturesque Sweden; Picturesque Denmark; Introduction to Gaspe; Bronco Busters, a film on the Calgary Stampede, may be shown if time allows.

Hog Prices High

EDMONTON, July 22.—(CP). —Prices for Grade "A" hogs for shipment reached an unprecedented high Thursday on the Edmonton market when they reached $35 a hundredweight, dressed weight basis. The $35 figure was the highest price paid for Grade "A" hogs in Canada, about $1 more than paid on the Toronto market Wednesday.

Accept Peace Plan

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Striking C.I.O. transport workers Thursday accepted Mayor William O'Dwyer's peace plan and voted to end an eight-day walk-out on 30 bus lines. Dismissal of four mechanics led to the strike of 3,300 drivers and maintenance men. Basically, O'Dwyer's plan calls for eventual arbitration of the issues that led to the strike.

Egg Prices Jump

MONTREAL, July 22 (CP) — Egg prices on the Montreal wholesale market jumped as much as three cents a dozen Thursday and grocers reported that retail prices ranged from 78 cents a dozen for grade A large in larger shops to nearly 88 cents in small stores. A year ago top-grade eggs were retailing from 58-59 cents a dozen.

Import Dutch Soil To Improve BC Bulbs

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—There's a little bit of Holland in British Columbia — and it's here to stay.

More than 250 acres of light sandy loam, transplanted from the Netherlands to nearby Bradner, in the Fraser Valley, and to Vancouver Island's southern tip, now blossom forth in golden richness each Spring.

B.C.'s bulb industry, given this fillip to production, is now trying to surpass the bulb produce of foreign countries.

A common complaint among nurserymen here — that local bulbs lacked uniformity of growth — has been remedied by a province-wide certification scheme available to all farmers.

Virus and insects have destroyed 25 per cent of the bulb crop in recent years, and W. D. Christie, government horticulturist, says 'this is not good enough, and too expensive for commercial production."

Bulb digging is underway in the Fraser Valley, and crop inspections are being urged as part of the campaign.

"We must at least equal the quality of the Dutch bulb if we are to maintain our present markets," says Mr. Christie.

Work Started On 3-Mile Tunnel

MANCHESTER, Eng. — Work has begun on the largest railway engineering project to be undertaken in Britain this century—a new tunnel in the Woodhead region between Manchester and Sheffield.

More than three miles in length, it will carry a double set of tracks for electric trains. It is expected to be ready by the end of 1952.

The first tunnel will be an 11-foot pilot tunnel which will take about 18 months to complete. It will then be widened to between 31 and 32 feet, making it one of the widest tunnels in the world.

Only two other tunnels in Britain are longer—the Severn and the Totley.

Civic Nurses Visit Ten Countries On Holiday Tour

All the trials and tribulations of a return to routine duty after an exciting two months' holiday were gone through today by two nurses on the Civic Hospital Supervisory staff. Almost every hour of the past weeks has brought some new sight or experience to Miss Cornelia M. Wilson and Miss Mary Pickens, on a tour of ten European countries.

This morning they were back at work, and no relaxing for eight hours. But, in spite of the wonders of the trip, both are glad they are through "living in a suitcase" for a while.

Attending the International Council of Nurses in Stockholm, Sweden has greatly broadened their knowledge of nursing procedure. Workshops and discussions were held on practices in the various countries represented and these gave some new ideas as well as the knowledge that Canadian methods are of the highest standard.

Their sight-seeing tour included England, Belgium, Germany, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Holland, Switzerland, France and Italy. After disembarking at New York early this week, Miss Wilson went to her home at Ottawa for a few days' visit, and Miss Pickens to her home at Hastings.

Lee-Birch Rites

The marriage was solemnized in St. Paul's Manse, Peterborough, on Wednesday by the Rev. W. A. Smellie of Mavis LaFerne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Birch, of Lakefield, and Wesley William Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee, R.R. 4, Peterborough.

The bride chose an afternoon dress of turquoise moire fashioned on simple lines with a V-neckline and buttons at the front. Her hat of white straw was trimmed with pink rosebuds and streamers of veiling, and the corsage at her shoulder was of pastel shaded sweet peas and lilies. She was attended by her sister, Miss Betty Birch, wearing a dress of deep blue moire, belted at the back and finished with a bustle bow and featuring a square neckline. She also wore a white straw hat and a corsage similar to the bride's.

A reception for about 30 guests was held at the bride's home. Her mother was gowned in navy and pink flowered silk and wore a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother chose blue crepe and red roses.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Man Has No Marriage Plans Cupid Often Alters Situation

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I enjoy feminine company, but I do not desire to marry. I never make matrimonial advances, but after I have taken a girl out two or three times she and her family seem to think that my intentions are serious.

Dorothy Dix

I maintain it is the male's prerogative to propose and that if a girl pyramids her hopes in spite of warnings it is her own doing and responsibility. After informing a girl of my attitude and furnishing her generous entertainment, I think that I have played square, but I would like to know what you think on this subject.—J. R. K.

ANSWER: If you really do tell the girl that your attentions are without intentions, I think that you have given her fair warning and that after that she plays the game at her own risk.

The trouble is, you see, that no woman ever really believes a man when he tells her that he doesn't intend to marry her. She has seen too many men who thought they were safely encased in bachelorhood whose defenses fell like a fort of sand before some baby face and who were hot-footing it to the altar. Besides, every woman's vanity makes her believe that she can win the man she wants, no matter how many other women have failed.

And, as a matter of fact, the girl has good reason for the faith that is in her, for sooner or later Cupid gets in his deadly work and the man who was so certain he knew how to foil the husband-hunters and was never going to get married, finds that he is signing on the dotted line in the marriage-license bureau.

Undoubtedly there is on meaner and more contemptible man and who monopolizes her time without having any intention whatever of marrying her. It is cruel selfishness, because he not only keeps the other suitors away, but he fill her heart so full of himself that she never really has room in it for any one else, and so when he gets tired of her and drops her, he leaves her desolate and forlorn.

But on the other hand, it is silly for women to take seriously all the attentions that men pay them and to imagine all men who show a casual courtesy to be in love with them. Yet many women do. They are so eager for the attention of men, so anxious to marry, that a man cannot have even a speaking acquaintance with them without inducing false hopes in their hearts.

The love game is never a fair game between men and women. And it is always playing with fire.

So, while you are wise to post your warning that you are not a marrying man, don't deceive yourself into thinking that it is going to keep any girl from poaching on your preserves.—DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX: We are a young man and girl, first cousins, desperately in love with each other. We have tried to strangle our love, but it grows greater all the time and we feel that life has nothing for either us if we cannot marry. Will it be so terrible if we do?—ANXIOUS COUSINS.

ANSWER: Scientists, who have made a profound study on this subject say that the old taboo against cousins marrying is all a superstitution that had no ground in fact, and that there is no more reason why cousins shouldn't marry each other than why they shouldn't marry blood kin to them. It all depends upon whether the cousins are physically sound and mentally sane, for they give to their offspring a double dose, so to speak, of the same heredity.

Thus if two cousins, both of whom were weak and sickly, should marry, their children would be almost sure to be frail and delicate, but if this man and woman should marry a weak and sickly woman and man who were no kin to them whatever, the result would be the same. The same thing would hold good if two mentally deficient cousins should marry. Their children would probably be idiots and certainly feebly-minded, but if they married stranger morons they would likewise father and mother no geniuses.

So, if you two cousins want to marry, consider whether you are willing to risk repeating the family constitution and disposition and mentality in an intensive form. If you have any hereditary disease, or if there is some marked family crankiness, you certainly have no right to wish this on an unfortunate child. But if you are normal, healthy people, there is no reason why you should break your hearts because of some old wife's tale about cousins who married and had a deformed child. That happens very often when people marry who have not a drop of the same blood. Cleopatra was the result of nine or ten generations of close marriage between brothers and sisters.—DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have an only son not yet 19 who is deeply infatuated with a girl of 15. I have heard they are planning to marry. What can I do to save my boy from a marriage that he will be sure to regret?—TROUBLED MOTHER.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The only thing you can do is to tell him that if he marries he cannot come home with his bride, and that you will not support him. Even a boy of 19 will pause before he lets himself in for starvation.—DOROTHY DIX.

City's 1400 Freeze Lockers Change Kitchen, Table Ways

A life and death struggle is being waged in the kitchens of Peterborough homes as it is in houses all across the country. It is a battle between the old and new, the brash young quick-freeze locker against the battered and tough old preserving kettle.

With fruit and vegetable crops now being gathered the battle comes into sharp conflict. What is to be done with raspberries, blueberries, corn, peaches and all the other food staples?

A few years ago a housewife simply did as her mother and grandmother before her. Today there is an alternative. The berries which previously went into preserving jars can now be frozen at below zero temperatures and eaten when wanted almost as if they had just been picked from the bush.

Post-War Popularity

Although the freezing process developed before the war, it is mostly since the war that it has blossomed. Today there are three companies in town operating locker plants who rent lockers at a yearly rate to people who salt away anything from cantaloups to quarters of beef.

In all there are about 1,400 lockers available in Peterborough, plus a considerable number in plants throughout the district. The largest city plant is operated by F. H. Johnson, with Kawartha Polar Storage and Montgomery Brothers having facilities available.

Home Freezers

As well as the commercial freezers there are many who have their own freezers. Some who own their own units get excellent results, some terrible results. But all can receive some expert coaching from the provincial Department of Agriculture.

The department has just released a new bulletin on methods of freezing which covers the whole field from what can and cannot be frozen (tomatoes and whole apples cannot) to how to cut up a hog The book was written by a three-man team of scientists of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph.

These men have been experimenting with freezing methods for some years and have many tips for improving food which is frozen by householders. It is also designed to help those who rent a commercial locker prepare their produce for freezing.

Helpful Government Booklet

The booklet explains the basic principles of the freezing process and diagrams the method. One of the fundamentals is that the food must be frozen quickly. This is done at temperatures ranging down to 20 degrees below zero. After that the food is stored at about zero.

Wrapping is most important. Heavy wax paper or air-tight containers are necessary to prevent moisture from escaping and ruining the food . The cold air in the lockers is very dry and moisture evaporates quickly if not sealed in. The other basic principle is that the food cannot be left more than a few hours after thawing without being used.

The department also recommends that only food of good quality is worth freezing. "Old cow meat is still old cow meat after freezing," the booklet warns.

With continuous experimenting by scientists and commercial plants continually seeking ways to improve their services, it looks as if the odds are against old-fashioned preserves. Even the farmer's wife is making use of the freezing system. Many of them rent lockers and have their own home freezers as well. Each Saturday when in town, they collect a week's supply and take it home to keep until the day it is wanted.

The freezing method increases the variety of food on the meal tables in winter, when too often the normal meal is meat and potatoes and very little else. But the battle will not be won in a day. There will be many arguments found against, not the least of which is the cost of home freezers, but the answer will always be, "But baby, it's cold inside."

Social Situations

SITUATION: Your college-age son or daughter is home on vacation.

WRONG WAY: Expect him or her to be included in all invitations you and your husband receive.

RIGHT WAY: Make it clear to your friends that if they want to invite you and your husband to dinner, you don't expect your son or daughter to be included.

It doesn't matter whether you choose the liquid or the crystals. Both end guesswork and tedious long-boiling. Both will give SURE results if you follow the instructions exactly.

SAVE TIME and WORK
Just a ONE-MINUTE full rolling boil for both jams and jellies. That's all you need when you use Certo or "Certo" Crystals. It's so quick and easy.

INCREASED YIELD

Jobless Pole, 25 Hesitatingly Seeks Work

Joseph Suszko, a two-year resident of Canada, is walking the streets of Peterborough today, looking for a job. Joe, born in Stanislaw, Poland, 25 years ago, is a short, stocky fellow with a ready grin and tough hands.

Joe is not alone in the city. His friend, Jan Soch, lives at 390 Queen St., and when Joe completed his contract July 13 with the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Company at Kapuskasing, he came down here to work with his friend. But Joe is a little shy and afraid to speak English to people, so he hesitated about going to Selective Service.

There are lines of worry and hard work around the eyes of Joe Suszko. His mother and father are still in Poland, he hopes. He has not heard from them for a long time, and doesn't know whether they are dead or not.

Worked In Bush

Joe farmed in Germany from 1942-46, and when asked how conditions were there, he said "Tough—no eat, no drink." He came to Canada and worked in the bush in the north, around Kapuskasing and Kirkland Lake. He rode the train to get here, and now he is penniless.

He speaks English with an accent that is hard to understand for five or ten minutes, and is unable to write more than a few words. He can talk to you in Polish, Russian, German, and the language of the Ukraine.

With the help of an Examiner reporter, Joe finally got into the big building that houses the National Selective Services, and made an appointment to see Mr. James R. Sharp at one o'clock this afternoon. With a smile, he says "I will do anything, work in the city or on the farm."

Touring Dentist Uses Yacht As Office

WASHINGTON (CP) — Sam Johnston ran away from home at 15 and sailed to Africa and South America as a merchant seaman. That was 21 years ago.

Today, at 36, he's a dentist—but he manages to keep life exciting and different. This spring he hung his shingle on the 87-foot yacht Tred Avon, tied up at Buzzard Point in the Potomac river.

Because he likes variety, Johnston and his crew—his wife, Lucy, and their sons, Donald, 12, Bill, 14, and Harold, 11—sailed in June to Chesapeake Bay.

"We hope to dock for a time in Crisfield, Md.," said Dr. Johnston. "Of course, I'll be in business as usual. Some of the people in that area never have been to a dentist."

Although the big yacht was at Buzzard Point only six months, the Johnston family has been living aboard for several years. It was their home while Johnston attended the University of Maryland dental school in Baltimore. The Tred Avon has 18 rooms—"counting all the cubbyholes"—and five baths. The dentist's office is behind the wheelhouse.

And how do people like having teeth pulled and filled "at sea?"

"They like it," says Johnston.

Pair Prefer Jail

John Jordan, 629 Union St. and Melville Jackson, 162 Mark St. Hamilton, were today sent to jail for three and ten days respectively by Magistrate R. B. Baxter of Port Hope at city police court. They chose the jail sentences in preference to fines and costs of $5.50 and $12.50 each after Jordan pleaded guilty to begging and Jackson to drunkeness. Both were arrested by city police Thursday on Galdstone Ave. John Mullen 322 Albert St., Oshawa, was fined $10 with $2.50 costs with a ten days jail sentence as alternative for drunkeness.

Add To Post Office

MARMORA, July 22 (ENS)—The work of enlarging Marmora Post Office by the addition of the space formerly used as a fire hall was commenced this week by James Gordenier and assistants. The lot immediately south of the Town Hall has been purchased by the village Council upon which a new fire hall and municipal building will be erected.

Using Poison Bait

TORONTO, July 22 (CP) — Farmers in Huron County still are fighting army worms with poison bran bait the method recommended by the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. R. G. Bennett, Huron County Agricultural Representative, Thursday denied reports that he had said county farmers were switching from the bran bait to a chlorodane spray. "The spray can be used, but we never use it," he added.

VANCOUVER ENTRIES

Lorne Main and Walter Stohlberg, Vancouver Davis Cup stars, said at Montreal Thursday they have entered the Dominion championships scheduled to be played in Halifax Aug. 1-6.

TORNADO DAMAGE — A three-minute tornado did this job on a village of 600 persons near the Ontario-Quebec border. The wreckage of a sawmill at Cheneville, Que., 50 miles north of Ottawa, is shown in the foreground. The roof of the house across the road was torn away, as were those of 50 other houses in the village. The 80-foot top section of the church steeple in the background was hurled to the ground. Damage was estimated at more than $150,000 but there were no serious injuries.

Giants Cuff Chiefs 16-13, Rochester Wins

By The Associated Press

Good news for the baseball factories— International League clubs score 75 runs in four games!

One carload of new white baseballs is needed after Thursday night's furious action.

Jersey City and Syracuse led the run parade as the Little Giants made more hits and less errors to win a dizzy game from the Chiefs, 16-13.

The 'Lil Giants cuffed four Syracuse hurlers for 23 hits — five by Jack Lohrke—as Roger Bowman wobbled to his ninth pitching victory. He gave up 15 hits.

Syracuse committed six errors and the Giants four in the wild game which saw Carden Gillenwater, Sammy Meeks and Bob Usher hit home runs for the losers. Usher batted in six runs.

Rochester gained second place by outlasting Buffalo's league leading Bisons, 14-9.

Dick Vole sparked a 15-hit attack on four Buffalo hurlers with two home runs and a single and driving in five runs.

Orioles Break Bears

Another circus saw the Baltimora Orioles score four times in the 14th inning to down the Newark Bears 10-6.

Al Widmar, the league's winningest pitcher, turned in a smart relief chore to pick up his 16th triumph against seven setbacks.

The cellar-dwelling Bears made six errors, two in the 14th, to help Baltimore to its 13th victory in 17 games.

The lone exception to the evening's nonsense was the Montreal-Toronto tilt which saw the Leafs gain a 5-2 decision from the Royals.

Chet Laabs knocked in four runs with a double and single to make Oscar Judd's ninth pitching triumph an easy one.

Remember When—

(By The Canadian Press)

Jack Dempsey, travelling the comeback route, knocked out Jack Sharkey in the seventh round before 84,000 spectators in Yankee Stadium 22 years ago tonight. Defeated by Gene Tunney in September of the same year in the famous "long count" fight at Chicago, Dempsey announced his retirement. He tried another comeback in 1931 and that ended when Kingfish Levinsky defeated him.

Dodgers Knick Pittsburgh As Cardinals Trip Boston

By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Erv Palica is hailed as "the new Casey" in Brooklyn where the hard-pressed Dodgers today open a vital four-game series with St. Louis Cardinals.

Day after day Palica is waved from the bullpen to save the skin of a regular Brooklyn starter just as Hugh Casey used to do. Erv worked in seven of the last 11 Dodges games winning four and losing one when the decision has gone his way.

Ironically enough, he copped his seventh victory of the season on Thursday because Casey, the old Brooklyn fireman, failed to stop a Dodger uprising. Luis Olmo, who may be the prize of the returning Mexican jumpers, nicked Casey for a game-winning-pinch hit single that supplied Brooklyn's 7-6 edge over Pittsburgh.

The Dodgers really needed that triumph over the Pirates because the Cardinals 3-1 victory over Boston already was posted on the scoreboard. Now with a 2½ game lead, they can't lose first place unless they blow the whole series.

Harry Brecheen lifted the Cards over Boston, 3-1 with a five-hitter while the Birds handed Johnny Antonelli, the Braves' $70,000 bonus dandy, his fifth loss. Antonelli has been beaten by the Cards four times in his brief career.

Musial Hitless

Enos Slaughter warmed up for Brooklyn with two singles and double but Stan Musial went hitless in five trips.

Bobby Thomson led the New York Giants to their fourth straight victory with a pair of homers and a double. The Scot from Staten Island drove in six runs off Herm Wehmeier, Ed Erautt and Ewell Blackwell in the Giants' 9-5 triumph.

Hank Borowy, apparently making a career of beating Chicago since the Cubs traded him to the Phils, turned back his old mates for the fifth time, 8-4. Borowy was hit hard but weathered the storm for his ninth victory.

New York Yankees took the rubber game of the Cleveland series, 3-3, stretching their American League lead to 5½ games on Vic Raschi's 15th victory.

Raschi, who has lost only three, scattered eight hits. Once again Joe DiMaggio was the big man, driving in two runs with a single that sparked a three-run rally against loser Early Wynn in the third.

End Winning Streak

The revived St. Louis Browns finally came to the end of their six-game win streak in the second game of a doubleheader with Philadelphia but not until they had broken loose with an 11-run inning.

With Roy Sievers hitting a grand-slam homer, the Brownies scored 11 runs in the sixth inning of their 15-2 twilight win over Dick Fowler. They were nosed out in the second game 3-2, on Hank Majeski's game-winning triple in the eighth inning as Alex Kellner registered win No. 13.

Detroit slammed out 14 hits, including homers by Pat Mullin, Dick Wakefield and George Vico, to whip Washington 6-3. Freddie Hutchinson, relieving Ted Gray in the fourth, worked 5 1-3 scoreless innings for his sixth win. Rae Scarborough was the loser.

The Boston-Chicago game was rained out in the American.

Stouffville Crushes Sunderland Team 12-1

LINDSAY, July 22.—Cambray's big day of sports Wednesday attracted a crowd of several hundred and proved popular as the home team won the baseball tournament. Oakwood girls won the softball event.

Say Hand Craft Of Crystal In Comeback

By H. L. JONES.

STOURBRIDGE, England, July 22 (CP). — The centuries-old hand craft of crystal glass work is making a 20th century comeback in Britain — a come-back almost from the brink of extinction.

Britain's crystal glassware industry, now worth $5,000,000 a year, still relies on the skilled hands of the glassmaker as it did four centuries ago. No machine has been found to match the beauty, intricacy or the precision of hand-blown, hand-cut crystal.

The craft almost died out during the war when factories went into war production. But now government officials and industrialists are waging a campaign to keep it alive, to teach it to younger hands.

In the hot factories dotting this Worcestershire-Staffordshire border area the glassmaker of today, is aided by modernized furnaces and cutting lathes. But he still blows the glass with his own breath moulds it with hand tools almost unchanged in centuries, and cuts intricate designs with little more than his eye to guide him.

Few Trades Left

His crystal, heavy and sparkling, which he boasts is "fit for Royal tables," represents one of the few hand trades left in Britain. His ranks are small. Half a dozen "glasshouses" concentrated in the Stourbridge area employ no more than 2,000, about two-thirds of whom are glassmakers and decorators.

The war hit the little industry hard. Most factories switched from crystal to manufacture of radio tubes and other war materials. Skilled glassblowers and decorators with a knowledge gained from their forefathers, left and never returned.

Now there is a dearth of skilled labor in the industry, particularly in the branches concerned with cutting the glass.

To attract young men to the factories, lectures are given in schools, tours of glassworks are arranged for prospective recruits, posters are hung pointing out the high pay and security of the job. The government has granted deferment from compulsory military service up to 21 years of age for young men apprenticing to the trade.

Forest Fire Fighting Expansion Suggested

OTTAWA, July 22 — (CP) — Expansion of forest fire fighting districts to include townships which now are not covered was suggested Thursday at the zone 5 co-ordinating committee meeting of the Ontario Conservation and Reforestation Association.

District Forester W. E. Steele of Kemptville said the matter should be given study with a view to bringing the townships into the fire districts on a permanent basis.

In the meantime, however, he warned the townships that as long as thy are outside the fire districts they have no protection for woodlot and private forests aside from what they supply themselves.

He emphasized the importance of prompt action by the townships to prevent fire loss.

Pain In The Neck Maybe Just Worrying

MONTREAL (AP).—Some people worry with their necks.

Their neck muscles tighten during periods of anxiety, with a variety of after-effects. These include stiff necks, pains in the neck and headaches. Many persons who are subject to headaches start this trouble by neck tension.

These findings were made at the Allan Memorial Institute of Pyschiatry, McGill University, by doctors Robert B. Malmo and Charles Shagass. Most of the studies were on mental patients, but the same tendencies were found in normal people.

When muscles tighten, their electrical qualities change. There is an increase in potential, which means that the muscles have a higher voltage. The potentials in muscles were read at McGill with electrodes placed on the skin.

The worries were furnished by a hot beam of light focussed to a narrow point on foreheads. This hot spot was used 12 times in succession, once every minute-and-a-half, for three seconds each shot, except the last, which was only one second.

The first shot was hot enough to hurt. After that they were varied, some not so hot as the first, but they were mixed, so that for the whole 16½ minutes the receivers did not know what was coming next.

The tests showed that not everyone worries with his neck. Other parts of the body may be used for this muscular tightening. One group who were not neck-reactors showed faster heat beats and more rapid breathing.

No Rocket Trip

LONDON, July 22 (CP)—L. J. Carter, secretary of the British Interplanetary Society, said Thursday there is "nothing in it" when told the Canadian Rocket Society plans to send a rocket to the moon by 1960. Enough now is known to hit the moon "but we don't do it because it's not worthwhile," he said. "But a manned rocket ship will certainly be sailed round the back of the moon before the end of the century."

LODGE HIT BY FLAMING BUS, DESTROYED

B.C. Pirates Board Fishing Boat

Escape With $3,000 In Daring Holdup Near Salmon Grounds

VANCOUVER, July 23. (CP)—Pirates struck Thursday night in the storm-swept waters off British Columbia's salmon fishing grounds, escaping with $3,000 in a daring sea-robbery.

According to scant reports from police, the pirates boarded the Alco, a fish-buyer's boat, while the vessel was cruising in River's Inlet, 200 miles north of Vancouver.

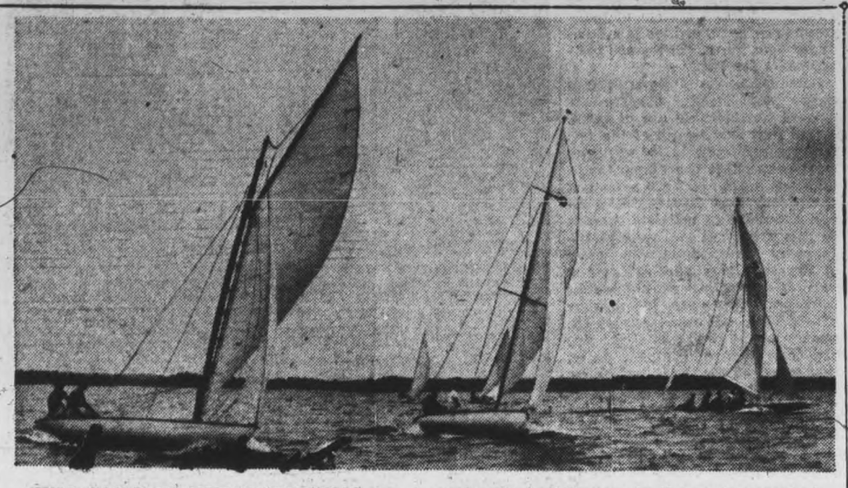
The victim has been identified as a man named Weaver.

Provincial Police at coastal points between Prince Rupert and Vancouver immediately started an air-sea search net for the armed sea-bandits.

Reports indicate the money was to be used by Weaver for buyng fish from gill-netters and seiners on the sock-eye grounds.

At the present time Rivers Inlet area is the centre of a salmon fishery industry, comprising about 1,000 boats.

All fish buyers were warned by radio-telephone by Provincial Police to take special precautions aboard their boats. Police said they fear the pirates may attempt other holdups on the fish-buying boats, which carry hundreds of thousands of dollars during the sock-eye season.



FULL SAILS ON THE KAWARTHAS are a common sight at this time. The sport has reached an all-time popularity peak since the War and, in 1948, as many as 31 craft took part in single events. Guests Flee Hotel After Crash

Driving Shaft Breaks Fires Gas Tank Of Careening Vehicle

PIEDMONT, Que., July 23.—(CP).—A flaming bus plowed headlong into the Old Lantern inn in this Laurentian mountain resort today and started a fire which levelled the hotel lodge and an adjoining restaurant.

This was the third hotel on the Laurentian Montreal-the-North highway to be levelled by fire in a week.

Piedmont is some 45 miles north of Montreal.

Louis Marie Belanger of Montreal, driver of the bus was slightly injured when he jumped from the vehicle as it cut a path across the main Laurentian highway and into the building about 2 a.m.

St. Jerome Police Captain A. Joly said several persons in the lodge dashed to safety before the fire reached that section.

Police added that the driving shaft of the bus broke and the constant friction of the shaft against the underbody of the bus and the road set fire to the gasolines tank.

The driver tried to bring his vehicle to a stop when he noticed the broken shaft but could not do so.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage.

Last Saturday the Petite Chaumiere, another Laurentian hotel, was destroyed by fire and Wednesday night the Chez Nous hotel at St. Martin was razed.

Have New Trick

MONTREAL, July 23 (CP)—British shipbuilders have developed something new—conversion of ships while they are at sea. For weeks now the shipbuilders have been making trips across the Atlantic converting several former baby aircraft carriers of Second World War vintage into grain-carrying freighters. Their work continues even while the ships are in port here waiting to take on cargo.

12 Babies Die Of Dysentery, Water Blamed

MATTAWA, Ont., July 23. —(CP) — A dysentery epidemic which has killed 12 babies and affected upwards of 50 others is raging through rural settlements surrounding this little lumbering town and its threat is striking chill fear into parents' hearts.

The Ontario Health Department has sent a doctor and a sanitary engineer here to investigate the cause of the outbreak. Impure water is suspected, since many residents obtain the drinking water from the river and others use wells into which filth may be seeping.

Some mothers in and around Ottawa and Mattawa Rivers have this town at the junction of the gone without sleep for days to watch their children for signs that the sickness has struck. Four settlers who have walked into town with desperately-ill infants in their arms report that children "just seem to fade" within hours after fever betrays the presence of the dysentery.

One mother whose baby died in the epidemic told a reporter: "In 12 hours, you'd never have known my baby."

Blame Water

Dr. J. A. Bergeron, the town's medical officer of health, said laboratory reports show no special bacteria but he thought it possible that the water had "something to do with it." He said the water in the Ottawa and Mattawa Rivers here has been condemned for a long time.

"But a lot of people have to use the water," said Dr. Bergeron. "I have warned them to boil it before drinking it. But up to now, many people took the warning as a joke."

The problem of adequate sanitary protection for Mattawa has been aggravated by the recent influx of people from the nearby hydro development at La Cave. The newcomers have found temporary living quarters in shacks, garages, trailers and in already-overcrowded houses. Their coming has swelled Mattawa's population to approximately 2,800 persons.

Town officials say they plan to put in a waterworks system as soon as permission is given by the Ontario Municipal Board for the project to be undertaken without debentures.

Won't Feel British Cuts Until Next Year Abbott Predicts On Return

Declares Solution of Dollar Dilemma Rests With Great Britain; Must Cut Down Prices For Export Trade

OTTAWA, July 23—(CP)—The direct impact of the Commonwealth sterling bloc's 25 per cent slash in dollar purchases won't start hitting Canada until the first of the year, Finance Minister Abbott said Friday, but her first specific inklings of where the blows will fall should come this autumn when new contracts are placed.

Just back from dollar-crisis talks in London, he made no dollar-and-cents prediction of what it will mean but he did warn at a press conference that "appreciable curtailment" must be expected in purchases of timber, non-ferrous metals, pulp and paper products, tobacco and cotton.

Statisticians rained down more figures on the trade and financial situation that has assumed major post-election importance. The Bureau of Statistics reported the unfavorable balance of Canadian trade with the U.S. up from $184,000,000 in the first five months of 1948 to $247,000,000 in the same period of 1947; the favorable balance with Britain was down from $192,000,000 to $140,000,000. Imports from both countries were up.

Up to Britain

To reporters, Mr. Abbott repeatedly argued that the solution of Britain's dollar dilemma rests largely within her own economy, within her ability to get prices down and productivity up so that she can sell throughout the world. He said Canada herself offers a big market for such things as textiles and heavy machinery if the price is right."

Ruling out any further Canadian loan, he said loans by either the U.S. or Canada are not the answer. The era of foreign government investment through post-war loans is through, he indicated.

The general topic of foreign investment was considered again at Washington in September.

Mr. Abbott reaffirmed the government's election stand against devaluation of the Canadian dol-

Reds Advance Across Hunan Isolate Capital

CANTON, China, July 23 (AP) —The Communist danger grew in Hunan province today in a major offensive which imperils Nationalist South China.

Private reports from the front hinted the Reds already may have isolated Changsha, Hunan capital 400 miles north of Canton. Conditions in Chuchow, 30 miles south of Changsha, were described as chaotic.

Pro-Nationalist dispatches said the Communists were striking towards Liling, a highway town 45 miles southeast of Changsha. Capture of Liling would make it easy for the Reds to cut the Canton-Hankow railroad betwen Changsha and Hengyang.

Dispatches also told of fighting at a point 25 miles northeast of Changsha. Earlier advices placed the Reds within 16 miles north and northeast of the capital.

The Nationalists disclosed that Yi Chi-Chi, commander in Western Fukien, had gone over to the Communists June 26.

Chinese newspapers reported Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's presence at the seaport of Amoy in southern Fukien. He presumably is conferring with Nationalist commanders on defence of southeastern China.

Report Canada Not Out Of Red

OTTAWA, July 23 (CP)—Canadian exports shot up sharply during May to the highest point this year and brought the Dominion out of the red on her foreign trade for the first five months of 1949.

But the adverse balance of trade with the United States—regarded by the government as the only disturbing aspect of Canadian trade—rose to $247,000,000 at the end of the first five months of the year.

That's $63,000,000 more than the deficit at the same period last year, but $150,000,000 less than the deficit after five months of 1947.

Trade Minister Howe indicated last week the government will try to reduce this deficit by reimposing controls on imports from the United States. Controls originally went on in November, 1947, but many have been relaxed since then.

Canada gets about 70 per cent of her imports from the United States, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said Friday in its May trade survey.

Canada bought $49,100,000 more in the U.S. than she sold there during May. Exports were $121,200,000 and imports were $172,100,000.

On trade with the United Kingdom, Canada recorded a surplus of $43,400,000 during May, giving her a surplus of $140,000,000 so far this year.

Cyclone Strikes Quebec Hamlet, Barns Damaged

SHERBROOKE, Que., July 23—(CP) — Workmen today were clearing roads in this eastern townships area of uprooted trees and masses of debris left in the wakeof a devastating windstorm Friday night which injured four persons and caused thousands of dollars damage.

Hardest hit by the terrifying wind was the neighboring hamlet of Rock Forest where half a dozen barns, two homes and a church were damaged.

Bertrand Verdoux, 11, Madeleine Martin, 15, and Jean Rosby, 16, were in the small frame house of Antoine Verdoux when the wind hit it. The building was turned over and the youngsters received cuts and possible fractures.

Mrs. Robert Leslie was doing the evening milking—the storm occurred about 8:15 p.m.—when the barn was lifted 20 feet off its foundation. A falling beam killed the cow being milked but Mrs. Leslie suffered only cuts and bruises.

St. Roch's Roman Catholic Church suffered severe damage and although the spire still is standing today, it is cracked and probably will have to be pulled down.

Four persons worshipping in the church escaped injury.

The road between Sherbrooke and Rock Forest was almost blocked with fallen and uprooted trees.

The roof of Louis Turgeon's house was blown off, and the veranda of Aure Blanchet's home.

Reds Lose First Round

PARIS, July 23 (AP) — The Communists today lost the first round of their battle to block ratification of the Atlantic Pact in the French Chamber of Deputies. By vote of 407 to 186, the lower house of parliament defeated a Communist motion to adjourn indefinitely debate on the 12-power treaty. Communist deputy Francois Billoux, who introduced the motion, called the Pact a "monstrous act against Russia."

Churchill Says Labor Gov't Leads Britain Into Peril

WOLVERHAMPTON, England, July 23—(AP)—Winston Churchill said today that the British Labor Government has led Britain into imminent peril "of Communism and National bankruptcy." The Conservative party leader said an economic collapse is looming which would "carry many other countries with us into chaos and Communism."

In a major policy speech prepared for a party rally at the Wolverhampton football stadium, Churchill said the Socialists have failed to put forth any effective plan to meet the danger.

Churchill's address came on the heels of the Conservative party's 20,000-word statement of policy entitled the "Right Road For Britain" which was published Friday night.

"They have squandered the reserves and resources which had been gathered in the past," said the 74-year-old wartime Prime and narrowed the future of every man, woman and child in this famous island."

Poor Comeback

He said every other country west of the Iron Curtain has made a better comeback than Britain —even beaten Germany and Italy.

Churchill told his listeners the cure for Britain's condition is to "return to a system which provides incentives for effort, self-denial, initiative and good housekeeping."

And he promised that the Conservatives will apply the cure if they are restored to power in the next general election, which must be held between now and mid-1950.

All 40,000 tickets for the soccer arena of this midland's industrial city were sold out for Churchill's address, which was billed as the major opening gun of the election campaign.

Assailing "wrong-headed planning and official interference," Churchill charged the Labor government had no effective plan for dealing with the economic crisis. He rapped the Labor party for "squandering" the sterling area gold and dollar reserves despite aid from the United States and Canada.

He warned of the threat of bankruptcy if the sterling reserves sink much further.

Lively Scuffle In Police Car

LONDON, Ont., July 23—(CP) —City Police Constable Wilfred Samletzki escaped injury Friday night when his .38 calibre revolver was discharged during a scuffle with a mental patient he was taking to hospital in his cruiser.

The bullet passed between Samletzki's arm and his chest. His uniform was untouched by the bullet and his only injury was minor powder burns on his right hand.

The chain of events leading to the incident started when a mental patient from Westminster Hospital stole an automobile from the Highland Golf Club, struck two parked cars and finally collided with a truck.

The patient got into a fight with Arthur B. Dawker, driver of the truck. Constable Samletzki responded to a call and after a short scuffle took the patient into custody.

The patient was placed in the Samletzki cruiser and the officer headed for Victoria hospital to have cuts and abrasions on the man's face and head dressed. En route a scuffle developed in which the revolver was discharged.

Safety Device Prevents Wreck

BEAVERTON, July 23 (CP)—A safety device is credited with preventing a Canadian National Railways crack transcontinental train from plunging into the Trent Canal at Gamebridge four miles north of here.

A swing bridge over the canal had been opened for passage of a cabin cruiser Friday just before the train approached. The train, moving slowly, went through a red signal light—Engineer Jack Wheeler of Toronto said his brakes did not work—and struck a derailment device.

The safety mechanism threw the engine, a tender and a baggage car off the rails, 430 feet short of the canal. Fifteen passenger cars remained on the track. The 257 passengers did not know what had happened until they got out of the train.

Fireman Edwin Hood of Toronto jumped to safety. Engineer Wheeler remained in the cab and crawled out of the window, unhurt.

Railway officials said the train was four hours late.

Davis Comes Home

LONDON, July 23 (CP)—Harry Davis, president of the Canadian Seamen's Union, left London airport today for Montreal following settlement of the London dock strike. Urge Trees Planted To Control Floods

BARRIE, July 23 (CP)—Large-scale tree-planting may help Ontario flood control groups tame unruly rivers.

Briefs put before the Ontario Legislature's Select Committee on Conservation Friday urged that emphasis be placed on reforestation as a major part of any over-all conservation plan.

Presented by various Dufferin and Simcoe County organizations, five briefs said considerable tree-planting has already been done in those counties but the organizations would like to see it expanded. The Midland Kiwan's Club's brief said a survey showed that 200,000 acres in Simcoe County would be useful only if returned to forest cover.

LONDON, July 23 (Reuters)—A report in the London Daily Herald today says British police believe they are on the track of the "biggest smuggling organization" ever uncovered.

"Secret deposits of gold and diamonds worth more than £150,000 ($600,000) are to be traced as a result of a smuggling prosecution heard Friday," the report says.

A Belgian ship master, Maurice H. Coppin, Friday was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment and fined £10,000 ($40,000) at Gray's, Essex, for gold smuggling.

His counsel said, "I intend to reveal to Scotland Yard the names of a gang of expert smugglers. Captain Coppin is a pawn in a very big game of chess."

100 Men Help Fight Fire Menacing Perth

PERTH, July 23 (CP)—Farmers from a 10-mile radius rushed into action with water-soaked rags Friday to beat out a huge grass fire that raged for two hours a mile from Perth.

Twenty tractor-powered ploughs rolled up fireguards to prevent the blaze from spreading. More than 100 men helped fight the fire as trucks were commandeered to rush barrels of water to the scene.

The fire was said to have started when two youths threw a burning cigarette into dry grass on the farm of John McLaren. They later were seen running towards Perth from the spot where the fire broke out, about a mile southwest of here.

No injuries were reported and there was no estimate of damage.

A strong wind first carried the fire towards Perth, but a shift in the wind carried the fire towards the Darou farm.

Revered Edinburgh Street May Soon Be Modernized

EDINBURGH, July 23 (CP) — Princes Street, revered by Scots as the world's most beautiful thoroughfare, will be rebuilt if plans for a "new Edinburgh" go through.

But Sir Patrick Abercrombie and Derek Plumstead, the town planners whose report is now before the city council, do not expect the scheme to escape "sharp and informed criticism, and even abuse" from Scots who hold a fierce loyalty and deep affection for Scotland's capital city.

Sir Patrick, one of Britain's foremost experts on town planning, and his colleague maintain the refashioning of Princes Street is "inevitable" within the next 50 years. Of the existing buildings, they found fewer than half a dozen frontages worthy of preservation.

Most revolutionary of their proposals is a "three-decker" arrangement to draw off through traffic from badly congested Princes Street.

Plans call not only for redesigning the main street, but a general beautifying of the entire capital. Eyesores around the city's historic buildings would be removed, the smoke and noise in the valley between Edinburgh castle and Princes Street would be eliminated, and a green belt around the city created.

To rid the capital of its polluted atmosphere—the smoke and grime affectionately called "auld reekie" by Edinburgh people—the planners propose electrification of suburban trains and removal of long-distance trains from both Waverley and Princess Street stations to a new union terminus at Morrison Street.

In addition the area immediately opposite the palace of Holyrood-house would be cleared.

Princess Holy TerrorTo Staid Officials

Everyone Crowds To Hear Vivacious Margaret Tell Experiences

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, July 23 (CP)—Princess Margaret has had lots of curious listeners around her since she returned to Buckingham Palace from her Italian vacation.

Everyone remotely connected with what are called "Royal circles" seems eager to talk to the winsome girl—19 next August —who has won her way into the hearts of millions by just being natural and charming.

Margaret is a vivacious talker and in her enthusiasm has a way of recreating scenes and adventures in conversation. Friends cluster around her at all hours of the day and evening absorbing her high-spirited reminiscences of the Italian scene.

But, popular as she is at home and abroad, the King's younger daughter has earned herself one or two "old-fashioned" looks during the last few months. These looks come, not only from members of the Royal household, but from some of her more staid relatives.

Earns Black Looks

The fact is, the light-hearted Princess, with her bubbling wit and curiously informal attitude to formality, has become a bit of a holy terror to many. Palace officials sometimes talk in scared whispers of her escapades, as if afraid of talking out of turn.

In any other high-spirited girl of 18, such antics would be considered natural and amusing. But, say court officials with a dubious shake of their heads, "she's a grown-up princess now, you know."

There was a time, for instance, when the King and Queen entertained a Scottish clergyman at Balmoral. Margaret, asked to perform at the piano, sang one of the saucier songs from "Oklahoma" which she had seen in London.

The Queen looked a little worried. She had heard this song before—at strictly family parties. As Margaret approached the last verse, the Queen leaned forward and whispered "not before the minister, dear." But Margaret carried on to the end—and the minister laughed uproariously.

At a dignified public function in London, Margaret sat listening while Princess Elizabeth delivered an impressive speech. A second or two after Elizabeth finished, Margaret was clearly heard to say: "Jolly good, old girl."

The "old-fashioned" look on that occasion came from the chairman, a revered city alderman.

Most recognize, however, that behind her gay demeanor, the Princess has a quick mind and a fairly well-informed outlook on life.

Four Go To Hospital In Fenelon Accident

LINDSAY, July 23—Four persons were sent to hospital Friday for injuries received in a two-car collision at Knox's Corner, on the Blyth County Road near Fenelon Falls.

Injured were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Arscott, Harold Neate and his sister, Muriel. The Neate car was turned completely over and the Arscott car was knocked on its side, strewing a load of groceries over the road. Both cars were considered beyond repair.

Arscott was treated for cuts to his forehead and for undetermined injuries to an arm pinned beneath the wreckage. Several stitches were applied to a wound in his wife's forehead. Neate received rib fractures and his sister had a broken collarbone.

Police were unable immediately to recount circumstances of the crash. The cars were believed, however, to have met head-on. None of the occupants is considered in critical condition.

Experts Rate Canada's A-Pile Best

Dominion Has Reactor That Beats Others Throughout World

OTTAWA, July 23 (CP) — Canada, a pioneer in atomic research, has an atomic reactor with the highest flux in the world.

That doesn't mean much to a layman, perhaps, but it means a lot to an atomic scientist.

It means, among other things, that it's the only reactor in the world that can be used for certain experiments with atomic energy. Just what these experiments are, officials of the Atomic Energy Control Board aren't saying.

A reactor is a device to set off a controlled reaction—in an atomic bomb explosion the reaction is uncontrolled.

It's done by bombarding the atoms with neutrons—one of the two components of the nucleus of an atom—in a uranium pile, the scientists who built the Canadian pile achieved the highest flux in the world—that is, a greater concentration of neutron radiations than in any other pile.

One of Best Piles

Canada's isn't the biggest pile in the world, a government expert said Friday night, but it's among the best.

Many United States scientists have done experiments in Canada because they couldn't do the same experiments with reactors in the U.S.

In Los Angeles Friday, Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, director of reasearch for the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, said the "reactor of most advanced design and performance is in Canada," he did not elaborate.

The Canadian pile is at Chalk River, 100 miles northwest of Ottawa. It's used solely for research to produce isotopes—radioactive materials. They're used in medical and atomic experiments.

Government spokesmen have said Canada has enough atomic knowledge to build an atomic bomb but doesn't want to.

Telepathy Test Successful Over BBC Radio

LONDON — (CP) — Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Piddington, a young Australian couple, recently broadcast a trickproof demonstration of mental telepathy from a BBC studio.

Mrs. Piddington, 26, was able to "receive" two selected colors drew on a blackboard a complicated design of a triangle enclosing a swastika, and finally trans- "transmitted" by her husband; lated from a "thought message" the meaning (but not the exact words of a line selected at random from a book.

There appeared to be no possibility whatever of collusion between the pair, and any "cheating" during the broadcast would have required the co-operation of a panel of six judges.

Mrs. Piddington sounded tense and nervous as slowly, word by word, she worked out the meaning of a sentence "transmitted" to her from another studio.

Syd Piddington, 31, first began experimenting with telepathy while a prisoner of war in a Japanese prison camp. After the war he married Lesley Pope and the two of them began experiments leading up to the BBC demonstration.

Now the Piddingtons are booked for a series of eight weekly broadcasts designed to test thought transference under scientific conditions.

Link With Break-ins Stolen Car Found

Provincial police announced today that a stolen car believed to have been used by the perpetrators of two break-ins at Lakefield and Bridgenorth early Friday morning was found abandoned at Ajax on No. 2A Highway Friday afternoon.

The break-ins occurred at the barber shop and poolroom of Wallace Nichols, Bridgenorth, and Clifford Fife's new grocery store in Lakefield and considerable loot was taken in each case.

The abandoned car is believed to be the same one that Mrs. Nichols saw hovering around her husband's shop Thursday afternoon and of which she took the license number.

Youth Admits Setting Barn Blaze

He pleaded guilty and was remanded one week for sentence. The boy said that it was his second offense of the same nature.

Meredith Greer, employed on the Haas farm, said that the fire completely destroyed the modern barn and loss was estimated at $16,000. Mr. Greer said that the fire broke out around noon and quickly spread all over the barn. After the fire, McColl came to him and said, "I'm the fire bug, call the police."

Provincial Constable Lyle Erskine said that he placed the accused under arrest at the scene and that on arrival at the police station the youth gave a voluntary statement. McColl admitted the arson in his statement to police.

Much Broken Glass

More than the usual amount of broken glass seems to be littering city streets. This broken glass, result of a minor accident, has been lying on the street, a hazard to motorists' tires, for two days. According to municipal and highway regulations, broken glass must be cleared from the road by the owner of the damaged vehicle, or his agent the tow-truck operator.

Attendance Drop At Playgrounds Seasonal Quirk

Attendance figures at city playgrounds are important indications of whether or not the playgrounds and the program of the Recreation Commission are worth while. They are being watched by the Commission, and throughout the province by government bureaux and social service workers especially closely because a fully organized system of playgrounds in communities is a relatively new thing. These are testing years for it.

Attendance in Peterborough's eight supervised playgrounds showed considerable use of them. In the first half month of the full summer program, 11,424 children were counted at the playgrounds.

This is a drop of 2,500 from last year's July 1-16 figures. Recreation Commission officials remark on this drop that last year attendance at playgrounds was heavy in the few days and suffered a continuing decline as the weeks wore on. This year, for reasons which have not been explained, attendance at first was slight but had been increasing almost daily. It is expected that the total figure for the two summer months of this year will be greater than for the summer of 1947.

New Playgrounds Busy

Hamilton Park, along the Jackson Park Creek, new this year to the program to replace the Dixon House totlot, has attendance of 1,025 for the first 16 days. Dixon House total for the first 17 days of last year was 825. Turner Park which replaced the Prince of Wales playground used last year, has an attendance of 1,257 compared with Prince of Wales' figures of 1,143 last year.

Comparative figures at the 10 playgrounds and tot-lots for 1948 and 1949 during the first two weeks are (this year's figure is given second:

Confederation: 1,186-783; Dixon House: 825 (1948 figure); Hamilton Park: 1,025; Fleming Place: 1,541-1,429; Inverlea Park: 2,978-1,767; King Edward Park: 2,333-2,065; Prince of Wales School: 1,143 (1948 figure); Turner Park (new 1949): 1,257; McKellar (new 1949): 834; Riverside Park: 2,681-2,308; Riverside Totlot: 1,275-1,213.

Big Marsh Fire Menaces Many Miles

SEYMOUR, July 23 (ENS)—A menacing marsh fire which broke out at about 4:00 Friday afternoon on an old farm property owned by Elroy Mack, 13 miles north of Campbellford, was still burning out of control this morning. It is travelling underground to a depth of six inches or more and residents of the district are fearful that it may spread to nearby farm buildings. Fighting the fire is proving very difficult due to shortage of sufficient water in the neighborhood. A heavy rain is considered the only really effective way to bring it under control.

The fire is believed to have started from a cigarette butt thrown away by a careless berry picker. Over 50 men worked for several hours trying to quench the fire, but were forced to desist when they could not seem to make any impression on it. They stationed a guard to keep watch in event of its spreading to farm buildings.

The blaze was first noticed by Mr. Dewey of Seymour township during hay cutting operations, and extends over an area about one mile square, between Campbellford and Marmora, and three miles north of Allen's Mills, 1½ miles south of No. 7 Highway.

The fire fighters were greatly handicapped by lack of equipment and by a high wind which was blowing at the time. Finally they were forced to fall back on doing their best to protect the farm buildings from the spreading fire, the nearest one being about one mile from where the fire started. For a time the fire burned so fiercely that no one could get near enough to it to put water on it.

Bury Crash Victim

MILLBROOK, July 23 (ENS)—The funeral of Wayne Arthur Foottit, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Foottit, who was killed in an automobile accident Tuesday night in Millbrook, was held Thursday afternoon from the G. T. MacPherson Funeral Home. The service was conducted by Rev. Walter Patterson of Grace Presbyterian Church.

The pallbearers were Carolyn Harkness, Jean Kinsman, Kenneth Blair and Paul Saunders, who also acted as flower bearers.

2,000 Farmers Lose Crop, Ask Federal Aid

CADILLAC, Sask., July 23.—(CP).—Hundreds of thousands of prairie farm acres appear to be dying in this corner of southwestern Saskatchewan. Short patchy stands of scorched wheat with unfilled heads dot the flat, parched fields. Grass along the roadside is a dusty brown.

Four thousand farmers in the southwest have acknowledged no hope of a crop by cancelling their hail insurance. More are expected to do likewise.

Representatives of 2,000 farmers in the five municipalities surrounding this village 200 miles southwest of Regina Friday asked for assistance until—a familiar byword in the 30s—"next year."

They met with government agriculture officials to devise a scheme whereby money could be given farmers to provide their hospitalization fees, their winter's coal and groceries and feed for their livestock.

Resolutions were passed calling on the Provincial and Municipal governments to provide the financial assistance and recommending that the Wheat Board retain wheat for seed in the drought areas.

In return for the assistance the farmers were prepared to work on local projects such as road building, irrigation, planting, shelter belts and the seeding down to grass of prairie roadside. Others would go as harvesters to various parts of Canada.

The fodder-short farmers have another problem. In some parts of the province, where hay is abundant, some owners are reported trying to get "black market prices."

Flees To Tower To Avoid Police

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 23 (AP)—Giovanni Rossi Lomanitz preferred a high, hot seat atop a water tower Friday rather than talk to reporters about charges of Communist activities.

The House Un-American Activities Committee Thursday accused Lomanitz, 28, of being a Communist party organizer.

The committee said this activity took place early in the war at Berkeley, Calif., where a group of young scientists worked on atom bomb research.

Reporters discovered Lomanitz working as a 1.20 an hour laborer at power company plant under construction near here.

Fellow workers warned him that reporters and photographers were looking for him. This sent him up 110-feet of steel girders to the top of the water tank.

He remained there for almost two hours in 100-degree temperature.

He took the laborer's job June 21 after he was discharged from a teaching job at Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn. His dismissal followed an appearance before the committee.

He refused on constitutional grounds, to answer questions concerning alleged Communist affiliations.

Gas Workers Decide To Handle Strike Coal

SYDNEY, Australia, July 23.—(Reuters).—Gas workers at Melbourne have decided to handle coal unloaded by the Royal Australian Navy from the strike-bound Canadian ship Haligonian Duke.

The coal, a cargo of nearly 7,000 tons which had been held up for nearly five months because Australian seamen declared the ship "black," was being moved to the gas works in army trucks.

Gas supplies in Melbourne were down to an hour a day because of the 27-day Australian coal strike.

Miners in Western Australia were working today, as well as some miners in Queensland. Tasmanian miners decided Friday to go back.

Plan Cancer Book

PARIS, July 23 (AP)—Cancer experts from 35 countries Friday decided to draw up an illustrated dictionary of their craft. This group of experts was formally accepted at the Scientific Council of the International Union against cancer. Purpose of the dictionary will be to help cancer researchers by standardizing the meanings of the highly-specialized scientific language they use.

Stock Markets Chalk Up Losing Score

By The Canadian Press

Stock markets chalked up a losing score this week for the first time since mid-June.

The recovery movement that began after the sharp June declines came to a halt late this week after marking up almost six successive weeks of steadily rising prices.

Observers hadn't expected the recovery to last as long as it did. The upward trend started after June 13 when prices dipped to the lowest level in 4½ years.

Gains appeared steadily, with minor interruptions, until last Thursday when profit-taking finally brought the advances to a standstill. Activity continued slow, and observers said the public was still watching from the sidelines.

Business Quiet

Brokers report that business has been very quiet and that they are operating in the red. There is some talk of mergers and reductions in staffs by brokerage houses in Toronto.

New York advanced steadily for the first three sessions this week, climbing to the highest level in eight weeks and almost recovering from the month-long beating that was climaxed June 13.

A utility company, Commonwealth and Southern, featured Wednesday's market, rising strongly in very heavy trading that included a single block of 350,000 shares.

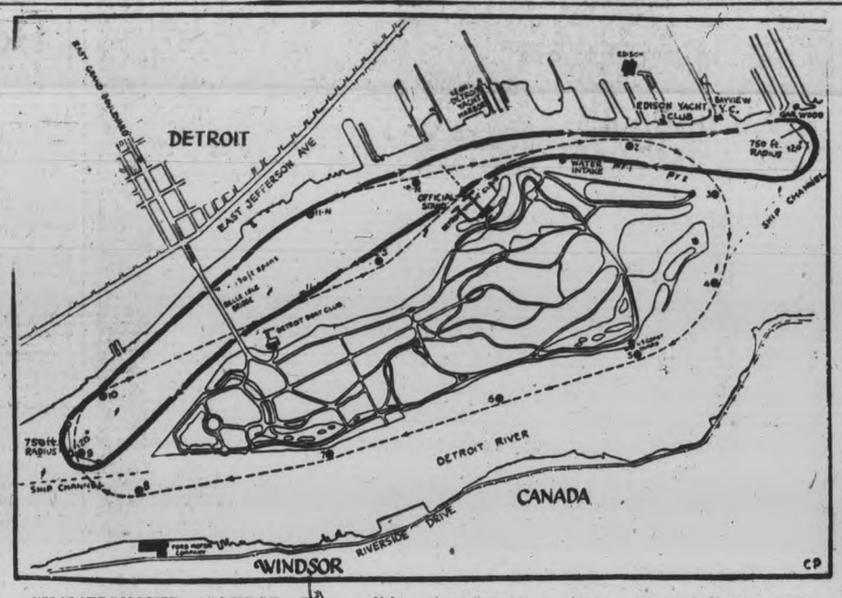
Kidnapping Charge

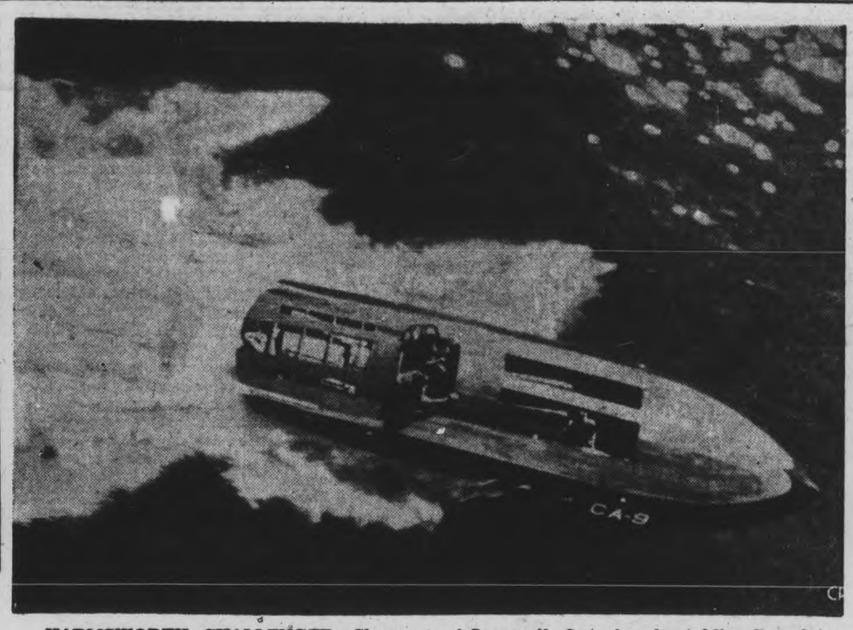
MONTREAL, July 23 (CP) — Three Montreal men arrested on Tuesday at South March will face charges here today of theft and receiving and a charge of kidnapping a Montreal taxi driver, Rene Lanxiaus, 24, after stealing his vehicle. They are Emile Provost, 29, his 23 year old brother Herve, and Ovila Perron, 50. Taxi driver Lanciaux managed to escape at Lancaster, 17 miles east of Cornwall, four hours after they allegedly took control of his cab.

Jobless Insurance Up

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(AP).—Unemployment insurance payments in the United States hit a record monthly level of $155,696,000 in June, the Bureau of Employment Security announced Friday. Director Robert C. Goodwin said the largest previous total for any one month in the history of the law was $152,096,345 in March this year. Nearly 100,000 more jobless workers received unemployment benefits each week in June than in May, he added.



CHAMPIONSHIP COURSE—The solid black line on this map marks the hazardous course with its 120-degree turns on which Harold Wilson of Ingersoll, Ont., will drive his Miss Canada IV against three United States entries for the Harmsworth Trophy and the international speedboat championships at Detroit next week. Original plans to route part of the race along the Canadian shore (dotted line) were dropped when owners of lake vessels objected to the speedy racers cutting through their shipping lanes. The turn at upper right of the map is opposite the summer home of Gar Wood, veteran Detroit driver who retained the trophy for the United States against a British challenger in the last competition in 1933.



HARMSWORTH CHALLENGER—Shown zooming through her last pre-race trials on Lake Muskoka, Miss Canada IV will contend with three American defenders to lift the Harmsworth Trophy from the United States at Detroit next week. Harold Wilson of Ingersoll, Ont., has kept Miss Canada's trial times secret, but he hopes to break Sir Malcolm Campbell's speed record of 140 miles an hour when he makes Canada's first challenge for the international speedboat championship.

Scouts Enjoy Two-Hour Variety Show

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Ont., July 23 (CP) —This big tent city looked like a fair grounds Friday as Ontario Boy Scouts dressed as clowns, hula-hula dancers and circus animals, romped and cavorted through a two-hour show.

Many Ontario points were represented n an afternoon of skits, demonstrations and displays.

Scouts were there from Kapuskasing in the north to Windsor in the south, and from the head of the lakes in the west to the Ottawa Valley in the east as more than 700 Scouts of the big Ontario contingent took their turn at providing the daily entertainment at the first Canadian Boy Scout jamboree.

Today is the last complete day of the big rally that brought 3,000 Scouts from Canada, the United States and Cuba. Selected scenes from pageants and displays presented during the week will be repeated this afternoon. Tonight a monster campfire is scheduled and the boys break camp Sunday after religious services.

Such established Ontario institutions as the County Fair and the King's Plate were shown.

But it had its serious moments when 49 pairs of Scouts, each pair carrying a banner representing a county or district, marched past while Ontario Field Commissioner Art Paddon, of Toronto, explained the background of each county. Ray Bryson, of London, was responsible for that pageant.

New Zealand Gov't Takes Hand In Row

AUCKLAND, N.Z., July 23 (CP)—The New Zealand government has intervened in the dispute over a Canadian vessel, blacklisted by longshoremen who threatened to tie-up the Auckland waterfront, it was learned today.

The ship, the Ottawa Valley, manned by members of the International Seafarers' Union (AFL), earlier this week was allocated a berth in the harbor. However, it is understood that following the threats of longshoremen to strike the government has given instructions that the vessel must remain at anchor in the harbor until the dispute is settled.

The dockers have branded the Ottawa Valley as "black" and refused to work it. They also threatened a strike if the ship was allowed a berth in the harbor.

Exchange Air Cadets

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(CP)).— British, French and Swiss air cadets will visit the United States this summer in an extension of last year's exchange of Canadian and United States cadets. The civil air patrol announced Friday that 35 European cadets will arrive here Aug. 8 for a two-week tour of the United States. Meanwhile, 35 United States cadets will be studying British, French and Swiss air force methods.

Cuts And Gashes At Beaches

James Lamore, eight-year-old son of George Lamore, 491 Elm St., received a bad cut on his foot Thursday afternoon at the Hamilton Park wading pool. Adult spectators at the playground rushed the boy to the clinic where several stitches were required to close the gash. James was wading at the north end of the pool and stepped on a sharp, jagged piece of a broken bottle.

Supervisor Amy Curtis said in the accident report that each morning the wading pool is cleared of all sharp particles such as glass, tin cans and extra sharp stones. She believed the bottle was thrown into the pool by picnickers between 12.30 and 1.30 p.m.

Bottles Tossed

Last Friday night at Riverside Park while the Y's Men's Club's carnival was in progress numerous bottles were thrown into the water. Lifeguards worked until nearly midnight picking up broken bottles along the shore. One lifeguard said the people, sitting on the benches, were letting the empty bottles roll down the bank into the stonework to break.

Thursday afternoon a child received a badly cut foot while swimming at the deep water swimming area at Riverside. Jack Dane, Recreation Director, rushed the child to the clinic for treatment.

Not as much trouble has been encountered at Inverlea as at Riverside beach, although this week the water has been low. One mother took the child down to the water's edge to wade. She saw the rough stoney bottom so the little boy was deprived of his swim. Passing a friend the mother said: "I'm not letting my son swim in there even if he roasts."

Abetz Gets 20 Years

PARIS, July 23, (AP)—Otto Abetz, Hitler's ambassador to occupied Paris, Friday was sentenced to 20 years at hard labor as a war criminal. A French military tribunal deliberated about an hour and 50 minutes, weighing testimony accusing Abetz of complicity in the killing of Georges Mandel, former French Interior Minister, of looting treasures and of other war crimes.

Accidental Deaths

STE. AGATHE, Que., July 23 (CP)—A verdict of accidental death was returned Friday by a coroner's jury which investigated the cases of Doris and Harry Whellan, 15-year-old Montreal twins who died in a flash fire at nearby Nantel Thursday night. The twins were trapped in a one-storey wooden summer cottage when fire followed an attempt to light an oil lamp.

WINNIPEG, July 23 (CP) — J. R. McLachlan of the Virden, Man., Empire Advance was elected president of the Manitoba branch of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association Friday at their 30th annual convention here. Other officers elected include: first vice-president, N. S. McLean, Elmwood Herald; second vice-president, R. S. Evans, Morden Times.

Hero Laid To Rest

CLYDE, Ohio, July 23 (CP) — Pte. Roger Young, of the United States army, who gave his life in a one-man suicide charge of a Japanese machine-gun nest to save 19 of his ambushed buddies, was laid to final rest here Friday. Immortalized in the famed ballad by Frank Loesser. Pte. Young was posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor—highest United States military decoration—for his heroism May 31, 1943, in the steaming jungle of New Georgia in the Solomon Islands.

Pear Prices Set By Marketing Board

HAMILTON, July 23.—(CP)). —Pear prices for the 1949 season were settled Friday by representatives of the Canned Foods Association of Ontario and the Pear Marketing Board in negotiations here. Peach and plum prices have not been decided.

Processor W. I. Drynan said approximate prices agreed upon for pears are: No. 1 Bartletts, $110 a ton; No. 2 Bartletts, $65; No. 1 Keefers $55; and No. 2 Keefers $35.

Peach prices are expected to go into arbitration as a result of disagreement between processors and the Peach Marketing Board on a price level. Garnet McCanless, secretary of the Canned Foods Association, said growers asked for $100 a ton across the board.

Keep Socialist Laws

LONDON, July 23 (CP) — Winston Churchill's Conservative party told Britons Friday it would retain most of the major Socialist laws already enacted, but halt further nationalization of industry —if voted back into power in 1950. The party unveiled its campaign platform for the 1950 general election next year in a 20,000 word statement of policy entitled "The Right Road for Britain." The wartime Prime Minister is to elaborate on the policy in a speech this afternoon at Wolverhampton, a labor stronghold.

SEEKS TOP RACING PRIZE —Harold Wilson, 37-year-old Ingersoll, Ont., driver, will pit his Miss Canada IV against three crack United States speedboats at Detroit next week in Canada's first challenge for the Harmsworth Trophy and the international speedboat championship.

Try Color Broadcasts

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP) The Federal Communications Commission Friday announced two regular television stations in New York and Baltimore will make experimental broadcasts in color. It said permits were issued to WCBS-TV, Columbia Broadcasting System outlet in New York City, and WMAR-TV, operated by the Baltimore Sun papers. The FCC said special receiving equipment will be required to tune in the color programs in each instance.

Pilgrims Make Yearly Visit

MONTREAL, July 23 (CP) — Travelling in wheelchairs and on crutches, and helped along by Montreal firemen, 115 American pilgrims of the Roman Catholic faith climbed atop Westmount mountain Friday to pray in St. Joseph's Oratory.

The crippled visitors all looked confident during this stage of their journey of faith which will take them as far as Ste. Anne de Beaupre, 20 miles from Quebec on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River.

For many, the pilgrimage was but "a renewal of faith."

A 60 year old man, victim of poliomyelitis when he was a boy, said that although he was used to being an invalid, "these trips always make me feel better. . . 85's wonderful to see all the people that can be helped, and I always pray that they will too."

The pilgrims are members of the Confraternity of Pilgrims of America of which Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, and Msgr. Joseph Charbonneau, Archbishop of Montreal, are honorary presidents. They come chiefly from Minnesota, Kentucky Iowa and Illinois.

For many it was a yearly visit to the Oratory where Brother Andre—a lay brother now dead more than a decade—worked to help the ailing and sick. He himself started the work on the Shrine which stands beside his tiny one roomed mountain chapel.

Warns Grand River Badly Contaminated

BRANTFORD, July 23.—(CP). —Water flow in the Grand river at Brantford has shrunk to such an extent that it no longer represents even half the minimum flow required from the standpoint of public health and sanitation, E. F. Roberts, secretary-treasurer of the Grand River Conservation Commission, said Friday.

The stream is contaminated and carries the danger of typhoid for anyone who swims in the Grand, said Dr. W. L. Hutton, Medical Officer of Health.

"The river itself, is a sewage-laden stream. There is danger to anyone who bathes in it or who swallows river water," Dr. Hutton said.

"A big load is being placed on our filters and on the technical operation of our waterworks, but the water supply of the city is absolutely safe and pure.

Peterborough Needs A Mental Health Clinic

We sincerely hope that something will come of the meeting which was held in this city on Wednesday to discuss the need of a mental health clinic in this city. A representative group of Peterborough physicians and laymen interested in public health and social work talked all afternoon with Dr. Miller, a Toronto psychiatrist who is doing some of the work in a survey on this subject which is being conducted by the federal government. There was some plain speaking done at this meeting, and we particularly admire the firm stand and straight talk of Dr. H. G. Carleton, who put Peterborough's need into unmistakeable words, and also criticised the staffs of mental hospitals who, he said "live in a world of their own". The Peterborough representatives at the meeting made it very plain to Dr. Miller that our need here is great.

* * *

It is not, of course, that there are an unusual number of insane, or unbalanced, or retarded people in Peterborough. But this city is the medical centra for five well-populated counties as well as for this city; local physicians have to deal with cases every week which are in need of psychiatric treatment; there is no psychiatrist here, and a general practitioner has neither the time nor the clinical experience to treat such patients according to their needs. The mental hospitals, as Dr. Carleton pointed out, do not co-operate readily with local physicians, and they are so crowded that they can accept only the most serious cases. Under these circumstances there can be no treatment for borderline cases—the very patients who have the best chances of complete recovery.

* * *

This is a disgraceful situation in a city which is otherwise able to provide excellent medical service. The disgrace will continue until informed public opinion gets behind the doctors and the social workers and demands that something be done about it. There is very little that Peterborough can do without outside help. It would, of course, be an excellent thing if a qualified psychiatrist were to settle in the city and practise here, but it would not solve our problem; one man, working alone, could not scrape the surface of the matter, for his fees would necessarily be large—the long training which psychiatry demands and the exhausting nature of the work account for this—and great numbers of those who needed his services could not pay for them. A public clinic, supported by public funds, is the only real solution.

* * *

First of all, however, the public must change its ideas about mental illness and psychiatric treatment. Many people have a lingering idea that insanity is either funny or unspeakably horrible; it is neither. It is a form of disease, and in all but a few cases it can be cured or at least kept in check if it is detected soon enough. There is nothing disgraceful about it. A family is no more to be scorned because it has produced a lunatic than because it has produced a consumptive, a diabetic or a case of cancer.

* * *

But utter insanity is comparatively rare. It is the borderline cases of neurosis, showing themselves in prolonged depression, in baseless fancies, in a sense of persecution, and in irrational behaviour, which are common. Most of these illnesses respond well to treatment but such treatment may take many months, and demands great skill. A general practitioner, even though he may recognize many such cases, can do little more than recommend rest or a change of scene, neither of which get at the root of the matter; and thus he must watch curable cases of neurosis degenerate into extreme cases, with a cure becoming more remote with every passing month.

* * *

As well as the unmistakeably insane and the borderline cases, there are children who need special treatment because they are, for one reason or another, mentally retarded. Many of these have a good chance of growing up to lead useful and happy lives, if they can be given the right help at the right time. There are teachers in Peteborough who have done fine work with such children, but often they need expert advice. A mental clinic could provide it.

* * *

There are plenty of doctors, social workers, teachers, clegymen and others in Peterborough and the district round about who knew the misery that is caused by untreated mental illness. If the public at large will only realize that perhaps eighty per cent. of that misery is avoidable, and that a mental clinic here would do much to avoid it, much will have been achieved. For if the people of Peterborough want a mental health clinic badly enough they will surely have one within the next five years.

The Rolling Earth

"The earth does not withhold, it is generous enough". So wrote the American poet Walt Whitman in his "Song of the Rolling Earth". It is Mother Earth, giving with a female fullness, a primal urge. Even this arid summer in southern Ontario, and despite the doleful forecasts of people assessing each day's sunshine and lack of rain in dollar losses, the hay has come on, though it is short; the wheat has ripened, though with many kernels unplumped; the gourds are forming and flowers blooming. The earth is generous enough.

The earth does not argue,
Is not pathetic, has no arrangements . . .
Makes no discriminations, has no conceivable failures,
Closes nothing, refuses nothing, shuts none out.

One effect of the sun and dryness has been to hasten the summer and its crops. Before we can say Jack Robinson or contract for a threshing machine the harvest season will be with us. And townsfolk on holiday from buzzing shop and noisy machine are already returning from lazy days and resorts to which their minds had turned for fifty weeks. Very quickly pass the days of summer, because each twenty-four-hour period is an ecstasy of delight. Time's flight is shadowed even now in July, in high-summer.

Seen at hand or at a distance,
Duly the twenty-four appear in public every day
Duly approach and pass with their companions or a companion,
Looking from no countenances of their own, but from the countenance of those who are with them,
From the countenances of children or women or the manly countenance
From the open countenances of animals or from inanimate things,
From the landscape or waters or from the exquisite apparition of the sky . . .
Embracing man, embracing all, proceed the three hundred and sixty-five resistlessly round the sun;
Embracing all, soothing, supporting, follow close three hundred and sixty-five offsets of the first, sure and necessary as they.
Tumbling on steadily, nothing dreading,
Sunshine, storm, cold, heat, forever withstanding, passing, carrying,
The soul's realization and determination still inheriting . . .
The divine ship sails the divine sea.

Whitman's is a song of the rolling earth yet he gives in it the admonition:

Each man to himself and each woman to herself, is the word of the past and the present, and the true word of immortality;
No one can acquire for another—not one,
No one can grow for another—not one.

His song of the rolling earth is of lonely humanity.

Encouraging Note From Israel

A news note informs us that the widow of a Jewish officer who was sentenced to death and executed by Hagana last year, as a traitor, has been informed that her husband was innocent. This will not dry the widow's tears, but at least it tells her that she lives in a country where the government has the courage to admit it has made a mistake, and that is worth a great deal to the whole of Israel.

It is a terrible thing when a man's country takes his life wrongfully. But it is a much worse thing when a government refuses to admit such mistakes when they occur. The government of Israel shows a respect for decency, and a realization of its own fallibility which speaks well for its future.

A natural scientist says that you can tell the temperature by counting the number of chirps a cricket gives in 14 seconds, and adding 46. Or, alternatively, count the number of times you have to claw your shirt away from your back in five minutes, and add 80.

Science Attacks Cancer

By MAURICE GOLDSMITH for UNESCO

THE Executive Council of the International Union Against Cancer is meeting in Paris from 18 to 26 July to make plans for the 5th international Congress, which is to be held in Paris next year. This may seem a bit of routine news, but it is more important than you think. Your own life may conceivably hinge upon it. Here is the reason why: Cancer has been shown to be one of the most curable of all diseases. On the other hand, more persons than ever, especially in the advanced Western industrialized states, are dying of cancer. This is, in part, a reflection of the effectiveness of modern healing. People are living longer. Those who die of cancer are mainly in age groups of 40 and over and, but for modern medicine, would have died of other illnesses. Unfortunately that is not the whole story.

❖ ❖ ❖

CANCER is a growth consisting of cells that have run riot and do not obey the normal laws. These cells, in their extravagant growth, form tumours which ultimately kill. If detected in its early stages, a cancerous growth can be very simply removed, either by surgery or by radiation. The trouble is that it is not very easy to detect these growths. No pain accompanies them or give warning signs. What doctors are in urgent need of is a method of early warning. The normal danger-signals for cancer include: a sore that will not heal, especially in the region of the tongue; a lump that gives no pain, particularly about the breast, lip or tongue; irregular bleeding or discharge from any natural body opening; change in the colour or size of a mole or birthmark; continuous indigestion; hoarseness that is difficult to get rid of; and any change in bowel habits.

❖ ❖ ❖

PARTICULAR importance is attached to methods of early diagnosis developed by Dr. D. G. N. Papanicolaou, of New York, and Dr. J. Ernest Ayer, of Montreal's McGill University. Their techniques are known as cytolgy smears. They have been used for many years with very good results in diagnosing cancer of the womb. These methods were developed because, on the average, about three out of every ten women suffering from cancer, have cancer of the womb. Dr. Papanicolaou found that by smearing some of the vaginal secretions onto a microscope slide and by dyeing the cells with special stains to bring out the cellular structure, they could be examined under the microscope for the presence of cancer cells. Dr. Ayer improved on this by using scrapings from the surface of the womb. This technique offers no inconvenience for the patient, and it is stated to be 98 per cent. accurate. This method—known as surface biopsy—may be used to examine the possibility of cancer in other parts of the body.

MODERN investigation of cancer tends to the view that it is probably a series of diseases, each with something in common, but different in some fundamental ways. If this is so, then research must be aimed at determining wherein the differences lie, and at establishing a different cure for each form of cancer. A year ago, I stood 13,000 ft. high on Jungfraujoch in the Swiss Alps where, in a small cabin I watched some mice. They were exposed to the powerful cosmic rays that showered down upon this earth from outer space. The scientist conducting the experiment was asking whether these powerful rays have any effect in producing cancerous conditions in the skin. The answer is not yet ready, but from the University of California's Radiation Laboratory, comes the news that scientists have been able to develop a sharp pencil of cancer-killing particles. These have been made possible by the use of an atom smashing machine. These particles can be placed at the heart of a cancerous mass, below the surface of the skin without fear that the surrounding healthy tissues will be destroyed. This has always been the great danger in the use of radium. Experiments with these particles were conducted on mice with breast tumours, and 40% of the mice who otherwise would certainly have died, were saved.

❖ ❖ ❖

AS a result of the development of the atomic pile, we have other weapons in the fight against cancer. These are, for example, radioactive iodine and radioactive cobalt. The latter is now regarded as an effective substitute for radium. It is much cheaper; for $25 can be bought more than enough radioactive cobalt to equal, on a dosage basis, $500 worth of radium.

❖ ❖ ❖

THERE have been theories that cancer can be spread through a virus, that is, bacteria responsible for the spread of such illnesses as common colds, influenza, poliomyelitis, measles and mumps. Dr. Ida Mann of London's Imperial Cancer Research Fund, reported recently that she had transmitted some form of cancer to her laboratory mice by using dried cancer tissues. This was evidence that a virus can cause some types of cancer. Research is now directed at attempting to isolate this virus, because if it can be seen, then it can be conquered.

❖ ❖ ❖

IT is believed that there is a relation between the functioning of the glands and cancer. New researches are being made into the relationship between the thyroid gland and cancer, and the pituitary gland, which controls growth, and cancer. Nearly every day some new clue to the riddle of cancer, or some improvement in the technique of treating it, is brought to light.

❖ ❖ ❖

AS I write these lines I suspect that somewhere in the world cancer cases are being cured which everywhere else are considered incurable. Sooner or later the method which produces these cures will be known and practised throughout the world. Whether it is soon enough for you, or too late, depends upon congresses like the one which will meet in Paris next year upon the abstracting and translating of scientific articles, upon the whole international machinery for the exchange of scientific information.

A New Resistance Movement

(CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR)

CHRISTIANITY as such stands above and apart from any political or economic system. It is the critic of all man-made systems. On this basis the World Council of Churches last year condemned both communism and capitalism for the varying degrees of materialism to be found in them, and called for a Christian balance between political liberty and economic justice.

Now, fastening its attention on the basic religious liberties which are threatened by totalitarianism of the Left and Right, the central committee of the world council has issued a stirring call for Christian resistance to tyranny. There can be no social justice, says the committee, which does not recognize religious freedom as the condition and guardian of all true freedom.

As the voice of the Protestant and Orthodox denominations of 44 countries, the World Council of Churches speaks with authority. It should hearten the fearful Christians behind the Iron Curtain to hear this ringing declaration of faith that the liberty which they receive from their Lord cannot be taken away by the violence or threat of any world power or destroyed by suffering." It should hearten also the Protestants in Franco Spain, who suffer much the same persecution there as the members of all sects in Communist countries.

This is no call, however, to a holy war. It aims at strengthening Christian resistance through purifying its faith and practice, and it recognizes, in true Christian fashion, that "the churches themselves must bear no small part of the blame for the resentments among the underprivileged masses of the world, since their own efforts to realize the brotherhood of man have been so weak."

Coming at the same time that the Vatican has invoked its most powerful weapon of excommunication against Roman Catholics who adhere to comunism, the spokesmen for the world council appeal rather to the positive practice of Christianity as a demonstration of true brotherhood and true justice. They urge ministers to "continue to preach the whole gospel"—and behind their words is a remembrance of the magnificent resistance made by Christian ministers and their followers to Nazi oppression in the war years.

The churches have come a long way from the day when they could be almost automatically associated with the defence of the status quo and entrenched privilege. They compete with today's revolutionary movements by embracing a wider liberty, a more genuine justice, a deeper devotion to the groping aspirations of all men. They are learning not only to "stand fast . . . in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free," but to "press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus," and thus establish His kingdom on earth.

Such an attitude holds within itself the seed of a new Reformation.

GILES draws his audience

OPEN to the public recently—an Exhibition of Humorous Art in London. Giles paid a visit. . . . His task had a touch of novelty. For instead of his normal pencil-reporting on some subject for the amusement of his audience he did some reporting on an audience for the amusement of himself. . . .

Cartoonists seeing the point in each other's jokes.

"I'm afraid it will have to be a very, very funny exhibition to make us laugh."

"I don't see anything funny about that."

"Do you dare to stand there and tell us you're Giles?"

"Why does he always draw people so confoundedly ugly?"

"One more piece of chewing-gum on the pictures and you've had it."

"Now wherever do you get the inspiration for all those funny people you draw?"

You'll notice that all cartoons boil down to the old banana skin joke.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

O Lord God of hosts, who is a strong Lord like unto thee? or to thy faithfulness round about thee?....Justice and judgement are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face.

Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound: they shall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance. (Ps. 89: 8, 14, 15.)

O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me; let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles. (Ps. 43: 3.)

❖ ❖ ❖

The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory. Thy sun shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended. (Isa 60: 19, 20.)

❖ ❖ ❖

And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved.

But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God. (John 3: 19-21.)

Letter To The Editor

AMAZED BY BOARD OF EDUCATION

Sir: As one interested in education and as a mother of children, I was shocked to read the resolution which passed unanimously at the last meeting of the Board of Education.

The account of the discussion pertaining to the promotion results in the P.C.V.S., appeared not only in the local papers but in those of Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto and no doubt in others.

This account which cast disrepute on an honurable profession and a teaching staff which is probably second to none in the province, certainly did not reflect much credit on the character or intelligence of the individual board member.

May I suggest that the "disturbed feeling" which some of the Board members seem to have experienced, would better be turned in the direction of home conditions generally, which are allowed by parents, to interfere with school work.

Even if, as a result of this investigation the teachers are completely vindicated, irreparable damage has been done. First—to the prestige of our community. Second—to the enviable reputations of our school. Third—to our adolescent boys and girls, who, at that age are ever prone to shift the responsibility for their own shortcomings and as well, to be critical of those in authority.

Lastly but by no means of least importance is the effect it will have on necessary appointments to the teaching staff from year to year.

Hardly had the furor of the fiasco of two years ago died down, than our Board of Education felt it necessary to have, once again, our school in the limelight. Will this encourage teachers of high standard to apply for these positions?

In any other profession, medical, legal or clerical, only those using unethical practices are ever humiliated by public criticism and censure, whereas teachers, as a class seem to be constantly open to this unfair form of attack. Are we going to draw the best type of person into the teaching profession using these tactics?

I would like to question whether the Board of Education has not gone beyond the province of its duties in demanding an account of the successes or failure of one year?

One would feel that this rightly belongs to the Principal and teaching staff whom the Board have appointed and in whom, they should have, accordingly, full confidence for that phase of the school's work.

Should not the Board restrict its activities to the business administration of the various schools for which they are apparently better suited?

Yours sincerely,
ANNE ROWELL.

Whether you are a drinkin'-water sailor or not, a sight to gladden the eye is the Saturday, Sunday and holiday sailing races on Kawartha Lakes that are going great guns this season. Last Sunday afternoon I watched 15 craft tacking over the triangular course from Juniper Island to the black buoy off Hall's Island, to Viamede and back. Heeling over to a stiff south-east breeze, they came swiftly and silently through the shoal rocks in front of Eagle Mount. The only sound was the chuckling of water under the windward bows as the boats drove along and the slatting of halyards on taut canvas as they spun around the marking buoy to change tack. Many famous boats were doing their stuff. There was Lyman Crawford-Brown's KESTREL, Keith Russell's SPREE, Harry Huff's GULL, Rob Willoughby's PIXIE and Dr. Stan Braund's FELIX. Harold (Keeler) Knapman's CYGNET was missing. The Cygnet is as well-known as its skipper, a 24-foot sloop built by Keeler's father in 1903. It has been on Stony Lake since 1906, the year it won the Lake Ontario championship in her class, and has collected cups and pennants without number for the Knapmans.

Keeler And Our Lake Sailing

The sport of sailing in the Kawarthas is synonymous with "Keeler" Knapman, a man who has done more to keep the sport alive through lean and good seasons than any other man. To begin with he is Peterborough born and bred and came as naturally to water sports, especially sailing, as a duck takes to water. He is not only a crack sailor but a builder of sailing craft of all kinds and repair man when things go wrong. If the trouble is a sprung centreboard or transom, broken rigging or spars, leaky planking, Keeler will set things shipshape. To guess his age, one might venture that he has passed the fifty-year mark and he has been working with sailboats for a great many of them. A stretch at business in Picton, where he now lives, was not for him; and he went back to boats at Picton in winter and to his island summer home off Mount Julian in summer. There is only one thing the boys have objected to about Keeler and that was a most disreputable, weather-beaten, shapeless yachting hat that he has worn for years. They presented him with a new one this season, a gesture from their hearts in good fun, for they are not a dressy crowd, but after all, he is current president of the Stony Lake Aquatic Association.

Other executives of the Association are Jim Collins, vice-president and David Russell, secretary-treasurer. On the directorate are R. K. Slater, Kathleen McCormack, Lyman Crawford-Brown, Dr. Stan Braund, Rob Willoughby and Derry Smith. There are three sailing courses on the Kawarthas, on Clear Lake off Kawartha Park, on Lower Stony, mentioned above, and off Crowe's Landing on Upper Stony Lake. Very often there are cruises to Chemong Lake and Sturgeon Point to race with host sailors. A unique challenge among members is called the EGG CUP event. It is perpetual and may be contested by any one challenging the holder to race at any time, place or under any conditions. Needless to say it changes hands very frequently during the season. To show how popular sailing is in the Kawarthas, as many as 81 craft took part in one event in 1948.

As an enthusiastic onlooker you will be more than welcome by Kawartha sailors as long as talk is in nautical terms within their hearing; a rope is a line, right is starboard, left is port, the sail rope is the main sheet and the tie rope, a painter. If you persist in these mistakes, they will scuttle you, so help me.

An eight-day aerial trip in the Patricia District of Northwestern Ontario to pay Indian Treaty money has again been completed. Dr. Harkness, regional forrester Keith Atchison, Indian Agent Gifford Swartzman and others made up the party, and payment was made to bands on 12 reserves. Officials found the natives conservation wise in the matter of fish, fur and game resources but that the division between living and starvation was rather delicate. Movie shows 1½ hours in length were shown at Trout Lake, the first many natives had ever seen.

We heard of a lady angler at Camp Cleveland the other day who was justifiably angry about the issuance of non-resident licenses. It appeared that she bought an individual license early in the season for $5.50 and when her family arrived decided to turn it on on an eight-dollar family permit. She was told by the issuer that she could not do so, but, according to Game Warden Robert Trotter, it is perfectly in order. All the lady had to do was to turn in her first license to the original issuer for cancellation and pay the difference for a new permit.

Colored Specs In The Sun Fads, Fashion or Healthy?

By JACK BROWN

July 1 has come and gone, but the sale of sunglasses rolls merrily on. The Dominion Day weekend, combined with the American Independence Day, annually produces a run on all sorts of shapes, styles and colors of supposedly protective glasses. After the big weekend, sales settle down into an even pattern throughout the summer.

Sunglasses seem to have universal appeal, and are so designed as to make Junior dig deep for 20 cents in an effort to look like a multi-millionaire on a Caribbean cruise, or to make an adult go for a pair of blinkers that make him look as if he's just back from a trip on the Berlin airlift. Cheaper styles are consistently crowding out the more expensive brands, and in the opinion of eye specialists, are constantly making the collective eyes of the nation worse.

Those swept-back aviation glasses that are the prize possession of convertible owners, motorcyclists and just plain people, are even yet high in the popularity field. Their price has decreased considerably since the distribution of war assets became a thriving business.

Managers of five-and-ten cent stores say that the trend is towards the higher-priced glasses, while optometrists find that every time they bring out a new style in a more expensive, well-ground glass, they are undercut by mass production and cheaper prices.

Women, of late, have been going in great numbers to buy artificial diamond-studded green lenses that look sharp but are seldom optically - ground. Optometrists and medical men feel that a great many eye abuses arise from the use of these "blown" lenses. They are full of "strain marks," they claim. These marks are the lines occasioned by the cooling of the glass against the frame on which it was blown.

It has been found that green is the best color for the purpose, as it cuts out more of the acute rays of the sun than any other. The value of any other color, such as yellow, is practically negligible, because their sole function is cutting down the glare, and not filtering the sun rays.

The general opinion is that Americans, being more "quality-conscious", buy better glasses than the average Canadian. And the trend lately has been to buy sunglasses filled on optometrists' prescription. Women appear to wear the shaders more than men, at least in public.

At any rate, the urge to wear blinkers is still there. Even if some of them have little medical value, they still may appeal as ornaments.

Haying and Harvesting Give Nostalgia To Oversea Folk

By HAZEL PAULL.

The smell of freshly mown hay, the fun which is such a happy feature of haymaking, the pleasant feeling of weariness which seems to descend as the last load is drawn into the barn an hour or two after sunset—these are the things which arouse envy in the breast of most city dwellers as they see the farmers at work in the harvest fields. The hay is now stored away in the barn, most of the wheat crop is in and threshing machines have been in operation throughout the countryside during the past week.

The anxiety shared by farmers in all parts of the Dominion during the June drought is now over. The worst—if that is the correct word—has been assessed. Farmers are saying the hay crop is the worst they have had for years but in spite of this sad story, some farmers around Peterborough will have surplus for sale.

The good but pine; the order of the day
Is—prey on others, or become a prey . .
With which, who will not readily comply,
But rates a vagrant, and as such may die
—Howard Fish (1819)

Many of the workers helping with the harvest this year are comparative newcomers to this country, some from displaced persons' camps in Europe and others from the Scandinavian countries, from Britain and other nations across the Atlantic.

For them, the harvest is probably the most nostalgic of all experiences in their new homeland. Methods may differ somewhat but the happy time of harvest is the same the world over.

Pitching hay with a three pronged fork, for instance, is a new experience for people from Britain. They seem to manage equally well with only two prongs.

The absence of hay stacks which are to be seen on almost every country vista in England after the harvest, and, in fact, through the year in diminishing numbers, may puzzle newcomers until they investigate the barns which are now full of hay. Winters in England are not sufficiently harsh to warrant the use of hay barns.

Stacking is an annual operation on every English farm, always on a remote piece of land away from houses, barns and hedges.

The stacks serve another purpose besides being a source of supply during the winter. They vary in shape in different parts of the country and a wandering traveller could almost guess which county he is in by observing the shape of the hay stacks.

Driving through the Ontario countryside the visitor from England sees two distinct differences in appearance between a field of cut wheat. Even after the hottest summers, England never produces wheat with as rich a copper colour as Canadian crops. Wheat fields in England are more truly golden in color.

To the city dweller who knows none of the whys and wherefores of farming methods, the Canadian harvester seems to leave his fields looking extremely untidy. Grain is stooked in neat rows so methodically in England that the lines are as straight as the ranks of a crack regiment of soldiers on the parade ground. Whether from the side, end or corner of the field the pattern is symmetrical.

English farmers say the crop is easier to gather in that way.

The English and Canadian languages differ in respect to the names of some crops. The corn grown in Canada is known to the English as maize. It is known only in name, for there is no corn on the cob in England by that name or any other. Corn to the English is another name for wheat.

According to the Oxford dictionary corn is a term used locally to mean the leading crop. Thus in England it is wheat and in Scotland oats.

Bogus Stocks From Canada Receive An American Glare

("Changing Times," The Kiplinger Magazine)

Certain Canadian mine and oil promoters must believe what P. T. Barnum reputedly said about a sucker being born in the United States every minute.

Right now they are fishing furiously with pamphlets and phone calls for these suckers. They are actually catching some, and will catch more unless U. S. investors, particularly small investors, remember three things:

1. The greatest known gamble is to invest in a speculative gold mine or oil well.

2. The persuasiveness of any stock promoter's talk has little to do with the worth of the hole in the ground he tries to sell.

3. If the securities the Canadian promoters sell are on the level, they will be registered with the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission. If they aren't registered, U. S. securities laws are being violated when they are offered for sale in the United States. The dealers who offer them are violating our laws unless they themselves are registered.

Think of that registration point, first of all, when the mailman hands you an attarctive mine stock come-on, with a Toronto post-mark. Toronto seems to be the headquarters of the promoters now.

These promoters know, of course, that it is unlawful to solicit or sell unregistered issues in the United States. But they also know that the extradition treaty between this country and Canada does not cover violations of securities laws. They can be prosecuted only if they cross the border and get caught. They have watched the Canadian Parliament daily for eight years without ratifying a proposed treaty which would bring them to book. (The U. S. Senate ratified this treaty in 1942.)

The Association of Better Business Bureaus has tried to arouse the public against speculative Canadian mine and oil - well schemes. But there is one unofficial estimate that in 1945 a million dollars a week was rushed to Toronto for wildcat ventures. The promoters are still hard at work.

Many Canadian stocks, of course, are very good. But not enough safeguards have been raised against the dishonest fringe of promoters who bilk the U.S. public.

Each of the Dominion's 10 provinces has its own legislation regulating sales of securities and enforcement methods. But Canada has no national agency comparable to our SEC.

About a year ago following complaints, the Securities Commission of Ontario canceled the registrations of several Toronto brokers. The record showed that one of the brokers was charging Americans 35 cents per share for stock of Trans-Canada Mines, Ltd. which had gone in the Toronto over-the-counter market for 6 to 9 cents a share.

The Supreme Court of Ontario denied the appeals of four Toronto salesmen whose registrations had been revoked. The record disclosed that in a three-month period the four salesmen got commissions totaling $73,477 from the firm of T. Earl Reid & Co. of Toronto. The Securities Commission, which revoked the registrations, found, the firm's operation in promoting Silver Arrow Mines, Ltd., were comparable to operations in a "boiler room." In this instance the Boston Better Business Bureau had complained.

But in the main the U.S. Securities & Exchange Commission, the various state securities commissions and the better business bureaus are handicapped. The only way they can strike is through complaint to Canada and through wide publicity in this country.

The SEC gets many letters from Americans asking the worth of Canadian oil and mining companies in which they have invested. All the commission can say, in many instances, is that the stock is unregistered.

The absence of registration, of course, implies a warning. But in the case of the high-pressure Toronto operators, warnings should be unnecessary. For there is nothing original in their approach. Here is the precise technique, taken from a case history:

A Marylander received some literature and sent $20 to Chaplin Securities, Ltd., for 100 shares of Big Dan Mines, Ltd. After a few days more literature came, this time oozing extreme optimism about the mine's prospects. Then came a long-distance phone call from Toronto.

The stock, the Marylander was told, had advanced to 60 cents a share but was pegged at 40 cents for early subscribers. He had better buy more before it was too late.

But the approach had worn thin. Instead of buying more he called the SEC.

Here is a sample of promoter's literature sent on behalf of Big Dan Mines:

"I don't pretend to be a prophet, but I think I can tell you who is going to make a lot of money in the next few years. It is the man who gets in at the development stage on a mine that proves to have both richness and extent. Homestake was such a one—and it is the basis of the vast Hearst fortune today. In the records of Canadian mining you can read the stories of simply dozens of others."

And then pretty soon comes the touch.

Oil stocks are now being pushed harder in Toronto promotions than mining stocks. This is doubtless due to the recent oil boom—a legitimate boom—in Alberta. The literature or sucker bait, for speculative oil ventures, however, is like that sent out for the mines.

Many Canadians are disturbed and chagrined over these operations, though they say the Dominion has taken some measures to bring abatement. One Canadian reports:

"I doubt that we will completely solve the problem until, by means of legislation, we insure that funds obtained from the sale of mining securities are actually used to develop the property. I rather doubt, however, that our legislative officials are prepared to take this step."

So until Canada tightens up its laws, the investor should pay special heed to advice from the Association of Better Business Bureaus: "Before you invest—investigate."

Wildisms

(Note: These phrases of wit and wisdom are to be found in the first eight pages of Oscar Wilde's novel, "The Picture of Dorian Gray". Hundreds of others abound in the remaining pages. Wilde died in 1900 at the age of 46.)

"There is no such thing as a moral or an immoral book. Books are well written, or badly written. That is all."

"No artist has ethical sympathies. An ethical sympathy in an artist with an unpardonable mannerism of style."

"We can forgive a man for making a useful thing as long as he does not admire it. The only excuse for making a useless thing is that one admires it intensely... All art is quite useless."

"Beauty, real beauty, ends where an intellectual expression begins. Intellect is in itself a mode of exaggeration and destroys the harmony of any face. The moment one sits down to think, one becomes all nose, or all forehead, or something horrid. Look at the successful men in any of the learned professions. How perfectly hideous they are! Except, of course, in the Church. But then in the Church they don't think. HURDLING ENDS AT 42—Don Finlay, nearest camera, won this heat and the final to close an illustrious career by taking the 120-yard hurdles in Amateur Athletic Association's Championships at London's White City Stadium. The stout-hearted wing commander, now 42, fell after clearing the last hurdle in front in an Olympic Games heat last summer. He plans to retire.

Petes Lose Another Game To St. Kitts In Close Fray

St. Catharines Athletics took a firmer grip on fifth place in the OLA senior "A" standing here last night by nosing out the sixth-place Petes 12-11 before 2,000 fans in Miller Bowl. They finished stronger to earn the win, outscoring the Creighton crew 3-1 in the fourth quarter, after trailing all through. The count was 4-1 for Peterborough the first inning, 8-5 for them at the half, and they just had a 10-9 edge to end the third as they started to fade. Play was fast, close and pretty clean all the way through.

It looked like the locals would take this one and improve their chances of sticking to a playoff spot, as they go to Weston on Monday. But again they rolled up a first-half lead only to slip toward the finish as the husky visitors kept battling to finally even the count and then go in front. St. Kitts were up two for a brief space in the fourth, but the Petes got one back to make it mighty interesting in a fine fray. A few more breaks and they would have copped the duke.

Dootch Stars

Dootch Vitarelli starred for the losers, scoring five goals in a nifty all-around performance. Goalie Ralph Speck also looked real good, turning aside a lot of hot thrusts and not fanning on any soft ones. Bob Thorpe was another local hustler, scoring one and aiding on three more and Jack Foote looked good with two tallies. Ron Horton helped on a pair and Lou Vitarelli was in on two. Frick, Dugan, Warren, Teatero, McNulty and Chute each figured in on one. Hildebrand and Croft counted three apiece for the winners, with D'Amico getting two, and Bradshaw, O'Heron, Fitzgerald and Whipper getting one apiece.

The teams:

St. Catharines. Goal, Timlock; defence, Madson and Whipper; centre, Urquhart; wings, Hildebrand and Croft; rover, O'Heron; alternates, Cove, Myers, Fitzgerald, Bradshaw, D'Amico, Frick and McNulty.

Petes. Goal, Speck; defence, J. Creighton and Chute; centre, E. Creighton; wings, Foote and Teatero; rover, L. Vitarelli; alternates, Horton, Thorpe, D. Vitarelli, Dugan, Frick, Warren and McNulty.

Referees: J. Murphy and L. Vipond.

Wings Polish Off Bisons In 7-2 Triumph

(By The Associated Press)

The rapid rise of Rochester Red Wings to a contending position in the International League pennant race is attributed to a lot of reasons but one seldom mentioned is Johnny Keane.

Keane, 38-year-old skipper of the Wings, is serving his first season as manager of a triple-A team but he came to it highly recommended.

He began his managerial career as a player-manager with Albany of the Georgia-Florida league in 1938, winning the pennant and the playoffs his first season.

Including that season, Keane has managed four pennant and playoff winners and has never finished out of the first division in eight seasons. He was in the service from 1942-45.

The second-place Wings polished off the league-leading Buffalo Bisons 7-2 Friday night to pull to within 3½ games of the Bisons. The triumph was Rochester's sixth straight over Buffalo and their ninth in 13 meetings with the Bisons.

Rookie Tom Poholsky limited the Bisons to seven hits, three of them going to his opposing pitcher, Saul Rogovin. The triumph was Poholosky's 12th against five losses.

Poholosky nursed a 3-2 lead going into the seventh when the Wings sewed up the game with a four-run drive that Russ Derry highlighted with a two-run double.

Take Third Place

Jersey City Giants took over third-place from Montreal Royals, downing Syracuse 2-1 in 14 innings while the Royals bowed 5-2 to Toronto Maple Leafs.

Red Hardy of the Giants and Hank Perkowski of the Chiefs engaged in scoreless duel for 13 innings. The Giants, with the aid of an error, scored twice in the 14th. The Chiefs struck back with one in their half but Hardy struck out Perkowski with the tying run on second to end the game.

The Leafs weathered a six-run ninth-inning Montreal rally in downing the Royals. Montreal out-hit Toronto 18-13, but four errors and six walks helped the Toronto cause.

Earl Harrist pitched Newark Bears to a 7-2 triumph over Baltimore Orioles. Bobby Young's two-run homer in the first innings accounted for the Baltimore scoring.

Cricketers Head West For Meet

EDMONTON, July 23 (CP) — Top cricketers from four Canadian provinces will invade Edmonton and Calgary next week for a six-day tournament to decide the Dominion championship.

When the first matches get under way here Sunday, the defending champion squad from Ontario is favored to hold off strong bids for the national trophy from British Columbia, Alberta and Manitoba. All squads are all-star selections which include men who played in senior matches in the United Kingdom.

The tournaments were begun in 1947, when British Columbia and Ontario shaped

Ontario shared the trophy and title. Last year, Ontario tripped up the B. C. eleven at Vancouver to gain sole possession of the championship.

During their three days in Edmonton, the four teams will play six matches, then travel to Calgary for an equal number. The championship is awarded on a point basis, a victory counting five, a tie 2½ and a draw two. A draw does not mean that both elevens scored an equal number of runs but when one team is trailing and the time limit runs out, the two "draw" points are awarded each club.

Durham Playoffs

MILLBROOK, July 23 (ENS)— In the second game of the Durham County playoffs between Blackstock and Millbrook, Blackstock won by a score of 5-3 in Exhibition Park, Millbrook, before a capacity crowd on Friday evening.

The first game of this playoff series played in Blackstock last Saturday, July 16 ended in a 5-5 tie. The next game will be played Tuesday evening, July 26, in Bethany.

Millbrook battery for the game played Friday was: Brenton Dawson, pitcher; Roy Dawson, catcher. Blackstock battery: Werry, pitcher, McGill, catcher.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Glancing o'er the local fairways with the look of eagles in our orbs, we note considerable golfing activity on the horizon. At the Peterborough Club next week-end, the southpaws and right-handers tee off for The Examiner Trophy. And the Glover-Dobbin Trophy will be settled betwixt the two clubs here on Aug. 6 on the north-end course. Big event of the year at the Kawartha Club is the three-day invitation tournament on Civic Holiday week-end. A flock of top-flight golfers will compete for lucre, hailing from all parts of the province. Also nine-hole trophy play for the lasses out there, commencing Aug. 4.

Top spot in the COBL standing is at stake this aft as the Petes play in Oshawa. They're tied now on points, well in front of the third-place Batawa bunch. The Petes would be idle then till Civic Holiday, but they've lined up an exhibition for six p.m. Tuesday in Riverside with the Philadelphia Colored Giants, a touring semi-pro club. They may also arrange an exhibition for next Saturday here to keep local fans supplied with senior ball during the dog days. Schedule runs till Aug. 20 when COBL playoffs commence, followed by OBA playdowns in September.

Winding Up Schedule

Uniteds and Knights tangle tonight at 7.30, weather permitting, in the Bowl to wind up the City Softball League schedule. Best-of-seven semi-finals follow maybe next week—but no dates have been set yet—between Cosmos and Knights, as Uniteds have a bye into the finals for finishing first. Outlaws and Jewellers dropped out a week before the finish. We're not blaming the managers or sponsors of these teams, but feel critical of those players who failed to show up for games the past week or two. And we think the executive should have shortened the schedule to avoid playing when a third or more of the city is on vacation. For this reason, semi-finals might be laid over for another week.

* * * * * *

A couple of colleens' softball contests at the Bowl d'Ashburnham yester gloaming with Westclox winning 12-7 from Marines, and Woollens coming on to victory 9-5 'gainst Ashby's. Some costly kicks of the apple in the orchard for the losing squads in both cases, whilst the winners had the hurling and hitting to earn their decisions. S. Johnston, L. Jordan, M. Freeman, S. Curtis and M. Hawthorne were the main stickers in this twin offering. According to the schedule, there's but one tussle for Monday eve, Lindsay vs. Ashby's. Next Wednesday has Ashby's vs. Westclox and then Lindsay vs. Westclox, a busy night for the Clockers. Schedule winds up on Aug. 5, with playoffs following right away.

It's Another Loss

Same old story in senior "A" lacrosse, the Petes lost another one. It was a tight tilt, 12-11 for St. Catharines here last eve, but it still goes down in the standing as just another loss. Might as well be 22-11 as far as wins and losses go. A nifty game just the same and at least 2,000 fans enjoyed it, even if they sounded sore coming out. You don't like to lose those close ones against teams you should beat. The Petes are still in sixth spot while St. Kitts are in fifth, and unless the locals can nose out Weston, they won't make the playoffs. But the fans are most loyal—they've averaged nearly 1,900 a game to date—and the home games generally have been good.

* * * * * *

Some kicking at the refereeing last p.m. but that's natural in a close contest. Two guys were ejected by the law for trying to get tough with big Harry Whipper in the penalty box after he had roughed up Bob Thorpe. However, they were safe as there's a screen around the sin bin. Dootch Vitarelli turned in another bangup performance, scoring five markers and coming close on several more. He, Speck, Thorpe and Foote looked best to us, some of the others not mucking in enough the last half. Hildebrand and Croft led the visitors, who were minus their regular goalie. The Petes aren't doing too badly their first year up, but they fade in the fourth nearly every number.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

A week-end at the cottage
Holds a hundred new delights,
Dawns when the air is crystal clear,
And quiet star-filled nights,
A peace that cities never know,
Clean healthy dreams and fire glow.

In a week-end at the cottage
There is healing and release,
Where tired nerves can often find
A blessed zone of peace,
For Mother Nature reigns supreme
In the soft hush of woods and stream.

No doubt, now that the holiday season is in full force, it is only natural that our attendance at local tournaments may drop off some — however the show must go on and tonight we will hold the regular week-end Family Hour mixed rink tournament at 7.30 o'clock. Come on out and have a swell time. This is the most popular local tournament we have.

On Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock the games committee is holding a mixed double tournament. Choose your own partner—50c a pair.

It will be W. Jeffries and R. Gamble vs. A. Mauder and K. Shadgett in the provincial doubles this evening. A Mauder and K. Shadgett eliminated H. Coleman and V. Hill in the semi-finals Friday evening 24-11. It is a 21-end game.

Minor Lacrosse

Coach Jack Foote has lined up the following schedule for the minor lacrossers during the daytime at Miller Bowl next week:

Tadpole Rockets play Spitfires Monday at 10 a.m., followed by the peewees Petes and Tigers. At 1.30, peewee Terriers play Cyclones, with Legion Bantams practising after, and Kiwanis midgets drilling at 3.30. Peewee all-stars workout at 11 a.m. Tuesday with Hurricanes having a tadpole practise at 1.30, and Hughes bantams drilling at 2.30. Next day sees tadpole Hurricanes playing Spitfires at 10, followed by the peewee Petes against Terriers. The peewee Tigers meet the Cyclones at 1.30, with All Saints bantams practising at 2.30, and Irwin-Godson drilling an hour later.

On Thursday, Rockets have a tadpole workout, with the peewee all-stars drilling after that at 11 a.m. Spitfire tadpoles practise at 1.30, with UE midgets next, and then the Cavanagh midgets. There's a 10 a.m. game Friday between Petes and Cyclones. At 1.30, it's the peewee Tigers and Terriers, followed by a drill for the midget Americans.

Hurricanes beat the Rockets yesterday by an 11-4 score with Davis the big sniper. Petes edged out the Cyclones 12-10 with MacInnes pacing the attack. Terriers won from Tigers 12-7, Doris and Ferguson being the main snipers.

Woollens Gain Girls' Win From Ashby's

Dominion Woollens defeated Ashby's 9-5 at the Bowl last night in a neat Girls' Softball League encounter before a fair-sized crowd of fans. Errors hurt the losers' cause while the winners turned in a good showing, despite some miscues. B. Reid fanned 10 as M. Laing struck out five. The Woollens came through twice with three-run drives to clinch it, though it was a tight tussle to the final out.

M. Laing and S. Harris looked good defensively for the victors, while B. Reid and J. Dunk were the pick of the other side. S. Johnston led the Woollens at bat with three for four, one a homer, and L. Jordan and M. Freeman topped their side at the plate with two bingles each.

Westclox Girls Get Win Over Marines

Westclox romped to a 12-7 Girls' Softball League victory at the East City Bowl last evening in a fair fray. They took advantage of some indifferent fielding by the Outboards to roll up the count in two big innings, scoring five in the fourth and seven next time to bat. Marines were held in check the last half by M. Downer, who whiffed six, while E. Whittaker struck out four.

Marg. Hawthorne led the winners at bat with a triple, a double and two singles in six appearances at the plate, Bea Morrow having three singles. S. Curtis was tops for Marines with three safe blows. B. Larmer, M. Behan, J. McIntyre and I. Clarke all went well in the field.

Canada Now Facing Davis Cup Elimination

MONTREAL, July 23 (CP) — Canada faces elimination from Davis Cup play today with Frank Sedgman, Australia's sensational young tennis ace, coming up against Brendan Macken of Montreal in the first of the remaining two singles matches of the North American Zone tie.

Australia took a 2-1 match-lead in the series Friday when Sedgman and his team captain, lanky John Bromwich, stroked their way to an easy straight-set triumph over Macken and Walter Stohlberg of Vancouver in the doubles fixture. Scores were 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

Oshawa Hunt Club Edges Lindsay 4-1

LINDSAY, July 23.— Oshawa Hunt Club gained another Lakeshore League victory here Friday night by racking up a clean-cut 4-1 victory over Lindsay Merchants behind the five-hit scattering of young Bill McTavish.

McTavish was in command throughout and, with good support, left eight Lindsay runners stranded.

Mike McArthur and the Jozkoski brothers, Crabby and Hank, each banged out a pair of safeties for the winners. Lew McTaggart gave up 10 hits on the losers' mound.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Harold Wilson, 37, owner and pilot of Miss Canada IV, lone Canadian contender next week-end in the Harmsworth Trophy race for the international speedboat championship, Friday termed his trial tests on Lake Muskoka near Gravenhurst as "satisfactory."

Wilson was uncommunicative on the exact speed of the sleek 31-foot powerboat, but said "anybody who beats me is going to have to do some racing." He made no comment on reports that his clocked speeds have been as high as 150 miles an hour.

Wilson will face three US speedsters determined to keep the trophy, won for the US in 1933, safely in United States hands.

At Toledo, O., Sam Snead and Dick Metz, although shooting one of the poorest rounds of the tournament, moved into the lead in the $15,000 Inverness four-ball matches Friday with a four-up victory over Freddie Haas and Dave Douglas.

The latter pair, blowing themselves to the worst round in the classic's 12 year history, failed to get a birdie and wound up with a best-ball of 72, one over par.

The Snead-Metz 68 boosted the pair to a plus eight score for the first three rounds of the seven-match tournament.

The vanguard of more than 125 of Canada's top swimmers began to tune up at Vancouver Friday in preparation for the British Empire Games trials July 26-28.

Viewing the impressive lineup for the games, Percy Norman, dean of Canadian swim coaches says he expects the trials to be the "fastest and best ever held in the Dominion."

"Our stiffest competition is New Zealand next year will be from the old country and Australia," he said, "but I think we're going to put up a great show."

At Stockholm, Arne Andersson, Swedish teacher, defeated the American "flying parson," Gil Dodds in a 1,000-metre run Friday night. Both however, were timed in 2:03. They met on a 200 metre grass track at the world sports exhibition.

Dodds is in Sweden on a seven week preaching tour sponsored by the youth for Christ movement.

Jersey Joe Walcott, heavyweight challenger from Camden, N. J. leaves by plane at New York today for Stockholm, where he fights Olle Tandberg of Sweden, Aug. 14. Walcott also expects to sign for one or two other fights in Europe. He hopes to meet Britain's Freddy Mills, world light-heavyweight champion.

The University of British Columbia football team will be coached this fall by Orville Burke, one of the greatest forward passers in the history of Canadian football.

His appointment to lead the Thunderbirds was announced Friday at Vancouver by UBC officials.

Burke, 32, gained his greatest fame when he was the outstanding passer for the Ottawa Rough Riders. He last played with Ottawa in 1946.

In Westbury, N. Y., Jimmy Creed set a world record for the mile and a half distance on a half mile track Friday night when he won the United States Harness Writers' Association pace event in 3.09. This eclipsed the former mark of 3:11 3-5 set last year by Dr. Stanton, owned by W. L. (Lindy) Fraser of Forest, Ont.

Cards Tame Brooks 3-1 Braves Crush Pittsburgh

By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Shades of 1946. It looks as if Brooklyn and St. Louis will stage another photo finish in the National League.

Separated by only 1½ games with 10 full weeks to go, the one-two clubs appear ready for a long scramble to the wire. Boston still is in the race and the Philadelphia Phillies and New York Giants have an outside chance, but at this point it figures to be either the Dodgers or Cards.

George (Red) Munger clipped a full game off the Brooks' slim lead Friday night with a 3-1 victory in the opener of the year's first "crooshul" series in the National. The Cards could leave town in first place if they could sweep the four-game set ending Monday.

Stan Musial got the Cards off to a fast start with a first-inning homer. After the Brooks tied the score in their half of the first St. Louis grabed the lead for keeps in the third on Diering's single, an error, infield out, walk and Nippy Jones' fielder's choice. Munger drove home the final run in the sixth.

Costly Win

The Braves moved within six games of the Dodgers by downing Pittsburgh 5-3 but their victory may have been costly. Vern Bickford was carried off the field with an injured left instep after being struck by Cloyde McCullough's line drive in the seventh.

Del Crandall's two-run triple in the fifth inning helped Bickford to a 4-3 lead when he left the game. The Braves picked up another run for Bob Hogue in the seventh as they handed reliefer Murry Dickson his 12th loss.

Robin Roberts saved a victory for Russ Meyer by taming Cincinnati with the bases loaded and none out in the eighth inning for a 2-1 Phil triumph.

Down Giants

Hank Sauer's 19th homer with a man on, helped Chicago down New York Giants, as Johnny Schmitz survived 11 Giant hits to go the route.

Tommy Byrne tamed Detroit with five hits, 8-2, protecting New York Yankees' 5½ game lead over Cleveland in the American League. A four-run spurt in the fourth that sent Virgil Trucks to the showers with his seventh loss settled matters after Byrne gave up a two-run homer to Pat Mullin on a shaky start.

Thurman Tucker, Larry Doby's replacement in the Cleveland outfield, drove in both runs in the Tribe's 10-inning 2-1 squeaker over Washington. His second single scored pitcher Mike Garcia with the tie-breaking run in the 10th.

Vern Stephens hit his 24th homer and Ted Williams blasted No. 23 in Boston's 4-2 verdict over St. Louis Browns. Mel Parnell gave up eight hits to six off Ned Garver in registering his 13th win.

Chicago routed Philadelphia A's 12-0, scoring eight runs in the first inning. Connie Mack let Carl Scheib take a beating for the complete game, giving up 18 hits and eight walks.

GM Plant Closes

OSHAWA, July 23 (CP)—The General Motors plant here closes today for its annual two-week vacation period. Nearly 5,000 employees will be on holidays until Aug. 8 when production starts again.

Story On Side of The Angels About Great Footballer Once Peterborough Resident

This is a little personal story on the side of the angels. It is about Arthur Poe, the greatest American football player Peterborough ever knew, who lived here several years during his engagement as an executive of the Quaker Oats Company. He is particularly remembered by John E. Sullivan, last of the local office staff of that time. They were both retired by the company several years ago, Mr. Poe in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he was superintendent of the Quaker Oats Company's largest cereal mill in the world; and Mr. Sullivan as credit manager in the Peterborough office.

The story about Arthur Poe, whose name and memory will always be associated with the great Princeton University teams, is quoted from an inspirational book "Guide to Confident Living," by Norman Vincent Peale, now in serial instalment publication in some Canadian newspapers, including the Ottawa Journal. In a chapter on what is known as the inferiority complex, the author is recommending the Bible as a source of confidence, and affirms what he calls the formula contained in the words: "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

Six Poe Brothers

"Let me give you a graphic illustration of the manner in which this formula works," Mr. Peale particularizes. "In Cedar Rapids, Iowa, I met Arthur Poe, one of the famous six Poe brotthers who played football at Princeton around the turn of the century. The Poes are probably the most famous football family in American athletic history, for all six of the brothers were stars of the first magnitude.

That night in my speech in Cedar Rapids, I emphasized at some length the power of positive thinking, and asserted that practice of the techniques of faith makes it possible for a person to overcome difficulties. After the meeting a man introduced himself as Arthur Poe. He said, "You are right about the power of positive thought. My own experience has proved to me what real faith can do. Without it I would have had a terrible inferiority complex."

Poe was the fifth of the galaxy of brothers to reach Princeton. He made the freshman football team, but late in the season he suffered a severe leg injury. The doctors told him he would never play football again.

Heartbroken

"Naturally he was heartbroken. Throughout the winter and summer he nursed his leg, but the verdict held that he was through with football.

Finally, at his mother's suggestion, Poe adopted the mental attitude of putting he matter of his injured leg in the hands of God. He developed the capacity of having faith. He practiced mentally accepting the formula: "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

"As a result," he told me, "I played football at Princeton."

I looked up the record of Arthur Poe, and found that when he said he played football at Princeton he was engaging in magnificent understatement. He did play, and with such brilliance that the memory of his athletic exploits still has power to thrill old Princetonians and others of a later generation who hear the story.

Yale-Princeton Game

It was Nov. 12, 1898. The big Princeton-Yale game was progressing without a score. Yale began a march down the field, and apparently was not to be stopped. Durston of Yale fumbled, and a boy who they said could never again play football scooped up the ball.

Shaking off Yale tacklers, he started to run. He forgot about his leg. Down the field he went, fleet as a deer. Ninety-five yards, the length of the field, he ran, crossing the Yale goal line 10 feet ahead of the nearest pursuer. Arthur Poe, running on a leg that was supposed to be incapacitated, beat Yale single-handed. The final score was 6-0.

On Nov. 25, 1899, Yale and Princeton were again battling for supremacy. It was the last 30 seconds of play. Suddenly the ball shot into the hands of Arthur Poe. He fell back as if to kick, but nobody expected him to kick, for with that bad leg, everybody expected him to run, but he hadn't time to run.

It was kick or nothing. Arthur Poe dropped back, dropped the ball; his toe caught it, and in a beautiful arc it sailed across the goal line, touching the ground just as the whistle blew. Princeton won by a single point.

Employed Religious Faith

Arthur Poe did not tell me this story. When I read the account I have just summarized, I remembered the conviction in his voice as he said that all his life he had practiced the principle that a man can overcome any obstacle by a simple faith in God.

How easy it would have been for young Poe to have developed an inferiority complex. He could easily have been thwarted in his ambition to play football, and, what is worse, he could have gone through life defeated by an inner sense of inadequacy. Arthur Poe got rid of it before it took root by the simple expedient of intelligently employing his religious faith."

That is the quotation from the Peale book. Mr. J. E. Sullivan contributed today an epilogue.

Time In Peterborough

"My recollection is that Mr. A. P. MacDonald opened the new mill in Peterborough in 1902 and left in 1905. Mr. Poe was his assistant superintendent during that time, and resided here between two or three years. I was interested in football at that time. In fact I used to play a bit myself, especially soccer. I had read about Arthur Poe before he came here. He was a grand chap, modest and affable, a cousin of Edgar Allen Poe. He weighed only 150 to 155 pounds, rather slight for football, but he was the alert, agile type. I got him to talk about those Princeton games, but he didn't go into much of the detail. He came to Peterborough not long after his graduation. He went to our Cedar Rapids mill as assistant superintendent, and was later appointed superintendent. The last letter I had from him was a year or so ago."

Mr. Sullivan says Arthur Poe turned out with the Peterborough senior rugby team during his stay here, but his football playing was really ended, and his appearance was chiefly to help in some of the coaching.

OIL FOR TROUBLED ORPHANS makes these little girls happy at a Paris home, where they're lined up for their afternoon ration of UNICEF cod liver oil to help rebuild their health.

TEA TIME is the big hour in the day of Nicole Dubosq, 8, and Simone Pesei, 7, at a Paris home for war orphans. That's when the UN comes to call with bread—and a big bowl of milk.

Feeding Little Children In France, a UN Project

By DAVID S. BOYER
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—Half past four is the big hour for the little girls who live behind the massive metal doors of the orphanage on the left bank of the Seine.

For it is then that the United Nations comes to call, every day in the week. Half past four is milk time. And with the daily bowl of milk come thick slabs of margarine on bread, and sometimes sugar and chocolate, too.

Between slurps and grins, 8-year-old Nicole Dubosq can tell you the story. People all over the world, she says, send the milk and chocolate and margarine to help make her and her war-orphaned playmates strong and happy.

"It's as if we had mommies and daddies everywhere," as she puts it.

Nicole's adopted parents are people of more than 80 countries who contribute their dollars, pounds, francs and other currency to the greatest program of child aid ever undertaken. Since it was voted unanimously into being in December, 1946, by the UN general assembly, the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund has spent more than $200,000,000.

In Europe today, more than 5,000,000 children receive a UNICEF supplementary meal comparable to the one eaten by Nicole. In countries surrounding Palestine, more than 500,000 Arab youngsters, many of them homeless refugees, are poured daily milk rations from jerry cans. During cold desert nights, they sleep under UNICEF blankets.

In addition to meals and blankets, UNICEF ships to unfortunate children in Europe and the Middle East and China such articles as shoe leather, cotton for diapers, wool for clothing, cod liver oil and tuberculosis vaccine.

Nearly 5,000,000 children throughout the world have been vaccinated against turberculosis, in a campaign conducted jointly by UNICEF, Scandinavian Red Cross societies and the World Health Organization. Tens of millions have been tested for the disease.

The U.S. has been godfather to UNICEF from the beginning, matching with $2.57 ever dollar contributed by other countries. People as well as countries have done their share. Among the milions collected in the world-wide UN Children's Appeal came four dollars from the pockets of every man, woman and child in Iceland, a contribution far and away in advance of all others.

Because recipient countries pay expenses of distribution within their own borders and because UNICEF works in enormous quantities, one dollar will buy a glass of milk for 10 children every day for a week. Twelve European countries, many of them contributors to UNICEF themselves, receive aid. All but five of them are Iron Curtain countries.

New Trustees Named

MARMORA, July 23—(ENS)—A meeting of the Marmora Protestant Cemetery Board and plot holders was held in the council chamber on Tuesday evening to consider whether the board would continue to function or turn over the management to the municipality.

After much discussion, it was decided to carry on and the following were appointed as trustees of the board for the ensuing year: F. R. Wells, John Richardson, Irwin McCoy, Cecil Holland and Don Robertson. The new board will hold its first meeting in the council chamber on Thursday, July 28.

Want DP's Bring Their Families

OTTAWA, July 23 (CP)—The Labor Department is trying to exploit a relatively untouched field of immigrants for Canada.

Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister of labor, said today in an interview an attempt is being made to persuade Canadians wanting domestics that they can solve their problem quickly by agreeing to accept small families of displaced persons.

A circular letter had been sent by the department to persons who had applied for single DP's as domestic help.

"We're trying to put the thought in the heads of people who want domestics badly that if they'll take a couple they'll get them right away," Mr. MacNamara said.

Mr. MacNamara said there are a number of reasons for the shortage of single girls among displaced persons who are interested in emigrating to Canada.

Wins Recognition

VANCOUVER, July 23—(CP)—A Salish tribe Indian woman here has received a silver tray from Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and the U.S. President's widow has cited her as one of this continent's distinguished women.

The Indian woman is Mrs. Ruth Smith. She has been honored for her work as editor of The Native Voice, a monthly Indian paper, in 1947 and 1948.

The paper has a circulation of 3,000, is published here and sent as far away as the United Kingdom and India. Mrs Smith has since retired as editor, and is working in a Vancouver Indian centre.

Braund's Corner Block Sale Ends Business Begun on $57; Retail History Since 1893

By HARRY THEOBALD

Bert O. McLeod is the new landlord of Alparka, the south-end business corner in which Ralph C. Braund held varying interest as tenant and owner for 56 years. The property at Park and Albert Street comprises three stores, ten apartments and ten garages. Since 1927 Mr. McLeod has been the occupant of the main section of the ground floor gradually expanding the drug store which he opened then on the outgoing of Mr. Braund into limited retirement.

Several enlargements, the latest a year ago, provided the McLeod premises with the increased elbow room he had patiently sought and planned. Recently he was offered the opportunity of acquiring Alparka in its entirety, and, as the tenants say, they are now paying their rent to Mr. McLeod.

For years, Alparka was just a neighborhood store, locally designated as Braund's corner while it was developing from a few armfulls of groceries into multi-fold departments from which, as the proprietor used to advertise with genuine and hopeful intent, he could completely furnish the household of a young couple setting up in married life.

Department Store

Even then, at the height of his business career, Mr. Braund had customers in all parts of the city, although the bulk of them were south of Sherbrooke St. It was literally a department store, with a large addition built on the west side, and heavily stocked with a wide range of good—groceries, meats, furniture, drygoods, hardware, enamelware, patent medicines and so on.

On the upper floor of today's apartments Mr. Braund had rooms furnished as suggested models for the benefit of newlyweds—kitchen, dining room, bedrooms. That was a sample of the enterprise of Ralph Braund before he switched his business ideas to real estate and eventually converted that second floor into apartments.

It was on July 1, 1893, that Mr. Braund moved into the corner building that had been built for a hotel. He was married in April that year, and with his young wife of the Henry Greene family, he was not satisfied with his prospects as clerk with W. J. Moore who kept a wholesale and retail grocery store on the west side of George St., the present premises of the Warne Jewellers, Roy Hutchinson and Wm. W. Jeffries.

First Steps

The Alparka building had been vacant more than a year, and in his survey of the possibilities Peterborough then held out to a young married grocery clerk, Mr. Braund took his first step toward independence by renting the place and arranging with his boss for a line of credit and stock of staples, sugar, flour, teas, soaps and so on.

"I bought for one dollar some second-hand shelving from John Watt, a candy man; paid another dollar for several hand scoops, for lifting and parcelling flour, rice and other goods; then I spent five dollars on a small weigh scale, and finally ordered $50 worth of groceries from Mr. Moore."

So that was Mr. Braund's parlay: seven dollars of equipment, $50 of groceries, proximity to the old Edison Company, becoming the CGE, into one of the greatest retail business successes in Peterborough during the first quarter of this century.

Mr. Braund always laughs as he recalls that first venturing of his into the field of business.

$14.35 First Week

"We decided that for the time being I'd stay on at work with Mr. Moore, and my wife would look after our store. Her sales for the first week amounted to

Campbellford Dutch Family Happy With Own Furniture

Last summer G. L. Van Klaveren was growing bulbs, evergreens and shrubs on his little farm of two and one-half hectares at Hazerswoude, Holland. Today, he and his wife and three small daughters are enjoying home life in a white frame house on Centre street, Campbellford.

As an expert plant propagator he is employed by the Hogle Nursery in Campbellford to superintend operations.

Although anxious to learn Canadian manners and ways, the Van Klaverens wish to retain some tangible link with the land of their birth. To do so they spent $1,500 in bringing the family's furniture and personal effects to Campbellford.

"Expensive?" — "Yes, but it was worth it," says Mrs. Van Klaveren, a tall, dark, handsome woman, "because we wanted to bring a little bit of Holland with us."

7,000-Pound Case

A huge packing case weighing 7,000 pounds was used to transport these possessions from The Netherlands to Campbellford. Afterwards a door was cut in one end of the stoutly-constructed case and it was converted into a shed for bicycles and hand implements.

One of the first things that catches the eye of a stranger when visiting Dutch folk is the wooden shoes, or klompen, as the Dutch call them. These are only used when working on the soil and were neatly arranged in pairs outside the kitchen door.

(Contrary to ordinary belief, they are not heavy, awkward footwear, but lighter than the average pair of outdoor shoes used by a Canadian farmer.)

The furniture brought from Holland is an excellent example of European handicraft. It is made of solid oak and hand carved.

Among their prized possessions are a hand-operated sewing machine of German make, a large six-compartment sewing box, floor lamp, chairs, table, cabinet, Dutch paintings and a much-valued christening dress.

Traditionally Dutch housewives are known for their cleanliness, and Mrs. Van Klaveren is no exception. The two-storey frame house is both faultlessly clean and attractive.

Dutch Bicycles

Cycling is a favorite sport in Holland and it is a favorite with these new Canadians here. They brought over four bicycles, ech equipped with three speed shifts, a brake and a generator. Both girls are skilful riders and often pedal for miles with their parents.

Keeping bicycles during the war posed quite a problem for the Netherlanders. Mrs. Van Klaveren takes great pride in relating how she had hoodwinked the Germans during the war.

"Nurses were given special privileges and in order to enjoy them I wore a nurse's uniform," she told The Examiner. "The Germans were most polite and allowed me to keep my bicycle."

The Van Klaverens have three children: Ineke, 7, and Audrey, 5, were born in Holland. The four-weeks'-old baby, Campbella, was named after Campbellford. "I like the baby's name," said the mother, "because it means 'beautiful'."

"Hazerswonde is the centre of the nursery business in Holland," Mr. Van Klaveren stated. "The land is very flat and below sea level. The Gourve Canal, connecting the Ysel and Rhine rivers, runs through the busiest traffic lanes in Europe," he remarked.

"When we left The Netherlands last winter," he continued, "every thing was strictly rationed. Each person was allowed four ounces of meat and one pound of butter every 14 days and one egg every three months. Butter was selling at one dollar a pound."

He said that The Netherlands' government had prohibited money from leaving the country and although he has money in Holland he does not expect to have the use of it unless he return.

"I understand," he stated, "when I obtain my Canadian citizenship papers I will be allowed to draw the interest."

Mrs. Van Klaveren, the former Anny Leerdam, was born at s'Gravenzande, where fruits and vegetables grow in abundance. It is also the hub of the bulb industry.

Germans Confiscated

"The Germans took over early in the war and imposed severe restrictions upon the Dutch people," Mr. Van Klaveren said. "They confiscated my new Ford V8 and my father-in-law's Chevrolet." They stripped the country of practically every bicycle and radio and the farmers were compelled to give the army of occupation a certain proportion of their horses and cattle."

He said the Dutch welcomed the British bombers as they came over to attack stations and locomotives. "The station and tracks at Hazerswonde were completely destroyed. The Dutch underground did a splendid job signalling Allied planes at night," he stated.

Praise Canadians

The Van Klaverens speak highly of Canadian hospitality and are amazed at the abundance of food and clothing. Both enjoy the Canadian climate and the natural scenery.

Mrs. Van Klaveren said that the Canadian girls use more cosmetics and marry much younger than the Dutch girls. She remarked that the food is tastier and more nourishing in Holland and very little confections are consumed."

"I never tasted pie until I came to Canada," she commented.

LEGION AT COBOURG

A score or more of the district branches of the Canadian Legion are expected to take part in the drumhead service at Victoria Park, Cobourg, Sunday, July 31, at 3 p.m. Peterborough will be represented.

Retail Sales Did Not Drop Holiday Week

With four major plants of the city's industries out on holidays this week, there seems to be no major change in the retail trade. Local buying appears to have remained at a steady level, and American purchases are about the same.

Several grocery stores have noticed that their regular customers who are on holidays are still coming in, and one man advanced the theory that the people this year are taking more day-long trips, in preference to expensive long holidays. The same man, whose grocery is in the northeastern part of the city, said that his trade boomed during the last week of the Westclox holidays. This is in direct contrast with last year, he said, when he "might just as well have closed up the shop."

Reports from a downtown butcher shop are that there has been no appreciable increase or decrease in local trade, but that visitors from across the line are still buying. In several cases, on certain items, they are protesting volubly about the prices they have to pay for their meat, and claim that it is cheaper at home.

Other downtown retail stores are finding that business has picked up a little during the week, but some of the increase is due in part to special sales and the like. Drugstores found a slight rise in local trade, with American buying fairly steady.

On the whole, there has been neither a noticeable lift or drop in local trade during the week past, and if this is a fair indication of conditions, it shows that more people are spending the holidays at home.

Flying Letters

Ten years ago the average number of air mail letters passing out of the local post office each day was 100. Today and since July 1948, all first class letters (bearing four cent stamps) go air mail if their destination is at all distant, is in Canada, and if they can arrive more quickly by air. Postmaster Charles Lacheur would not even give a rough guess about the total number which now go by air. He did say that there is an average of 500 letters a day, at the higher air mail special rates, leaving the Peterborough office for overseas delivery alone.

Slaughterhouse Debris Nothing Left Of Use

Smoke-blackened cement foundation walls were all that was left of the Peconi slaughter house which caught fire and burned to the ground in less than an hour Friday at noon.

Although 40 tons of horse meat and about 20 horsehides and a quantity of horse hair burned in the fire and gave off a strong stench at the time, there was almost no smell Saturday morning.

"It all blew away in that wind yesterday," one of the office staff said.

Nick Peconi, owner of the slaughter house, sold the horsemeat to Toronto buyers of the meat for mink and fox farms. A quantity was also sold to local mink breeders. There are several around Peterborough as well as at Norwood, Fraserville and Harwood. Peconi has three other slaughter houses in southern Ontario.

When the debris of the fire was cool enough to examine, Saturday morning, nothing was left of any use. Friday while there were still some flames shooting into the air, one of the workers took several cutting knives from the top of the four-foot cement wall where they were kept. By some freak, the wooden handles were not scorched.

VD Decreases In City, Never Was Bad

In line with the rest of Canada, Peterborough is winning the battle against VD. To date this year there have been only 10 cases reported—five syphilis and five gonorrhea.

"The situation never was bad here in Peterborough," Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, told The Examiner today, "and now there is less VD than ever."

During the war when troops were stationed in the city the incidence of venereal disease was at its highest. And since then it has lowered considerably.

In 1948 there were 23 cases of gonorrhea reported and only seven of syphilis. On that basis of comparison the disease is slowly decreasing here.

Dr. B. D. Layton, chief of the VD Control Division of the Health Department in Ottawa, has stated that the outlook across Canada "permits one to be cautiously optimistic." But he counselled against any relaxation in the campaign to eradicate these two serious social diseases.

In 1946 the total number of reported cases was 41,556; next year 33,476; and last year, 27,491. For the first quarter of 1949, Dominion figures show more than a thousand drop.

One of the biggest dangers, Dr. Layton stated, were the people who keep VD a secret; but even their number was decreasing, he said.

WIRING BURNS

A car fire was reported late Friday afternoon in front of the residence of William Tully, 563 Weller St. There was a short circuit in the wiring of Mr. Tully's 1941-model car and smoke began to appear. Firemen were called but it was extinguished without water or chemicals being used.

Their Own Fault Senior Says About Failures

"They were just the same teachers who were there last year and the year before that, and so on," said a senior student of the Collegiate Institute in a bald statement that the students of Grade 11 who were plucked had themselves to blame. "That is the opinion of our grade, anyway. A week before the exams they were going to picture shows and places like that. If they were serious about it, they would have been hard at work. Our crowd feel that the teachers are not to blame."

That comment was made to the Examiner yesterday, and tends to be student confirmation of the suggestion in the Examiner's editorial Friday night. In that comment it was affirmed that Dr. H. G. Carleton and some other members of the board of education were blaming for the grade 11 heartburning everybody but the student class.

This young student of P.C.I. bluntly said he did not think the teachers or the system were to be blamed for the neglect of the grade 11 group.

Unusual Fire During Baling Ignites Straw

In a flash fire of unusual agricultural circumstances, Carman Seymour of Cavan township lost his baling machine, 240 bales of straw and ten bags of wheat in the course of field threshing around 4 p.m. Friday.

In this operation, the straw is blown into the baler. A strong gust of wind swept chaff from the straw onto the red hot manifold of the baler's engine. That was the source of the fire. The light, dry, fluffy chaff was ignited on the manifold and immediately began spreading before it could be extinguished.

Flames spread to the baling machine which was extensively damaged, but the threshing mill and truck were saved. Mr. Seymour's son, James, cut the rope to the threshing machine with his jackknife, thereby enabling it to be hauled out of the reach of the fire.

Flames enveloped the mound of straw bales which were still smouldering this morning. They started to spread out into the dry stubble, but were quickly extinguished by the men who were helping Mr. Seymour with his threshing.

In the early stage of the fire on the baling machine an attempt was made to smother the flames with blankets, but the heat was too great. Finally, the machine was towed away from the burning straw pile, but the major damage had already been done, and that movement was too late.

Roger Hanbidge removed the truck to safety. Other neighbors came to help Mr. Seymour, and the range of the fire was kept in check. Ten year old Jim Seymour suffered burns on his hand trying to snuff out the burning rope on the blower.

At the Seymour home today it was not known whether farm insurance extended to risks in threshing operations.

Emond-Johnston Wedding

In St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at Warkworth this afternoon the wedding of Doris Margaret Johnston and Mr. Albert Edmond took place with the Rev. J. M. Ritchie officiating. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Johnston and the late Delbert R. Johnston, Warkworth, and the groom a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Emond.

Lovely floral background for the ceremony was formed of baskets of gladioli and mixed summer flowers, banked with fern. Mrs. Louis King played the wedding music and at the signing of the register Mrs. J. M. Ritchie sang "Because".

The bride's lovely gown was of white dotted Swiss and was trimmed with lace. Her veil of embroidered silk net fell to floor length from a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of Bettertime roses. She was given in marriage by her brother Mr. William R. Johnston and had six attendants. Miss Lenore Johnston was maid of honor, Miss Hazel McCrea and Mrs. Webb Lee were bridesmaids, Misses Joy and Pat Mallory were junior bridesmaids and the flower girl was Leslie McCleary. All were in pretty frocks of brocaded taffeta, the maid of honor and bridesmaids in blue, the junior bridesmaids in pale pink and the flower girl in white. Vancouver Woman Flies Transport

VANCOUVER (CP)—Attractive aviatrix Mrs. Rollie Barrett of Vancouver is one of only three Canadian women boasting a Dominion transport pilot's licence.

Mother of an eight-year-old son she learned to fly in 1935, under tuition from Des Murphy, now in the transport department.

"I just got to thinking I'd like to learn to fly—so I did," she says.

She gained her commercial ticket in 1939, but the war prevented any further air activity until 1945, when she joined an aero club.

Mrs. Barrett reached the pinnacle of her flying career last March, winning her transport pilot's wings.

Flying may soon run in the family. Already her son, "Butch," has his head way up in the clouds having made several flips with his mother.

Son To Follow Suit

"He'll probably learn to fly when he's older," says his mother, confidently.

The 36-year-old flyer made her longest trip from Winnipeg to Vancouver recently on a ferrying flight. Her only comment: "Those prairies are sure bald."

Aerobatics are a Barrett favorite, and she spends much flying time looping-the-loop, doing barrel rolls and spins.

"It's great fun," says the feminine queen of the air.

She was attended by Mrs. William Hickey who was in a two piece dress of dove blue with navy and white accessories and carried a ring bouquet of sweet peas. Mr. W. Hickey attended the groom.

A reception was held at the Chicken Palace for immediate friends of the bride and groom. The bride's mother received wearing rose crepe with white accessories and corsage of white gladioli, while the groom's mother also receiving wore grey crepe and black accessories and corsage of pink gladioli.

For a trip to Ottawa and United States the bride donned a pink two piece dress with white hat and gloves and corsage of sweet peas. The couple will reside in Peterborough.

Light Up Churches Says Woman's Will

SYDNEY, Australia—Methodist churches here will startle the natives if the terms of the will of a Methodist minister's wife who died recently are carried out.

Mrs. Margaret Holliday, of the Sydney suburb of Drymmoyne, directed that £1,000 ($3,250) and half the residue of her estate of £15,000 be used to provide electric signs on Methodist churches, missions and schools. The rest of her estate she left to anti-smoking and anti-drinking leagues and for providing Bible texts in Sydney trams.

But to her husband, retired Methodist minister Andrew Holliday, she didn't leave a penny.

Rita Girard Weds Rene Beaudoin At Sacred Heart

The Rev. Father Massacci officiated at the marriage. Wedding music was by Mr. John Armstrong and during the signing of the register, Mrs. John Cairns sang "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white satin with a cathedral train finished with rows of softly gathered frills. She wore a crown of seed pearls which held her veil of net and she carried a cascade of red roses.

Mrs. J. J. Fleming attended her sister as bridesmaid in a frock of pale mauve net over matching taffeta which featured a wide neckline edged with frills and matching frills were on the short sleeves and across the skirt front. She wore long mittens of matching net and a heart shaped coronet of the same which held a shoulder veil, and carried pink roses in a cascade. Woman Prefers Canadian Life To South Africa

WINNIPEG (CP)—An inside view of the woman's side of life in Colombia, South America, was given here by Mrs. Bruce McDougall, who said flatly that she prefers keeping house in Canada.

"It was interesting and I like most of it, but I wouldn't choose Colombia for a home," she said.

Mrs. McDougall's husband is a geophysicist. They returned from Bogota, Colombia, to Winnipeg recently with their three-year-old daughter Marlene. They are visiting his parents.

"Women haven't any particular position in Colombia," said Mrs. McDougall thoughtfully. "If you belong to the wealthier class you are taught to manage your home and how to train servants, but not how to do anything else except perhaps a little embroidery.

LADIES DON'T WORK

"A lady does not work in Colombia, she stays at home until she marries, usually at 16 or 18 years of age.

"Colombia women do not have a voice in the management of anything except their homes, and as for politics, well, it just wouldn't be nice."

Women in the working class, and this group includes the "muchachas," or maids, work hard. The father or husband is master of the home and there are numerous children.

She said that living conditions for these people, especially outside the cities and towns, are often unbelievably primitive.

"Education is not compulsory and usually very sketchy. I had one muchacha who could write her grocery list, but couldn't add."

'TIS ROUGH LIFE—It will be dungarees and hip boots instead of crisp white uniforms and caps for Doreen Pendray, left, and Evelyn Hunter, only Canadians aboard the U.S. medical mission ship, Willis Shank, sailing late this month on its maiden trip along the Alaska coast. Miss Pendray is a native of Victoria, B.C. while Miss Hunter coms from Lacombe, Alta. The voyage will last 10 months.

$13,800 For Child

SWANSEA, Wales (CP)—Mrs. Eileen Barrow was awarded £3,450 ($13,800) damages because an army truck killed her baby. The vehicle mounted the sidewalk and struck the perambulator in which Mrs. Barrow was wheeling her child.

Polish Opera Star Sings to Canada

WINNIPEG (CP)—A former prima donna of the Warsaw Opera House, Madame Helena Lipowska is in Winnipeg anxious to start her singing career again, this time in Canada.

The leading operatic soprano in Warsaw before the war, she is spending a few weeks here with her husband Stanislaw Mazurek, to determine whether opportunity exists for her here.

Madame Mazurek spent the war years in Poland. She was in a concentration camp for five months in 1944 after being captured by the Germans while making her way from Lwow to Warsaw.

A pupil of Professor Marie Lozlowska, Madame Lipowska has presented concerts in Vienna, Prague, Belgrade, Zurich and other cities throughout Europe.

As soon as it was possible for them to leave Europe, the couple did so, heading directly for Canada, where they both hope to start afresh.

Parents Cut Apron Strings. Offsprings Gain Experience

Dorothy Dix

MOST OF THE struggle between the older generation and the younger is over the question of personal liberty. It is the fight of the young for freedom and the battle of the old to hold them prisoners. The desire of the young to go forward, free and unhampered, and the determination of the old to hold them back.

The old say: "We are older. We are wiser. We have had more experience than you have had. Listen to our warnings. Let us hold you by the hand and we can keep you from stumbling and falling and hurting yourselves."

And the young reply: "Life turns wisdom into foolishness because life is eternally different. The circumstances are never the same and no situation occurs twice. Your experience cannot teach me anything because my problem will not be your problem, and because my mind, my temperament, my talents are different from yours. Where you failed I may succeed. Where you succeeded I may fail. The work that you loathed may set my soul aflame with ambition. The woman I will love may be one you would hate. The one who would appeal to you may leave me cold. Besides, I live in a different world from yours, a new world with new manners and customs and standards.

"Let me go. Let my try my strength. Perhaps I shall fall and hurt myself, but my wounds will teach me to walk more warily. No doubt I shall make mistakes, but out of them I shall learn something I would never have known if I had followed your copybook rules.

"'If you love me, do not try to keep me hidden away from danger. Brace me up with the courage to meet it bravely when it comes. Do not try to keep me unspotted from the world, ignorant of its temptations. Teach me how to resist them. Let me by my own master. Let me make my own fate. And, good or bad, I shall be happier in it than I would be in any that you could devise for me.

"After all, my father and my mother, you cannot go through all the long journey of life with me, sooner or later we must part company and then, if I have not learned to walk alone, if I have leaned on your strength instead of my own, if I have looked to you for guidance instead of depending on my own judgment, I must fall by the wayside and perish. So set me free and let me go my appointed way."

(See Story On Back Page)

This is the cry of the children of today. They have broken with the old patriarchal tradition that gives the parents the right to decide their lives for them and to choose their occupations and pick out their husbands and wives for them and to settle their uprisings and down-sittings. The privilege of deciding their own destinies they arrogate to themselves.

Undoubtedly, they go too far in throwing off parental restraint too early. Undoubtedly, they could learn much from the wisdom of their elders. But somehow, some way, through suffering, through sacrifices, through a thousand blunders they muddle on to a happiness and content and a success that they never know in any existence that father and mother arrange for them and hand them on a silver platter.

But the point is, so far as parents are concerned, that it is a condition and not a theory that they confront. The older order has passed and the new is established.

Youth has emancipated itself. Even feminine youth. The old way of controling children by force is a dead-letter law at which they mock, and the only way it can be done is through diplomacy and guiding them so subtly they do not feel the tug of the silken rein, and by making them feel so free they do not know they are bound. After all, it is the locked door that makes a prison. Leave it on the latch and it becomes a pleasant dwelling place and the mad deire to escape from it has gone.

Wise are the parents who realize that their children grow up and reach a place where they do not need their fathers and mothers, and who, when that time comes, send thim out into the world with their blessing

And wiser still are the parents who prepare themselves for the inevitable hour when their children will spread their wings and fly from the home nest by providing themselves with interest and occupations and amusements so that they will not be left utterly desolate when their youngsters are gone.

If there were no other argument for husbands and wives making an effort to keep their love alive and in close sympathy with each other, it would be that they would have to depend on each other for companionship after their children are gone. Yet most married couples lose sight of this fact. They let the children crowd them out of each other's hearts and then when their youngsters leave them for their own husbands and wives they find that they are indifferent strangers with nothing to say to each other.

We speak of children, as a gift from God. Far better to regard them as just a loan that we shall have a few years to beautifuy our houses and make them gay, but which we shall not grudge giving up when the time comes for them to go to homes of their own.

And far, far better for us to make our own lives so full of interests that we shall not be parasites upon our children and compelled to seek our joy out of their lives.

Safe in the arms of God's love."
—Lovingly remembered by his daughter Frances, son-in-law Bill, Gail and David.

WELLS—In fondest memory of my beloved husband, Frank A. J. Wells, who passed away July 23rd, 1948.
He has taken his last long journey,
In God's beautiful ship called Rest,
Away from this world of sorrows,
To a home of eternal rest.
Words cannot say how I loved him,
Deep in my heart there's a pain,
God alone knows how I miss him,
As I wander along life's lane.
But a voice seems gently calling,
"Dear one be good and true,
At the end of life's battles,
I'll be watching and waiting for you."
—Sadly mised by his wife May.

WELLS—In loving memory of a dear uncle, Frank A. Wells, July 23, 1948.
Dear uncle you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us
As you always were before.
O happy hours we once enjoyed.
How sweet their memory still.
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
Sunshine fades and shadows fall,
But sweet remembrance outlasts all.
From memory's page time cannot blot
Three little words, forget thee not.
—Sadly missed by niece and nephew Jean, Charlie Rusk and family.

WILLIAMS—In memory of J. A. Williams, who died one year ago today.
—Lovingly remembered by his Brother Arthur, and sister Grace (Mrs. W. Jobe).

Sale Of Braund

$14.35. We were very happy about it, although our business gross was less than $15. But, we were meeting our new neighbors, getting to know them, and we had the big house at only $10 a month."

Mr. Braund says the original building at the corner was erected by a man named William Blackstock, who lived in the United States. His attraction to that southend corner in the early nineties lacks explanation. The circumstances appear to be entirely forgotten.

"It was intended to be a hotel, but Blackstock could not get a license for it because it was regarded as being too far from the centre of the town,—a neighborhood location. I was informed that the owner planned to sell it as a going concern. He was blocked by the difficulty of the license, and although the erection was begun in 1891 and was completed probably in 1892, the place was still vacant in 1893."

Chain Developed

Gradually, the Braund grocery business reached out into substantial weekly receipts, and the proprietor quit the Moore store on George St. to give all his attention to his own affairs. In the early 1900's he had two delivery wagons, bookkeeper and a capable staff of clerks. Business at length warranted purchases in carload lots of sugar, canned goods, enamelware. Those quantities were often divided between Mr. Braund; his brother, the late John T. Braund, who had opened a northend store at George St. and Park Hill Road (Smith St.), and Nelson Routly, Park St. North, comprising a chain of retail outlets.

The years between were quite a long flourishing period. In 1927 Mr. Braund decided to reduce his activities. The enlarged building was rearranged into four separate stores, the smallest of which Mr. Braund retained for himself with a reduced stock of drygoods and chiefly office accommodation for his many other activities, some of them related to his realty holdings. Finally he retired altogether in 1944 and his office was absorbed into the adjoining two

Druggist McLeod

Mr. McLeod was a tenant druggist since 1927, and adjoining store is the barber shop of Sam Carpenter for the same period. Mr. E. A. Adams carries on a grocery business in the other store section.

Alparka was a significant name coined by Mr. Braund for the apartments he converted out of available space on the ground and upper floors. It has been chiefly associated with the McLeod corner, forum of the GE crowd, apex of the new south end. Its biggest refreshment bar in the city since the extension of last year attracts people from all around Peterborough, and in all seasons.

The McLeod service will always be remembered by the hundreds of young folks in all parts of Canada who were directed to Genelco Limited for munitions work during the war.

Their paths, which had reached from such far places as Halifax and Vancouver, halted briefly in crossing within the friendly atmosphere of Alparka. Temporarily it was the meeting place of hundreds of the young strangers of both the day and night shifts across the street. That phase of its experience is already fading into the long past of the 56 years of the Braund possession.

He moved into the vacant rooms of the corner on July 1 fifty-six years ago. The final period of his business career became effective on the most recent Dominion Day when the Braund connection with the corner was severed.

CGE Proximity

Bert McLeod has already been 22 years in business at the corner. Both he and Mr. Braund are modest men, ready to acknowledge the potent proximity of CGE as a major factor in their separate and successive successes. They are only two of the many hundreds of people in this city who have had a pleasant and profitable ride on the bandwagon of the enterprise and investment of the Canadian General Electric Company.

The Alparka proprietors are both of disposition to exploit to the full the opportunity that beckoned to them. The corner is one of the friendliest spots in a day's journey, and service to the customer is not an idle word. Here is an example of Alparka: a March Saturday, 8 p.m.; rain and snow; busyness in the store; telephone call up around King St. for something from the drug department. The boss himself delivered it in 20 minutes.

That is typical, although it should not be excessively strained in the new dispensation. After all, there are limits to proprietoral accommodation of customers' needs.

As a last word for Mr. Braund it amuses him every time he thinks of his southend set-up; al his life a strict temperance man making his bid to fortune in premises that were fashioned for a saloon. That was one of the little ironies to which life introduced him.

Has No Desire To Be Mayor

COBOURG, July 23--(ENS)—Found—a man who doesn't want to be mayor of Cobourg. What is more he has the same name as the present mayor of this town—Joe Smith; but there the resemblance ends.

Joe Smith of Port Hope (definitely not Joe Smith, mayor of Cobourg) appeared in court yesterday on a charge of being drunk. He was picked up by Provincial Constable Lyle Erskine, who said that he was staggering about the highway, and that he detained him for his own protection.

Magistrate R. B. Baxter looked down at the accused. "Looked down" is right, because Joe Smith, the accused, is a man about five foot four and of very moderate weight.

Mayor Joe Smith tips the scales at well over 200 pounds and is at least six feet in height, so the magistrate was quite correct when he observed—"you are not the mayor of Cobourg?"

"I hope not," replied the accused.

A fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

Campbellford Firemen Douse Grass Fires

CAMPBELLFORD July 23 — (ENS)—Quick action by the fire brigade Friday afternoon extinguished a stubborn grass fire which was spreading to several frame buildings on River Road.

C. H. Calver and J. Kerr, with a pail of water and broom, prevented a second grass fire from reaching several frame stores and offices on Front St. It is thought the blaze was started by a careless cigarette smoker.

G. H. Smyth Funeral

Funeral service for the late Gordon Harold Smyth, 72, of 1210 Kenneth Ave., was held at the Comstock Funeral Home. The Rev. W. A. Smellie, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, officiated, and pall-bearers, all nephews, were Gordon Ruth, Russell Savery, Orville, Harvey, Lawrence and Bill Muldrew. Flowers bearers were Wilbert Beatty, Walter Gordin, Tom Rowland, Jack Fowlie, Errol and Orland Trew. Burial was at Union Cemetery, Port Hope.

Mr. Smyth died last Saturday in hospital following a lengthy illness. He was born in Mount Pleasant, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Smyth, and had lived in Peterborough 39 years, coming here from Elizabethville, Hope Township.

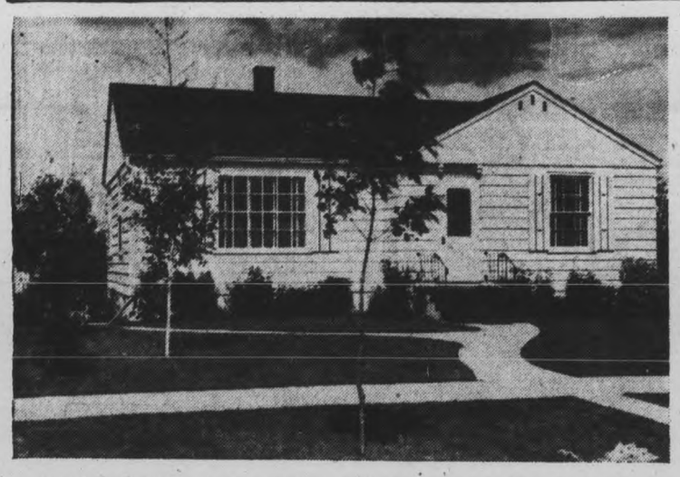
He was a market gardener and a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

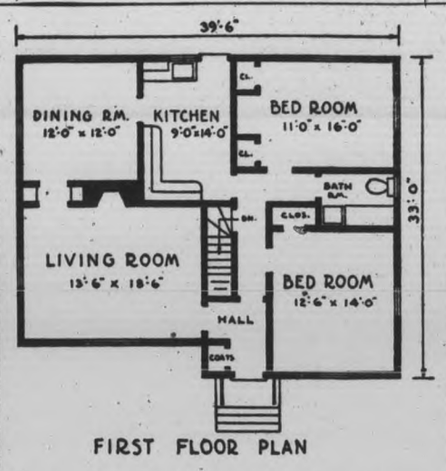
Denies Any Mystery

MONTREAL, July 23 (CP) — Dr. Zenon LeSage, governor of Montreal jail, Friday denied there had been any mystery surrounding the hanging early Friday morning of Maurice Lebel. The 28-year-old truck driver from St. Guy, Que., was found guilty of the bludgeon murder of two men on July 1, 1948, and was hanged at 12:28 a.m. Friday. There had been no previous announcement that the hanging would take place and the news got out when persons living nearby telephoned newspapers asking why the jail bell had tolled.

Unveils Stone

GUILDFORD, England, July 23 (Reuters)—Dana L. Wilgress, Canadian High Commissioner in London, Friday night unveiled a memorial stone in Guildford's new cathedral to the late Viscount Bennett, former Prime Minister of Canada. In 1943 Lord Bennett gave £10,000 ($40,000) to the cathedral to buy land surrounding the top of Stag Hill, on which it stands, to prevent any building encroachments.





FIRST FLOOR PLAN

HOUSE NO. 133—Basking in the brilliant sun on a pleasant residential street, this little economy home has an appeal all its own. Walls are of British Columbia cedar clapboards painted white, and the roof and porch steps are dark red. Cross-room traffic is entirely eliminated with this plan; a point worth noting. So often in small homes the living room or dining room is a traffic artery—particularly between the front door and the kitchen. Both bedrooms have two exposures, and the largest has twin closets. The blueprints indicate attractive shelves for displaying china and nin-nacs on both sides of the arch between the dining and living rooms. There is a full basement, with recreation room. Business Side of Building Can Be Enjoyable Experience

From HOME BUILDING in Canada.

Most people who have built homes look back on their building venture as an enjoyable experience. . . a few do not. The difference between pleasant and troublesome building is almost always directly in ratio to the amount of care exercised in your business dealings. Ability and integrity of the people you engage to plan and build your home are equally important.

Each and every step in building is an important transaction involving large sums of money. To build without professional advice and carefully written agreements is foolhardy.

Here are a few rules for trouble free building:

1. Have a good set of working drawings and specifications which fit your site and needs, and which describe all work involved. Be sure you know what is to be done, such as the number of coats of paint specified.

2. Deal with the 'boss'. . . your architect, or the contractor if you have no architect. Don't ask favours, issue orders to, or raise cain with workmen or sub-contractors.

3. Don't urge your architect, if you have one, to obtain bids from every contractor he can find. He will not want to permit unqualified contractors to bid . . . neither will he ask for bids merely for the benefit of having estimates. Estimating takes time and costs the contractor money.

4. Make complete written agreement with your architect and contractor, listing all responsibilities and duties. Such agreements are necessary to describe definitely the obligations of the various parties concerned with planning and building operations so that nothing is taken for granted.

5. Specifications should include every item of material wanted. Check carefully. Items forgotten or omitted are quite logically "extras" . . . you pay for them over and above the contract.

6. If changes are to be made during construction, put the instructions in writing before the change is made. Have a written agreement on the cost. Be sure that changes can be paid for from your cash or included in the loan.

7. Accept bids only from contractors competent in their work, financial affairs and business relationship, and with a proven record of getting jobs done on a reasonable schedule. If your contractor is the kind he should be, he will want you to be well satisfied. Ask the owners of homes already built by your proposed contractor for references. DON'T shop around by yourself for "unknown" contractors with no background who may promise to build your home for substantially less money . . . you may pay dearly for it.

Get Value From Your Paint Brush Dollar.

No attempt at "economy" exists that is more expensive in the long run than the cheap paint brush. Although a good brush may cost more to purchase, it holds more paint, has bristles that do not fall out to mar the surface, is less likely to leak or splatter, leaves a clean edge, give a uniform finish and will give longer service if properly cared for.

As a consequence, the difference in cost is immaterial. It is just as important to know how to take care of a good brush after you've finished with it as it is to have the right brush for the job you are tackling. A brush that has been used in paint should be wiped off and suspended in linseed oil between painting sessions, keeping the bristles off the bottom of the container in order that they do not become bent.

Varnish or enamel brushes may be kept in linseed oil or a suitable thinner. Be careful, however, to wipe out all of the oil before using the brush again. When varnish is accidentally permitted to dry and harden on a brush, paint and varnish remover may be used to remove it.

If the brush is not to be used for a long time, it is well to wash it out with a solvent, such as turpentine or gasoline, until it is fairly clean. Then give it a good washing with a mild soap and water. Shake out the excess water and wrap the bristles in paper so that the original shape of the bristles will be retained after drying.

Shellac brushes may be kept in shellac, but it is better to clean them with alcohol immediately after using, then washing with soap and water.

Be careful never to clean your brushes near a fire or flame. Neglected brushes, incidentally, can be softened and reconditioned with specially prepared brush cleaners obtainable at your paint store.

When your brush is brand new, all short, loose bristles and dust must be worked out before you begin using it. New varnish brushes may be washed in some inexpensive thinner, such as benzine, before being put into varnish. A new brush should first be dipped in the paint to a depth of two or three inches and wiped across the edge of the mixing paddle several times to work the paint into its bristles.

TORONTO, July 23—(CP)—The Argonaut Rowing Club is going to build a new clubhouse to replace the structure destroyed by fire two years ago. A meeting of the general membership of the club decided Friday night that a new two-storey brick-and-steel building will be erected by next spring on the same site as the old one. The first storey will be the boathouse, while on the second floor there will be lounges, meeting rooms, lockers and showers.

PURELY FOR EATING are these wingless chickens—rooster and hen — developed by Peter Bauman of Des Moines. He claims the wingless birds will make better eating, but some people contradict him.

Wingless Chickens, Laboratory Birds May Now Not Be Flops In Pot

By NEA Service

Wingless chickens are stirring up a lot of excitement these days, following the announcement of their breeding by a Des Moines, Iowa, veterinary, but around here wingless chickens get the bird.

First, there's nothing new about them. As far back as 1924, people were successfully developing a wingless strain. In the second place, they turned out to be less meaty than the normal be-winged variety.

Records show that in 1924 W. L. Frank of Sherman, Tex., developed a wingless chicken. He called it a Kiwi, after a wingless New Zealand bird. He even started a Kiwi Club of America, but not much came of it.

Just 20 years ago, in July, 1929, Dr. R. T. Renwald, an Omaha veterinary achieved remarkable laboratory results. His interest in wingless chickens was entirely scientific, although he did prophesy that "within five years" wingless poultry would be as common as the normal strain. Further, he said the wingless ones laid more eggs and, consequently, he foresaw the price of eggs falling to around 10 cents a dozen.

More Eggs

His theory that the wingless hens would be eggier was based on the knowledge that ordinary hen have an idle period of about 15 weeks when their wing feathers moult. No wings, no wing feathers, no moulting, no idle period, he figured.

His wingless hens did lay up to 315 eggs a year, which is better than normal. But after the experiment, he turned his breeding records and notes over to a graduate genetics student who wanted the information for a master's thesis.

In 1934, a wingless rooster was born as a freak of nature in Rose Hills, Ky. Scientists of Princeton University got hold of the bird, and watched it develop. They concluded, after X-rays and psychological tests, that it was a pleasant creature, but would be useless in the pot.

The breast muscles of birds, which are the largest source of white meat, are their wing pullers. Since "Wingless," as the erudite Princetonians called the freak, had no wings, he needed no wing muscles. Hence, "Wingless" was also breastless. All he had to offer for dinner were drumsticks, back and neck.

Big Drumsticks

The current wingless breeder, veterinary Peter Bauman of Des Moines, claims the grounded chickens would develop tremendous, luscious drumsticks, since they do so much walking.

Not so, answers Frank E. Musselh, chairman of the poultry department at the University of Nebraska.

"Take away the wings and soon you will be getting wingless runts,' he says.

He thinks that, without wings, the chicken is liable to become thin and lean. He, like the Princeton poultry profs, knows that the wing muscles are what makes the breasts so thick and tender.

Of course all the pro and con clucking about white meat and drumsticks ignores one large segment of Americans—those who like wings.

As for Dr. Renwald, he's as mildly amazed at the new excitement as he was over all the publicity he got back in 1929. And he's still eating chickens with wings.

PURELY SCIENTIFIC interest in wingless chickens was that of Dr. R. T. Renwald. He developed wingless strain, like this one he holds in 1932, then turned his notes over to a student.

Matter Of Age No Joke To Film Stars

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, July 23 (AP)—Jack Benny jokes about being perennially 38, but to many movie stars age is no laughing matter.

Probably nowhere in this troubled world is age so important a factor as in Hollywood. Some stars conceal their birth dates with atom-bomb secrecy. Many are led by studios, press agents or vanity to falsify their ages.

This can start at an early age. Until recent years, Shirley Temple's announced age was a year younger than she actually was. Reason: her studio wanted to make her seem more precocious.

It's enough to drive an "obit" editor batty. Recently I had to chuck the birth date of Bing Crosby. His brother, his studio and the book of his life gave three different years. The correct one seems to be 1901.

Have a Laugh

The official studio biographies always provide a snicker They will say, "Miss Glomm was born Jan. 26." That's all. It would seem that film stars are born on days, but never in years.

Most of the stars' ages can be obtained from old records Only Hedy Lamarr and George Raft have managed to keep theirs a mystery. Someone who should know once told me Raft is 53.

Al Jolson proclaims the news that he is a mere lad of 60 and offers his driver's licence as proof of the date. But a driver's licence is far from official, and his friends say he is beyond 60.

Not Gasoline Waste On Harbor Surface

OTTAWA, July 22 (CP)—The Transport Department Friday was advised that the slick which has polluted the Toronto harbor area is not "oil and gasoline waste."

The information came in a telegram to the department from the Toronto Harbor Commission.

The communication said "all possible steps immediately taken to remedy the situation."

A full investigation was being carried out to ascertain the source of the heavy slick which has covered a large area of Lake Ontario in the Toronto area.

"Tests to date show (that the slick is) not oil and gasoline waste," the telegram said. It did not elaborate.

Call Off Strike

NEW YORK, July 23.—(AP).—Radio operators Friday called off a strike against American Overseas Airlines and Transatlantice planes were ready to resume service today. Ross Foran of the National Labor Mediation Board said the 72 striking A.F.L. operators agreed to sit down with the airline and try to thresh out severance pay and overtime demands The 36-hour walkout forced A.O.A. to cancel all flights to Europe and a few from Europe to the United States.

Find New Show Lags A Little

NEW YORK, July 23—(CP)—"Miss Liberty" has all the makings for a magnificent musical.

Robert Sherwood wrote the book. Irving Berlin provided the music and lyrics. Moss Hart directed the show. And the cast, including the Canadian-born Allyn McLerie, is talented and engaging.

But the result is a trifle disappointing. Perhaps it's because so much was expected of such a team. The show moves ponderously and jerkily through the first act.

The mood alternates abruptly between serious drama and rowdy comedy. The musical becomes serious when it deals with the meaning of the statue of Liberty as a symbol of hope for immigrants from Europe. It turns to comedy over the newspaper circulation war between James Gordon Bennett of the New York Herald and Joseph Pulitzer of the New York World.

Cheerful Side

But the chose graphy, by Jerome Robbins, is excellent. Miss McLerie, a native of Grand'mere, Que., who was brought up in Brooklyn, shows an elfin grace in her dancing. Mary McCarty sings some of the Berlin numbers with fine feeling. Ethel Griffies is magnificent as a rather disreputable old flower-seller in Paris. And Oliver Smith's sets are first-rate.

Fumes Kill Four

PHILADELPHIA, July 23 (AP)—Fumes killed four workmen at the bottom of a 25-foot sewer excavation in South Philadelphia Thursday. One of the victims went to his death trying to help the other three. Two others, one an excavation worker and the other a city fireman, were overcome as they went to the rescue but were revived with oxygen.

Venerable Zion Couple Celebrate 64 Wedded Years

At the Methodist Church in Keene, more than 64 years ago, Charlotte McDermott of Otonabee and William Pickell of Trenton were united in marriage. Although the exact date was on Jan. 21st, Mr. and Mrs. Pickell are celebrating their 64th anniversay on Sunday, July 24th, the best time for their large family to meet, at their present home, a mile south of Zion on the Keene Road in Otonabee.

A daughter, Miss Jennie Pickell and son Kenneth, both at home, are busy making preparations for the important day. They expect another daughter, Mrs. Thomas McCauley (Edith) of Douro and sons Ross of Lindsay, Harry of Toronto, and Mervin of St. Thomas and their families. There are 13 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickell moved to their present home 36 years ago. It is not a farm but has a large substantial house and two acres of garden in which there is a fine patch of raspberries. Mrs. Pickell feels quite at home there, for she was born only two miles away on the W. A. Anderson farm.

She and her husband belong to the Church of England and were faithful attendants at St. Mark's Church, a mile away on the hill. Mrs. Pickell was baptised there by the Rev. Mark Burnham, founder of the country parish, and regrets that of late services are no longer being held there.

Mine Workers Union To Change Policy

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP)—The Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, (CIO) executive board, in a change of policy after two years, has voted to have the union's officers sign non-Communist affidavits.

Under the Taft-Hartley law such affidavits are required of any union using the facilities of the National Labor Relations Board.

The union, an executive board statement said, "has steadfastly maintained its boycott" of the NLRB for two years but two recent developments forced a change in this policy.

The board listed them as:

1. "The shameful betrayal of labor's fight for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

2. "The adoption of raiding, gangsterism and strike-breaking as official policy by reactionaries in the leadership of the CIO."

Admits 12 More Crimes

TORONTO, July 22. (CP).—William Exeter Christianson, 17, of Oakville, Ont., who already faces 18 charges of breaking and entering, Thursday confessed to 12 more break-ins at nearby Port Credit, police said. Arrested in suburban East York last Monday, the youth has been charged with entering 30 homes and stealing $70,000 in valuables, including $50,000 worth of bonds from the Long Branch home of George Cook, a telephone company official.

Scouts and More Scouts Invade Parliament Hill

By MEL SUFRIN

OTTAWA, July 23—(CP)—Canada's capital was invaded this week but scarlet-coated mounties just stood quietly and watched. Laughing, bare-kneed Scouts, honeymooners, more Scouts, American tourists, and still more Scouts converged on Parliament Hill, shaking the peaceful serenity of the sprawling stone buildings in which Canada's laws are made.

The tourist season was on in earnest, but that wasn't half of it. The Boy Scouts were holding their first annual jamboree at Connaught Rifle Ranges in a tent city outside Ottawa.

At the rate of 700 a day they rolled into the capital in special buses to see the sights.

Romping across the spacious green lawns in front of the Parliament Buildings and treading self-consciously through its long corridors, the Scouts from all parts of Canada made it known that they weren't missing a thing.

Blaze of Color

Armed with cameras, the Scouts bathed the buildings in a rainbow of color. Neckerchiefs of every hue streamed in and out.

They munched hot dogs, whistled at pretty girls, asked all sorts of questions, took pictures of the peace tower, clustered in awe around the mounties who stand guard at the gates to the buildings, studied points of historic interest and stared at the long, sleek automobiles of the diplomatic corps that pulled up on Parliament Hill.

In contrast to their bubbling enthusiasm was the quieter side of life on the hill.

There were still the young couples necking on the shores of the Ottawa river; the thinkers and ponderers sunning themselves on the benches, and the lawn-sitters.

There were also the people who preferred lying down on the soft carpet of green. Many of them catch a nap during lunch hour on the grass. Others are veterans of the art who can be found virtually every sunny day in their favorite spot.

One old-timer, who makes his headquarters there, said he thought this might be something of a record tourist year. He'd never before seen so many people visiting the buildings.

Attach No Blame

BRANTFORD, July 23 (CP) — A coroner's jury here Friday night attached no blame to anyone for the death of 21-month-old Lorne Boosma of Gainsville who was killed when struck by a train near his home July 8th. The baby's father, George Boosma, told of seeing the youngster beside the train tracks and of racing towards him but not in time to save him.

Prisoner Flees Jail Cell 24 Hours After Capture, Takes Policeman's Clothes

Gets In Uncompleted Cell, Crawls Out Hole Then Visits Guard's Quarters; Police Scour District For Missing Man

GERALDTON, Ont., July 25—(CP)—Police are searching this district, 175 miles northeast of Port Arthur, for James McGrath, 24, who escaped from jail here this weekend, less than 24 hours after he was arrested in connection with the armed robbery of a Matheson, farm family. McGrath, who comes from Ansonville, Ont., was arrested early Saturday while hitch-hiking along the Hearst-Geraldton Highway. Police had been searching for him since he allegedly held a farm wife and her two sons at gun point in their home before escaping with a bundle of clothes taken from the house.

Police said McGrath made the mistake of hitching a ride with Provincial Constable J. A. McPherson, who recognized him. Once in the car, McGrath evidently became suspicious and jumped when the car slowed to take a corner. He sprinted into the bush but was caught after a short chase.

Exactly how he managed to escape from the cell is not known. But before leaving the building he entered the living quarters of Provincial Policeman Cpl. Les. Heaney and took a blue suit coat, a blue dress shirt, a new pair of shoes, a diamond stickpin and a camera.

Climbs Through Hole

Police said he somehow made his way through a door connecting his cell with an uncompleted cell. In the new cell, plumbing pipes ran through the wall to the basement of the living quarters. McGrath is believed to have enlarged the hole around the pipes with a wrench wrapped in a blanket to muffle the sound.

Apparently he tried to leave the jail by the front door, police said. The lock was badly damaged and the door marked where someone had attempted to force it.

Before leaving his cell, he took off his shoes, left them at the foot of the cot and used a blanket and pillow to make it appear someone was sleeping in it.

Balloon Sighted

BANCROFT, July 25 — (ENS)—The runaway United States Army observation balloon which caused cancellation of all scheduled airline flights between Toronto, Ottawa, and North Bay for two hours on Sunday, was sighted over Bruton Tower, near the Hay River, 35 miles northwest of here, by three attendants on duty in the tower. The balloon had long steel cables hanging to it, and is believed to be the same one which broke loose from its moorings in Gimli, Manitoba, where the U.S. Army has radio and navigational equipment.

Changsha Loss Will Doom Southern China

CANTON, China, July 25 (AP) —Communists today drove closer to the Hunan Province capital of Changsha. Nationalists realized only too well loss of Hunan would doom South China.

Private reports placed the Reds at points five miles east of Changsha and 10 miles east of Chuchow.

Qualified quarters indicated the Nationalists are preparing for the main battle farther south. There are said to be three defence lines—one possibly extending eastward into Kiangsi Province from Yengyang; another on the Hunan-Kwangtung border; the third around Canton itself.

Government sources conceded the Red capture of Yungan, 18 miles east of Changsha, which is 400 miles north of Canton.

The Nationalist air force was said to be giving strong support to government troops.

Chinese press reports said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek arrived at his Taipeh, Formosa, retreat Sunday from the mainland seaport of Amoy. The "retired" president—but still No. 1 Nationalist—left Canton several days ago after more than a week of conferences.

The official Central Daily News of Canton came out against prospective release by the State Department in Washington of a "white paper" on China. It said such action would give moral support to Chinese Reds and impair Sino-American friendship.

Find Baby's Body Near Oshawa

TORONTO, July 25—Provincial and Toronto city police were pressing investigation following discovery of the body of a 4-day-old baby at Five Points, a country crossroads three miles north of Oshawa, late Sunday.

The body was found near a fence in the long grass at the side of the Oshawa-Port Perry highway by a farm couple who had seen a car draw up to the side of the road and its occupants get out carrying a bundle.

The couple noticed the license number of the car before it sped north and it was reported that its occupants had been picked up by police in Toronto for questioning.

Provincial Constable Harry Kift investigated at the scene and brought the body to the city from Oshawa.

PGA Blacklists Locke For Any U.S. Tourney

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 25. — (AP)—The Professional Golfers' Association announced today it has blacklisted Bobby Locke for any P.G.A.-sponsored event.

The P.G.A.'s tournament committee said its unanimous decision against the South African golfer was "deemed necessary" because of his failure to keep commitments at exhibitions and tournaments.

The announcement was made by Georges Schneiter, the Association's tournament manager.

"There were numerous complaints filed against Mr. Locke, but the committee prefers not to disclose any specific ones," he said. "Actually, from time to time, different things have entered the picture to make the action necessary."

Split Into 6 Zones

TORONTO, July 25—(CP)—To tighten enforcement of Ontario liquor laws, the inspectorate of the Ontario Liquor Control Board is to be divided into six zones. Each zone will be headed by a sub-inspector under the chief inspector at Toronto. The change is intended to streamline several of the board's functions.

This change will streamline several functions: 1. Complaints will go to subinspectors, thus permitting quicker investigation than when they previously came to Toronto and were eventually routed back to a local inspector.

2. It will provide quick and close liaison with police bodies throughout the province; subinspectors will have authority to co-operate with local and provincial police in their zone areas.

3. It will allow the board, without notice, to suddenly switch inspectors from one zone to another where they are not known, and to make unheralded visits to licensed premises, whether taverns or lounges which sell liquor.

2 Armed Men Take DP On Wild Drive

LONDON, July 25—(CP)—A young European immigrant, told police today of a nightmare ride through Western Ontario Sunday night, in which he was held-up by armed hitch-hikers.

Josia Ryks, 22, of Goderich said he left Goderich at one a.m., driving a car owned by his employer James Farrish.

Just outside Goderich he picked up two men "who looked like hitch-hikers." One, he said, was about 21 and the other 35.

They had not been in the car long, he said, when the older of the two pulled a gun and ordered him to drive all over Western Ontario.

Ryks, who was so scared when he arrived at the city police station, that it took officers 20 minutes to quieten him, said the men forced him to drive at 50 miles an hour, and that at one time he was doing 70.

He said, he does not drive much and he was "more scared of the speed than of the gun."

Near Granton, the men made him stop and the youngest entered a farmhouse. After a while he came out again. There was nothing in his hands said Ryks.

The men left his car, said Ryks in the Granton area.

No Sign Water Causes Epidemic

TORONTO, July 25—(CP)—Health Minister Kelley of Ontario said in a statement issued today that the cause of the outbreak of dysentery in Matawa, Ont., has not been established, "but there is no indication it is due to water."

Mr. Kelley said members of his department who visited the small lumber town reported that up to Saturday night 16 patients had been treated for dysentery and six deaths had occurred.

(An additional six have been reported in the surrounding district).

He added:

"All of the cases were being artificially fed at the time of illness. In five cases canned milk was used. With one exception, the balance were using pasteurized fluid milk; in one case, home pasteurized milk from their own cow was used.

Bar Delivery Of A-Bomb To Any Land

Truman Would Give Most Of Aid To Western Europe

WASHINGTON, July 25—(AP) — The Truman administration asked Congress today to vote a $1,450,000,000 foreign-arms-aid program, saying Russia and international Communism make this outlay necessary.

It is a first step under the new North Atlantic treaty, with "future programs" yet to take shape.

The draft of a bill submitted by the State Department simultaneously with a special message from President Truman would give the president sweeping powers to ship guns and other weapons—but not atom bombs — to friendly countries all over the world.

The department summed up the reasons behind the administration's action in these words:

"The political aggression and exansionist aims of the Soviet Union, abetted by the malignant growth of international Communism, have bred a new fear and insecurity in the world."

Encourage Canada

The report said Canada should be encouraged to obtain more arms and other military equipment in the United States. This would enable the Dominion to meet it s many security responsibilities.

The full reference to Canada:

"Collaboration between the United States and Canada in the solution of mutual-defence problems has been the practice since 1940. Both countries now are signatories to the North Atlantic Pact, and in addition, they are associated in the permanent joint board on defence. Because of various factors, Canada is unable at present to procure arms and equipment from the United States in any quantity. To enable Canada to make her maximum contribution in fulfilment of her North American North Atlantic Pact and United Nations security responsibilities, Canadian procurement in the United States should be encouraged."

Nowhere in thousands of words of explanatory and background material on the arms program, did the State Department enter directly into the argument over what further steps the United States pledged itself to in joining the North Atlantic Treaty.

It did say, however, that "helping free nations to acquire the means of defending themselves is an oobligation of the leadership we have assumed in world affairs."

Aid Western Europe

More than $1,000,000,000 of the proposed military help would go to Atlantic treaty countries in western Europe—such countries as Britain, France and Belgium. Said the State Department in a 41-page pamphlet prepared for Congress:

"Their defence is our defence and will continue to be of deep concern to us as long as their military weakness invites aggression."

The aid plan now proposed, the pamphlet said, would provide only "urgently needed" arm sfor west-

New Tortures Beat Nazis In Czech Camps

VIENNA, July 25—(Reuters)—Letters reaching British officials here say that new tortures, allegedly more terrible than those used in German concentration camps during the war, are being tried on anti-communist Czechs in the forced-labor camps of Czechoslovakia.

One of these letters claimed that in the police prison at Uherske, Hradiste, in Moravia, "electric boots" are one of the various instruments of torture. These consists of a chair with a foot rest in which are fastened two boots, the soles of which are an electric grill.

The prisoner is placed on the chair, the boots are put on and firmly fastened. Then electric current is switched on.

The unfortunate prisoner, with the tender soles of his feet being slowly grilled, soon is ready to confess to anything which the police demand of him.

Training Gestapo

The letters also tell of the system of training members of the Communist "Gestapo".

The State Security Department has organized courses, these letters say, in a castle at Zizelice, during which prisoners "are thrown to the young trainees as prey."

One letter claims that the Czech political police cover their faces with masks so that their identity is not known to their victims.

Other letters received say that although the nationalized Czech economic system is becoming less and less efficient, the police system is a marvel of organization.

Czechoslovakia, these letters declare, "is crawling with policemen of all kinds, with well-paid informers and agents provocateurs."

The prisoners are packed. Small cells, intended for two men, contain 12 prisoners or more so that they can sleep only by leaning one against the other.

Expect To Lay Keels Soon For First 3 Sub-Killers

OTTAWA, July 25—(CP)—Keels will be laid soon for the first three ships of Canada's new fleet of submarine-killers. Shipyards in Halifax, Montreal and North Vancouver will start work on the $8,000,000 escort ships, the first "major war vessels" to be completely designed and built in the Dominion. They're the first of a new type of vessel made necessary by the rapid advances in submarine warfare made during and since the war. The first is expected to be ready for tests in two years.

The ships are designed for mass-production and experts say the design has been kept simple—the superstructure has been simplified, and the elaborate masts and elevated bridge usually associated with warships are gone.

The superstructure is to be aluminum over a steel hull. It's the first time such large-scale use has been made of aluminum in a fighting ship and designers say it will save weight and is easier to keep clean.

Special Precautions

But aluminum corrodes when it comes in contact with steel and special precautions must be taken when fastening the aluminum to the hull.

Chief designer of the ship is Capt. A. H. Baker, recently transferred from the British to the Canadian navy. He says a new flush-deck design, the low bridge and the use of aluminum are ahead of current British naval designs but in line with British naval thinking.

The ship will combine both British and American ideas. It will use both British asdic and American radar and will be compartmented so it can survive at least two torpedo hits, unless one of them strikes the magazine.

One American feature will be introduced for the first time in the Canadian navy—bunks replace the traditional hammocks.

Shaw To Observe 93rd Birthday

AYOTT St. LAWRENCE, Hertford, England, July 25—(AP)—George Bernard Shaw will be 93 tomorrow—and he doesn't look a day more than 90.

He has the same attitude toward money now as he had then, too. He likes it.

So how the world's highest-priced playwright feels and what he thinks of the world in general on this great occasion remains secret to a would-be interviewer who called today.

True to form, Shaw brushed off a birthday interview request as follows:

"Interview? birthday interview, certainly—if the young man offers me a nice, big commission."

Not being authorized to do anything of the kind, the young man turned to Shaw's friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Winsten.

Mrs. Winsten said the famed Irish pundit will mark the anniversary of his birth by ambling down the hill to sip sweet apple juice with Winsten, his crony and biographer.

Jet Fighter Crashes

ST. HUBERT, Que., July 25— The pilot was killed today when a Royal Canadian Air Force jet fighter crashed at the RCAF air field here. Name of the dead pilot and details of the crash were not immediately available. RCAF and Quebec provincial police officers are investigating.

Want Canada To Get More Arms

Offer Cash-Carry Share Of U.S. Plan For Arming Allies

WASHINGTON, July 25 (CP)— Canada has been offered a cash and carry share of the United States plan for arming the non-Communist democracies.

That suggested role was outlined today by President Truman in a message to Congress and in the State Department's formal draft of the long-awaited program. The same pay as you go participation is suggested for the Latin-American republics.

Truman recommended that Canada and the American republics be assisted in obtaining defence equipment from the United States "at their own expense."

The State Department, noting that Canada now is unable to get much of this equipment, said "Canadian procurement in the United States should be encouraged."

There is no hint in today's statements that Canada might be called on to do a "supplier job" similar to the one she has performed under the Marshall Plan for Europe's economic recovery.

Might Place Orders

These same informants had expressed a belief in the possibility that the United States would order Canadian military equipment for shipment to Western Europe, just as the economic co-operation administration now authorizes purchase of Canadian food and other commodities for Marshall Plan recipient countries.

Some observers have pointed too, to the possibility of a subsidiary arrangement whereby Canada would manufacture some of the military equipment needed by the United States for its own use.

With production costs thus reduced, Canada at the same time could make cheaply many of the things the Canadian armed forces require, it was suggested.

One result of any such arrangement would of course be a new source of United States dollars for Canada.

Today's outline of the arms program indicates no such dollar benefit to the Dominion.

Belleville Gets Kingston Officer

TORONTO, July 25—(CP)— Cpl. Harry Ramsbottom of Lanark County, formerly in charge of the Ontario Provincial Police detachment at Kingston has been promoted to Acting Sergeant and transferred to Belleville, Commissioner W. H. Stringer announced today.

The move completes the reorganization of the Belleville district headquarters staff, recommended by a recent Royal Commission inquiry. The inquiry grew out of charges of misconduct and maladministration levelled at fellow officers by Constable J. E. Keays.

Acting Sgt. Ramsbottom joined the force in 1929 and has served as a constable in London, Windsor, Kingsville and Harrow. In 1946 he was promoted to Corporal and placed in charge of the detachment at Kingston.

Egyptian Cabinet Resigns In Cairo

CAIRO, July 25—(CP)—The Egyptian cabinet of Premier Ibrahim Abdel Hadi Pasha resigned today. Hadi Pasha succeeded the assassinated Norkrashy Pasha Dec. 28, 1948.

(This dispatch gave no clear indication as to why the government resigned. Egypt still exercised censorship over both outgoing and incoming cables.)

A reliable source said King Farouk would ask Hussein Sirry Pasha, premier in the early years of the Second World War, to form a new government combining both the government Saadist party and the opposition Wafdist party, which has been out of power since 1944.

Admit 100% Communism Not Reached

Say Soviet State Has Passed Through 2 Main Phases of Development

MOSCOW, July 24 (AP)—Complete Communism, it is readily admitted here, has not yet been attained in the Soviet Union.

The Soviet people, led by the Communist party, has built socialism and is "moving from socialism to Communism," Komsomol Pravda, the official organ of the young Communists, pointed out in a recent article.

Komsomol Pravda said the state form of dictatorship of the working class in Russia is the Soviet power.

Stalin has said that since the revolution of the Soviet state has passed through two main phases in its development.

In the first phase, the main tasks were to suppress opposition of the capitalists and land-owners who had been overthrown, to organize defence of the country against interventionists, to restore national economy and prepare for abolition of the "exploiting" classes.

The main tasks of the second phase were organization of socialist economy throughout the country, elimination of the last remnants of capitalistic elements, organization of the cultural revolution and organization of a modern army for defence of the country.

Functions Alter

That, it is pointed out here, was the phase which ended with adoption of the new constitution of the U.S.S.R. Komsomol Pravda said the functions of the Soviet state have altered in accordance with the changing tasks.

Class distinctions, it is admitted here, do exist in the Soviet Union, but they wil vanish with the highest phase of Communist society.

Red Star has published a lengthy discussion of class distinctions in the U.S.S.R. by A. Nakhov, candidate of philosophical sciences, in answer to a reader's question.

"There remain in our country," he said, "two friendly classes—the working class and the peasantry and, linked with them by all its roots, the Soviet intelligentsia.

"The distinctions which still exist result primarily from the distinction between two forms of communal socialist property."

These are: (1) State property, (2) Co-operative Kolhoz, or collective farm, property.

Works, state farms, machine tractor stations and all state enterprises are the property of the whole people.

The collective farms are the property of the workers belonging to them. All the means of production are made communal in state enterprise. In the collective farms this applies only to the main means of production.

Ask Amalgamation Of Two Railways

CHARLOTTETOWN, July 25—(CP)—Amalgamation of Canadian Railways under government ownership was suggested to the Royal Commission on Transportation today by the Prince Edward Island government.

The provincial Liberal government's proposal advocating amalgamation-nationalization if the Canadian railway problem could not be solved quickly in some other way was the most direct stand on the explosive issue to be laid before the Commission since it opened countrywide hearings into Canada's transportation problems seven weeks ago.

While expressing lack of concern with Socialism as such, the government went considerably further than the socialist Saskatchewan C.C.F. government which had suggested to the commission only that study of the possibilities of public ownership would be advisable.

Former Canadian Soldier Gets Best of Bad Injury

SHOREHAM, Sussex, England, July 25 — (CP).— Henry (Hank) Freese, formerly of Carnduff, Sask., is one of those Canadian soldiers who make opportunities out of misfortunes.

Five years ago, while serving with the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in Sicily, Hank was "blown up" by a stray shell. He woke after 16 days of unconsciousness to find himself without legs from above both knees.

To-day he digs his own garden, plays with his six-year-old son Royston, on the lawn, drives a car and works in the engineer's office of Brighton Borough Council.

Hank, as some of his army buddies said, "just did not know when he was licked." He had himself fitted out with artificial legs and after a spell of "hom sweet home" in Canada returned to England and took a course in mechanical drawing and draughtsmanship.

"Oddly I never tried this kind of work before," he said, "in Canada before the war I was more or less established as a baker. It was not till after I'd lost my legs that a Canadian Army psychiatrist put me on the right track.

"I fell for the idea right away and I've never regretted it. This work is right in my line and I prefer living here to anywhere else. So does my wife."

"For a while after I came to, I was in despair. Then I thought of Douglas Bader, a legless RAF hero. It was his courage that inspired me and made me feel life was not so hopeless as it seemed at first."

Just the same, Hank found getting used to artificitl legs a painful and weary process.

"Oddly the only thing that defeated me was the Canadian snow —I simply could not walk in it. That is why Rita and I decided to return to England."

Dockers Back At Work, Keep Pledge

2 Canadian Seamen Attacked In Pub, By Gang of Seamen

LONDON, July 25 (CP)—More than 15,600 dockers, stevedores and lighter men went back to work today in the Port of London and officially eneded the four-week strike which started when two Canadian ships were labelled "black" by the Canadian Seamen's Union.

Thus the strikers made good their pledge, taken at a mass meeting Friday, that they would resume normal working of the London docks this morning.

"They've all gone back to work smiling," one dock official said. "Many of them are so badly out of the pocket (low in funds) they'll probably work overtime with a will."

The men began work on more than 150 ships holding needed cargoes, including the Canadian vessels Beaverbrae and Argomont over which the strike started when they were called "black" by the C.S.U.

While porters started unloading 1,200 tons of grain from the Beaverbrae, stevedores tackled the rest of her cargo of logs. The ship, which has been idle since March 3, is expected to be unloaded by Wednesday.

Big Pile-Up Yet

But there still is a big pile-up of goods and shipping must be dispersed before port schedules can be brought up to date.

Meanwhile, William Bell, 30, of Chatham, N.B., a Beaverbrae seaman attacked last night in a dockland pub, was reported by hospital officials as "no longer on the danger list." A hospital spokesman said "his condition is fairly comfortable."

The other injured Beaverbrae crew member, Donald Hudson, 23, of Fort William, returned to his ship after being treated for head injuries.

Bell was stabbed with broken glass and kicked about the head and body as he lay unconscious on the floor of the pub. The attackers fled before police arrived.

J. Church, operator of the pub, told a reporter:

"Just before closing time a party of 15 Canadians entered the public bar where Bell and Hudson were sitting in their usual places in the corner having a quiet drink, as they have been doing for some months.

"Eight of the men went straight at the two seamen and beat them up with bottles and glasses."

Churchill On Holiday

LONDON, July 25 (Reuters)—Conservative leader Winston Churchill leaves here today for a month's stay at Gardone, on Lake Garda, Italy, during which he will work on his war memoirs and paint. Mrs. Churchill will accompany him.

Make 86 Arrests To Halt Show

HATTIESBURG, Miss., July 25 (AP)—Police tried to enforce Sunday "blue laws," but the shows went on and patrons got into the acts.

Shuttling back and forth in a steady rain from their theatres to the police station, 24 managers, projectionists, ticket-sellers and takers were arrested, released on bond and arrested again for a total of 86 times. Three projectionists made the trip eight times.

Three policemen reported movie patrons peppered them with tomatoes.

At the Saenger Theatre, a projectionist locked himself in the projection room in an effort to keep the show going. A policeman simply doffed his cap and used it to block the projection outlet. The screen went black. Patrons booed and yelled.

When police got an axe and a crowbar and prepared to break down the door, the theatre manager opened the room and the projectionist was taken off to jail.

Soviet Representation At UN Hits New Low

LAKE SUCCESS, July 25 (AP)—Soviet representation at the United Nations stands today at its lowest rank since the UN was formed four years ago.

It does not mean the Russians are pulling out of the United Nations. Heart trouble caused this temporary loss of rank by the Soviet delegation here.

The acting chief delegate is Semyon K. Tsarapkin, who is a minister.

He took over July 13 when Jakob A. Malik, Soviet deputy foreign minister and ambassador to the United Nations, sailed for home to rest from illness. Malik suffers a bad heart dating from his service as wartime ambassador to Tokyo and he has been out of United Nations meetings since mid-June.

PETERBOROUGH UTILITIES COMMISSION

Mrs. Roosevelt Denies Spellman Charge

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, answering charges of Francis Cardinal Spellman that she has a "record of anti-Catholicism," said today she had supported Alfred E. Smith, a Roman Catholic, in every campaign that he made.

She made the comment in her copyrighted column "My Day," published in the World Telegram. "I want freedom of religion to prevail in this country," she wrote.

She said that in campaigning for Smith for president she was shocked "by the extent of what I considered bigotry against the Roman Catholic Church, and I certainly do not wish to encourage anything of that kind."

Cardinal Spellman in a letter to Mrs. Roosevelt last Thursday criticized her for her opposition to federal funds for parochial and private schools. He said that "your record of anti-Catholicism stands for all to see—a record which you yourself wrote on the pages of history which cannot be recalled—documents of discrimination unworthy of an American mother."

To Answer Cardinal

Mrs. Roosevelt wrote that now that she has read the letter "I shall, of course, answer the Cardinal personally and in detail."

"However, since I consider it important that there should be as little bitterness as possible engendered among the Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish groups, or any other religious groups in our nation, I shall not discuss this question any further on a personal basis with Cardinal Spellman.

"I want freedom of religion to prevail in this country. I want no religious prejudice and I want absolute freedom of worship and religious teaching; but at the same time I believe in separation of church and state.

"I have always made plain my opinion that spiritual and temporal power must not be confused. But in what I have written I have tried to include broad general principles and for that reason I have not specificially spoken for or against any particular bill."

ern Europe and "future programs" will be necessary.

There was no estimate as to how many years these programs might have to run.

That will depend largely, the State Department said, on "the degree to which we and the nations associated with us can remove the threat of war."

Today's action was a follow-up to the long and bitter Senate debate over ratification of the treaty. That ratification was voted last Thursday by a lop-sided 82 to 13.

But no such easy sailing appeared in prospect for the arms program.

The State Department also sent to Congress a 41-page booklet covering virtually all the main arguments for the program.

Of the $1,450,000,000 which the proposed law would let Truman spend, the booklet says most would go to western Europe—"an area whose importance to our security has been demonstrated in two world wars."

Tied to Treaty

Tying the military assistance proposal directly to the North Atlantic treaty, the State Department said the program would "complement" the treaty by carrying out its principles of "self help and mutual aid."

Western Europe would receive $938,450,000 worth of arms, technical assistance and training services together with $155,000,000 to be used in stepping up military output. This would leave only $300,580,000 for military help to other friendly countries including Greece and Turkey, since $45,000,000 is earmarked for an emergency fund and $10,970,000 for administrative costs.

Other major provisions of the legislation as prepared by the State Department:

1. "Nothing in this Act shall alter, amend, revoke, repeal, or otherwise affect the provisions of the Atomic Energy Act of 1946." (That Act bars the government from releasing atomic explosives. Hence this section means the President could not give other countries atomic bombs).

Latin Countries Too

2. Arhs could be supplied to all countries which have joined with the United States in "collective defence" arrangements providing for "self help and mutual aid." (This would apply to Latin American countries under the so-called Rio treaty — a western hemisphere defensive alliance).

The President also would be authorized to aid other countries (meaning Greece, Turkey and so on) "whose increased ability to defend themselves against aggression is important to the national interest of the United States."

3. The president could obtain equipment for the aid program by (a) taking it out of government stocks, (b) buying it new and (c) helping the other countries to produce it themselves.

4. The president also could accept materials from other governments "as a condition of or in connection with" the United States help. This follows the general principle of wartime "reverse lend-lease."

5. To get the program underway without waiting for an actual appropriation by Congress, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation would be empowered to advance the president $125,000,000.

Say Epidemic Abating In Mattawa

MATTAWA, July 25—(CP)—A dysentery epidemic which has claimed the lives of 12 young children in this district appears to be abating.

With the cause of the outbreak, which has brought illness to upwards of 50 other children, still undetermined, doctors say no new cases have been reported in the last 24 hours.

Eight of the most severely ill babies were sent to Toronto Sunday night for treatment. Dr. J. Bergeron, Mattawa's Medical Officer of Health, said it was hoped the transfer of these children would help to stop the spread of the disease.

Two Ontario government experts are continuing tests to track down the source of the malady, which some residents blame on impure water. Dr. R. A. Westman, a baby specialist, and E. W. Johnson, a sanitary engineer, visited this Northern Ontario town Saturday, went to homes in which babies have died and took samples of well water.

Boiling Water

Residents of this booming town of 3,000 persons at the junction of the Ottawa and the Mattawa Rivers, 40 miles east of North Bay, are continuing to boil drinking water.

Mattawa has no town waterworks and its citizens obtain water from wells or from the river. River water has been condemned for some time and medical men believe impurities may be seeping into some of the wells.

Mayor Albert Huot, a railway telegrapher, says he and his council want to start installation of a modern waterworks system. He is awaiting word from the Ontario government's stand on Mattawa's application for funds.

Several adults, in addition to the young children, have been stricken with the strange illness which starts with a high fever, followed by severe intestinal pains and vomiting. A 26-year-old man went to hospital and a hotel clerk had to leave his job.

Sunday Baseball Goes Before City Council

TORONTO, July 25 (CP)—Toronto's city council goes to bat today to consider Sunday baseball.

Though nominally it's only baseball which will be under discussion, in reality the whole field of organized non-commercial Sunday sports may be affected and, perhaps, Toronto's Sunday Blue Laws.

The council will be asked, on recommendation of three members of Board of Control, to grant permits for use of city playgrounds for two "test" baseball games on separate Sundays.

But some council members, aroused by widespread public interest in the question, have indicated they will ask that it be shelved unti la vote can be taken at civic elections next New Year's Day.

16 Hurt, 1 Dead In Okinawa Gale

TOKYO, July 25—(AP)—Sixteen Americans were injured, one child was killed and millions of dollars in property damage was done by a 150-mile-an-hour typhoon which lashed the Island of Okinawa for eight hours Saturday. An army radio message early today from the big American base 300 miles south of Japan told the story.

Nationality of the dead child was not stated, but a previous sketchy message received Sunday night said it was American.

The latest message said half of all military buildings on the island had been destroyed and that the typhoon was the worst since the occupation of the big island in 1945. The previous worst storm, last Oct. 1, did damage officially estimated at $10,000,000.

In Saturday's typhoon, the message said, many huts at army headquarters disappeared and the compound housing Filipino employees was wiped out.

The commissary, chapel and a pier were destroyed, and the Awase dependent housing area was badly damaged. The compound for civilian army employees was said to have escaped severe damage.

Can't Forsee Collapse

WASHINGTON, July 25 (CP)—Theodore Yntema, Ford Motor Company vice-president, said Sunday it is "practically impossible to have in the next year or two a (business) collapse like that of 1930-32." He made the comment on the University of Chicago's round-table broadcast over WRC-NBC. Yntema said that automobile production, now at the booming rate of 7,500,000 units a wear, probably will not be maintained at the current level since "we have nearly as many autos as people want to own."

Elderly Couple Adrift 26 Hrs. Before Rescue

BRUCE MINES, Ont., July 25—(CP)—The crew of a fishing vessel Sunday rescued an elderly Ohio couple adrift 26 hours in Lake Huron south of here in a 35-mile-an-hour gale.

Dr. Frank Kautz, 72, and his wife, 67, of Cincinnati, set out from a cottage on St. Joseph's Island at noon Saturday in a 16-foot flat-bottomed boat for a fishing trip. Friends became alarmed when they did not return.

Dr. and Mrs. Kautz told rescuers who found them eight miles from their starting point, the lake became too rough for them to use oars. They said all they could do was to cling to the sides of the boat and ride out the storm.

Both suffered from exposure and cold.

Friends of the couple said it was a miracle that they were saved. They started out from their cottage at Mosquito Bay to go fishing, telling friends they would return at noon. Their friends feared for their safety when the gale broke and they failed to return.

Cars, Buses In Bermuda Now People Very Loyal To Crown

CAMPBELLFORD, July 25. — (ENS).—Among the many guests at Villa Trent are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Trewen and two children of Hamilton, Bermuda. Mrs. Trewen, formerly Mabel Inkster of Marmora, while nursing on the island, met Mr. Trewen and later they were married in New York city.

Mr. Trewen is a native of Cornwall, England, and lived a number of years in Indian before he settled in Bermuda as a school teacher.

Mr. Trewen related many interesting facts about the island. He said that Bermuda was discovered in 1609 by Sir George Somers, who was wrecked on the island on his way to the relief of the English settlers in Jamestown, Virginia.

Bermuda is the second oldest colony in the British Empire," he stated. "It is a coral island, or rather a collection of 360 islands in all, lying in the form of a fish hook on the apex of an under-sea volcano. Fossilized eggs and mouds of palmetto leaves found in the limestone rocks are proof of Bermuda's great age," he said.

Many Cedars

"The island is covered with cedar tres," he declared, "and also tropical and semi-tropical trees such os palms, ruber trees, poinciana and calabash. Citrus fruits abounded in Bermuda at one time, but pests discouraged their cultivation.

"Bermuda's famous Easter lilies grow in large quantities," he continued, "and are exported to the United States. A smal perfume factory on the island attracts many visitors," he stated.

Mr. Trewen said that in the early days Bermuda was noted for its arrow root crops. Later it became a whaling centre. "Many stories are told," he said, "of ships being lured to the island and robbed. At one time," he remarked, "many pirates of note had used the island as their rendezvous.

"Before the war," he said, "Bermuda did a large business exporting onions and potatoes to North America, but today the island's chief source of wealth is the tourist trade. Approximtaely 80,000 visit her shores annually.

"America," he commented, "has a 99-year lease on two sections of Bermuda's 20 square miles on which a large air base has been erected. The T.C.A. use this field and maintain excellent service between Canada and Bermuda."

Mr. Trewen stated that the British built several forts in Bermuda in the 80's and 90's when their relations with the United States were anything but favorable.

No shots were ever fired from the battlements and today the forts are practically in ruins.

"Only one cannon-ball had ever been fired against an enemy. In the 16th century when two Spanish warships entered the eastern approaches to the island, one single shot drove them back. Had the Spaniards known that it was the last round, no doubt, the history of Bermuda would have been different."

During the war the island was in danger of having its supplies cut off by submarines and of being shelled from the sea by German raiders. The regulations were very strict. All lights had to be out at night.

Railway Disappears

Up to three years ago Bermuda had no motorized vehicles, but today the island is swarming with cars and buses. The scenic railroad that ran the length of the island was dismantled about two years ago and sold to British Guiana.

The resident population of the island is approximately 11,000 whites and 26,000 colored.

Bermuda has its own House of Assembly, second in age to that of the British parliament." A governor represents the King and the people are very loyal to the Crown."

Mr. Trewen declared that the houses are built of limestone blocks which lend themselves to take on attractive pastel shades. The roofs are covered with lime washed white and from them drain the rain the island's only source of good drinking water.

The temperature rarely falls below 60 degrees in winter and seldom rises above 85 in summer. The Gulf Stream, not far to the north, regulates the climate of the island.

Find Yugoslavia Weathering Kremlin Wrath

BELGRADE, July 25—(AP)—The first Communist ruler to say "no" to Stalin seems to be still firmly in the saddle.

Premier-Marshal Tito has defied the wrath of the Kremlin for more than a year now and Yugoslavia is weathering the economic and strategic strains resulting from the Cominform blasts at Tito for being too independent. The Cominform is the nine-country Communist International Information Bureau from which Yugoslavia was expelled.

Tito has had his troubles. Border incidents—shootings, sabotage, spies, short-lived sensations which have become almost commonplace. And there was a belt tightening at the dinner table which has been eased since the winter months by good crops.

Foremost in relieving the strategic situation has been the closing of the Yugoslav border to the Greek guerrillas. Yugoslav spokesmen claim the Greek rebel cause was sacrificed by the Cominform's 13-month anti-Tito campaign.

Of greater long-range importance is the prospect that Yugoslavia will get economic aid from the west soon to ease the Russian squeeze on this country's normal trade. The projected deals would exchange western machinery for Yugoslav raw materials.

There is a general hope here—and some belief—that other Russian satellites will revolt against Moscow's high-handed rule and seek, as Tito did, an equal voice in the policies of the Communist states.

Three Cars And Buses Involved In Collision

TORONTO, July 25 (CP) — Three Toronto automobiles and a bus were involved in a collision Sunday night just west of here. Three women, passengers in the automobiles, were injured.

Police said an automobile driven by Stephen Kawal struck Frederick J. Harding's car from the rear. A third car which police said was driven by David Chesney struck Kawal's car, knocking it into the path of a bus.

Injured were Charlotte Harding, 72; Mildred Sokoloff, 31, and Hilda Gould, 33.

Two Hurt In Crash

COBOURG, July 25 (ENS) — Two motorists were treated at Cobourg General Hospital yesterday afternoon for lacerations received in an accident just west of Cobourg. Police said that a car driven by Norman Olson of Hull was in collision with a car driven by George Rollings of Cobourg. Miss Giselle Monfils and Jeanine Monfils, passengers in the Hull car, received cuts on the face. Provincial Constable W. Baluk of Cobourg investigated.

Robbed of $22,000

DENVER, July 24 (AP)—Mrs. Katherine Kreig, 79-year-old recluse, told police Saturday she had been robbed of $22,000 in $100 bills. She said a man awakened her by striking her in the face, held a flashlight in her eyes and said: "Don't move or I'll kill you. Where is the money?" She gave him a purse containing $7, but he rummaged behind a dresser and found a black handbag containing the $22,000, then fled.

Jewish Father Kidnaps Child

NEW YORK, July 25.—(AP).—A father who said he was taking his small son to a movie but instead boarded a plane for Israel against the wishes of the estranged mother posed a problem today for authorities who wondered how to go about prosecuting him.

At last reports the father, Irving Horowitz, 37-year-old clothing manufacturer, and his son, Stephen, three, were well on their way to Israel.

From London last Tuesday, where he arrived after a trans-Atlantic flight, Horowitz said that he would never come back to the United States and if his former wife, Edythe, wanted to see little Stephen again she would have to join them in the new Jewish state.

Today Samuel Gitlin, assistant district attorney, said he would go before a grand jury and ask for an indictment against Horowitz on a charge of kidnapping. The official said he hoped some way could be found to bring back the fugitive father and son.

But it was noted that there is no extradiction treaty as yet between the United States and Israel.

Last March 10 Mrs. Horowitz, 28, received a separation from her husband and was awarded custody of Stephen, their only child. The father was given permission to see his son two days aweek.

Believes Czechs If Forced Choose Moscow

PRAGUE, July 25 — (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist premier said Sunday that if forced to choose between Roman Catholicism or Communism, the country's answer would be: "Moscow, Stalin, socialism."

Premier Antonin Zapotocky, speaking to 15,000 union members in Trutnov, formerly a part of the Sudetan German region, declared:

"If the Pope today excommunicated all Communists and with them all the co-operating, believing Christians, then he would be aware of the fact that he is excommunicating nearly the entire Czechoslovak working people.

"Our people have found a real friend and ally in the east. We never posed ourselves the question, Rome or Moscow? However, if that question is placed to us through actions from the other side, then we shall leave nobody in doubt that the answer of our nation shall be that there is no alternative for us but Moscow-Stalin-socialism."

Even as he spoke, Czech Communist officials were denouncing the church's excommunication of Communists as a "devlish means of sowing discord" in Communist-ruled countries.

Campbellford Blasts

CAMPBELLFORD, July 25 — (ENS)—Riding high on the crest of a winning streak, Ibey's local nine trounced the Marmora aggregation in a TVL baseball fixture here Saturday night to the tune of 19-5.

The local club played a bang-up game of ball with Macoun, Hay, Bennett and Patherick deserving special mention.

The visitors lacked their usual punch and Mantel, one of the best hurlers in the league, pitched erratic ball throughout. Also costly errors were largely responsible for Marmora's one-sided defeat.

The teams:

Marmora—Brooks c, Brown ss, Mumby 2b, Drummond rf, Auger 3b, Dikun cf, Darrah lf, Mantel p, Leal 1b.

The Welfare State

Although the Marshall Plan for aid to Europe is in full swing there is a good deal of criticism of it in the U.S.A., and particularly in the middle West, where mistrust of Britain remains very strong. It was in New York, however, that Governor Thomas Dewey recently complained of "pet projects of socialism" which might, he feared hamper the success of Marshall Aid. It was ironical that on the same day Britain's Foreign Secretary, Ernest Bevin, complained in the House of Commons that American socialism was limiting British purchasing power. What did he mean by that?

* * *

He referred, undoubtedly to a provision in the Plan which makes it necessary for $1,500,000,000 of Marshall Aid money to be spent on American surplus farm products, which will be dumped in European countries, including Britain. The money must be spent in that way, or not at all. Britain, for instance, will get $200,000,000 worth of cotton, which it may or may not be able to use; but it will get that cotton or nothing. The American farmers' lobby have seen to it that whatever effect the Marshall Aid has on Europe, it will have a very good effect on themselves.

* * *

Mr. Bevin refers to the U.S.A. as "a welfare state", and rightly. It has high unemployment insurance, sick pay, and the possibility of a large medical service. It supports farm prices at levels set by the farmers. And the farmers set their levels high because they must buy manufactured goods at prices which are also protected by the government through tariffs. The U.S.A. gives a very high degree of protection to its people and its industries, and is in that respect under socialist influence.

* * *

We have said many times in these columns that no modern state can hope to escape socialist influence entirely, for socialism is one of the moving forces of our time. Whether it is good or bad we cannot hope to determine for many decades. What matters is that it is in operation now, and we cannot hope to escape socialism by calling it something else. It is amusing that Mr. Dewey and Mr. Bevin should each have chosen to complain of the socialism of the other's country at the same time.

U.S. Farmers Wiser Than U.S. Senators

The Appropriations Committee of the United States Senate last week approved a surprising amendment to the bill to provide new funds for recovery in Europe. This amendment would specify that $1,500,000,000 of these new funds would have to be used to purchase agricultural surplus commodities in the United States. In effect, it would say to Europe: "The United States has set aside some money to assist you, but it is tied to surplus commodities. If you do not use it for that purpose, you cannot have it."

The elected representatives of the people of the United States most certainly have the right to spend the people's money as they see fit, and to attach whatever conditions they consider desirable. It seems neither fair nor ethical, however, to label an appropriation "for European recovery" and then use it primarily for United States agricultural relief. It has already been suggested, in the United States itself, that the title "European Recovery Program" should be changed to something like the Agricultural Dumping Act of 1949".

This amendment was developed under the leadership of Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, who is often described in the U.S. press in terms so unflattering they are almost libellous. Observers have been quick to point out that one of the surplus commodities mentioned specifically in the amendment is cotton, and that Britain alone would be required to spend $200,000,000 of its E.C.A. funds on cotton—no matter what state its textile export trade was in. But there is a large surplus of cotton in Tennessee, and Senator McKellar thinks that disposal of it is more important to the U.S. than recovery in Europe. Some other Senators from states in which there are other agricultural surpluses felt the same way.

It was pleasing and encouraging to note that the farmers' organizations of the United States do not feel that way about the matter. The presidents of the U.S. Farm Bureau, the Farmers' Union and the National Grange have united to issue a protest against this earmarking of E.C.A. funds. They would naturally like to see agricultural surpluses disposed of, but they brand the McKellar committee's amendment as wrong in principle. Their action is far more statesmanlike than that of the legislators at Washington.

Common Sense About Democracy

So much nonsense is talked about democracy, both pro and contra, that it is refreshing when a man makes some public remarks on that topic which are clear and sensible. The Committee on Un-Amerian Activities questioned Jackie Robinson, the well-known baseball player, recently in hopes of finding out something about a possible relationship between Communism and the struggle for full civil rights for Negroes. Mr. Robinson who appears to be a clear thinker and a good talker, gave them some first-class answers.

"Life in these United States can be mighty tough for people who are a little different from the majority", said he, and added, "because it is a Communist who denounces injustice . . . doesn't change the truth". That is something that we should all remember. Not all Communist criticism of democracy is groundless, and we only weaken democracy when we pretend that it has reached its finest perfection. Again we quote Mr. Robinson: "Negroes were stirred up long before there was a Communist party, and they'll stay stirred up long after the party has disappeared —unless Jim Crow has disappeared by then as well". That is sound doctrine; the abuses which exist within democracies cannot be wiped out by calling the people who complain of them Communists. "The more a Negro hates Communism because it opposes democracy the more he is going to hate any other influence that kills off democracy"; that is a word of warning for such states as Georgia and Alabama, where a somewhat menacing paternalism toward Negroes still lingers. "The American public is off on the wrong foot when it begins to think of radicalism in terms of any special minority group"; that touches upon one of the weaknesses of all mankind—the desire to find a scapegoat in a group of people who are in any way unlike the majority.

The Villain Of The Piece

A new play by the well-known Russian dramatist Konstantin Simonov had its first performance in Moscow on Tuesday last; it is called Strange Shadow. It is about a Soviet scientist, whose only desire is to help mankind; he develops a wonderful drug which is unsurpassed in combatting several hitherto unbeatable disease germs. But a wicked spy tries to steal the secret, in order that the wonder-working drug can be turned into an enemy of mankind—a destroyer rather than a saviour. This nasty fellow is put to rout, and the drug is kept pure for the use of the great-hearted Soviet Union. The wicked spy is an American.

One critic says of this piece: "It unmasks the reactionary character of bourgeois ideology and stigmatizes the slavish kowtowing of certain scientists before the pseudo-science of the capitalist west".

Now where, we wonder, have we met with anything like this before? Ah, yes! Now we have it. How many Hollywood films have we seen in which some noble old Western scientist has laboured to produce a wonderful drug, or explosive, or simply something called "the Machine" for the good of mankind, only to discover that some nasty spy was snooping around, anxious to get his discovery and pervert it to wicked uses? And of what nationality was the spy? You've guessed it—a Russian.

There are certain unshakeable beliefs which all the races of mankind hold about their enemies. One of them is that their only use for scientific discoveries is to use them to the detriment of mankind. As W. S. Gilbert remarks—

It's human nature, p'raps—if so,
Oh isn't human natur' low!

In Britain troops are doing the work of striking dockers; in Australia troops are doing the work of striking miners. Both countries have "advanced" governments. Before the end of the century, we predict, such governments will advance to the wonderful scheme of imposing army restrictions and discipline upon all workers in nationalized industry, and thus we will advance right back to slavery, where we came from.

Of Cabbages And Kings

By PETER ELIOT

WHEN Sir Ernest Benn acquired the English book rights of the intimate papers of Colonel House he discovered several references to the King, and one which seemed to go beyond the proper limits. Reporting one of his many interviews at the Palace, Colonel House had written to President Wilson:

"This is the most bellicose little monarch loose in these parts."

A cable was sent to the author and permission readily obtained to omit the sentence. Then Sir Ernest remembered that serial rights had been acquired by the Daily Telegraph. He hurried to Lord Burnham to show him the cable.

Lord Burnham was amused; only that morning he had been to the Palace with the same difficulty on his mind. The King had taken a generous view of this republican forthrightness. The galley proof, corrected in the royal hand, showed that the single word "little" had been deleted.

A strange story of the love life of the great Irish poet, is told by Dr. Norman Jeffares in W. B. Yeats: Man and Poet, a volume based on a considerable amount of new material.

Hopelessly in love with Maud Gonne, who refused to marry him, he many years later fell in love with Maud's daughter.

"He was told by Maud," writes Dr. Jeffares, "that she had no objection to his proposal to him when she was fifteen would probably not take him seriously. In fact it was Iseult who had made the first proposal to him when she was fifteen and had been refused because there was too much Mars in her horoscope." After visiting the Gonnes in France, Yeats brought them back to London. All this time he was asking Iseult to marry him.

"On the boat," continues the author, "Yeats had delivered an ultimatum to Iseult: that she must make up her mind one way or the other, that he found the whole business an immense strain, and that if she would not marry him, he had a friend who would be very suitable. a girl strikingly beautiful in a barbaric manner. He must receive her answer within a week at a certain restaurant in London. Iseult refused him, and he married Miss Hyde-Lees on the 21st October.

SOME reminiscenses of Major General Wingate, whom he met in London, are told by Colonel Melvin Hall in Journey to the End of an Era. Wingate remembered a small Burmese railway town which was so often day-bombed by Allied aircraft that the Jap garrison spent most of the day in the jungle, returning at dusk for their evening meal prepared by Burmese servitors, who rang a gong to announce that it was ready. When Wingate arrived with his small force he was told of this. He knew that he could lure the garrison from the forest by merely sounding the gong and ambush them. Instead, he and his men ate the Japs' supper, then silently filtered away.

"That confused 'em," Wingate told Colonel Hall, "more than anything we could do. I didn't particularly want a fight just then. When they finally came in, wondering why the gong hadn't rung, and discovered that their supper had been eaten and we had passed on, they didn't know what to make of it. The Burmese exaggerated our strength, and the Japs stood around hissing in their breath and saying: 'That, what mean?' It wasn't in the book. Their discomfiture lasted a long while and affected Jap morale over a good part of central Burma. I was informed about all this later. They don't appreciate mysteries.

COLONEL Hall also tells a story of Rudyard Kiping, who lived for a short time at Brattleboro after marrying a Balestier there. He faced his house the wrong way round as people kept driving out to get a look at it. He also had a serious squabble with his brother-in-law "Batty" over the building of it.

"Batty," who had been left in charge of construction while the Kiplings were away in the South, was "likkered up" most of the time, and committed some first-rate stupidities, such as laying the drain-pipes with flanges uphill so that they froze and burst in the winter.

When Kipling returned he found Batty staggering about gurgling with "likker." Rudyard blasted Batty for his stupidity and for betraying a trust.

"Rudzh's," said Batty thickly, "if you talk t'me tha' way I'll have t' knock yu down!"

✧ ✧ ✧

IF Kiping, small though he was, had pushed Batty with one hand the latter probably would have gone over backwards and stayed here. Instead, Rudyard went to Brattleboro and swore out a warrant against his brother-in-law for attempted assault. The trial brought to the small town the best journalistic talent in tthe United States, and the publicity was not flattering to Kipling. He pulled up stakes at the end of it, never to set foot in America again.

✧ ✧ ✧

ON his mission to Rumania, Colonel Hall had a long talk with Queen Marie, who told him of a fire that had started in the bedroom shared with her daughter Princess Ileana. Convinced that the soldiers guarding it were too stupid to put it out, Ileana—also a Naval Lieutenant—rushed out through the streets in her nightgown to summon her own crew and naval guard while the Queen quietly carried her best potted plants, two by two, on to the veranda away from the heat. The guard then arrived and put out the fire.

"It had not done a great deal of damage," sighed Queen Marie. "Only to one corner of the room and above the fireplace. Oh, yes, there was also a small hole in the roof. Not bad, we could still sleep there. But the night was quite cold. "So," concluded Queen Marie, "before returning to bed I moved all my potted plants back into the room again."

The Royal National Eisteddfod

(By THOMAS JONES)

THE Royal National Eisteddfod of Wales finds a home in 1949 at Dolgelley—capital of Merioneth—situated at the foot of the majestic Cader Idris range and at the head of the beautiful Mawddach Estuary.

This is the third time in its history that Meirionydd has taken on this great responsibility and the very first occasion that the County town has been entrusted with the duties of host—the two previous festivals being held at Festiniog (1899) and Corwen (1919).

Thirty years will have therefore passed since the last advent of the "National" in the County and one cannot but sense acutely that thirty years of pent-up hospitality, culture and goodwill have been tapped in the process of preparing to entertain the bastion of Welsh Art and Culture in this most Welsh of Welsh counties.

One of the duties of the Eisteddfod "host" is the organizing of the official Eisteddfod Choir which forms the backbone of the Eisteddfod concerts and also must be in attendance for the Official Opening Ceremony and other similar occasions during Eisteddfod week. The choir numbers some 500 members and is drawn from localities within a radius of 12 miles of Dolgelley with the town itself providing the main body. The works to be performed include the St. Matthew Passion (Bach), Acis and Galatea (Handel) Hymn of Praise (Mendelssohn) for which the Welsh translation has been specially published for the first time.

On the Literary side, the Bardic Chair, presented by the Welsh Society at Hong Kong and the product of Chinese craftsmanship, is being offered in the Chief Bardic Competition, whilst the Silver Bardic Crown, to be worn by the author of the best Ode comes from Buenos Aires, the gift of Mr. R. G. Robers, a Welshman in business there.

IT is hoped to stage a new competition in the form of a challenge competition open to winners in the four solo competitions for singers between 18 and 25 years of age, and to offer as a prize a trophy valued £25, together with an opportunity for the winner to enter into a course of musical instruction at an institution approved by the Eisteddfod Committee. The New York Cymric Society have interested themselves in this competition and are likely to become the donors of the prize. By means of this competition, it is hoped to discover the most promising young vocalist in Wales today. The Cymric Society have also been the medium of another prize in a new competition in the sphere of the Welsh traditional singing—Penillion Singing with the Harp. Judge Paul O'Dwyer is presenting a valuable trophy to the winners of a Penillion Singing Choir competition. This is the first occasion when a choral competition has been included in the "National" and there are prospects of an excellent competition taking place around which intense interest is focused.

One of the hardest worked of the committees is the Reception Committee which has done well in securing accommodation for over 3,000 within a radius of 10 miles—no mean achievement when the scattered nature of the population around Dolgelley is remembered. There is also close liaison between the County Council Main Road and Police Authorities in preparing for the heavy traffic that is to be expected. Arrangements are well in hand whereby convenient parking will be available for Eisteddfod motorists whilst the Railway and Bus Companies have comprehensive plans for dealing with the quick transport of visitors with the least congestion possible.

After taking into consideration the many difficulties that have already been overcome, the very comprehensive plans laid, and the innumerable contacts by proposed contestants in the Drama, Music, Elocution, Choirs and Brass Bands competitions, together with a fair share of Dame Fortune's Smiles, Dolgelley and District feel quite confident of proving Eisteddfod Council's faith in them and hope to stage the "best Eisteddfod ever".

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.

And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them, when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes. (Deut. 6: 4-8.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The Lord did not set his love upon you, nor choose you, because ye were more in number than any people; for ye were the fewest of all people: but because the Lord loved you, and because he would keep the oath which he had sworn unto your fathers, hath the Lord brought you out with a mighty hand, and redeemed you out of the house of bondmen, from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt. (Deut. 7: 7, 8.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. . . .

We love him because he first loved us. (1 John 4: 16, 19.)

Sociological Note

Kansas, which has been dry for 70 years has now gone wet, thus disproving the pronouncement made by that prominent Kansan, William Allen White, who once remarked "They will go on voting dry as long as they can stagger to the polls."

It took a long time, however, for Kansas was apparently proud of its laws. They had a law against cigarettes — though they all smoked — just as they had a law against liquor — though they (No, that's an exaggeration) all drank.

The answer to this curious situation is, we suppose, that Kansans liked to feel that they had no vices. As long as the laws were there, they were pure, even when they were caught, as they almost all were, smoking and drinking to their hearts' content.

Outsiders thought they might as well admit to themselves that they smoked and drank. This, they have now done, though we fancy the change will make little change in the lives and habits of the state.

And Now It's Free Suits

Men's suits and women's clothes must now be kept in stock at hospitals throughout Britain as a Government free issue to discharged patients who have none of their own.

A Ministry of Health Circular, sent to the 14 Regional Health Boards controlling all hospitals, lays down that:

"Hospitals shall not provide clothing for all up patients, only for those unable to provide out of their own resources, and not obtaining it from other sources."

Authority has already been given to mental hospitals and institutions, the circular points out, to allow patients to keep outdoor clothing.—London Daily Mail.

350 Join Strike

MONTREAL, July 25 (CP) — J. S. Miller of Montreal, president of the Canadian Lithographers' Association, said Sunday night 350 lithographers in 14 Montreal plants will go on strike tomorrow joining 500 workers now out in Ontario. He said the strike in Canada's Central Provinces arises from a refusal of the Amalgamated Lithographers of America (CIO) to accept either the offer made by the CLA or the findings of government labor boards of Ontario and Quebec.

Building Plan Cushions Trade Setback

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor.

Since the close of the war Canada has been on a gigantic building spree—and a good thing too.

For it is the drive of her domestic activity which has enabled her to face up to the trading crises which have been recurrent over the last two yedrs.

It was what, in the first place, enabled her to change over from peace to war without unemployment. And now it gives her a breathing spell while she tries to figure out what should be done about such things as the recent cuts in purchases by the sterling area.

These trade restrictions take a little while, in any event, to make themselves fully felt, and the building and rehabilitation program supplies a cushion.

Bigger Than Ever

This year the total Canadian investment program is estimated to be bigger than ever, $3,400,000,000. It, and those of the last few years, are bigger than anything that was expected, and are the result of the demands built up by years of depression and war, increased population, and such new developments as Alberta oil.

There are in hand or in the planning stage projects which should give Canada big building programs for years to come; but perhaps it would be too optimistic to hope that they can continue at the present pace.

There is, of course, concern that both trade and investment programs may fail about the same time ,adding up to a serious slowdown.

Fortunately there still is some time for thought and planning.

The present visit to Canada of Sir Graham Cunningham, chairman of Britain's newly-organized dollar export board, is just one illustration of the many lines upon which current problems are being tackled.

If solutions fail, it won't be for lack of knowledge of what the problems are and of efforts to meet them.

Fly Alexander To U.K.

His Excellency is making the trip on the invitation of the King, who is Colonel-in-Chief of the Irish Guards, to be present at the ceremony of the presentation of new colors to the 1st battalion of the Guards at Buckingham Palace July 27.

Water Very Low

BRANTFORD, July 25 (CP) — Present flow of the Grand River through here is down to 250 cubic feet per second, lowest since the Grand River valley dam was opened nine years ago, E. F. Roberts, secretary-treasurer of the Grand River Conservation Commission, said Saturday. He said the recent shortage of water had made it necessary to release water through the dam June 3. Normally, the water is not released until late June or early July.

DOROTHY DIX

Children Can Hold Husband Siren Appeal Stands Second

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: You speak of the folly of grandmothers trying to look like flappers. So far so good. But you know a lot of us women with children never have the time or money to get a peak into a beauty parlor until our last daughter is married off.

Dorothy Dix

And you know how well the usual American husband keeps himself. I have heard they even have their eyebrows plucked along with the extra foliage that sprouts from ears and nose. So is there any harm in our trying to keep pace with them? Or is it better to send father off to the Elk banquet alone because mother did not feel up to wearing tight clothes that night? It is no comfort to any woman to look in her mirror and see something short and squatty, with feet that bulge over her slippers, stringy hair, gray lips and shiny skin. Therefore, the Old Girl who holds herself in hand at the dinner table keeps her body supple and has a pride in the state of her hair, skin and nails deserves every pretty thing her admiring old husband may buy her, and it helps to keep romance alive.

A GRANDMOTHER.

ANSWER: Three cheers for you, Grandmother, and for all other women who try to keep themselves as attractive in body and mind as they can. This is an ugly old world in which we are sadly in need of more beauty, and I account it unto any woman for righteousness who makes herself a treat for the eyes instead of remaining as homely as nature created her.

So you get me wrong, Grandma if you think for one moment that I believe in women going around frowsy and unkempt and looking as if they had just been fished out of the ragbag because they have passed their 60th or 70th or even 80th birthday. On the contrary, I believe that the older a woman grows, the more careful she should be about her grooming and the lovelier clothes she should have. For age is not of itself attractive and it needs to be wrapped up in a lot of chiffons to make it decorative.

And that was just the point I was trying to make in the article to which you refer—that age could have its charms no less than youth, but that they could never be the same line of attractions and hence that it was foolish for grandma to deny herself all the ease and pleasures she craved and wear herself to a frazzle trying to understudy granddaughter.

Among the greatest blessings and achievements of our modern age is the elimination of age, so far as women are concerned. It used to be that a woman was an old maid at 25. Now she is a girl bachelor and still in the running when she is 40. Now women keep themselves fit and, when they are 70, are still going strong and really beginning to enjoy themselves.

The world is the better and the happier for the change.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I have been married eighteen years and have three children, the youngest a child of four. He has been just as good to me as any living human being could be, but now he has met a grass widow and fallen in love with her and, of course, he has ceased to love me. but I still love him and don't see how I can give him up. He is still kind to me and brings me his pay check and he says I am in no way to blame for his having fallen in love with this other woman. What must I do? Do you think there is a chance to win him back?

HEARTBROKEN WIFE.

ANSWER: Yes, I do think that there is a chance for a wife to win back that type of husband. If he were a philanderer who had always been having affairs with other women, the case would be hopeless. He would be one without any deep affection who could be faithful to no woman.

But when a man is domestic by nature and when he has been kind and good to his wife and they have lived together in peace and harmony for a long number of years, she has really got a hold upon him that cannot be broken. He is bound to her by a bond that is woven of habit and association and old memories and struggles shared together and that nothing really can sever. It may loosen for a time, but it is there and, in the end, it always draws him back.

Such a man may think he is tired of his wife. He may imagine that he has fallen in love with some younger and vampier a woman, but it is only a passing fancy, a flare-up of youth and romance that soon dies down, and if his wife will only have the self-control not to nag him about it, and if she will only wait until he finds out for himself that he is Darby and no Don Juan, he will come back to her a chastened and humbled man.

And the wife has on her side the pull of the children. There are not many sirens whose song can drown out the call of a four-year-old for papa.

Church Founder Dies

MONTREAL, July 25 (CP) — Dr. George Alexander Berwick, 85, co-founder of the United Church of Canada, died in hospital Saturday. Closely affiliated with church work, he was keenly interested in the 1925 campaign for the union of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational Churches.

Quebec Doctors Denying Mystery Malady

ST. JOVITE, Que., July 25 (CP) —Two doctors here admitted during the week-end being all at sea in their attempts to account for reports circulated Saturday that a "mysterious malady" had taken the lives of six St. Jolite children in the last six weeks.

St. Jolite is a Laurentian town 80 miles north of Montreal.

Dr. Marche Ouimet said he and Dr. Raymond Dupre knew of only one child who died in the vicinity during the last six weeks.

The two doctors commented on the reports which said six children had died recently, and another was seriously ill of a disease that left bodies blue after death.

A provincial police detective came here to investigate the reports and an autopsy was performed by Dr. J. M. Roussel, medico-legal expert on the body of Soulange Sigouin, who died of enteritis last week.

It was reported that Dr. Roussel discovered traces of meningitis in his autopsy.

Dr. Ouimet said, however, there was no truth in the reports of a widespread mysterious ailment.

Dr. Dupre reported that prior to the death of the Sigouin child the deaths of only two children had been registered in St. Jovite and one of them was a child stillborn.

"This is the second time in the last few months that such a story has gone around," Dr. Dupre said, "and I can only think it must have been started by somebody wishing to harm our tourist trade."

Carbon Strikers Vote To Go Back To Work

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Strikers voted Sunday to go back to work today at three plants of the National Carbon Company.

Issues in the strike which began 77 days ago apparently remained unsettled. Robert C. Edwards, National Organization Director for the United Chemical Workers (CIO) said negotiations with the company will continue.

Numerous incidents of violence marked the strike, which made 953 workers idle. The National Carbon Company is an affiliate of the Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation.

The strike began May 9 after a deadlock on a union shop and worker benefits, including insurance, hospitalization, medical-surgical and pension benefits.

Soldiers In Accident

BRANDON, Man., July 25 (CP) —Pte. Thomas D. Simm, 22, of Brockville, was killed and two other soldiers seriously injured Friday night when the army vehicle in which they were riding failed to make a turn and rolled into a ditch two miles west of Rivers, Man. In serious condition are L. Cpl. H. C. Arthur, 23, and Pte. Ivan J. Tucker, 24.

To Study Dollar Plan

OTTAWA, July 25 (CP)—Sir Graham Cunningham, chairman of the newly-organized British Dollar Export Board, arrived here on Sunday for conferences with government leaders. He is on the first leg of a trip through Canada and the United States. The Board is designed to seek ways of increasing British dollar earnings.

53 Indian Princes Become Titled Gentry, Not Rulers

BOMBAY, July 25—(Reuters)—Fifty-three Indian princes have become titled gentry in the states which they ruled with absolute powers until recently. Their territory was merged with Bombay province some months ago. Now, they have relinquished for all time much of the wealth they enjoyed as ruling princes.

This "sacrificial ceremony", which took place at the end of April at the Bombay government secretariat, marked what may be the beginning of the last phase in the princely epoch of free India.

In brief two and three-minute interviews with a soft-speaking official from New Delhi, the stately, bejeweled princes signed away the bulk of their fabulous "private property."

The deal has not made paupers of them. But it has enriched the states which they once ruled and their population of nearly 5,000,000 Indians.

Draw Allowance

The Maharajas, who virtually owned the states covering an area of about 34,000 square miles, now may retire on a fortune in keeping with their status. They also draw an annual "privy purse" allowance fixed earlier by the Government of India.

The Bombay deal-between V. P. Menor, adviser to the Indian States Ministry, and the rulers of Deccan and Gujerat states, was concluded in less than 15 hours.

Menon gets down to business immediately the Maharaja enters his chamber. Menon appeals to the ruler's sense of patriotism, love for his subjects and duty to Free India.

The offer of a settlement is usually liberal. The ruler gets his palace, sufficient land and estates and all personal belongings, including jewels worth millions of rupees in some cases.

The Maharaja, however, is called on to sacrifice unrestrained luxury and access to state revenue.

The private property is hereditary. But the private-purse grant lapses with the death of the present recipient.

The Indian States Ministry has to conclude such agreements with a total of some 500 Princes whose states have either been merged in neighboring provinces or integrated into states unions.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

GIVE OUR KIDS THE "BRAKES"

We can't expect little children to avoid traffic dangers unless we train them to do so at home—and at school. It's our job as parents to see that they learn and practice all the rules of safety. It's our responsibility as motorists to drive carefully at all times—but particularly in residential areas and near schools. Let's give our kiddies the "brakes" and help to reduce the accident toll! To save a life—or a lifetime of suffering is one of the most important aims of "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Young Petes Lose 4-1 To Whitby

By FRED MAYBEE.

Whitby Dairymen nosed out Art. Pagett's Young Petes 4-1 in Whitby Saturday afternoon, behind the three-hit flinging of Art MacDonald in a nea Lakeshore League baseball contest.

Brian Wade twirled fine ball also for the McGuinness club and deserved a better fate. However, the team was short-handed for this game and on the play Whitby earned the verdict fairly, by virtue of timely clutch hitting.

[illegible] sixth for Peterborough's lone tally. Dafoe, McCloskey and Spencer were good for the Dairymen as well as MacDonald, who struck out seven. Wade fanned five.

Young Petes have a date with Colborne here at Riverside, Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. It should be a thriller.

Caddies Still Needed For Weekend Tourney

Bruce Meredith, assistant professional at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, said Saturday that between 40 and 50 boys are still needed for the tournament next weekend. The occasion is the 4th Annual Amateur Golf Tournament of the Golf and Country Club to be held the three days. July 30, 31 and August 1. An estimated 180 golfers are expected to participate.

Last year over 200 amateurs took part in the yearly Club event. It was only a one-day affair.

Any boys who wish to earn some pocket money are asked to report to Mr. Meredith at the Pro Shop at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club Thursday morning at 9:30 a.m. There they will be given their instructions. Mr. Meredith said that the boys will have nearly four days' work, most of the golfers practising on Friday.

Ontario Takes Willingdon Cup In Big Battle

RIVERSIDE GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB, SAINT JOHN, N. B., July 25 (CP)—It promises to be a long time before golf enthusiasts see the likes of the Ontario-Quebec struggle that was waged Saturday for the interprovincial golf team championship and ownership of the Willingdon Cup.

In a ding-dong, see-saw battle that lasted to the very end of 36 holes of medal play, the steadier Ontario team came through with an aggregate medal score of 601, winning over Quebec by two strokes and vindicating pre-tournament guesses of self-acknowledged experts.

In the final analysis, Ontario owned its victory to the steady, consistent play of Captain Phil Farley of the four-man team and the brilliant, last-ditch display of 21-year-old Gerry Kesselring of Kitchener. Both Farley and Kesselring shot totals of 156—six over Riverside's grim 70 par—to assure Ontario the title. Behind them came Don Varey of Brantford, with 151, including a remarkable two under par 33 nine, and George Eluck of Windsor with 158.

Knights of Columbus took the final game of the Men's City Softball League schedule Saturday evening, 9-4, over Uniteds before a fair crowd.

Uniteds have a bye into the finals, despite the loss, finishing first in the standing. They will meet the winner of a best of seven series beginning this week, between K. of C. and Cosmos.

Bob Greenlaw twirled five innings for K. of C. and receieved credit for the win. Legros, with three safe bingles in five tries, Conlin with two and O'Heron a pair also for five, led Knights at bat.

Harison with four for four, Spencer and Bill Sullivan each with two in four, were best for the losers. Eakins switched teams to relieve Greenlaw, by special concession, in the sixth.

Lacrosse

Peterborough senior lacrossers head for Weston tonight for a Senior A fixture with the Weston Lions. A week ago the Petes subdued the sixth-place Lions easily to climb into sixth place, shoving the Lions into the cellar by one point. A win for the Petes would put them up three points, but a loss would put them back in the cellar.

In minor lacrosse games at the Bowl tonight at 6:15 the Kiwanis midgets and the Americans do battle while at 7:15 the Irwin-Godson midgets tackle the Cavanaughs. At 8:15 the Queen's Juveniles play the Fireston boys in a four-pointer.

Softball

In Riverside Bowl, if the rain holds off, Ashby's will play the Lindsay lasses in a Girls' Softball League fixture.

In the Civic Softball League the Bell Telephone play the J. K. Hughes boys at King Edward Park at 7 p.m. At the same time at Ashburnham Park the J. J. Duffus team will be trying to defeat the league leaders, the Farm Co-Op, who have yet to be beaten.

A and P ballsters, in third place in the Foresters League, will tackle tonight the league leaders, Canadian Order of Foresters. This week will see the end of the scheduled games. Playoffs will begin next week.

Dominion Cricketers Downed At Opening

EDMONTON, July 25 (CP) — The dominion champion Ontario Cricket Squad, defeated Sunday in the opening match of the Dominion Cricket Tournament, meets Alberta today as play continues in the four-team, 12-game event. British Columbia cricketers, who took the fall from the champions, meet Manitoba.

Scores Sunday were: British Columbia 107 for five wickets, Ontario 105; Alberta 97 for six wickets, Manitoba 93.

The victories gave Alberta and British Columbia five points apiece in the total-point series. A tie is worth 2½ points and a draw, when one team is trailing when the time limit runs out, counts two.

Tricky bowling by the two western provinces contributed to their triumphs. A pre-game injury to Basil Robinson, ace batsmen of the champions, which kept him out of his regular place in the batting line-up Sunday, made the going even tougher for Ontario.

Oshawa Jolts Peterborough In 8-4 Battle

OSHAWA, July 25 — Oshawa Merchants virtually clinched first place in the Central Ontario Senior Baseball League Saturday when they beat the second-place Peterborough Marines 8-4 at the Memorial Stadium.

High spots in the hitting for the Motor City crew were Bill Cook's triple to right centre. The other extra-base clout was Andy McMullen's wrong-field double down the first base line.

Bill Dell, returning to shortstop for Oshawa after a week's absence, was the most consistent batsman, coming up with a rugged three-for-four. Danny Brown Pete's import shortstop, and Fred Garvey, their catcher, led the Marines' hit parade.

Hall's Nerves Brings Title

RIVERSIDE GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB, SAINT JOHN, N. B., July 25 (CP)—It was the old story Saturday of the youngster with the most gimmick and nerve winning the Canadian Junior Golf Championship. So the title went to 18-year-old Bob Hall of Montreal's Hampstead Club, with a 36-hole total of 158.

For a long time—27 holes and more—it looked as if Bob would have to bow to Laurie Roland of Vancouver.

The blond west coast boy had a one-stroke lead over Hall after the first 18-hole round and appeared to be a shoot-in for the championship until the last half dozen holes.

Then he blew and there was no mistake about it. For the last five holes he was seven strokes over par and finished with a whopping six over par at the last hole, a 220-yard par three. That put him definitely out of the title hunt, three strokes behind Hall.

Canada Bows Out Of Davis Cup Play

MONTREAL, July 25 (CP)—Canada bowed out of Davis Cup play for 1949 Saturday, ousted by Australia four matches to one in the North American zone tie, but even in defeat her aces had helped boost the Dominion's prestige in the world of tennis.

Observers saw hopes for the future in the sparkling debut of a rising young star, 19-year-old Lorne Main, of Vancouver.

The Aussies' three-member trio advanced against Mexico in the zone final at Wilmington, Del., next week by sweeping the final singles matches Saturday.

Their sensational rookie, 21-year-old Frank Sedgman, breezed to a 6-2, 6-2, 6-0 victory over Brendan Macken, 26, of Montreal, while Billy Sidwell, 29, triumphed over Main only after a hard battle 8-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1.

Petes Are Taken In Soccer Final Flare-up

O'Halloran Garage soccer eleven have take four valuable league points from the Petes in last two games played on King Edward Park. On Saturday they trounced them 5-0 before a good attendance of spectators. Best for winners were: D. Buchan, M. Buchan and H. Foster.

In the last minutes of the game, Dalton Downer a suspended player and a spectator went on the field of play and began fighting players, and had to be requested to leave the field.

Both goals went under steady attack in the early stages but their effectiveness was killed by their anxiety to score. A foul against O'Halloran's looked dangerous for them. Eventually the break went in favour of O'Hallorans when H. Foster placed a perfect centre into goal where Art Downer connected with a smart header. Petes retaliated with a series of raids that culminated in erratic shooting in front of goal but no doubt to the effectiveness of Scott and Smart at full backs. Mervin Buchan's effective play at right half finally resulted in O'Hallorans half back line dominating the situation and G. Foster in goal for the Petes was spectacular. Again the Petes got the opportunity to get the equalizer on a penalty shot but N. Downer rattled the upright instead. Just before the interval Petes went back into the picture with smart and perfect timing but Hitchinson, in goal for O'Hallorans, was unbeatable.

On resuming, within a minute Art Downer for O'Halloran's was knocked out and had to retire but resumed later at centre-forward and Art O'Halloran going into goal. Hutchinson going into right back position. After ten minutes of play, H. Foster accomplished an unusual feat when he scored from a corner-kick as the ball took flight across the goal to land inside the upright for the second goal. Petes never gave up trying but without success. Enthusiasm prevailed in the O'Halloran camp when Art Downer beat three men in a row and slipped the ball into the rigging for the third counter. At this point G. Downer was sent from the game by the referee. H. Foster registered the fourth when he dribbled his way through the Petes and Duffus climaxed the final count from the penalty spot to make it read 5-0.

Petes—G. Foster, goal; T. Foster, jr., and W. Cribbis full backs; H. Renwod, D. Downer and N. Lane half backs; L. Payne, G. Downer, N. Downer, J. Downer and N. Lane, forwards. Sub—Don Downer.

O'Halloran's — J. Hutchinson, goal; C. B. Smart and T. Scott full backs; M. Buchan, Art Downer and A. E. Smith half backs; H. Foster, F. Dyer, A. Duffus, H. Murduff and D. Buchan forwards.

Referee—T. Foster, sr. Linesman—D. Duncan and J. Earl.

Leafs Stampede On Home Runs, Take Twin Bill

By The Associated Press

Toronto Maple Leafs, who lead the International League in home runs, are off on another home-run spree.

Toronto started its streak meekly, collecting one homer on Friday and another on Saturday but Sunday the Leafs blasted out five as they swept a doubleheader from Jersey City Giants 3-0 and 7-3.

Until their current outbreak, the Leafs had walloped only six homers from July 10 to July 21.

Home runs by pitcher Jocko Thompson, Al. Roberge and Ed. Sanicki accounted for all of Toronto's runs against Andy Tomasic in the first game. Sanicki's belt was his 25th.

Roberge, who banged out three hits in each game, also homered in the nightcap as did Chet Laabs to boost the team's total to 97.

Veteran Nick Strincevich scattered nine hits and coasted to his 10th triumph. The victories moved the Leafs into a virtual second place tie with Rochester Red Wings.

Bisons Trounce Wings

The Wings were trounced 15-6 by the league-leading Buffalo Bisons. Both the Wings and Leafs trail the Bisons by 3½ games. The Wings are one percentage point in front of the Leafs.

Buffalo assaulted four Rochester pitchers for 16 hits in snapping a five game losing streak. The Bisons clinched the game in the third inning with an eight-run drive that Doc Cramer featured with a grand-slam home run.

Syracuse Chiefs turned back the fifth-place Montreal Royals twice 6-3 and 4-3 to take over sixth place from Baltimore Orioles who divided with Newark Bears.

Sammy Meeks' 13th home run with a mate on in the sixth broke up the first fame in favor of Syracuse. Carden Gillenwater blasted his 16th homer in the nightcap but it was Dutch Mele's two-out last inning single that drove home the winning run.

Vern Taylor pitched Baltimore to a three-hit 5-0 triumph over Newark after the Bears won the opener 2-1 in the ninth inning on a double, Sacrifice and Mickey Witek's fly ball. The Orioles sewed up the second game with a four-run sixth inning.

A new trophy, for club competition, will be at stake at the Royal Canadian Henley July 27-30.

The Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen, parent body of rowing in Canada, has donated the $750 Maple Leaf Shield which will go to the club scoring the most points at the renewal of the Dominion's sculling classic.

This step marks final acceptance by the CAAO of the club championship to which it first gave official recognition in 1946 when it adopted a point-scoring system used in the United States by the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen.

The speedy Ace Admiral, with Johnny Longden in the saddle, clipped a full second off Man O' War's 29-year-old record for 1⅝ miles Saturday in winning the $50,000 added Sunset Handicap at the Hollywood Turf Club in Arcadia, Calif.

The classy four-year-old, owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, formerly of Woodbridge, Ont., uncorked a great burst of speed that sent him across the finish line a six-length winner.

Ace Admiral bettered the world and American record for the distance set by the great Man O' War in September, 1920, at Belmont Park. The record, later tied at the Hollywood meeting of 1946 by Historian was 2:40 4-5. Ace Admiral was clocked in 2:39 4-5.

Last Mark Saturday won the Quebec's King Plate race for $3,500 with 50 guineas added as the gift of the King.

The race was for four-year-olds and up foaled in Canada. Last Mark's time for the mile and a furlong was 1:52 2-5.

Montreal Stelcos won the first game in the best-of-three Eastern Canada Soccer Finals Saturday night when they defeated Hamilton Westinghouse 1-0. The second game will be played here today. Montreal scored the only goal, two minutes before half-time.

Sam Snead's purse of $2,600 for a one-stroke victory over Lloyd Mangrum in this month's Dapper Dan Tournament boosted the West Virginian back on top of golf's winning list. The victory game Sammy total earnings for this season of $20,960. This moved him ahead of Cary Moddlecoff, who has $20,024.57. Mangrum, the 1948 money leader, is third with $16,032.50.

Stanley Dollar's Skip-a-long was chosen Saturday night as the first of three boats which will defend the Harmsworth International Motorboat Trophy for the United States.

Canada and Great Britain both will seek the trophy at Detroit when the races are held July 29-Aug. 2.

Cards Blast Dodgers 14-1 Stan Musial Biggest Gun

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

If you value your life don't mention to a Brooklyn rooter that Stan Musial is having an off year.

Should you be lucky enough to still be conscious when he gets through with you, he'll declare that the only reason St. Louis Cardinals are in first place in the National League today is that they own Musial.

You may argue that Musial, hitting .299, is far below his normal batting gait. He'll counter with a blow by blow description of Musial's one-man wreckage of Dodger pitching this year.

Stan was the big gun in the Cards' 14-1 blasting of the Dodgers Sunday which shot them into the National League lead by a half game over Brooklyn. Musial hit for the cycle—a single, double, triple and home run. He also batted in four runs.

Wallop Tigers

New York Yankees came from behind to defeat Detroit Tigers 6-3 in 11 innings. As a result Cleveland's 7-5 and 5-2 sweep of a doubleheader from Washington cut only a half game from the Yankees 4½ game margin.

Trailing 2-1, the Yankees tied the score at 2-2 in the top of the ninth when Johnny Lindell homered off Hal Newhouser. The Yankees came through with four runs in the 11th to ice the game.

Bob Lemon relied upon his bat to register his 12th victory against four losses for Cleveland. The Indian righthander belted two homers, his fifth and sixth of the season, to establish the margin of victory in the opener. First baseman Mickey Vernon drove in four runs with two homers and a single in the nightcap.

The third place Boston Red Sox divided a doubleheader with St. Louis Browns. The Browns blew a 7-1 early lead, but came through with two runs in the last half of the eighth to eke out a 9-8 victory in the opener. Jack Kramer, gained his first victory of the year as the Red Sox won the second. 8-4.

Sweep Twin Bill

Philadelphia Athletics swept a twin bill from Chicago White Sox 7-2 and 6-4 for their fourth and fifth victories in their last 17 games. Joe Coleman and Charlie Shantz were the winners.

Pittsburgh came from behind twice to sweep a doubleheader from Boston Braves 4-3 and 7-6. The Pirates spotted the Braves a 3-0 lead in the first inning of the opener, but caught up with Johnny Sain in the fourth and beat him in the seventh. Bill Werle was the winner. A three-run ninth inning won the second game for the Bucs.

Cincinnati Reds took both ends of a doubleheader from Philadelphia Phils 10-1 and 4-3. A single by Dixie Howell pushed over the Reds' winning run in the ninth of the nightcap. Grady Hatton led a 13-hit Cleveland assault in the opener with a single, two doubles and a triple.

The cellar-shackled Chicago Cubs knocked off New York Giants in both ends of a doubleheader 5-3 and 6-1.

James Mason Gets Tough In Latest Film

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, July 25 (AP)—James Mason, who first reached United States fame with his rough manner with women, is returning to his dame-slapping ways.

In "East Side, West Side" he has to slap Ava Gardner. But he is not sure he will like the assignment. "I'm the kind who slaps back," she has told him.

Mason is scheduled to finish the film in late August and they leave for Europe and a Walter Wanger picture with Greta Garbo. He will take his wife and daughter, but will return after the picture is filmed. "I don't relish spending a winter in Europe," says the California convert, Mason.

Nab Alleged Gunman For Hi-Jacking Taxi

MONTREAL, July 25—(CP)—A 28-year-old alleged gunman from Valleyfield, Que., was booked by police Saturday on a charge of armed robbery and car theft shortly after he ran a stolen taxi-cab up against a Hydro-Quebec pole in downtown Montreal.

Police said that taxi-driver Regent Valiquette was held up by a passenger at 2 a.m.

Instead of surrendering any money to the gunman who had stuck "something hard" in his back, Valiquette jumped out of the cab and ran away, while the bandit took charge of the automobile.

Soon after a police chase ended suddenly when the gunman lost control of the taxi-cab and struck a pole.

Great Festival In Edinburgh Includes Canada

By MICHAEL KING

EDINBURGH, July 25.—(Reuters).—Edinburgh is preparing for the arrival of more than 250,000 visitors from all parts of the world for the great International Festival of Music and Drama, Aug. 21 to Sept. 11.

In three years, the festival has established itself as one of Europe's most successful cutural events and the organizers hope that this year's program will put the Edinburgh festival into a position to compete with that of Salzburg as the principal world event of its kind.

Special air services will bring music and drama lovers from Canada, the United States and Europe.

Among the performers from Canada will be players from the Ottawa Drama League, who are staging Peterborough playwright Robertson Davies' one-act play, "Eros At Breakfast." Play and players were chosen by the Dominion Drama Festival to represent Canadian theatre at the Festival. Eres at Breakfast will be played during the week September 5-11. It is being presented in conjunction with two other one-act plays from France and Scotland, as examples of national work in the three counfries.

To Pay Its Way

For the first time, the Festival is expected to pay its way this year. In its first year, when there were 60,000 visitors, it lost £20,000 (about $80,000). In 1948, with more than 200,000 visitors, including 40,000 from overseas, the losst was cut to £11,000.

This year £100,000 worth of tickets have already been sold.

Many of the spectacles will have a universal appeal, even to those who have little interest in the finer points of music and drama. Chief among these, will be the displays of piping and Scottish dancing, which can be watched by audiences of 100,000 people.

The Festival will open with a concert by the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra conducted by Sir Thomas Beecham. Altogether, there will be seven orchestras at the Festival this year. Performances will be given of four plays, two operas and 25 ballets. There will be six recitals by famous soloists and concerts by four Chamber Music ensembles.

Vienna Philharmonic

Bruno Walter, who conducted the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra for the first Festival, will return this year to conduct the orchestra of the Paris Conservatoire.

The Ballets Des Champs Elysees have been engaged. The Salder's Wells Ballet Company will come from Covent Garden.

The Glyndebourne Opera Company will give 11 performances of Verdi's "Un Ball En Mischera" and seven of Mozart's "Cosi Fan Tutte."

During the final week of the Festival, the international emphasis will be stressed by celebrations of the bicentary of the birth of Goethe.

Chemong Bass Bite In Sunday's Hot Sun

Fishing in the heat paid dividends for six cottagers at Chemong Sunday. Their combined efforts produced 13 bass and two pickerel. Twelve of the bass were of the green variety, and the thirteenth was a black that hit the scales at four pounds.

The fish were caught by Mr. and Mrs. Vern Selkirk, Mr. and Mrs. Art Lewis, Clayton Selkirk and Lorraine Pue. Mr. Selkirk Sr. caught the two pickerel and three bass soon after six in the morning, and the rest were gathered during the day. All, with the exception of the pickerel, were caught drift-fishing with minnows.

The bass had an average weight of two pounds.

21-Lb. Trout

BANCROFT, July 25—(ENS)—Provincial Corporal W. E. Smith, attached to the Belleville headquarters, caught Sunday a 21-pound, 10-ounce gray trout at Lake Papineau, where he is camping with his family. Lake Papineau is eight miles east of Maynooth.

Harvest Holiday For A Few Town People

Some of the local men with farm experience are spending their holidays in harvesting here and there around the district. Most of them are farm graduates who go back nearly every year to help their own folk.

Of those with experience but no personal connections, only eight applied to W. H. L. Mellis of the federal employment office.

"We also had six westerners," he informed The Examiner. "We could have some others from the east, but there was no guarantee of the work they could do. So, there was no use bringing them into the Peterborough area.

"At present there are married couples available for farm work, displaced people from Europe, now at Ajax, but I don't think we have places for any of them here."

Twelve western farm hands went into Grey County, ten into Lambton, and so on. Carleton County absorbed 134 harvest hands, and last week still had 20 unfilled applications for help.

Cornell Wheat Yield

Farmers in Lennox-Addington who sowed Cornell fall wheat say they are getting better yields than are some of the neighbors who planted Dawson's.

Aphids have wiped out the turnip table crop in the Stratford area of Perth, according to the latest report of the county agricultural representative. Waterloo says: Aphids are destroying both the turnip and cabbage plants. And in Oxford: Turnip aphid is still causing a serious problem to growers.

Hay Prices

In Ontario County baled hay is selling at $30 a ton. That is also the price in Lincoln (St. Catharines). Some farmers have a considerable carry-over from last year, and are actually in the selling market. In Leeds County one farmer exported 70 carloads since Christmas.

Wheat in Elgin is averaging 35 bus. to the acre, and 30 bus. in Lincoln. Several counties report the harvest completed, ten days in advance of last year. Recent rains have put new life into the pasture and fields of corn and buckwheat.

Car Accidents On Weekend

A car driven by Orra Montgomery, R.R. 1, Indian River, was badly smashed Saturday on No. 7 Highway near Moldaver Lumber Company when it was in collision with a truck driven by Cecil Delong, R.R. 7, Peterborough.

Constable Andy Dalton and Sgt. Leo Murphy report that Montgomery claimed Delong endeavored to overtake the car and collided when trying to get back into the line of traffic.

Extent of damage to Montgomery's car was right front fender, right running board, right door and post caved in, front axle broken and door glass in the right door broken.

Truck in Accident

A car owned by Milton Fowler, 387 Reid St., was struck by a truck driven by G. Max Hunter, 619 Union St., Saturday night in front of 144 Hunter St. A fender and bumper of the car were damaged and fender and headlight of the truck were broken, Sgt. Leo Murphy and Constable George Shaw report.

A barricade was placed round a hole in the pavement on Rogers St. in the early hours of today by the Board of Works after Gordon Edwards, Hastings, had damaged his car by driving over it.

NOTICE

The office of Dr. Donald Whyte, 333 Charlotte, will be closed until August 8.

Robert J. Ross Wholesale Head In Oshawa

Robert J. Ross, a former native of Peterborough whose father and brother are prominent in the grocery business here, has been appointed manager of National Grocers Ltd., Oshawa. He succeeds R. Harry Deyman.

His father, Robert Ross Sr., retired as manager of the Peterborough branch last year, and now owns the Ross Food Market stores. His brother, Donald, a former traveller with National Grocers, is manager of the stores.

Mr. Ross received his Public School education at Queen Alexandra School and later graduated from the Collegiate Institute. He then went on to take a business and finance course at Queen's University.

After working as a traveller under his father at the Peterborough branch, Mr. Ross Jr. left for Guelph in 1938 in the capacity of traveller. From January, 1941, to November, 1942, he was manager of the Sault Ste. Marie branch.

His business career was interrupted at this point for wartime service. He enlisted in the Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa and served through the campaigns in the Low Countries and Germany.

When he returned to Canada in 1946 he accepted the post of sales manager of National Grocers in Hamilton. He comes to Oshawa from Hamilton after a stay of more than three years.

Long Career

Robert Ross Sr. has a career in the grocery business that goes back to 1909. In that year he became manager of the T. Kinnear and Co. store, Peterborough. He remained as manager when the amalgamation forming a National Grocers branch was carried out here in 1925.

In September, 1948, he gave up that post and opened the Ross Food Markets, together with his other son Donald.

Tenders Asked For 100 Houses

Tenders for the building of 100 houses in Peterborough will be received by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, Toronto, up to 12 a.m. August 3.

Two contractors who are bidding are: E. Reynolds and Son, who have the contact fo 226 houses of the same type, which is advancing toward completion; and John Maguire Construction Company, Toronto.

These houses are all in the comparatively low rental brackets, with priority of occupancy for war veterans and their families. City council decided early in May to ask for the additional block of 100. The contract is expected to be let in the near future.

Work Advances on Schedule 2 New Hospital Additions

Peterborough's two new hospitals under construction are going ahead as brick layers, plasterers and workers of the numerous other trades add their skills to the projects. The St. Joseph's Hospital wing is scheduled to be completed by the new year. About a week ago John R. Marshall, chairman of the board of governors, said he thought the new Civic Hospital and the nurse's residence would be completed next May. The foundation excavation for the nurse's residence has been dug just east of the boiler house.

Bricklayers began this morning on the east wing of the new 240-bed Civic Hospital. Because of this new wing there will be 60 new beds and 50 baby's bassinettes added to the hospital's facilities. There will be more than 60 beds in the new wing, but that number plus the bassinettes will be the addition possible through the rearrangement.

Frank Swanson of Hamilton, who is in charge of the work in the new wing of St. Joseph's Hospital said he was quite pleased with the way the job had been progressing, although he has had his troubles getting skilled men. At the moment he has 30 men working on the job.

Brickwork Completed

The brickwork exterior was completed last week at St. Joseph's and work is beginning now on the inside partitions. The job of putting in an elevator has just started. The 15-horsepower motor which will hoist the elevator car is waiting on the main floor to be raised up to the top of the building for installation.

The new wing will have 77 beds. It will also house a new kitchen on the main floor where food will be cooked for the whole hospital. There will be three floors above the main floor and the basement.

Upper Floors Finished

Plastering in the new Civic hospital is well advanced. In the west wing, the second to the fifth floor inclusive is finished as well as the fifth floor of the north wing. The plasterers are now doing their work on the third and fourth floor of the north wing.

Preparations for laying the hospital's main floor are being made. A smooth cement floor fill is being laid over the rough concrete. Hubert Eastwood, contractor in charge of the building, said the third boiler which became necessary when the third wing was included in the plans, was probably now on the way from London.

NOW A FATHER

Constable Ernest Beatty became a father Friday, when a daughter was born to Mrs. Beatty at Civic Hospital Friday.

Sentences to run concurrently with the seven years the elder brother is serving at penitentiary and the two years less a day for the younger at reformatory were imposed by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C.

Albert pleaded guilty to breaking and entering P. H. MacMillan and Son at Campbellford and Fred, to the same offence and also to breaking into Wesley Sweets' cabins, Davidson's garage and David Bowen service station.

When Crown Attorney John Bradshaw questioned whether concurrent sentences should be imposed, Albert Ibey said that they had both admitted the offences in order to make a clean sheet and he thought concurrent sentences should be imposed.

G. Max Hunter, 619 Union St., who was involved in an accident Saturday while driving a truck at George and Hunter Sts., today pleaded guilty in city police court to careless driving. He was fined $10 with $2.50 by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC.

2,000 Ontario Greeks Hold Lakeside Picnic Under Presidency Of Louis Yeotes

Most of the 33 members of the Peterborough Greek community attended the annual picnic of the Ontario Community on Sunday, held about three miles west of Oakville on Lake Ontario.

Altogether more than 2,000 Greek Canadians assembled for a day of athletic events, music, dancing and other entertainment, as well as to renew province-wide acquaintances and talk over the present situation in the land of their birth. It was a record attendance.

Louis Yeotes, president of the Ontario Community, headed the Peterborough contingent. There were also guests from the United States.

The program began with a Greek Orthodox church service in the open which commenced at five minutes to 12 o'clock noon. The Rev. A. Athanasiou, a Greek-Orthodox priest from Toronto, officiated. Later there were various races for all ages and classes, and other sports particularly for the younger picnickers.

Traditional Greek Music

Music in the North American manner as well as that known to Greeks traditionally was provided. Native folk dancing was indulged in enthusiastically by young and old.

Later there was a free lunch with a serving of freshly barbecued lamb as the main course. Altogether 20 lambs were roasted over open, wood fires. They were donated by various business men, including two from Peterborough.

Mr. Yeotes made draws for three valuable prizes but nobody from Peterborough held a lucky ticket. Prizewinners were all Torontonians: Mrs. A. Brown, a television receiver; Miss Henriette Mackay, a vacuum cleaner and attachments; and D. Prater, a $50 wrist watch.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

WORK ON HOSPITAL

During June 174 workmen were employed a total of 22 days on the new Civic Hospital. Ninety-four worked on the main building, 65 on the east wing addition, and 15 on the laundry. Excavation on the basement began June 24 on the site of the nurses' residence.

TWO SMALL FIRES

Firemen had two small fires to cope with on Sunday afternoon. The first was a grass fire on Armour Hill shortly before 2.30 p.m. And the second was a blaze that started in a dump on the west side of High St., caused by spontaneous combustion. Booster pumps were used to put out the dump fire.

PLAYED WITH FIRE

Douglas Vaisey, county court reporter who is deputising for James J. Fleming, J.P., at city police court during Mr. Fleming's vacation, found a heavily bandaged hand too cumbersome for the work of stenographer at city police court today. He had a mishap over the weekend with matches and burnt his hand.

ADDRESSES ROTARY

Dr. Owen Davies, of New Zealand, internationally known radio commentator, lecturer and traveller and a member of the "Royal Society of St. George," was the speaker at today's weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel. Dr. Davies has spoken to Rotary Clubs in many countries and was formerly attached to U. S. Zone headquarters in Munich, Germany, as an UNRRA aide. Harold Deeth, chairman of the International Service Committee, was chairman.

FIRST AND TWO SECONDS

Merton Storey's "Canada Direct" won one of the three heats in the free-for-all of the harness races at Port Elgin Saturday, and was second in two others. These heats were reported as great battles between the Peterborough pacer driven by Keith Waples, and the trotter "Make Believe" owned by Clarence Lockhard of Collingwood. The time of the first heat was 2:11 1-5, fastest of the day's card of 12 heats of four races; 2.15 1-5 for the second, and 2.14 3-5 in the third heat. The free-for-all narrowed down to a two-horse race, thrilling the fans with driving finishes.

Night's Rainfall Doubles June's

Last night's rain was a shot in the arm to this year's low rainfall averages. A total of 1¼ inches of water fell during the night and up to 9 o'clock this morning, almost twice as much as fell in the entire month of June.

June total was made up of the aggregate of five days, and only amount to .72 inches. Thus far in July we have had six days on which rain fell, and the total is 2.16 inches.

The June total for this year was dwarfed by June 1948, when 3.15 inches of rain fell. Last night's steady drizzle lacked only .19 of being double the whole of this June total.

Begin Laying New Mains Across River

The laying of two 12-inch lines of steel pipe across the river between Burnham's Point and McDonald's Point was begun by the Utilities Commission today, as reported by Ross L. Dobbin.

A big dredge and landing barge owned by McNamara Construction Company arrived on the job during the week-end. They were towed down the Trent Canal from Lake Simcoe, and are being used on a rental basis.

The two mains will be laid parallel in the bed of the river. One of them is for the Utilities Commission and the other for the council.

To Improve Service

The purpose of the Utilities pipe is to improve the water service in Ashburnham and increase the pressure particularly on the higher levels such as the Western Clock Company and St. Joseph's Hospital.

The board of works job links the Ashburnham sewage system with the main trunk sewer on George Street. This is the council's practical answer to community demands year by year 'to clean up Little Lake." Ashburnham sewage will be diverted from the septic tank north of Maria St.

The disposal system across the river has usually be described as a sewage disposal plant, with the effluent dicharging into Little Lake. However, citizens regarded it as nothing more than an oversized septic tank contaminating Little Lake.

Surveyed During War

Board of Works plan was decided during the war years. At that time a survey was made to lay a sewer from Maria St. along the shore of the lake to Burnham's Point, and from there across the river. Incidentally, the septic tank on the Point, which was built for the accommodation of the first block of Wartime houses, will be taken out of use. The Point sewer will be connected into the main leading across the narrows.

Mr. Dobbin said the Commission is not letting a contract for this work. The separate lines of 12-inch pipe will be electrically welded. The ends will be plugged and the mains will be floated out onto the river. Water will be gradually let into them, and they will be sunk into the trenches in the bed of the river that will be dug by the dredge.

Commission Doing Work

City council agreed to the Commission taking charge of the work, each paying half the cost.

It may be recalled that the council investigated the effect of the Ashburnham diversion on the capacity of the George St. sewer and the disposal plant opposite the end of Park St. The advice of Gore and Storrie, consulting engineers, Toronto, was to the effect that the trunk sewer was big enough to carry it, and that the disposal plant could also absorb the extra flow. On that understanding the council decided to take advantage of the Utilities Commission job, do the two at the same time and thereby take the first effective step in removing impurities from Little Lake.

VancouverWomen Hotly Defended As 'Worst Dressed'

MONTREAL, July 25.—(CP).—Dress designer Lawrence Sperber may think what he likes but when he says Vancouver women are Canada's worst dressers he stands virtually alone among the fashion experts.

True, in a recent Vancouver interview, Mr. Sperber tempered his remarks by saying Vancouver women were the best-looking in the country. But the Montreal fashion man also was quoted as saying: "They have the most beautiful figures but they are the worst dressed."

Back in Montreal Alfandri, dean of Canada's designers, was the first to jump to the defence of Vancouver women.

"Sperber must have been wearing dark glasses in Vancouver," Alfandri said today. "If the women of any Canadian city can be singled out for good taste in dressing I wouldn't hesitate to nominate Vancouver women. Perhaps the best barometer are sales figures and on a per capita basis Vancouver women buy more clothes than women of any other city in Canada."

Moe Wegler, who creates rainwear fashions, was a little more blunt in his criticism. 'Sperber must be nuts," he said. "Vancouver is one of the best women's apparel markets in Canada."

Emile Lazare, a leading coat and suit designer, thinks that Vancouver women have the most discerning taste in clothes in the Dominion. "There is no question about it, Vancouver women exercise extremely good judgment in their selection of clothes," he said.

Swim suit designer Beatrice Pines, scarf manufacturer Marcus Perlman and shoe man Harry Markus were among those who defended Vancouver's good taste in clothes and accessories.

Petty Garber, a leading fashion co-ordinator and publicist, who hails from Vancouver, took issue with just about everything Sperber had to say about the women of her old home town.

"Vancouver women are as style-conscious as those in any big city anywhere," she said. "They certainly buy—and know—how to wear good clothes."

Fur Fashions Cause Indians More Hardship

BOURLAMAQUE, Que., July 24—(CP)—Modern fur fashions are causing hardships among Indians of Canada's northland, Bishop R. J. Renison of the Moosonee Diocese of the Church of England said in an interview here.

Bishop Renison, who late last week returned from a 3,105-mile journey to the 300 mission posts in his diocese, said:

"'Women don't have long furs anymore. The skins have to be scraped to paper thinness and the long fur often has to be clipped to suit them. They are being worn as ornaments, not as protection from cold."

Fashion's dictates for short fur mean hungry Indian trappers, the 73-year-old Bishop said.

But he didn't place all the blame on the women. "Men," he said, "once were proud of their fur-lined coats."

But for the Dominion government family allowances and old age pensions, he said, the Indians would undergo severe hardships this winter owing to "the vagaries of fashion" and fur farm competition.

However, he said, the trading posts of the Hudson Bay Company that buy the furs from the Indians have undergone "wide modernization."

The company has ended flat rate barter for furs. Now buyers must go to Montreal to learn to grade furs at the point of purchase. As a result, the Bishop said, the itinerant and black market dealer has been driven out of the north where he formerly got the cream of the fur crop.

Pope Criticizes Youth's Morality

VATICAN CITY, July 25—(AP)—Pope Pius said Sunday night that morality is in retreat, and called on Roman Catholic women to halt what he described as the growing "sensuality of youth."

The Pope addressed 15,000 Italian women in St. Peter's Basilica. The Women's Catholic Action Group in Italy, which claims 500,000 members, has been celebrating the 40th anniversary of its foundation.

In his brief address, the Pope said:

"Unfortunately, today morality is in retreat, not only in the city but also in the country, where a desire for luxury and pleasure has spread.

"Contributing not a little to the increase in the sensuality of youth are the press, the radio, the immodesty of the beach, public shows and the like."

The Pontiff said the church has assigned to Roman Catholic women the duty of contributing to healthy social conditions, to a strengthening of faith, and to the moral education of youth.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. W. Craik. Gladioli and ferns decorated the church and the music was played by Mr. Adam Hawley, organist. Mrs. W. Conners sang the "Lord's Prayer" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was in a gown of white taffeta fashioned with square neckline and cap sleeves and a full skirt with bustle back. She wore mittens of the same material and a three-quarter veil of tulle illusion caught to a coronet headdress of seed pearls. Her bouquet was of American Beauty roses. Mrs. A. Wall was matron of honor for her sister and wore blue taffeta made on the same lines, matching mittens and a white straw hat and she carried a bouquet of pink roses. Little Susan Killingbeck, cousin of the bride, was a charming flower girl in a pink taffeta dress with square neckline on the fitted bodice with full skirt attached and lace trim on the puffed sleeves. Her matching hat was Dutch style caught with pink roses and she carried a nosegay of mixed flowers.

The groom was attended by Mr. Archie Wall, and the ushers were Milton Killingbeck, uncle of the bride, and Eddie Pynce.

The reception following was held at the home of the bride's great aunt, Mrs. M. Stone, 148 Cameron St. The bride's mother received wearing light blue taffeta with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother, assisting, was in a blue suit, black accessories and had a corsage of pink roses.

For a wedding trip to Toronto and points east, the bride wore a grey flowered crepe dress and white accessories. On return Mr. and Mrs. Harper will live at 425½ George St.

Marion Young, Wm. Edger Exchange Rings and Vows

Wedding rings and vows were exchanged in All Saints' Anglican Church Saturday afternoon before the Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite as Marion Orchid Young became the bride of Mr. William Robert Edger. She is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Vera A. Young of Peterborough and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Edger of Bowmanville.

Pink and white gladioli formed a lovely setting for the ceremony and Mrs. A. Logan played traditional wedding music. Mrs. Dorothy Bain was the soloist and sang "Through the years" before the service, and "Because" at the signing of the register.

Mr. D. W. Young gave his sister in marriage and she was wearing a beautiful gown of white slipper satin which had a long train with a deep edging of lace. It was fashioned with a round neckline and inserted yoke of matching lace, the bodice buttoned at the back and had long tight-fitting sleeves finished with points over her hands. Her shoulder veil of fine net was caught to a Mary Queen of Scots headdress and she carried a white prayer book and a cascade of pink rosebuds. Miss Dorothy McElroy was her bridesmaid, frocked in yellow brocaded organdy styled with a tiered skirt. She wore white net mittens and an off-the-face crown of white net and was carrying a ring bouquet of red roses.

The groomsman was Mr. J. James of Bowmanville, and the ushers were D. Nelson and T. Depew.

The reception was held in the YWCA with the brides' mother receiving her guests in a gown of powder blue crepe, navy taffeta hat and corsage of red roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who chose a gown of light grey crepe and a light mauve hat trimmed with deeper mauve velvet flowers, and her corsage was of roses and sweet peas.

When leaving later for Haliburton where the couple will spend their honeymoon, the bride was wearing a pink gabardine suit with navy and white accessories. On return they will live at 297 Bethune St.

Creates Fine Food Pictures Good Enough to Eat

By MARY MOORE

If I have not mentioned Aunt Lila to you yet it is because I had so much else to say and so little space to say it—but Aunt Lila is no one to push around. She is a cook.

When I arrived home from the west (Portland, Oregon, being my last port of call), it was one of my duties to call on Aunt Lila's niece and deliver a special mixture of herb seasonings. Margaret (the niece) said "Did you have dinner at Aunt Lila's?" When I told her that we had, she said "What did you have?" Margaret is a dietitian too, and a good cook by nature and training—but we all listen when a meal of Aunt Lila's is described.

It is the indivdual fruit salads that she served for dessert that I am going to describe to you today—because I have never been served anything so exotic nor in which the flavors complemented one another so perfectly.

Aunt Lila's July Fruit Salad Plate

On a dark green glass plate about the size of a breakfast plate were arranged delicate perfectly dry but crisp inside lettuce leaves.

As the base of the salad a ring of perfectly ripe peeled cantaloupe was used. (This had been previously marinated in French dressing as had the avocado, the grapefruit sections and the nectarine—this is merely soaking the fruits in French Dressing in the refrigerator for about 1 hour, and then draining very thoroughly.)

Two crescent-shaped pieces of avocado pear were on either side of the cantaloupe ring.

On the cantaloupe ring were two wedges from a nectarine and two segments from a large grapefruit.

In the hole in the centre of the cantaloupe ring was a small mound of Pacific berries. These were topped by what Aunt Lila called an apricot puree, which consisted of one-third pureed fresh apricots, one-third whipped cream and one-third highly-flavored genuine mayonnaise. Top with maraschino cherry-petal flower.

(You should be able to get the avocadoes here but if not use pineapple crescents. In place of Pacific berries use large raspberries or blueberries. In place of nectarines use white peaches or Lombard plums.)

My mouth waters as I write this. All that I can add is that when you try it, think of yourself as an artist preparing a picture for a royal showing, and to reserve this delectable dish for your epicurean friends.

Women Writers Expand Careers

VANCOUVER, July 25—(CP)—Writing careers for women in Canada are expanding.

Proof of this is in the newly-adopted constitution of the Canadian Women's Press Club.

For the first time in 12 years, the club has enlarged its membership qualifications to include a number of new classifications.

One of these is for women public relations officers. Another is for women who are engaged full-time in selection and preparation of information from government, welfare and social agency groups for use of newspapers, magazines and radio stations.

Film script writers now are included among those eligible for membership as are advertising writers with previous newspaper or free-lance writing experience.

Also listed in the new classification are free-lance and press photographers.

Until now membership in the Dominion-wide club has been confined to newspaper women, including writers, editors and publishers; women employed on editorial staffs of magazines; radio writers and editors; authors, playwrights, poets and artists in black and white.

The club, founded 42 years ago, now has a membership of more than 400.

Brown-Hubbel

A wedding of much interest to residents of Hastings took place at Mount Forest, when Dorothy Agnes, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Hubbel (formerly of Hastings) was united in marriage with Wilson John, only son of Mrs. Manley Brown and the late Mr. Brown. The Rev. Geo. E. Burwell of Port Burwell, performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. J. W. Hisey.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was wearing a wedding gown made by her mother of blush slipper satin, with long full sleeves caught in a tight cuff and the skirt was laid in pleats that fell into a train. She wore a long embroidered veil and carried a bouquet of red roses. Attendants were Mrs. John Cafik, matron of honor, dressed in pale blue satin and carrying a bouquet of pink roses, and Miss Florence Brown, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, in mauve taffeta with a bouquet of yellow roses. The little flower girl Jeannette Hubbel, sister of the bride, wore pink taffeta with blue bows and bonnet to match, and carried a white basket of garden flowers.

The groomsman was Mr. Mac Brown and the ushers were Ken MacDonald and John Cafik.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Arthur Truax, and Miss Ruth Ball of Hastings sang "I'll Walk Beside You," and "Through the years."

After the reception of about 60 guests the bride changed to a navy blue taffeta suit.

Chiesa-Madge

ROSENEATH, July 25 (ENS)—All Saints' Church, Windsor, on Saturday, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Kathleen Valerie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Madge, Fenella, was united in marriage to Mr. Delkie John Chiesa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Chiesa, Windsor.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. S. C. Swan. Mr. G. B. Davies presided at the organ. Mrs. John Stefani, siter of the groom, was soloist,

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Anthony Madge, was in an original gown of eggshell satin and net, her long veil of Swiss embroidered silk net was held in place by a halo of pearls and rhinestones, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and forget-me-nots.

Miss Lois Madge attended her sister as maid-of-honour, wearing delft blue nylon marquisette. Miss Edith Calder, as bridesmaid, wore a similar gown of shell pink. Both attendants wore picture hats and lace mittens to match their gown and carried arm bouquets of sweet peas and baby breath.

Mr. Lloyd Glote was groomsman, and the ushers were George Chiesa and Steven George.

The reception was held at Cabsta Hall. The bride's mother wore navy crepe with matching hat and white accessories. The groom's mother chose printed silk jersey with black hat and accessories.

After a motor trip through the Appalachian Mountains, the couple will reside in Windsor.

Home Owners in S. Africa Unable to Pay Instalments

JOHANNESBURG — (CP) — South Africa's economic troubles—shortage of money and high living costs—have brought severe housing troubles for hundreds of home-owners.

Many have been unable to pay instalments on their homes and mortgage holders have foreclosed. Real estate agents say those losing their homes in this way are in the class earning from £40 to £50 ($160 to $200) a month.

"The position is becoming serious for hundreds of home-owners who are struggling to keep up payments on their homes," the manager of one real estate firm, with branches throughout South Africa, said. "Some bond-holders have not the slightest human sympathy and they clamp down on home-owners at the slightest opportunity."

Foreclosure of bonds on homes which are partly paid off is one of the more serious aspects of the shortage of money, allied with the high cost of living. Less serious but just as strongly indicative of the position, is the fact that luxury trades are being hit.

Wealthy Patrons Pressed

Some night clubs have closed, other are facing ruin because attendance is slumping. People normally regarded as wealthy patrons, who had parties on credit, are reluctant to pay their bills.

Now, after lavish champagne and caviar parties, some society hostesses owe hundreds of pounds to the night clubs and the proprietors say if they ever get paid at all it will be in instalments.

One night club owner said: "In these times, like other business men, we have had to accede to the demand for credit facilities. The only difference is, we can't foreclose on our deals—we can't demand the return of a night's entertainment."

Fur Trade Slumps

Another recent sign of the times was an auction of furs. Only 20 or 30 people attended and furs went for less than half their normal wholesale value. One woman acquired a full-length Russian ermine coat, value at more than £700, for 315 guineas.

Jewelery, too, is going at very low prices. At a recent sale bids were far below estimated values.

A 2½ carat diamond ring, valued at £200 was sold for £67. Another ring, with a large aquamarine surrounded by 10 diamonds set in platinum, went for £80. Dealers say the ring is worth £400.

A gem diamond solitaire, worth £22, 10s. normally, on the open market, went to a dealer for £5.

BOSTON, July 25 (AP)—An 8,000-ton freighter Sunday rammed and split in two a 40-foot fishing party boat in the inner Boston harbor killing a 42-year-old woman and injuring 19 others.

The victim was Mrs. Mary Di Giovannio of Waltham, Mass. She and the injured were aboard the smaller vessel.

The weather bureau said the weather was "perfect" with "a light westerly wind."

A veteran coastguard officer said he "couldn't understand how the collision happened." He added the coastguard will investigate.

Many of the passengers on the power boat were thrown into the water by the impact of the collision while others leape into the water as the freighter bore down on the pleasure craft.

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP)— Roman Catholics were told Sunday that reading the Daily Worker is a sin. The statement came from the Rev. Britain Not Seeking Another U.S. Loan

LONDON, July 25.—(AP). — The Government is not at this time seeking a United States dollar loan, treasury sources said today.

A treasury spokesman said officially there is "no comment" on a report by Senator Homer Capehart (Rep. Ind.) that Washington was talking about a new loan of $3,000,000,000 to $12,000,000,000.

The exact figure of Britain's foreign debt both dollars and pounds—has never been made public. Best estimates place it at more than £3,000,000,000 ($12,000,000,000).

It includes the $300,000,000 Canadian loan, a $400,000,000 United States credit granted in 1946, additional United States credits under the Marshall Plan, and unpaid bills to India and Egypt for purchases made in blocked sterling during the war years.

ST. EMILE DE MONTCALM, Que., July 25 (CP)—Four women were drowned and four others survived by clinging to a motorboat Saturday when the small craft upset during a squall on Lac des Iles in this Laurentian town, 73 miles north of Montreal.

Drowned were Therese Labelle, 24, Louise Desrosiers, 20, both of Montreal, Laurette Chabot, 33, of Verdun, Que., and Denise Pepin, 21, of Ahuntsic, a Montreal suburb.

Provincial police attributed the multiple drowning to the sudden squall and high waves that buffeted the boat around before it capsized.

Negroes Needed To Settle Color Problem

CAPETOWN (CP)—Europeans in South Africa will have to call on the colored races in that country for their co-operation and opinions if the question of color relations in South Africa is to be solved, thinks Dr. A. B. Xuma, president of the African National Congress.

Dr. Xuma told the Institute of Citizenship here: "No party government, no Union parliament representing a white electorate only . . . is capable of settling the question of color relations in South Africa.

This is a question for South Africa as a whole, and the 'whole' includes the 10,000,000 non-Europeans.

"Short of a national convention in which non-Europeans participate as citizens, there can be no solution, no settlement."

Dr. Xuma said South Africa should begin to work for a policy of integration before the policy of color disintegrated and destroyed the nation. This did not suggest inter-racial marriage, but meant public equality, equality of opportunity for all, and the co-operation of all groups and colors for the progress and advancement of South Africa as a whole.

He said that adequate land and free access to the use of all its resources was essential to the prosperity, happiness and progress of any people, irrespective of race or color.

Under the present circumstances the African was in effect a landless, homeless poverty-stricken government tenant, "whose occupation of any area may be affected adversely or otherwise at the pleasure of the government."

If racial separation came the Africans would have no alternative but to accept it for the sake of peace. But it would have to be equitable.

"The division of the country and its assets must be proportionate to the ratio of races," said Dr. Xuma.

Panther, Ape Battle 2 Hours, Cat The Winnah

SPOKANE, Wash., July 25 — (AP)—A black panther and a 300-pound gorilla locked in a bloody two-hour fight Friday night after the cat slipped under the gate of an adjoining cage at a travelling wild animal show.

The gorilla finally was shot and killed after attendants made vain attempts to get the animals apart.

Ruby Smith, trainer and part owner of the show, fired three bullets from a .32 calibre pistol into the body of the gorilla.

A crowd estimated at 400 persons was cleared away before the shots were fired.

The panther was badly cut about the head and shoulders.

After the battle, the panther was fed meat and attendants pulled the carcass of the gorilla out of the cage. Rags soaked with chloroform were pushed into the cage to "calm down" the raging cat.

The panther, gorilla and a 600-pound lion were being exhibited in a giant cage separated by gates that opened from the bottom.

Al Meyers, manager of the show, said one gate apparently was left unlocked after the cage was cleaned Friday and was partly pried open by the gorilla. Then the panther slipped underneath and leaped into the gorilla's cage while the huge lion roared and tried to get into the fight.

The panther chewed away at the gorilla's arms as the latter attempted to protect himself with his massive paws.

Meyers said one arm of the gorilla was almost torn off in the fight.

Color Background Important Influence In Sale Of Foods

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK, July 24—(AP)—Here's a tip for those who would be successful salesmen or cooks. Woo your prospects with color. So proclaims Howard Ketcham, an industrial design and color consultant, and he is talking to ladies who want to produce enjoyable meals as well as to businessmen who want to strike it rich.

"Color," says Ketcham, "has a powerful influence on the subconscious. We know that people everywhere like an atmosphere of mental ease and a sense of well-being. And color, when it is considered a part of and as important as design can achieve just this."

All sorts of experiments and surveys have proved Ketcham's claim. For instance, there was the cafeteria chain which wanted to improve its salad sales. Ketcham suggested replacing the usual white crockery with pale-green plates. Sales went up more than 100 per cent within a few days.

A Philadelphia fruit store was remodeling. Ketcham suggested —to the horror of the proprietor —painting the walls a bright shade of orange. But he did, and sales boomed.

"The orange color made the produce look appetizing," Ketcham said, "tying in nicely with the colors of the fruits and vegetables. It made them look even better under the store's incandescent illumination."

Light does strange things to color, and so do chemical processes. One of the big railroads installed fluorescent lighting — blue variety—in some of their dining cars. They were immediately deluged with complaints about their coffee. That was simple: The blue light made the coffee look weak and gray—and the public was tasting coffee with its eyesight.

Dealing with color preferences is a tricky business. For instance, red-handled toothbrushes sell fastest in the low-priced field. But when tooth brushes are high price, people prefer amber handles.

In good years, Ketcham says, people buy automobiles of bright colors. In dedpression years, sales of brightly hued cars drop, and black an dark blues come up.

PARIS, July 24 (Reuters) — France's black market is tottering on its last legs and is likely to disappear altogether as the country's economic recovery continues.

Free sale of gasoline, with a controlled sale for such priority users as doctors, which began early in June, was a blow which deprived black marketers of their largest remaining source of gain.

Now, the only remaining commodities in short supply in which they can speculate are sugar and coffee (still rationed), foreign currencies, American and British cigarets and vacant houses or apartments.

Few will regret the passing of the black market although it had an honorable birth as a means of defeating the food requisitioning ordered by the Germans during the war. Especially is its passing unmourned because it is a symptom of France's present economic health.

Other Symptoms

Other symptoms noted by economic observers this summer are:

1. At the end of May, France's international trade deficit in round figures was the equivalent of $54,800,000 as against about $58,400,000 in April.

2. The franc has continued to maintain a position which began to improve in the spring both in relation to gold and the dollar.

3. Rain in early summer helped to alleviate the effects of an earlier dry spell. Ministry of Agriculture estimates in late June put the wheat crop at only slightly less than last year's, which was an exceptional crop.

4. In industry, steel output totalled 809,000 metric tons in May compared with 751,000 tons in April—somewhat less than the March 1949 all-time record of 827,000 tons but level with the relation between prices and previous record of 809,000 tons set in 1929.

It was, however, round the wages that signs of economic, and possibly social and political, unrest still persisted. Industrialists, workers, farmers and tradesmen were united in one thing—their bitter complaints about the relationship of prices to wages.

It is in this opposition of views that political observers have seen a possibility of trouble later this year.

Black Market In France Likely To Disappear Soon

By KENNETH LIKES

BANDUNG, Java, July 25. — (AP).—Krakatau, the island volcano that blew itself out of the water in 1883 and killed 36,000 persons, left more behind than a fearful memory.

A new volcanic island is rising from the same spot in the Java sea between Sûmatra and Java. This monster offspring is called Anak (child of) Krakatau. Like its mother, it is a bad actor, rumbling and belching clouds of sulphorous vapor.

But is it a menace that will result in another catastrophe for Indonesia? Scientists keeping watch over it think not—at least for the present.

Anak Krakatau is but one of 149 volcanic centres in the East Indies. Official reports show the others have taken 130,000 lives since 1800.

The man responsible for keeping an eye on the troublesome mountains of the Indies is a 58-year-old Russian, formerly a colonel in the Czar's Cossacks—W. A. Petroeschevsky.

Skeleton Staff

He and a skeleton staff of nine keep tab of a string of mountains that stretch in a 3,000-mile arc to form the backbone of the East Indies archipelago. Since funds for the work are skimpy, only one peak is equipped with a seismograph to record earth tremors and a "tilt meter" to measure swelling of its crater walls. Checking the activity of others means flying over them by plane or cutting through jungles and climbing by foot to the craters' edges. Petroeschevsky has scaled 11 volcanoes and observed 30 others from the air in the last two months.

"Before Krakatau blew in 1883 she was an island of fair size, five miles in length and three across. She hadn't erupted in two centuries," Petroeschevsky said.

"One day she started with a booming like artillery. That went on for 14 weeks.

"Finally, one day in August, the island disappeared under a cloud of black vapor that rose to almost 20 miles. Four great explosions the next day blew away two-thirds of the island."

Tidal waves circling from the area devastated the shores of Java and Sumatra, flooding hundreds of villages and drowning thousands of persons. A thick fog left Batavia in complete darkness."

House Stays In Session For 21 Hours

Weary M.P.'s Stagger Home After Talking Hours On Steel Bill

LONDON, July 26 (CP)—House of Commons debate on the controversial steel nationalization bill adjourned at 1:28 p.m. today after the longest continuous sitting of the present parliament.

The marathon sitting lasted 21 hours and 48 minutes. The longest previous sitting of the present parliament was from May 7 to May 8 when the Commons sat 21 hours and 17 minutes discussing conscription.

The all-time record for a parliamentary sitting is 41 hours and 30 minutes, set in 1881 when William Ewart Gladstone was Prime Minister.

Weary members staggered home this afternoon after sweating it out all night. It was the hottest night of the year on London, wih the temperature around 70.

Second Night Session

Another all-night session faced the members who were just about one-third through debating the scores of amendments to the steel bill, written in by the Conservative-dominated House of Lords. Debate on key amendment still was to come.

This amendment provides that the nationalization of Britain's iron and steel industry should not take effect unutil July 1, 1951 This date is a year after the life of the present parliament expires and would mean that an opposition victory at the general election in 1950 could reverse the government nationalization program.

The vesting date proposed by the government for taking over the industry is May 1, 1950—before the general election is expected.

Craft Hurls Six In Air, Save Three

Trio Cling 5 Hours To Wreckage Tug Picks Them Up

GERALDTON, Ont., July 26—(CP) — Three persons were drowned and three survived when a rock ripped through the bottom of a motor launch on nearby Lake Kenongamisis yesterday. Geraldton is 175 miles northwest of Port Arthur.

Drowned were: Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Felker, Hamilton; and their nephew, Murray Weekley, four, of Geraldton.

The three other occupants of the craft who survived a five-hour ordeal in the wind-swept lake before they were rescued are: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Keekley, of Geraldton, parents of Murray Weekley; and their seven-year-old son, Fred.

The party set out in the boat, owned and built by Mr. Weekley, in the late morning. They had cruised up the lake only a short distance when they struck the rock.

When the collision occurred, the craft was travelling at about 20 miles an hour. It nosed in the air and carried over the rock, sinking in eight feet of water on the opposite side. Its occupants were hurled in all directions.

Bottom Falls Out

"The bottom just seemed to fall out of the boat," said Mr. Weekley.

He said he saw Felker struggling in the water just after the crash but lost sight of him after he had grabbed his eldest son and wife.

Mrs. Felker is believed to have died almost instantly, presumably from shock. Her unscarred body was recovered later after it had drifted to shore.

Weekley said he saw his youngest son, Murray, grab a section of the boat, floating on the water.

Boy Disappears

"I yelled to him to hang on, then swam toward another son to get them near the boat so they could stand on it," he said. "When I looked around again, Murray had disappeared."

The boy's body was found later in three feet of water near the shore.

The accident occurred more than 300 feet off shore and, although Weekley is a strong swimmer, he feared to leave his wife and son. He managed to find a footing on the submerged boat and held them above water until help arrived in late afternoon.

Couldn't Leave Wreckage

Weekley said he tried more than once to start out for shore but each time was held back as the boat tilted precariously and threatened to throw his son and wife off their perch.

They were finally rescued by the Longlac Pulp and Paper Company's tug which was on a routine patrol of the company's log boom.

Mr. Weekley is a surveying engineer at McLeod-Cockshutt Mine, which is near Geraldton. Mr. and Mrs. Felker were on their annual holiday visit with the Weekleys, who had come to Geraldton from Hamilton more than 10 years ago.

Ends Emergency

LONDON, July 26—(CP)—Viscount Addison, Lord Privy Seal, today read to the House of Lords a message from the King bringing to an end the "State of Emergency" which had existed since July 11 as a result of the strike of London dockworkers. The strike ended yesterday when all waterfront workers in the port of London went back to work.

Unemployment Aids Reds Briton Fears

OTTAWA, July 26.—(CP).— A picture of world trade paralysis that would lead to serious unemployment was drawn by Sir Graham Cunningham, chairman of the British Dollar Exports Board, at a press conference Monday.

Economic stagnation would provide fertile ground for Communist activity, the British manufacturer said.

Sir Graham is visiting Canada and the United States seeking means of increasing the United Kingdom's exports to the two dollar countries in an effort to build up her diminishing dollar reserves.

He said he found Trade Minister Howe "receptive and helpful" and that a private discussion yesterday with Mr. Howe had given him the "greatest possible encouragement."

Buying Affected

Unless the situation was remedied, the trade problems that U.K. now was experiencing would reach Canada and the U.S. As it was, the United States would not sell to sterling countries because they hadn't dollars to make payments. Even Canada could not buy all she wanted from the U.S.

With countries unable to trade freely, tariff barriers would be erected in each country and aggravate the situation. Sir Graham intimated that the U. S. was not investing money abroad and said his country would welcome further American investments there. That would help bring more dollars to Britain.

He said the UK didn't "want to have to buy wheat from Poland" and wanted to continue buying it in Canada but just didn't have the dollars.

Communism would overrun the UK, Canada and the US if a solution to our economic problems was not found.

The high level of British prices considered by Canadians and Americans to be Britain's chief problem, was not entirely the fault of British manufacturers, said Sir Graham.

He chose cotton as an example to illustrate the UK's position. Cotton could not be bought in the US for the same price paid by American manufacturers when British buyers had to consider shipment costs and other factors And in the other main source of supply—Egypt—cotton was being sold to Americans at a lower price in order to get US dollars.

Big Bad Bandit Faints As Police Close In Make Arrest At Bus Stop

Sought By Police During 18 Months Armed Thug Traced On Way To Meet Girl Friend In Kingston

KINGSTON, July 26—(CP)—Ross Bowers, 31, sought by police for 18 months, was arrested in the bus terminal here early today by detectives from Toronto and Forest Hill. Police said he fainted as they drew their guns to make the arrest. Bowers came here from Montreal. Bowers will face charges of armed robbery in Forest Hill, a Toronto suburb, and 11 other charges including car theft and receiving, absconding bail, shopbreaking and dangerous driving.

Detectives trailed four Montreal-Toronto buses in the belief that Bowers would be in Kingston or Belleville to meet the Montreal girl. They said Bowers had just stepped into the terminal to meet the girl when they nabbed him.

Police said the girl would be brought to Toronto tonight with Bowers for further questioning, but that it was unlikely that she would be held.

Police said Bowers cut up 11 stolen cars and sold them for replacement parts. They said very little was ever found of the missing cars. In one case only a frame was found and in another police got the ignition lock.

Privy Council Rules Bank Bill Unconstitutional

LONDON, July 26 (Reuters)—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council today upheld an Australian high court decision that the Commonwealth government's bill to nationalize private banks in Australia was unconstitutional.

In rejecting the Australian government's appeal against the high court decision, the Privy Council said its reason would be given later.

The announcement ended one of the longest and costliest legal arguments ever heard before the Privy Council. The hearings lasted 36 days. For 14 days Dr. Herbert Evatt, who is Australia's Attorney-General as well as External Affairs Minister, made a 500,000-word address.

One of Britain's leading King's Counsels, Sir Cyril Radcliffe, pleaded the case for the banks. The Australian government's case was assisted by D. N. Pritt, Independent-Labor member of Parliament.

Challenge Act

The Australian Banking Act of 1947 nationalizing the banks, was challenged in the Australian High Court by 11 private banks and by the States of Victoria, South Australia and Western Australia.

They were granted declarations that section 46 of the act, which prohibited the carrying out of banking business by private banks was invalid.

Today's proceedings in the prolonged legal duel were over in 30 seconds. Lord Porter presiding, said:

"Your Lordships will humbly advise His Majesty that these appeals should be dismissed. They will give their reasons at a later date. The time will be indicated to the parties."

Driver Runs Over 4 Sleepers

MIDLAND, July 26—(CP)—One youth was killed and three others seriously injured early today when they were struck by a vehicle as they slept beside a highway near this Georgian Bay town. The driver did not stop. Kenneth Byers, 19, died from multiple injuries to the face and body. Injured are: Harvey Goudreault, 17, Donald Leduc, 17, and Russell Latondresse, 14. All four were from Victoria Harbour.

Although suffering from severe head cuts, Goudreault walked to a nearby farmhouse to get help before he lapsed into unconsciousness. He told police later that the four boys had stretched out by the side of the road to sleep.

Police said they found the three lying across the centre line of Highway 12 when they arrived.

Police said the youths, believed to have been returning from pageant practices in nearby Midland, were on the highway for at least one hour after they were struck. The ysaid thht the youths' condition indicated that a car had passed over their bodies.

Hospital authorities described the condition of Latondresse as "very serious." Leduc is suffering from a fractured wrist and right leg. Goudreault was discharged from hospital today.

Police are searching for the driver of the vehicle.

Plane Pilot Terrorizes City Then Dives Into Cemetery

STOCKTON, Calif., July 26—(AP)—An airplane pilot terrorized this city for an hour Monday with repeated buzzing—then power-dived to his death in the graveyard where his wife was buried four months ago. He was Russell Gilman Higby, Jr., 23, son of a well-to-do produce merchant. Sheriff Carlos Sousa said the young man was flying his father's Cessna monoplane. Witnesses said Higby's screeching dives over the city often levelled off at tree-top height.

Sheriff's deputies waited at the airport to arrest him. With them were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Higby who told officers their son had been "very despondent" since his wife Beverly died April 1 in childbirth.

Higby made two power dives on a cemetery at the city limits. On the second, witnesses said, he started from 2000 feet ,and never pulled out.

Higby's mangled body was thrown 80 feet from the point of impact.

He was an ambulance driver in England during the Second World War. He leaves two daughters, two years and four months old.

Russians Brand Blockade Myth

BERLIN, July 26—(AP)—The Russians denied Monday night that the "little blockade" of Berlin, which the western allies have been protesting formally for 12 days, ever existed.

In a letter to the British military government, Lt.-Gen. M. I. Dratvin, Soviet deputy military governor in Germany, said "'statements about recent restrictions allegedly imposed by Soviet authorities on freight traffic from the western zones of Berlin lack every foundation."

The western powers announced previously the Russians had suddenly closed all entry points for Berlin-bound highway traffic except Helmstedt. Monday at least three of these points were reported open again.

The Russians claimed that such traffic was not provided for in any of the existing agreements. However Dratvin's letter said the Russians are prepared "in the interest of the development of economic co-operation between zones not to hinder traffic of trucks with cargoes for Berlin also on other (than the Helmstedt) roads."

Smash Ecuador Revolt Turn Back Attacks

QUITO, Ecuador, June 26. — (AP).—The government of President Galo Plaza Lasso said it smashed a revolt attempt today.

Army troops beat down an attempt to attack the presidential palace. A government announcement said the revolutionists were led by Col. Carlos Hancheno, former dictator.

Guayaquil, a major port of Ecuador, was quiet.

One group of rebels in Quito, the country's capital, tried to attack the presidential palace while Mancheno made an effort to take control of a group of army tanks. The government announcement said "both manmanoeuvres" failed in the face of quick action by the army and civilian authorities.

Bride Watches Husband Drown

ORILLIA, July 26 (CP)—Constable John Andrew Johnson, 30, of the Toronto Police department, was drowned in the Severn River, 15 miles north of here, Monday night while his bride of two days watched helplessly.

His body was recovered 15 minutes after he had fallen from the bank into the fast-moving waters of the river at Wasdell's Falls, where the young couple was spending a two-week honeymoon.

Constable Johnson was married in Guelph last Saturday to his childhood sweetheart, the former Helen Bradley, a native of Guelph. They arrived here Monday night and planned to take a swim when the mishap occurred.

Three holidaymakers dived into the water to search for the officer's body, recovered a short time later by Miss Lynda Cartwright.

In Toronto, Chief Constable John Chisolm said officer Johnson had joined the force two years ago and was "a wonderful young man and a good police officer."

Besides his widow, Johnson is survived by his mother and other relatives in Guelph.

Six men were booked here shortly after dawn, following all-night questioning by District Attorney Frank S. Hogan and aides.

Nine persons were arrested Monday in New Jersey and Cincinnati, and two were seized here previously.

Today's batch of prisoners, including two newspaper circulation employees, were charged with conspiracy and contriving a lottery.

200,000 Homeless In Shanghai Typhoon

SHANGHAI, July 26 (AP) — Shanghai's worst storm in years killed 29 persons, injured 23 and left upwards of 200,000 homeless rescuers sloshing through flooded streets it was learned today.

Fourteen died when a house collapsed, 10 lost their lives in a series of fires and five others were electrocuted by power lines blown down in the 25-hour storm.

Property damage appeared heavy. But the worst may have occurred in neighboring farm areas. Badly needed truck crops were either totally destroyed or badly damaged. The lower Yangtze rice crop, due to be harvested in 40 days, was destroyed partially.

The typhoon ended Monday midnight. Earlier it had seriously damaged military installations on Okinawa Island.

Weather observers said it was Shanghai's worst storm since July 28, 1915. Two hundred were killed in that one and 26 ships were wrecked on the Whangpoo and the Yangtze. More than half of the small huts in the lower residential district of this city of 6,000,000 were destroyed Monday night.

Send Rail Deputation To Give Isaacs Terms

LONDON, July 26—(AP)—Britain's 450,000 union railwaymen sent a deputation to Labor Minister George Isaacs today to state their terms for averting a country-wide slowdown of the state-owned railways.

The railwaymen, who want 10-shillings ($2) a week pay boost, are expected to demand changes in the government's conciliation board.

Union delegates are standing by for the deputation's report. If Isaacs' reply does not satisfy them, they are expected to act on proposals for an immediate slowdown throughout Britain.

Some 3,300 men at 10 freight depots in London, Manchester and Salford already are on a slowdown.

Can't Keep Ogopogo Down Footprints Baffle BC Folk

KELOWNA, B.C., July 26 — (CP)—You can't keep a good ogopogo down.

"And what," you enquire, "is an ogopogo?"

A good question. At this Okanagan lakeside city today they're beginning to wonder.

He used to be known only as a cavorting sea-serpent. But the other morning they say, the ogopogo went for a stroll on the beach.

Various descriptions have labelled the ogopogo as having sometimes a sheep-like head, sometimes a serpent-like body and once black coils.

All those who claim to have seen him agree on one point: He undulates!

But the footprints have everyone baffled. Coming out of the water is a trail of prints—cup-shaped imprints with eight toemarks—about a mile south of here. The trail extended along a short section of beach and then re-entered the water.

Word got around and a corps of newspaper men from Vancouver made haste to the scene, made notes and wrote stories for their journals. The reports tallied: Eight toemarks.

A United States tourist, W. C. Ulrich of Omak, Wash., claims he heard "a terrific splash during the night."

Though it's only in the last few years that white people claim to have seen him, the ogopogo is part of Indian legend. The red man named him "Auck."

Years ago a bone 1½ feet long and about a foot through— alleged to have come from the back of one of ogopogo's ancestors—was found at nearby rocky point.

300 Men Fight Timber Blaze

L'ASSOMPTION, Que., July 26 —(CP)—A forest fire whcih destroyed almost two square miles of spruce and pine near this town about 35 miles northeast of Montreal today dwindled to a few scattered blazing patches after 300 volunteers attacked it with bulldozers.

The firefighters managed to keep the flames away from this town of 2,000 people.

Fanned by a high wind the fire believed to have been started by two youngsters on a berry-picking expedition, tore through the dry wooded area leaving a trail of burned out stumps in its wake.

Bulldozers, sent to the scene from St. Jerome and L'Assomption, cut a wide swart around the fire area preventing it from spreading to the thicker bushland to the west.

High Pork Price Goes Higher

Harassed housewives, already plagued by high food prices, have encountered further hardship during the past few days following an average increase of five cents per pound in the prices of most pork products in Peterborough. That the increase was general is borne out by a Toronto despatch which told of an increase in the wholesale price of dressed hogs there causing a two-cent per pound boost in retail pork prices.

A number of local butchers have not yet passed on the increased wholesale prices to their customers. Others, however, have increased their retail prices, For instance, pork chops are now selling at from 63 to 69 cents per pound, about five cents a pound higher than last week, and cooked hams at from $1.10 to $1.15 per pound. Bacon has gone up a cent in Toronto.

The price of dressed hogs "has gone crazy," one local butcher said. He was unable to suggest a reason for it.

Woman Stabs Father

TORONTO, July 26 (CP)—Police said today they will seek mental examination of Annie Petelka, 27, charged with stabbing her father, John Petelka, 61, in the back yesterday with an 11-inch bread knife.

Police said they received a call from the girl saying her father was hurt.

Sunday Ball Vote Shelved Till September In Toronto

TORONTO, July 26. — (CP). Toronto's city council has decided there will be no organized baseball games in city parks this summer. Council pushed aside a recommendation of Board of Control that two test games be played in city parks between now and Sept. 11.

Council voted 18-3 yesterday to postpone decision until its first regular September meeting. Controllers Allan Lamport and Harold Balfour and Alderman Harold Fishleigh dissented.

Theoretically, council's decision was not opposed to Sunday sport, but it showed disapproval of discussing the issue at the special summer session. Yesterday's meeting was called to collect taxes on a rate of 30.5 mills. The measure was passed.

Though baseball has been the alibi, council's September decision will clarify the whole issue of Toronto's Sunday blue laws. Board of Control cannot open city parks for commercialized sport without violating a Federal statute—the Lord's Day Act. The Act forbids all commercialized sport on Sunday unless local provincial sanction provides otherwise.

However, Don North, president of the North Toronto Baseball Association and the man who asked the city for the two games to test public opinion, discovered there was nothing in the law to prevent a collection being taken. In other words, as long as no admission is charged, says Mr. North, a permit to use city playgrounds on Sunday should be issued.

Controller Leslie Saunders led the assault against the "skeleton" Board of Control in passing on what has become a hot question to council. Both Controluer Saunders and Mayor Hiram McCallum were out of town when the proposition arose.

Press Search For Jail-Jumper

PORT ARTHUR, July 26 (CP) —A district-wide search today is on for James McGrath, 25, who escaped from jail at Geraldton, less than 24 hours after being picked up on a charge of alleged armed robbery at a Matheson farm home.

Road blocks were put on all roads within a radius of 30 miles of Geraldton Saturday night and all cars were stopped and searched by Provincial Police.

District Inspector Percy Hake today received a call at headquarters here from Cpl. Les Heaney at Geraldton saying that all members of the Geraldton and Beardmore detachments were putting full time on the search.

London Vicar Refuses To Marry Actress

LONDON, July 26. (AP)—The vicar of London's famous old Bow Street Church, refused today to marry Actress Angela Lansbury and Peter Shaw because Miss Lansbury had been married before.

Miss Lansbury was married to Actor Richard Cromwell in 1945, and divorced a year later.

Rev. G. F. J. Answll, rector of the Bow Church, said:

"I am very sorry and I am sure she must be disappointed. But I cannot find it in my conscience to marry someone in my church who has been married before."

Truman's Arms Program Designed To Total 1,500,000 Fighting Men

Five Key Countries Included In Deal To Strengthen Western Defence; Russian Forces Said To Reach 4,000,000

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, July 26—(AP)—President Truman's Arms-for-Europe program is described officially as designed to bring up to combat strength a total of about 1,500,000 fighting men in five countries. The strategic purpose behind this objective is to prepare the countries of western Europe against any attack by Russia until United States forces could be thrown into the struggle.

The five key countries in the Western Europe Rearmament Plan are Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. Together they form the Western European Union and have already planned the co-ordination of their own military power independently of any U.S. assistance.

In addition to these five, the arms program also is suposed to strengthen the combat effectiveness of the relatively small forces of Norway, Denmark, and Italy.

Try to Find Objective

Figures available here showed the nature of the problem that military leaders of the United States and Western Europe have encountered in trying to determine what the objective of a rearmament effort should be.

Against the 1,500,000 available troops of the Western Union powers the Soviet Union is reported now to have a total military strength of more than 4,000,000 men, including 2,500,000 in the ground forces.

The Red Army ground forces in Germany are reported to total about 350,000 men organized in 20 to 25 divisions. Another 10 to 15 divisions are said to be distributed elsewhere in occupied or satellite countries of Eastern Europe.

On the United States side of the picture, the United States now has under arms a total of 1,600,000 men divided among the Army, Air Force, Navy and the Marines.

Truman administration officials said that heavy, strategic attack weapons such as battleships and heavy bombers would not be turned over to the other countries. The aid plan would run to defensive arms.

AVOIDS COLLISION

Some smart driving on the part of Thomas Terry of Hamilton, who was at the wheel of truck loaded with lumber, avoided a head-on collision with a car on No. 28 Highway, just west of Bailieboro, at 4.45 p.m. on Monday. Mr. Terry saw a possible crash coming when the approaching car was being passed by another car. He ditched his truck in such a way as to prevent injury to himself or damage to the truck.

Dutch Captain Held To Blame

TORONTO, July 26—Capt. J. W. Van Den Boogaart, skipper of the Dutch freighter Prins Willem Van Oranje, was served Monday with a summons to answer charges that his ship dumped oil in Toronto Harbor earlier in the month.

The summons was served by an official of the Toronto Lifesaving and Police Patrol Service and an RCMP corporal as the vessel moved through the Welland Canal, downbound from Detroit here.

Monday afternoon the Prins Willem was berthed at the Imperial Oil Company dock at the foot of Commissioner St. She immediately began taking on oil for her trip to Montreal. Aboard, the skipper read over the summons papers and conferred with a marine lawyer who will plead his case when the matter is aired in court here.

A Way to Participate in Western Oil Development

Many Canadians have been attracted by the great oil developments in Alberta and Saskatchewan and have asked how to participate in them.

We suggest that consideration be given to the new 5½% Convertible Sinking Fund Bonds of Husky Oil & Refining Ltd., which are convertible into Common Shares of the Company at the rate of 150 Shares for each $1,000 Bond and which carry a bonus of 40 Shares of Common Stock with each $1,000 Bond.

Husky Oil & Refining Ltd. owns a 5,000 barrel refinery at Lloydminster and its earnings in 1948 were sufficient to pay interest requirements on the new bonds three times before depreciation and depletion and over twice after depreciation and depletion.

The Company has six oil wells and a half interest in twelve additional oil wells, all of which produce the black asphalt base oil used in its refinery production of all grades of highway asphalt, briquetting asphalt, roofing material, fuel oil, diesel oil and Bunker "C" fuel oil.

The Company holds oil and gas rights in acreage held under leases and reservations in approximately 4,800,000 acres in Alberta and Saskatchewan and has an agreement providing for the execution of a formal contract with Phillips Petroleum Company of Oklahoma in connection with exploration and development.

A prospectus describing these new Bonds and the Company's operations and potentialities will be supplied gladly upon request.

Hold Brothers For Abduction

KITCHENER, July 26—(CP)—Carl and Andrew Bach, brothers from Millbank, 20 miles northwest of here, reported to provincial police Monday and were taken into custody in connection with the alleged abduction of three Waterloo County Mennonite youths Saturday night. A third man is still being sought.

The abduction followed a highway accident north of Kitchener.

An automobile in which three men were riding struck a buggy in which Jesse Martin, 18; his brother Henry, 10; David Martin, 18, and a cousin, and his brother Menoah, 10, were returning from a swim.

The Martins told police that the three men got out of their car and demanded $50 damages. Then they ordered David to get into the car. Menoah got in after him. The three men grabbed Henry. Jesse begged to be allowed to stay with the horse.

After the men drove off, Jesse hailed a passing car driven by Eden Bauman of Elmira. With Bauman were his brother, Leonard, Vernal Martin and William Paproth.

They pursued the other car which finally stopped. The three men got out and a fight ensued. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Frey came out of their house nearby and attempted to stop the fight. They were badly beaten and their clothes were torn. Mrs. Frey was knocked down and kicked. The trio disappeared in their car.

Arab League Dying Blocked By Bickering

BELROUTH, Lebanon, July 26 (AP). — Neutral observers say that the Arab League is dying on its feet and has ceased to be an important factor in the Middle East.

Personal feuding among leaders of member states, they say, has blocked attainment of the goal of co-operation set up when the league was organized in Cairo in March, 1945.

The seven founding Arab states agreed in Cairo to work for "real collaboration" and to "strengthen the ties" between one another.

Well-informed Arabs privately admit the Arab states are further from that goal to-day than they were at the time of the league's founding; that the bickerings which hamstrung Arab fighting efforts in the war against Israel are just as evident in the war's aftermath.

Deadline On Petitions Local Improvements

Board of works last night set Dec. 31 as the final date for the receiving of petitions from citizens for local improvements to be planned and carried out next year.

That proposed aid for City Engineer Chalmers was moved by Ald. Grant Miller and seconded by Mayor Swanston.

"I've got more work than I can handle now," was the remark of Mr. Chalmers as Ald. Dodds, chairman, read several requests, one for a sidewalk on Mason Ave. in the Brookfield subdivision, another for a sewer on Armour Rd. from Hunter St. to Douro St.

That one was from the residents on the west side of Armour Rd. Board of Education owns the east side block.

"If we adopt a policy of dead line for next year, it will enable the City Engineer to catch up on the work of his department," Mayor Swanston said.

Petitions Filed

The petitions which were received Monday night were simply left on the board of works file for some future consideration.

Mr. Chalmers submitted a report on the proposed paving of King St. from George to Aylmer St. The paved strip would be 44 feet wide to the creek and 38 feet wide west of it to Aylmer St. City Solicitor Huycke was asked to prepare the routine authorizing bylaw.

The board approved the suggestion of Mr. Chalmers that the owners of bus terminal on King St. should be asked to designate an entrance to their property "and not tie up their whole front on King St."

Jesuit Priest Saved Jews From Germans

MONTREAL, July 26. (CP) — Rev. Pierre Chaillet, a Jesuit priest who managed to save thousands of Jewish children during the German occupation of France, has come to Canada to tell of his wartime underground organization.

The priest, who was appointed joint secretary of the French ministry of health and social welfare after the war, is travelling on behalf of the Committee for Social Welfare of the Resistance, of which he is director. A film entitled "Ten Thousand Little Maurices" depicting the work of Rev. Chaillet's resistance workers is now being produced in Hollywood.

He told the Canadian Jewish Congress here that a non-sectarian organization, called l'Amitie Chretienne, was organized during the occupation of France, ostensibly to provide food and clothing to indigent foreigners. However, he said, behind this facade, the institution in Lyons devoted itself to save victims of German oppression, especially Jewish children.

"We had a camouflage service which provided false papers and hiding places for anyone sought by the Nazis. We were able to save thousands of Jews and an innumerable number of others."

Rev Chaillet said the group carried on its activities with the knowledge of the late Cardinal Gerlier, then archbishop of Paris. Protestants and Jewish children thus rescued were not given any Cathalic religious instruction. The archibishop personnally forbade the conversion of these children without the consent of their relatives.

After the war, Chief Rabbi Isaac Halevi Herzog, of Palestine, visited him in France to thank him for his work. Rev. Chaillet was made a chevalier de la Legion d'Honneur, a chevalier de la Sante Publique, and was awarded the rosette de la Resistance and the Croix de Guerre with palm and star.

5 Of 8 Fires In Trent Area Due To Campers

Carless campers, who failed to completely extinguished camp fires, were responsible for five of eight woods fires which broke out in the Trent district last week, District Forester A. B. Wheatley of Lindsay said today. All but one of them were put out quickly by forest rangers and the remaining blaze, located two miles east of the southern part of Redstone Lake, is under control although still being patrolled.

Mr. Wheatley said that rangers found definite evidence to back up the charge that five fires were due to negligence and caused preventable destruction to valuable stands of timber.

Rains Helped

Heavy rains of the past few days helped to bring seven of the fires under control, but did not soak into the soil quite enough to put out the fire still smouldering, to a large extent underground.

Ten men under Deputy Chief Ranger Bil Sarginson of Haliburton are patrolling this fire which has swept through 45 acres near a construction camp, 12 miles north of Haliburton. This blaze is the only one of the eight which it was found impossible to confine to less than three acres. Four of the five fires caused by carelessness of campers occurred in Peterborough county.

Here are the locations of the other seven fires: An island in Bald Lake, Bobcaygeon; Methuen Township, near Jack Lake and south of Apsley; two in Cavendish Township, near Mississauga and Katchacoma Lakes; Stanhope Township, near Little Hawke Lake; and two fires in Anstruther Township caused by lightning. The blazes were burning at various times between July 19 and 23.

42,000,000 Lbs. Of Butter Now In Storage

OTTAWA, July 26 (CP)—Government experts today were trying to find a solution to the problem of steadily increasing accumulations of top quality butter which the government has been purchasing during the last three months under a price-support program to keep the wholesale level at 58 cents a pound.

These accumulations, stored at various centres across the country, now total more than 42,000,000 pounds and when the production season is over in September they may have reached almost 60,000,000 pounds.

Besides storage costs, the government so far has spent more than $24,000,000 buying up the surplus butter and expects to spend at least an additional $6,000,000 before production slows up and the supply situation tightens.

Some of the experts believe the government will have little trouble disposing of the butter, selling the product in carload lots at 58 cents a pound.

At this time last year when private industry stored butter, surplus stocks amounted to 30,000,000 pounds and Canada was forced to import 15,000,000 pounds during the winter months to meet a critical shortage.

However, since then margarine has made its legal appearance on the Canadian market and some of the demand for butter has been absorbed by the butter substitute which has been selling at lower prices than butter.

This had led other government experts to doubt whether the accumulations can be disposed of easily without a government loss.

The whole question of disposal and price will depend on demand and availability during the coming fall and winter months when Canada has to depend on storage accumulations to fill consumer requirements.

In some quarters it was believed that if the Canadian market will not absorb the entire storage accumulations, then Canada will try to export some of the butter to foreign markets.

COBOURG, July 26 (ENS)—Arrested as a result of some smart work by Chief Constable Douglas Hilliard, recently appointed chief of police of Bewdpeared in court here yesterday. ley, two Peterborough youths ap-Robert Young, 16, and Ronald Brian, 16, were each charged with theft of $7.00 from Harry Goss' service station at Bewdley on July 19.

The pair were spotted in Cobourg by Chief Hilliard, when he was off duty, from a description furnished him by Goss and he placed them under arrest and turned them over to the provincial police. Young pleaded guilty, but Brian pleaded not guilty. As he was not in the service station when the robbery occurred, the charge against Brian was withdrawn.

The owner was busy outside at the time and Young helped himself to seven dollars from the till. Provincial Conhe was taken to the provincial stable Don Nicol said that when police office, Young tossed the stolen money out a window. This act was not known until he was being brought up for court hearing that day, at which time Young told Ed. Mottershed of the jail staff about throwing the money out the window. It was recovered just where it had fallen.

Young changed his story around a number of times in being that he and Brian had court yesterday, his final version hitchhiked to Bewdley and that when he went in for a coke, there was nobody around so he helped himself to the contents of the till.

Magistrate R. B. Baxter remanded him until Friday for sentence.

First Time In Decade Find Ships Lying Idle

SARNIA, July 26 (CP)—For the first time in a decade ships are lying idle here due to shortage of cargo. Six ships—freighters and barges—were in the north slip of the elevator docks Monday waiting further cargo. All have docked within the past few days.

According to sailing officials it is the first time since before the war that ships have been idle at the height of the sailing season.

Latest arrivals are the steamer Victorious and the barge John Fcitz which came in Sunday.

Last Friday, the steamer Maunaloa II and the Bryn barge docked, while the James B. Eads arrived earlier. Barge 137 known as the Glenbogie has been here for some time. All of the ships belong to the Upper Lakes and St. Lawrence Transportation Company Ltd., Fleet.

Long Joyride Leads To Court

COBOURG, July 26 (ENS)—A two-hour jaunt down to Presqu'ile Point that stretched into an all-night party and then was transferred to Lindsay and Bracebridge in a week-long party, resulted in Larry Wallace, Brighton restaurant cook, appearing in court here on two charges, one of theft of a car and the other of obtaining $20 by false prtenses.

The accused was found not taxi driver A. Scarborough, guilty on the theft charge, said by whose business also includes basis, in view of the fact that renting cars on a drive-yourself Wallace had hired the car several times previously. On the false pretense charge Wallace was fined $25 and costs, restitution having been made.

The evidence revealed that Wallace hired Scarborough's car for a few hours to go down to Presqu'ille Point on July 10 and failed to return it that night. On July 11 the police were notified and on July 18 Wallace was picked up at Bracebridge. After hiring the car he decided to go to Lindsay where he ran into an old school chum on vacation and they spent most of the week "partying around", the accused explained. During the course of the holiday he ran short of cash and gave a cheque for $20 for which there were no funds.

After coming back from Bracebridge he received a bill for $84 from Scarborough, which he was going to pay this week, Wallace testified.

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

They Drained a Lake

to give Canada a Great New Industry

IT HAPPENED in Ontario's Rainy River District. Steep Rock Lake — fifteen miles long and ranging in depth from 40 to 265 feet — was emptied by batteries of giant pumps. Finlayson Lake was lowered by draining from the bottom. The course of the Seine River was completely changed. And one of the richest bodies of iron ore on the continent was uncovered. Providing millions of tons of ore a year — with enough uncovered for years to come — Steep Rock's development has been spectacular, but it is only ONE of many examples of Canada's tremendous modern advance. Today we truly live in a Greater Canada—one with productive capacity vastly increased and diversified, offering to young Canadians greater opportunities than ever before in every field of endeavour.

The iron and steel manufacturing industry presents another spectacular example of development: productive capacity and number of employees have been doubled since before the war, striking indication of Canada's new position as one of the world's great industrial nations.

SO MANY OPPORTUNITIES

"A sound idea and the determination to carry it through—those are the passports to success in Canada today where there are so many interesting opportunities in so many different kinds of activity" —says MR. LESLIE BUTCHER.

Mr. Butcher—member of Canada's 1936 Olympic basketball team—after returning from college in the U.S. and being manager of a local insurance office, started his own Butcher Enterprises. Their development provides many examples of this young Canadian's energy and enterprise. They include: a unique and successful service in the wrapping of products for shipping; and the modernization of the Windsor Arena to present outstanding sports and entertainment events with great success.

Abolition Or Reform For The Senate

The Toronto Star expresses itself editorially as being in favour of the abolition of the Senate "as a needless check on democratic processes". This does not altogether surprise us, for the Star is a great supporter of any sort of change, and often falls into the error of supposing that change is in itself a form of progress. We think that reform of the Senate would be a good thing, but we think that the abolition of the Senate would not be a move toward democracy, but a decided move away from it.

* * *

Bi-cameral parliaments—that is to say, parliaments which have two houses—work well, because one house acts as a check upon the hasty judgements and follies of the other. It cannot be said that our parliament works slowly; time and again it has shown that it works faster and more decisively than the government of the U.S.A. The Senate saves this country many millions each year by tightening and revising bills which are sent to it from the Commons. And because it is not subject to the winds of popular opinion, it sometimes delays measures which are obviously hastily conceived.

* * *

We suggest to the Toronto Star that if the Legislature of Ontario were a bi-cameral parliament the Charitable Gifts Act of which the Star has complained so bitterly would never have become law. It was railroaded through a submissive Legislature with every mark of raw vengeance upon it; once it was through the Legislature no one could stop it. But a second chamber, even if it had been manned entirely by Conservatives, would have stopped it, for such a chamber would have been able to see the evils inherent in it. And would such action have been undemocratic?

* * *

We do not think so. The constant danger of democracy is that it may become demagoguery. The only men who can check a demagogue in his course are men who are beyond his reach; the public, beglamoured by him, find out too late where he is leading. Second chambers are, among other things, admirable checks on demagogues.

Nostalgia Is A Cheap Pleasure

Nothing is so easy and pleasant, particularly in hot weather as to decry the present and exalt the past. We have been pondering upon an article which we read a day or so ago in The Windsor Star in which the writer amused himself by comparing the musical comedies of the past with those of the present, much to the detriment of the latter. What have we, he asked, to compare with The Merry Widow, with Mme. Sherry, with The Dollar Princess? Certainly not bebop, and the agitated and vulgar popular music of today.

We are prepared to agree with him, up to a point. But we must point out that memory has touched his recollection of these pieces with a rosy finger. Although we cannot claim to know them in intimate detail, we know a little bit about them, and we do not regret their passing keenly. Mme. Sherry contained that delightful song "Every Little Movement Has A Meaning All Its Own", but it also contained much that was commonplace, and intolerable to a modern ear. The Merry Widow has some charming music, and some of the corniest comedy ever seen on any stage at any time in history. The Dollar Princess suffers from the same disability. And The Prince of Pilsen, of which the Windsor critic writes with a lump in his throat, was made up of commonplace tunes and terrible verses. Even worse was The Wizard of The Nile; we recall this nugget from its libretto:

There's one thing a wizard can do;
It's a trick of the trade that is new;
He can make politicians
Resign their positions
And be just as honest as you!

Flat? But not as flat as some we could reprint from The Yokahama Girl if we wanted to bore our readers.

The Windsor dreamer even goes back to the eighties, and weeps a few tears over the passing of Erminie. Well, there is much that is pretty in Erminie, just as in The Chimes of Normandie and in Offenbach's The Grand Duchess of Gerolstein and in La Poupee. But no audience today could tolerate the silly stories and foolish words of these pieces, just as no audience in 2020 will be able to stomach the foolishness of Oklahoma, Annie Get Your Gun or Brigadoon for the sake of the two or three good tunes they contain. If these old comic operas are to be revived they will need new libretti. It is their wit which ages, far more than their music.

And when the Windsor merchant of nostalgia condemns bebop and the popular songs of today we feel impelled to point out that the popular music of the era which he so elaborately regrets was no better. We cannot endure bebop for long without protest, but we are no fonder of such bygone ditties as Hello, Central, Get Me Heaven, Cause My Mama's There, or The Cincinnati Coon, or The Letter Edged in Black. Popular music is, in the main, piffle for pinheads; now and again a song writer of genius gives us a handful of good tunes, and sometimes he is even lucky enough to have good words for them, but these things do not happen every day or even every five years.

Judged by any very high standard, modern musical comedy is poor stuff. Kiss Me, Kate, which seems so lively and so pointed today, will look as careworn in twenty years as Rose Marie and No, No Nannette look to us now. But modern musical comedy is probably as good as we deserve. It passes the time pleasantly, and that is all that we can ask of it. Erminie and The Dollar Princess would, we fear, provoke yawns. Those of us who remember them do not realize, perhaps, how much of their nonsense we have forgotten. The Windsor critic, to recover the thrill of The Prince of Pilsen, would have to recover also his youth, the thrill of his early days of theatre-going, and the pretty girl who sat by his side when he first heard it.

The U.S. And The Atlantic Pact

Since the U.S. Senate ratified the North Atlantic Treaty last week there have been a few expressions of relief and surprise which we feel are scarcely warranted. It was always plain that the U.S. legislative branch would follow the executive branch of its government in approving the Treaty; the opposition, though very ready to express its point of view, was by no means large. The forces which approved of the Treaty and meant to make it effective gave the opposition the fullest opportunity to express itself, and this caused some disquiet in distant lands where the American legislative method is not so well known as it is here; but that opposition should never have caused any misgiving in Canada. The Ayes were six to one, and they knew it; the Noes, even when they spoke vehemently, probably realized that they hadn't a chance.

U.S. foreign policy has undergone a basic change in the past twenty-five years. The fear of "entangling alliances" which was right and proper for a young country could not be maintained when the U.S.A. became a great world power. The greatness of U.S. trade came before the greatness of U.S. political influence; once that political influence was clear, the abandonment of that traditional policy was only a matter of time.

The U.S.A. is the chief strength of the Atlantic Treaty. Russia resents the Treaty and declares that it is aimed against herself, and in this she is quite right. However, Russia has only herself to blame. The Atlantic Treaty is a treaty for peace, and unless the conditions of the treaty are grossly abused, it cannot lead to war. In ratifying the Treaty so firmly the U.S.A. gives another proof of its acceptance of very serious responsibilities.

Let Diamond Cut Diamond

The Toronto morning paper has called attention to the fact that several cocktail bars in that city are cheating their customers with trick glasses and measuring cups, and are selling drinks that are smaller than they pretend to be.

This is undoubtedly a dreadful situation, not to be tolerated in an honest land like this, and we urge that the wicked saloon keepers be brought to trial at once.

As their jurors we suggest a few of those fruit-growers who were so successful for years in selling green peaches under pink netting, a few butchers who have become so expert at weighing fat and bone with a piece of meat, and of course a few officials of the L.C.B.O. who have so deftly sold watered liquor ever since a "war emergency" made it to the public (and the saloon keepers) possible.

The Pact Ratified

(NEW YORK TIMES)

RISING to the responsibility which history thrust upon it, the Senate has approved the North Atlantic Treaty by the overwhelming majority of 82 to 13. It has done so after defeating by similarly decisive majorities all efforts of a small band of die-hard opponents who, from a variety of motives, sought either to defeat the Treaty or to repudiate its obligations and its promises by saddling it with nullifying reservations.

* * *

In taking this action, the Senate has justified again the democratic process which enabled the opposition to voice in prolonged debate all its objections and its fears. But by overriding these fears and objections the Senate has justified the hopes and expectations of the free world. The Treaty must still be approved by France and the Netherlands before it becomes effective. But after ratification by the United States these steps may be expected to follow as a matter of course. The way has now been cleared to the formal creation of the North Atlantic community as an alliance forged by fate and dedicated not to war but to the preservation of peace and to the defense of freedom and security against new aggression from any quarter.

* * *

THE Senate vote is so decisive, and brought suport for the Treaty from such large majorities of both the Republican and the Democratic parties, that it should dispel any misgivings aroused among our allies by the preceding debate. But if it is really to fulfil its purposes and become the great deterrent to aggression which it is designed to be, the Treaty wil have to become more than a diplomatic paper instrument. It will have to become a living and functioning reality, ready and able not only to repel aggression, if that dire necessity arises, but to prevent aggression by making the alliance so strong, militarily, politically and economicaly, that not even the most reckless Power will dare to attack it.

* * *

THE means for giving it this strength are provided in the Treaty itself. One such means is envisaged in Article 3, which calls for continuous and effective self-help and mutual aid to maintain and develop the individual and collective capacity of the signatories to resist armed attack. In fulfillment of that obligation the Administration is ready to submit to Congress a military aid program to enable Western Europe to activate and develop its own defense resources. Whether this particlar program is the best available, or whether a better one can be devised, is for Congress to determine. In that sense, as the proponents of the Treaty assured the doubters, every member of Congress is free to use his own best judgment.

* * *

BUT there can be no doubt about the obligation of the United States under the Treaty to extend such aid, just as there can be no doubt about the obligation of the other signatories to help themselves at least to the same degree. As General Bradley said, in the end Europe can be defended only by the Europeans. But the Europeans will be able to defend themselves only if their manpower can be supplemented by equipment which at present the United States alone can supply. The Senate's decisive rejection of any reservations on that point holds the same promise that Congress will not shirk this obligation and will help to restore at least in part the ramparts which guarded our own security in the past.

* * *

THE second means of giving the Treaty strength is provided in Article 9, which establishes a Council of the allies to consider matters concerning the implementation of the Treaty. This implementation embraces not merely military affairs, for which a special defense committee is provided; it embraces also all political and economic matters affecting the allies, for such matters are equally important in maintaining and developing their strength. It has been the tragedy and the weakness of the Western World in the past that for lack of a firm alliance each nation pursued separate foreign and economic policies which by their divergence helped to percipitate the catastrophe of war. If the new alliance is to fulfill its noblest purpose of safeguarding the peace it will have to harmonize these individual policies into common policies for the alliance as a whole, enabling it in all vital matters to present a solid and united front. Only in this way will it be able to live up both to its responsibilities and opportunities.

Pitt's Last Words

It is generally accepted by historians that the last words uttered by William Pitt were "Oh, my country! How I love my country!" The great Prime Minister was brooding on his death-bed over the news of Austerlitz and Napoleon's sweep of the Continent. But the other, more picturesque tale dies hard. It was quoted the other day by Mr. Noel-Baker in a BBC talk and relates that what Pitt really said was, "I think I could eat one of Bellamy's pork pies."

The basis for this story is a conversation Disraeli had with an old dinner waiter employed by Bellamy's who catered to the needs of the M.P.'s. One day the venerable waiter said to him:

"You hear many lies of history, sir. Do you know what Mr. Pitt's last words were?" "Of course," said Disraeli. "They are well known." "Nonsense," said the old man.... "Late one night I was called out of bed by a messenger with a postchaise....'You are to get up and dress and bring some of your pork pies down to Mr. Pitt at Putney....' As we rode along he told me that Mr. Pitt had not been able to take any food but had suddenly said, 'I think I could eat one of Bellamy's pork pies....' When we arrived Mr. Pitt was dead. Them was his last words."

Historians, as we have said, do not believe this yarn or think it happened a few days before Pitt's death. It is hardly a vital point but, somehow or other, we find ourselves on the waiter's side. Affairs of state are engrossing but a sick man's wish for something tasty to eat has a ring of reality about it.

Letters To The Editor

MAN AND BEAST

Sir,—So! Alpha says the thought of the ark nauseates him. The situation would have been worse had the ark been full of humans, in more ways than one.

Wonder why so many writers refer to humans as beastly, when they wish to disparage. They insult the beast—no beast sinks to the low level humans do. Is it because he (the writer) considers instinct low because he shares it in common with the beast? Rather should we elevate the beast, because they share it in common with the human.

Beasts are model mothers, but I once saw a mare refuse her colt with tooth and hoofs—almost human she was.

In the ark no one seems to have gotten ill or died, perhaps because of the animals. It was no accident that the Son of God was born in a stable. There was a purpose.

In his antipathy to so-called beastly instincts man has become frigorific or gone to a torrid extreme. Now he is busy inducing frigidity in cattle by tampering with instincts.

Wonderful isn't he? Made an atomic bomb too.

BEAST DEFENDER

ODE TO ODOUR

Sir,—At the very definite risk of being vulgar, I must admit that some of the recent corespondence in your paper has recalled from the depths of my mind that old conundrum as to the relative difference between "humour" and "odour," in which humour is described as being a shift of wit. As my contribution to the attempt to clean up this city I am submitting an "Ode to Odour" for your discretion:

A pall hangs over one end of our city,
The stench is much worse than the black and white kitty,
Many comments are made, no action is taken,
Our faith in the Council is quite badly shaken.
All down the line the boat wharves are idle
And owners eye sadly canoe, skiff and paddle.
For weeks we've been shouting that "now is the hour!"—
It falls on the deaf ears of those men in power.
Down south, "Tenants" seem in the majority
And feel those with greenbacks get priority.
In city improvements the men of affairs
Aren't so easily moved by the none-rate-payers.
At long last a meeting of Council is called
The "sufferers" sat on the outside and bawled
At the indifference paid to the help they were wishing—
The first topic discused was the fine art of fishing!
For the Mayor to cast in the Otonabee
Or eat fish from those waters!—Outrageous! Not he!!
'Tis true there were some conversational cracks
Like "It's tough on those devils wrong side of the tracks!
The South End, of course, is the poor end of town,
Might make a bad stink of we did let them down!"
Whatever is settled, I can't help but shiver
At the plight of the ones who live on down the river,
For I've spent all my life on the shores of the Grand
Below Brantford waters. Why pick on that brand
As a standard of measure? Can't Chalmers aspire
To cite an example with level much higher?
If not, hang your heads, and don't feel so pious!
You are risking things precious mere money can't buy us.
We next read a few words from Alderman Dodds
The sum and the substance just ask "what's the odds?"
The "odds," I regret, are still to be shown—
Mortal men cannot yet penetrate the unknown.
Why quibble re spending a few paltry dollars?
Must it always be done to suit the white collars?
The Mayor takes over, he's bored with the talk.
"Let's finish the business, then out we can walk,
We'll shelve it till Fall when the weather is cooler.
What a tedious task to be elected your ruler.
If it weren't for the honour I'd quit in a minute,
To tell the whole truth, my heart isn't in it"—
The meeting adjourns, and the minutes disclose
That "the South End continues to pay through the nose!"

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And all the people gathered themselves together as one man into the street that was before the water gate; and they spake unto Ezra the scribe to bring the book of the law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel....And he read therein before the street that was before the water gate from the morning until midday, before the men and the women, and those that could understand; and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law....So they read in the book in the law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading....

So the Levites stilled all the people, saying, Hold your peace, for the day is holy. (Neh. 8: 1, 3, 8, 11.)

* * *

And it shall come to pass in the last days that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it. And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem! (Isa. 2: 2, 3.)

* * *

O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever....He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions.

Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men! (Ps. 107: 1, 20, 21.)

Wants Patients Followed Up After Discharge

WINDSOR, July 26 (CP)—Formation of a social service group that would look after discharged hospital patients and the setting up of a Windsor hospital conference to deal with "co-ordinated effort and planning," in hospital affairs, was recommended in a written report of Dr. Harvey Agnew, executive member of the Canadian Hospital Association.

Dr. Agnew's report was an enlargement of oral evidence given during the Ontario Royal Commission inquiry into Metropolitan General Hospital.

He suggested that the hospital conference be made up of representatives of the five hospitals.

Dr. Agnew was one of the experts called to testify during the recent probe. His inspections dealth with the medical aspects of Metropolitan.

The report, received Monday by city solicitor Lorne R. Cumming, found that medical care given patients at Metropolitan "appeared to be good," and the staff competent. He reported there should be more observance "to strict observance of written pre-operative diagnosis and summer staff meetings."

He found that little was being done at Metropolitan to check on "after care of patients when they leave." Dr. Agnew said surveys showed public health nurses were too busy with other duties to give attention to this vital service.

Thinks Stalin Stupid

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP) — Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen, Roman Catholic educationist and writer, Monday termed Joseph Stalin "possibly the most stupid politician in the history of the world" for having alienated the United States. He said that in the battle against Communism he saw hope in "establishing contact with the 194,000,000 Russians who are not members of the Communist party. These people are good, freedom-loving people."

The boys were attempting to catch ducks when Russell Norick, seven, stepped into deep water. Albert Soliway, eight, jumped in to help him and they both disappeared. Their bodies were recovered two hours later.

Frost Denies Mattawa Appeal Turned Down Because Of Vote

TORONTO, July 26—"Cruel and utterly without foundation," was the phrase used by Premier Frost Monday in reference to the Toronto Star story that the Ontario Government had refused to allow Mattawa to proceed with a waterworks and sewage system because the townspeople voted Liberal on June 27.

"We just don't do business that way," he declared at a press conference. "In fact, that riding is represented by one of our own members in the legislature. But even if it weren't, there isn't anything that would stop us from helping Mattawa or any other community.

"To infer that the way people voted guides us in our decisions is so unfair that it should not be necessary to comment. Our object is to give good government to all the people without regard to political persuasion, race or creed. We view people as human beings, not chattels."

Tentative Approval

Mr. Frost said that the Ontario Municipal Board wrote to Charles Fink, Mattawa town clerk, on May 7, giving tentative approval to a plan for building a $125,000 system. But no reply had been received from either Mr. Fink or any other town official. The plan had been brought before the board on May 5 by Dr. A. Albert Bergeron, Mattawa MOH, and Homer Sutcliffe, consulting engineer, New Liskeard.

However, on July 19, Mayor Albert Huot, of Mattawa, wired the Department of Municipal Affairs asking how debenture by-laws should be drafted. He was informed that before any steps were taken, the municipality should get approval from the municipal board for issuance of the debentures.

"We haven't held up the plan in any respect," Mr. Frost continued. "In the ordinary course, the government prefers that the consent of the ratepayers be obtained for a debenture issue but to speed up the matter, the board in this case waived consent. All the board asked was that tenders be obtained within the estimated cost of $125,000 and that it be informed to this extent."

Watch Finances

Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar, who sat in on the conference, said the town originally wanted to build a waterworks and sewage system costing $741,000. As it already has oustanding debentures totalling $183,000, this would have boosted the town's debt to more than $900,000. At the same time its total assesment was only $388,913.

"Just like a fellow with $2,000 income trying to finance a car worth $6,000," interjected Mr. Frost.

Last year the town was reassessed and its total assessment was now $828,800. It was because of this that the municipal board felt that $125,000 expenditure was within the ability of the townspeople to pay.

In reply to a question arising out of the Toronto Star story, which said money had been promised during the 1948 provincial election campaign, Mr. Frost said that never had a capital grant been made to any municipality to assist it to build a waterworks system.

"There was no such promise made to Mattawa either," he added.

Report Russia Explodes Atom Bomb In Siberia

PARIS, July 26.—(AP). — A Paris newspaper claims in its current edition that Russia has exploded an atom bomb.

The story appeared in Samedi Soir, a weekly noted for sensationalism.

The newspaper says United States recording devices showed an atomic explosion in Siberia July 10.

This, says Samedi Soir, is the reason President Truman called a top-secret conference of military scientific and congressional leaders.

"The United States," adds the weekly, "which had managed until now to keep monopoly of the atom bomb and of the material necessary for its production is in a frightful scare since the moment it knew the U.S.S.R. had pierced the secret of the bomb."

Samedi Soir says the United States established a listening post in the Arctic after being placed on the alert by British intelligence who had received reports from Russian refugees that the Soviets were on the point of unlocking the secret of the atom bomb.

Giants Capture 12-6 Slugfest Against Toronto

By The Associated Press.

Those good old days when the International was known as a pitchers' league are gone. It has become a home-run paradise.

Already 677 home runs have been hit by the eight clubs, Toronto leading the pack with 101. That figure is a Maple Leaf record, bettering their previous high mark of 99 for a single season.

At least five other teams appear certain to pass the century mark soon, with Jersey City and Montreal having a good chance to do it before the season's end.

Twenty round-trippers were blasted Monday night with Rochester's Don Richmond, Toronto's Bill Glynn and Montreal's Bob Wakefield collecting two apiece.

The team totals are Toronto 101, Buffalo 94, Baltimore 89, Rochester 88, Newark 86, Syracuse 80, Montreal 70 and Jarsey City 69.

Jersey City and Toronto hammered four homers apiece as the Little Giants won a 12-6 slugfest. Pete Pavlick, Jack Lohrke, Neil Watlington and Pete Milne homered for the Giants, while Ed Sanicki and Chet Laabs, in addition to Glynn, homered for the Leafs.

Edge Montreal

Art Hartley threw three home run balls but managed to pitch Syracuse to a 6-5 triumph over Montreal. It was the Chiefs' third straight over the Royals who now have lost six straight.

Besides Wakefield's homers, George Schmees hit one for the circuit for the Royals. Frankie Drews hit a three-run homer for the Chiefs.

Baltimore Orioles moved into sixth place past Syracuse by upsetting the league-leading Buffalo Bisons in both ends of a doubleheader, 10-3 and 3-2. Al Widmar notched his 17th victory in the second game. Ken Wood's 18th homer with a mate aboard was the decisive blow. Hank Arft homered for the Orioles in the opener, Buffalo's homer hitters were Butch Tabacheck and Gene Markland.

Rochester's runner-up Red Wings moved within two games of the lead, defeating Newark Bears, 11-5. Besides Richmond's pair of round-trippers, Russ Derry poled his 27th for the Wings. Ed Ehlers slammed a three run homer for the Bears.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

It just goes to show you—give the bowlers what they want and they will patronize it. On a two-days notice 24 mixed doubles came out, on Monday night, and enjoyed one of the first local tournaments held this season. It was an ideal night for bowling. Let's have more of these. The winners were—Mr. and Mrs. D. Anderson 1st; Mrs. Ackford and A. Mander 2nd; Mr. and Mrs. R. Burns 3rd; Mr. and Mrs. H. Northrop 4th; Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Martin 5th.

Up at Kew Beach, Toronto on Monday Mrs. R. Dyer and Mrs. C. Renaud won all their three games and came home with the premier prize the 'Wilson' trophy. We believe that it is the first time the trophy has come this way. Congratulations.

Tonight, the ladies continue their singles competition and the men play in their singles competion and also in the novice event.

Furthermore Group No. 1 and No. 4 play off the tie for Group standing.

We have been advised that the men's second schedule commences on Tuesday, Aug. 2nd.

Today's thought: I want to see you shoot the way you shout.

Weston Lions Put Down Lumberjacks

Peterborough Lumberjacks are back in the cellar. Weston Lions took the Petes into their dusty den Monday night and came out with a 21 to 12 win. Led by Ted Downer and Jefferies the Weston Lions piled up a 11 to 4 score at halftime after the Petes had held the Lions to a two-all tie in the first quarter. The nine goals in the second quarter by Weston seemed to dishearten the Peterborough boys.

Poor checking around the goal left plenty of loose balls for the Lions who greedily picked them up to score. At times the Petes' passing was nearly perfect but then everything seemed to go wrong. The Weston team got more Peterborough passes than the Petes did themselves. Around the net the Lions took every advantage given to them by the Petes to run up healthy leads.

Early Sloppy Play

Sloppy play by both teams featured the first five minutes of play with both teams paying more attention to their man than the ball. Horton broke through after scooping up a loose ball at centre to pass to Thorpe for the first score. Howse then took over the starry role for the next five minutes giving a dazzling display of footwork and stickhandling. Finally on a pass from Dugan he wizzed a quick one past Hartley. Catching the Peterborough team off guard the Weston team ripped in goals by James and Reddy.

Erratic passing, checking and loose balls allowed the Weston Lions to score nine times in the second quarter to two sole counters for Peterborough by Teatero and Thorpe. Jefferies and T. Downer clicked for five of Weston's goals. Jack Foote was hit in the face by the ball at the start of the period and had to leave momentarily.

Hold In Third Quarter

Petes settled down in the third quarter to hold the Lions to five goals while they were tallying five also. Little Jimmy McNulty ran in two of the five on passing plays with D. Vitarelli and Dugan. Howse blasted a hard shot from the Lions' white line near centre which caught the left hand corner of the net for a feature goal. Fans said the shot was like a white line being drawn to the net; Hartley never saw it.

In the fourth quarter play was fairly even though rough. Hill received a crack on the head in the third quarter and the Lions seemed to be out for revenge. Hartley came to the Lions' rescue several times to keep the Petes scoring down. Four times players received the wood over the head with no penalties. McNulty came through with three goals to keep the Petes up with the Lions.

Refereeing by Cheevers of Hamilton and Fitzgerald of St. Catharines was booed by the fans for penalties given to both teams. In the third quarter Horton tried to pick up a bouncing ball near the net. The ball rolled into the crease. The whistle was blown for a face-off at the side circle. Speck threw the ball to the other end. Frick replaced speck in the goal. Speck getting a penalty. Seconds later Chute received a misconduct for abusive language to the referee.

Jimmy McNulty led the Petes with five goals and an assist. Thorpe, Howse and Teatero picked up two each. Ted Downer had six goals as well as a couple of assists while Hill and W. Chard each contributed three apiece.

Lineups:

Petes. Goal, Speck; defence, J. Creighton, Chute; wings, Foote, Teatero; centre, E. Creighton; rover, L. Vitarelli; alternates, Horton, D. Vitarelli, Thorpe, McNulty, Howse, Dugan, Frick.

Ex-Peterborough Man To Coach Pla-Mors

KANSAS CITY, July 26 (AP)—Hank Blade, centre for Kansas City Pla-Mors of the United States Hockey League for the last four seasons, Monday was named player-coach of the team.

Owner Bill Tobin announced that Blade would succeed Reg Hamilton, who was promoted to the front office. Hamilton will work with the Pla-Mors during the training season this fall, then report to the parent club, Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League.

The big round was the difference, the New York club winning, 7-4.

Stranahan Gives Golf Tourney Glamor Touch

RIVERSIDE GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB, SAINT JOHN, N. B., July 26 (CP)—The Canadian Amateur Golf Championship took on a glamorous air today with the regal arrival of defending champion Frank Stranahan although first-round survivors failed to be duly impressed.

There was a capable representation from every province ready to take on the Toledo strong man, who personally requested gymnasium facilities prior to his arrival by private plane.

Stranahan had a first round bye Monday, along with his valet-golf protege, Ollie Kay, and also Jim Mulcahey of Boston. His second-round opponent today was a far less known golfer, Bob Davison, of Amherst, N. S., who has been invited to the public altar for sacrifice.

From Monday's 18 hole match play a fairly representative collection of Canadian golfers, any of whom conceivably could bring back the title to Canada lost for two years because of Stranahan alone.

Down to 64

The actual competing field on Monday of 129, with a scattering of Americans, opposition to Stranahan, was reduced to 64. The Canadians survivors were headed by Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver, former junior champion, who all but made a wreck of Riverside's par 70 course in overcoming John Jabanoski of the home club 5 and 3.

If Bill could have carded a medal score he would have set a course record with his 66. He holed out at every green and had of 33 each way.

The west coast amateur wasn't alone as a Canadian hopeful. Phil Farley, Toronto Scarboro's veteran, won 6 and 5 over S. E. T. Caughey of St. Andrews, N.B., and met Lorne Smith, of Dartmouth, N.S., in the second round.

Jerry Kesselring, of Kitchener, Ont., former Canadian junior champion and now Ontario Amateur titleholder, came through with an easy 5 and 4 triumph over Art Franks, of Montreal Lasalle. Kesselring's opponent today was H. Brynjolfson, of Saint John.

HE'S TRYING AGAIN—Big Mort Cooper, one-time ace of the St. Louis Cardinal's pitching staff and three times National League All-Star, is trying to make a comeback with the Moose Jaw Canucks in the Southern Saskatchewan Baseball League. But he finds the going tough. In his first dozen games, the sore-armed hurler's slants have been pounded all over the lot by the prairie batters.

Hasn't Won Tilt But Cooper Packs 'Em In

MOOSE JAW, Sask., July 26 (CP)—Mort Cooper, who once bore a $100,000 price tag when he was a National Baseball League pitching ace, may not have much whip left in his arm but he knows how to cash in on his personality.

The husky, Independence, Mo., player, a three-time National League all-star while with St. Louis Cardinals, now is pitching for Moose Jay Canucks of the Southern Saskatchewan Senior League. He hasn't won a game.

The big 34-year-old right-hander still entertains hopes of a comeback but to fans around this prairie circuit—next step down from the Bush leagues—it looks as if Mort will have a tough job. Since his arrival last month opposition batters have greeted the sore-armed hurler like a long-lost cousin.

Cooper has appered in about a dozen games and his longest stint was a six-inning effort. Prairie batters have shown no respect for the slants of the hurler who was the National League's most valuable player in 1942 and the mainstay of the Cards' pitching staff.

But fans by the thousands have flocked to parks around the circuit, lured by the magic of the Cooper name. Club owners agree that 1949 shrould be one of the most successful seasons financially the league has had and much of the revived interest can be traced to Cooper.

That is one reason why the Moose Jaw club can afford to pay him a reported $125 a game, an astronomical salary in this league but no great shakes when stacked up against the $15,000 yearly Cooper was drawing a few years back.

Schedule Lapses This Week City Softball

No games will be played in the City Softball League this week, Bert Bailey informed The Examiner Monday. The schedule ended rather abruptly last Thursday night with the Uniteds on top, closely followed by the Cosmos and the Knights; Outlaws and the Jewellers dropping out. Next week the playoffs may begin, the exact date of commencement to be decided at a meeting of the officials of the league this week. Mr. Bailey said there is still plenty of time for the Peterborough loop to decide a winner.

In Zone 4 of the Senior B grouping of the OASA, the Peterborough winner will meet Kingston at the Bowl August 27. If a deciding game is necessary it will be played August 30 on the grounds to be neutral or decided between the teams. Winner of that grouping will meet Oshawa at the victor's grounds.

Oshawa will travel to Kingston August 27 to open the Intermediate A playdowns in this area. On August 30 thy will meet in Oshawa, the deciding game, if necessary ,to be played September 3. Petes will meet the winner of the semi-final round on September 6 on the winner's field.

Peterborough Junior A softballers will tangle with the Oshawa boys in Peterborough August 25, the return game in Oshawa Aug. 29. The deciding game if necessary September 1.

Indians Whip Yanks 4-2 As Cards, Dodgers Tied

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

After three months of play, the National League pennant race is just beginning. The same old bitter rivals—Brooklyn's Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals—are in there battling for the flag. And that's been the story in six of the last eight years.

At the moment, the edge lies with the Cards. Back home from a successful 12-game eastern jaunt the Redbirds find themselves in first place today, a half game in front of the slumping Dodgers. As far as the flag is concerned, the other six clubs in the league can start rebuilding for next year.

The American League race is showing signs of becoming a humdinger, too. It appeared practically over last week when the pace-setting New York Yankees knocked off their most persistent challengers—Cleveland Indians — two out of three to increase their margin to 5½ games.

But things have changed since then. The tribe went on to win its next five games including the big one Monday night when the Indians whipped the Yankees, 4-2, before 71,354 at the Yankee Stadium. That cut the Bronx Bombers' lead to only three games, with the two teams facing each other again Wednesday and Thursday.

One-Two Punch

The Indians delivered a one-two punch Monday night. Not only did they defeat the Yankees, but they turned the tables on Vic Raschi, who had whipped them four straight times this year. The Yankee ace was tagged for 11 hits and went down to his fourth defeat. He has won 15.

Righthander Early Wynn registered his eighth victory against two setbacks, but needed help from Satchel Paige in the eighth.

In the only National League game, the Dodgers had to settle for a nine-inning tie as the Cards overcame a 3-1 deficit in the sixth. The game was called by agreement at the end of the ninth to permit both clubs to make train connections.

Stan Musial's triple, the first of three hits against his Brooklyn "cousins," scored Lou Klein to give the Cards a run in the frist, but the Brooks came back with two in the third and another in the fourth for a 3-1 lead.

With two away in the sixth, Musial doubled, Enos Slaughter walked, and Ron Northey scored them both with a two-base hit. Rocky Nelson's two - bagger brought in Northey to put the Cards ahead, 4-3. The Dodgers tied the score at 4-4 in the c half of the sixth on pinch-hitter Gene Hermanski's home run.

Norm Thompson KO's Oshawa's Bud Pipher

HAMILTON, July 26 (CP) — Hard-hitting Norm Thompson of Toronto Monday night knocked out Oshawa's Bud Pipher at 1:18 of the second round in the main event of an eight-bout amateur boxing card here.

Pipher was no match for Thompson and was dropped to the canvas by a hard right uppercut after going down for a nine-count. Both weighed 135 pounds.

In the semi-final, Danny Saunders of Hamilton, scored a technical knockout over Glen Dafoe of Oshawa at 1:05 of the fifth round.

However, Leo Squires gained a victory for Oshawa when he won by a technical knockout over Reg Lovelack of Hamilton.

Other results:

118 pounds—Dave Thurnbill, St. Marys, won a split decision over Don Miller, Brantford.

115 pounds — Don Grinton, Brantford, won a five round decision over John Tuck, Hamilton.

130 pounds—Bill Merritt, Hamilton, won a three round decision over Vic Deplank, Brantford.

115 pounds—Pat Kelly, Brantford, won a three round decision over Danny Williams, Oshawa.

Matlock Gets Trophy

LONDON, Ont., July 26 (CP)—Controversy over the winner of the Western Ontario public links tourney here Saturday appeared to have been settled today with the announcement that Herb Crabb, owner of Sarnia's Lakeview golf course, is willing to relinquish his trophy on the grounds that he is officially a pro. So it looks as if Tom Matlock, of Kitchener, will be handed the silverware. He won a playoff for second place with Jim Currie, of London Highland, and Johnny Kovals, of Sarnia.

Jackie Dugan To Battle Zaduk

Two years have passed since Pete Zaduk defeated Peterborough's Jackie Dugan, former Canadian amateur middleweight king, in Massey Hall, Toronto. Zaduk will be remembered well by Peterborough boxing enthusiasts as one of the best boxers to appear in the local pugilists' nights of two and three years ago at the Brock Street Arena.

To-night in the Oakwood Stadium Dugan will have his chance for revenge. For they have been matched for the main 10-round bout which will decide who is the challenger for "Rock-a-Bye Ross," Canadian middleweight championship. The winner of the Zaduk-Dugan fight will meet Champion Ross.

Last week Sammy Keller, manager of Pete Zaduk, demanded that Pete Calderone post a $500 weight forfeit to assure that Dugan will enter the ring at 160 pounds. Calderone agreed to do this, assuring Keller that Dugan would not have any weight problem.

For the past couple of years, Dugan has been fighting in the United States, having turned professional. There he has won his last 25 fights. Zaduk is due for a win, having lost his last three fights.

In the six-round semi-final Vic Eisen, a Buffalo featherweight, will trade punches with Oliver Bretton of Toronto. Eisen has made a big hit with the Toronto boxing fans in defeating the Canadian bantam champion, Gene Richard, and Teddy Swain. Bretton pulled an upset five weeks ago in Buffalo when he walloped Spider Thompson, former US national featherweight champion. It was one of the few fights that Thompson has lost either in amateur or professional.

Three other six-round bouts are on the card.

Yesterday's Games:
Montreal 5, Syracuse 6
Toronto 6, Jersey City 12
Rochester 11, Newark 5
Buffalo 3-2, Baltimore 10-3

Tomorrow's Games:
Montreal at Syracuse; Toronto at Jersey City; Rochester at Newark; Buffalo at Baltimore. All night games.

RUGGED LOGGERS—Guiding a noisy, bucking eight h.p. saw through a three-foot fir log, Margaret Lowery, 28, left, and Eileen Lowe, 24, cut stove lengths for the local market. Their earlier venture of snaking the logs out of the bush on Vancouver Island, loading and hauling them to a mill on their own three-ton truck, went sour when the price of logs dropped. They turned to the firewood business and now are making good. Daughters of loggers, both girls were transport drivers in the CWAC during the war. Eileen is an expert mechanic, while Margaret is a former upholsterer.

Dentists Seeking Green Pastures

LONDON, July 26 (CP. — Many of Britain's school dentists are leaving to take up more lucrative private practice under the National Health Service.

So great has the drain become that it is hurting the School Dental Service which in this country is still in its infancy. Thousands of school children are said to be going without adequate dental care.

J. N. Merae, president of the British Dental Association, says that in many areas facilities for treatment of priority cases are so inadequate that a large number of children are leaving school with grossly septic mouths and carious teeth.

Newspapers have placed as high as 2,000,000 the number of youngsters lacking dental treatment. School authorities are unable to offer dentists salaries to compete with what they can earn in private practice under the National Health Service.

No Comparison

Some school districts pay more than £1,000 ($4,000) a year for an assistant dental officer. But this does not begin to compare with the average of £3,328 ($13,321) earned by dentists enrolled in the National Health Service.

Many private practitioners earn much more. One dentist in Lanarkshire recently was disclosed to have been paid more than £25,000 ($100,000) in 11 months. Another in Renfrewshire received between £1,300 and £1,400 a month. At least two others working single-handed got more than £800 a month.

Altogether Britain's 9,000 National Health Service dentists cost the country £30,904,000 a year.

So bad is the condition of the average Briton's teeth that dentists have long waiting lists now the service is free. In some areas dentists decline to accept new patients unless they are paid.

"We have enough cases to keep us busy for two years, and everyone will have to take their place in the queues," said one Cardiff dentists.

Report 500 Workers Laid Off At Plant

TORONTO, July 26 (CP—The United Auto Workers Union (C.I.O.) claimed Monday that nearly 500 workers have been laid off in the Toronto Massey-Harris farm implement factories in the last month and that more are being laid off every day.

Steve Anco, president of Local 439, led a union delegation which interviewed Toronto Members of Parliament, including David Croll, Liberal; P. Hellleur, Liberal, and Joseph Noseworthy, C.C.F.

Mr. Croll told the unionists that the Federal Government is responsible for full employment and he promised to investigate the trade position of the country with Federal authorities with a view to providing employment for the laid-off workers.

Court Allows Duties' Appeal

OTTAWA, July 26—(CP)—The Exchequer Court Monday allowed an appeal by a brockville man against succession duties assessed by the Revenue Department.

The judgment ordered return of $26,070.74 in succession duties paid by Edwin Comstock Cossitt, beneficiary of a will left by his mother when she died in 1944.

The will gave Mr. Cossitt the right to the income from the capital and also gave him power to use the capital.

The Federal government contended that the power to use the capital put the money in the category of an outright gift and taxed it to the full extent of the Succession Duties Act.

However, Mr. Cossitt legally disclaimed the part of the will giving him power over the capital. He appealed against the assessment, claiming he now had no control over the capital. The court agreed and ordered the Revenue Department to adjust the assessment on that basis.

The difference in estimates between Mr. Cossitt having only the income from the estate and having control of the capital was $26,070.74.

World Council Of Churches Whitby Meeting

Dr. Robert Mackie, formerly of Toronto, and now a secretary of the World Council of Churches, will be chairman of the General Committee, World's Student Christian Federation which meets in Whitby early in August. It is expected that 100 student leaders from 30 different countries will attend.

It will be the first time that the Federation's General Committee has met in Canada.

Five commissions will meet simultaneously during the General Committee sessions. Subjects on the agenda include the SCM and the Church; the SCM and the University; the SCM and the World Struggle; the SCM and the Student Milieu; and the SCM and the Growing Church.

A successor will have to be chosen to Dr. Mackie, who recently resigned as secretary of the WSCF.

Hasty P's Reunion To Be Held In City

Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment will hold its 1949 reunion in Peterborough October 8 and 9. Lt.-Col. A. A. Kennedy, of Owen Sound, President of the regimental association of the famed First Divisional wartime battalion, made the announcement today following a week-end meeting of the association's executive.

Main purpose of the meeting was to discuss the regiment's Scholarship Fund and consider new applicants. This fund, whose establishment and development is unusual in Canadian regimental annals, is for the promotion of higher education for children of comrades who were killed in action. At present there are 21 girls and boys eligible. The Hastings and Prince Edward wartime regimental funds have been turned into this fund, so that reunions like that to be held in Peterborough are a support to the Scholarship fund rather than a drain on regimental funds.

EDMONTON, July 26 (CP) — Wilfred Nowell, 45-year-old contract painter, was charged with murder of his former employer after a shooting affray Monday. Police said the two men had quarreled about money deducted from Nowell's cheque after Law fired him a few hours before.

Stormy Strike Ends Union Has No Contract

NIAGARA FALLS, July 26 (AP)—One of the stormiest strikes in this city's labor history ended Monday when members of the United Chemical Workers (C.I.O.) returned without a contract to the three plants of the National Carbon Company.

They returned after 17 days of idleness, but they were not put to work.

Twenty-eight were fired, the company said, for being involved in strike violence. Some of the others will be called back to work when production schedules can be re-established. The rest will be laid off due to a drop in company business, but will receive lay-off allowances.

The three plants have operated with employees who went back to work at the company's call June 20. There were "several hundred" of these, the company spokesman declared. Local 85 of the Chemical Workers called many of them "strike breakers."

MARMORA, July 26—(ENS)—Bears have been seeking their annual feast of wild fruit lately and going further than that. At 2 a.m. one day toward the end of last week, Miss Cowan, teacher at Massey, west of Sudbury, and formerly teacher at Flinto, heard a disturbance outside her residence in Belmont Township where she spends her summer vacation. On looking through a window she saw a bear outside standing erect on his hind legs. Soon he ambled away and Miss Cowan hopes she has seen the last of him.

Gophers Have Plague

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 26 (CP)—Gophers infected with bubonic plague have been found in the Lomond district, 50 miles north of this southern Alberta city, it was learned Monday. J. H. Brown, entomologist for the provincial department of health, said in an interview that laboratory tests of gophers found in that area revealed the menace. Historically Famous HURONIA

Three hundred years ago, an important outpost of Christian culture in the new world was wiped out when the savage Iroquois massacred the French Missionaries of Fort St. Marie. Today Huronia, as this part of Ontario is called, is visited by more people every year, both for its historic interest and because the 30,000 Islands on the east shore of Georgian Bay are as lovely a summer playground as any in the world. Whatever you look for in a vacation you will find there, with historical sites and interest thrown in. The famous 30,000 Islands cruise by lake steamer is a pleasant and relaxing way of seeing them. It leaves from Midland, whose Chamber of Commerce can give you full information on the whole area. You can drive to Midland in a day from Windsor or the Quebec border (Highways 2, 11 and 12), and in correspondingly less time from other points. There is good rail service from Toronto.

In Ontario we have a holiday paradise . . . let's do all we can to encourage visitors from across the border. Published in support of the tourist business by John Labatt Limited.

At 8.30 p.m. Wednesday Peterborough radio listeners will hear their first FM broadcast from station CHEX. From then on all CHEX programs will be broadcast simultaneously over the regular AM channel as well as the new FM channel.

Frequency Modulation, or FM, has several advantages over normal reception. To the average radio fan the chief gain will be a greater fidelity in the reception of the human voice and a musical instrument. Both will sound more real than formerly, almost as though the listener were present in the studio or concert hall or wherever the broadcast is from.

Improved Sound

It permits a staticless and noise-free reception and that in itself is a boon to radio owners. Emphasis is laid on the fact it is not a new type of radio service but a superior method of receiving present radio entertainment—an improved technical method of providing the same sound transmissions or program service.

FM has been used by leading radio stations in Canada and the United States for several years, and the technical staff of CHEX under the direction of Bert Crump has worked hard to keep the radio station in step with the latest advances in the industry.

In line with this policy, FM broadcasting has been introduced at CHEX.

Another advantage claimed for FM is that it will give each station greater clearance. It will tend to eliminate one station crowding in and superimposing itself when the originally listened-to station begins to fade. This is made possible by utilizing the higher frequencies thus allowing more room on the dial per station, despite the fact there is an increasing number of broadcasting stations on the continent.

Amplitude vs. Frequency

For those who have a knowledge of technical jargon, here is one explanation: In amplitude modulation, (AM), the carrier wave is modulated by changing its power in accordance with the sound wave, its frequency remaining constant. In frequency modulation (FM) the power remains constant and the frequency is varied in accordance with the sound wave characteristics.

An FM receiver is so designed that it responds only to changes in frequency. Amplitude changes can only come through an FM receiver if the desired signal being received is so weak as to be practically useless. Under this condition an FM receiver will be noisy.

There is very little natural static in these high frequency allocations, and what little exists has, like man-made static, the characteristics of an amplitude modulated wave. Thus a properly designed FM receiver, when turned to an FM signal, does not respond to these interfering noises that affect amplitude receivers, and pracically noiseless reception is possible.

A separate receiver is necessary to take advantage of an FM wave.

How Did It Sink?

Bruce Morgan, 112 Hazlitt St. has complained to city police that his outboard motor boat has been sunk in the river on the east side of Hunter St. bridge and damage has been done to the deck. A group of young boys found by Constable George Shaw around the boat were questioned Monday but denied responsibility.

GOOD PENNY TURNS UP

Walter Saunders, three miles west of the city in Smith Township, found a coin in his farm laneway about two weeks ago. Forced to the surface by frosts, his cattle had trodden on it all summer. He looked further and found two more coppers dated 1897 an 1902. The first one made him curious enough to bring it to the Public Library to be identified. It was a bank token valued at one penny (two cents) struck in 1837. The obverse side shows the figure of an habitant and the reverse carries the coat of arms of the city of Montreal; it was issued for distribution in Lower Canada in the year of the rebellions. Mr. Saunders found quite a lot of information about it in a coin collector's book at the Library which said, in part, that its present value was abut $7.50.—N.N.

'Arsenic' Makes Best Hit Of All Plays

By ROBERTSON DAVIES

The most enthusiastic reception that has yet been given to any of the productions of the Peterborough Summer Theatre was accorded to "Arsenic and Old Lace" on Monday night. The audience, which had laughed uproariously all through the play, showed their pleasure unmistakeably at the final curtain.

The play is an excellent piece of summer entertainment. It makes no demand on the intellect or the attentiveness of the audience; its effects are broad and it provides a violent surprise at least once every five minutes. It appeals at least as much to the eye as to the ear. It was presented by the Summer Theatre Company with a great deal of skill and dispatch, and will do much to solidify the popularity of this already popular organization.

The play is about a Brooklyn family named Brewster, in which charm and powerful personality are allied with an unfortunate talent for homicide. The least alarming member of the family thinks that he is President Theodore Roosevelt; the most alarming, Jonathan, is a murderer of uncommon talents. It would not be fair to those who have not seen the play to say too much about the plot. We comment only that farce and murder have rarely been so happily wedded.

Catherine Proctor Stars

The cast is a large one. The undoubted star of the performance is that admirable Canadian actress Miss Catherine Proctor, who has had a long and distinguished career in the U.S.A.; she plays the role of Abbey Brewster with a sureness of technique and a personal charm which make her a delight to watch and listen to. She is ably seconded by Margot Christie, who presents a pleasing contrast to Miss Proctor in figure, and plays with great skill. The macabre nephew Jonathan is played by Jerry Sarraccini; a little more suggestion of authority and menace would improve his otherwise excellent characterization. His stooge, Dr. Einstein, is acted with taste and fine comic feeling by Frank Perry. A special word must be said about Bill Needles, who plays the Roosevelt-obsessed nephew Teddy brilliantly; we should like to see Mr. Needles more often.

The romantic element in the story is supplied by Michael Lynd and Miss Jeri Sauvinet, and they are both charming, although they are somewhat trampled in the stampedes of the comedians.

Character Bits

Excellent character bits are given by John Primm, Paul Horton and David Blaisdall. The policemen in the play are acted by Michael Sadlier, Graham Ferguson and Paul Taschereau; we are accustomed to seeing these gentlemen in the foyer, and it is a pleasure to observe them on the stage; like policemen everywhere, they are best described as "a fine body of men."

"Arsenic and Old Lace" is well worth a visit. It will make you laugh while chilling your blood, and what more can you ask for in warm weather?

REPAIRING CONTRACTING. JOBBING

Cyclist Struck

LINDSAY, July 26—(CP)—Struck by a car driven by Mrs. Helen Bradley of Ottawa, George Griffith, 56-year-old cyclist of Lindsay is in the hospital here, with a compound fracture of the right leg. Police said Griffith rode his bicycle in front of the Bradley car just at the town's boundary. He was tossed to the ditch and given first aid by Lindsay's veterinarian Dr. R. E. Lawrence, an eyewitness.

RCMP Called On To Throttle Rampaging Craft

Resort operators and cottage owners on Chemong and Buckhorn Lakes are up in arms over the actions of owners of two high-powered outboard motorboats which during the past few days have been speeding over these waters with throttles wide open. One elderly couple were nearly drowned last week in the backwash created by one of the boats, the Examiner has learned.

Following receipt of three complaints from resort operators, the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce asked the RCMP at Cobourg to look into the matter. The Provincial Police have no jurisdiction on inland navigable waters. So far no arrests have been made.

The activities of the boat owners have proved very annoying to fishermen, in several cases making it necessary for them to stop fishing altogether. Fear is also expressed that the fish may have been scared away as well.

The noise created by the boats' motors has been fraying the nerves of tourists and cottagers in search of rest and quiet and the irresponsible activities of the boat owners also constitutes a danger to the safety of other pleasure craft operators.

River Dredging For Mains Goes Smoothly

Superintendent W. Griffin of McNamara Construction Company, stood on the Burnham Point bank of the Otonabee river today to supervise the digging of an underwater ditch across the river channel to Point St. Charles. It was easy going for the big clamshell that swung a yard of slimy silt into the converted landing barge every couple of minutes. He said if the river bottom continues in black muck all the way, the job would not take too long. If hard pan was encountered later, they would be forced to blast before digging.

The trench will carry two 12-inch water mains across to Ashburnham to improve water service in that area, especially to the Western Clock Company and St. Joseph's Hospital both on high ground. The cost of the project is being shared by the city and the Public Utilities Commission.

Dumped In Bay

The silt is being dumped into the Crescent St. bay of Little Lake from the landing barge that takes the loads to the dumping grounds under its own power.

Mr. Griffin, who originally comes from Pefferlaw, probably feels this job will be pleasant compared to some of the work he was on while building airfields in Newfoundland and Labrador for his company. He told of bad weather, progressive American aid tactics and was on a freighter at the Atlantic mouth of Hamilton Inlet when it was sunk by Nazi subs. Before going to work on the eastern seaboard, he built the army barracks at the Exhibition Park and does not feel that he is exactly a stranger in the city.

Used Car Sales Still Large, More Financing

A midsummer slump that usually characterizes the market in used cars has failed to materialize to any extent this year in Peterborough. Dealers report that the expected drop in sales due to buyers being away on holidays has not been noticeable so far.

Demand for late model cars is still as great as ever, with new "used" models selling for from $200 to $500 over list price. One dealer said that there is still a shortage of later cars that are in good to excellent condition. Business for this man, who averages a turnover of 50 cars in a month, is greater than last year, and still rolling along merrily.

One indication that money is not as free as it once was is the fact that more cars are being financed this year than last. This is particularly applicable to older models, the field in which the working man seems to be most interested.

Peak Months

The peak months of May and June justified themselves in the eyes of most dealers, and they are still looking forward to another good month, September.

Men in the business stress that although the price of some models has gone down since early Spring, the drop has been no more than $50. A few cars that were on the market for $1,095 in the Spring are now priced at $1,050. A decrease in the Fall is expected.

The catch to the decrease is this: Many dealers operate on the "difference" basis. That is, they rate your car against theirs and then quote you a difference in price you will have to pay.

No Real Decrease

If you're like a lot of customers these days, you'll say, "Heck, I'll wait until Fall when the prices go down." But the point is, that if the price on the dealer's car goes down, so does the price on yours. Hence the difference is still the same.

Customers that give the dealers the shakes are the ones who paid a high price for a car in 1942 or 1943, when the market was almost dry. These people invariably expect to get as much out of the car now as they put in six or seven years ago. One dealer said, "We just don't bite."

Another dealer whose turnover is from 20 to 30 cars per month is also finding it hard to locate good used cars. His prices on the older models are lower, but the newer cars are fairly steady in price. He has also noticed that more financing is being done this year.

Repossessed Cars

A dealers who also has a bailiff's license, entitling him to make repossessions, has found that that chore has increased to seven and eight times in one week. Often the owner is reluctant to let the vehicle go, when he already has so much money invested in it, and arranges for refinancing.

To sum up, the car market is still steady. The market for pick-up trucks is very good, with panels and light deliveries running a close second. Heavy trucks are almost impossible to get rid of, due to the numbers of new ones on the market.

Dealers on the whole feel that the prices of the used cars will come down when increased production and a sated market force price reductions in factory-new cars. Until that time, they expect to see prices in the used car field stay on the same level.

Poisonous Bewdley?

While commiserating with the lady who caught poison ivy along the shore of Rice Lake in Bewdley recently, local officials say she exaggerated the situation. "The grassy banks along the one side of the street which look so cool and inviting to rest upon, are simply congested with the terrible and vicious weed," she wrote in a letter to the Examiner. Definitely not so, is the opinion of James K. Fraser manager of the Chamber of Commerce, who conducted an investigation of the region together with Art Metcalfe, proprietor of "Pine Ridge."

It was only a stray plant that the visitor ran afoul of, something that could happen anywhere, they hasten to assure the public.

But the lady is still scratching.

Favor Engaging Landscaper For Hospital

Engagement of Gordon Culham of Caledon East for the landscaping of the grounds of Civic Hospital was recommended to the Council by its finance committee Monday night. His fee for services and expenses over a twelve month period is $2,000, the actual work to be done by the city's park department according to Mr. Culham's plans.

His letter to the Council outlined the probable scope of his direction. It includes the immediate problem of disposal of all excavated material to the best advantage, and the conserving of the remaining top soil for the general scheme of grading.

To Conserve Top Soil

Other details are: "The preparation of an accurate grading plan for the area immediately adjacent to the buildings, showing finished surfaces, drainage, profiles, construction details and specifications; determining the design of the arrival court and public parking; development of the planting plan; attendance on your committee; and consulting with your architects, city engineer and parks superintendent.

"With the exception of the planting plan which I would prepare in collaboration with Mr. Butcher, the other plans should be prepared in Peterborough, and I would spend the necessary time consulting with whoever prepares them, giving such supervision as would be necessary.

"This would involve upwards of 20 trips. I would assume travel and hotel costs and render the services outlined above for $2,000."

Mr. Culham was second on the list of highly recommended landscape artists. He is a member of the Society of Landscape Architects of America. First on the list of experienced and qualified men for designing of the hospital grounds was an Ottawa man who visited Peterborough some weeks ago and bluntly announced that he was not interested. He also paid his own expense of coming here.

Should Not Be Delayed

Finance committee with Ald. Hugh Waddell chairman agreed that grounds work should not be delayed. The motion of recommendation was proposed by Ald. Dick Raine and Ald. Grant Miller.

One of comments from landscapist sources was to the effect that it would have been an advantage in some particulars if this phase of the hospital work had been undertaken even from the very beginning of the project. This appeared to be a reference to the disposal of the soil excavated for the several buildings.

Nicholls Trust Offers Site For Centre By Jackson Park, Council Tables The Offer

"That would put the Memorial Centre out in the woods," said Ald. Hurrell Dodds in a finance committee discussion Monday night of the latest suggested site near the corner of Monaghan Road and Park Hill Road, opposite Jackson Park. It was inspired by a letter from R. M. Glover, secretary of the Nicholls Park Trust, quoting a resolution by C. G. Graham and James Hamilton to the effect that the Trust was willing to transfer, on the request of the city, property owned by the Trust, on the south side of Park Hill Road, east of Monaghan Road for the Memorial Centre. For additional ground space Mr. Walter Blackwell obtained options on three lots amounting to $1100.

Dominion Woollens and Worsteds quoted $16,000 for a large block of their property extending from McDonnell St. through to Bonaccord St.

Finance committee forwarded the letter from Nicholls Park Trust to the Memorial Centre committee enquiring whether the Park Hill Road site appealed to them as satisfactory. It was moved by Ald. Herbert Young.

Once Winter Resort

Ald. Dodds recalled that the Jackson Park corner was a popular winter resort years ago when the Peterborough Radial Railway Company operated a toboggan slide down the long declivity from the corner to the present site of the Dominion Worsteds mill.

"I am definitely set on the George St. property as the proper place for the Centre," said Ald. Dodds. "And I'm not changing my mind."

"Would you still be of that opinion if it was proved that the George St. location would cost $75,0000 more than it should?" Ald. J. A. Gillespie asked.

"That would be a different problem," Ald. Dodds said.

Ald. Gillespie: "You mean that you are not convinced it would not cost that much for the footings."

Ald. Dodds: "Very definitely not."

Footing Problem

Ald. A. B. Burrows enquired where the "mythical $75,000 figure" came from, and City Engineer Chalmers replied that it was from contractors who made soundings of the subsoil.

"At that time, firms didn't want the job, even if we could have built the Centre at Exhibition Park," Ald. Dodds said. "I was at a meeting where it was reported to us that an estimate of the additional cost for the footing a George St. site was $34,000. That amount does not mean anything for a building of that size and purpose in a city with the future of Peterborough."

Ald. Dodds said the committee should not forget the Memorial feature of the proposed Centre. For that reason the property owned by the city opposite the George St. wharf was a central, desirable location. "You're surely not going to take the Centre out into the woods."

Would Put It To People

Ald. Gillespie: "What do you want the council to do? Tell the Centre committee there's the site down George St.

Ald. Dodds: "That's what we did."

Ald. Raine: "And the Memorial Centre committee turned it down. That's all I'm going by."

Ald. Dodds said business had moved down George St. farther than people had imagined a few years ago. "I'd be satisfied to let it go to the people."

"Well, we're at an impasse," said Ald. Gillespie. Ald. Young suggested that the council should receive the letter from the Nicholls Park Trust and send it on to the Memorial Centre committee for their consideration.

2 Baby Cousins Badly Scalded As Pots Upset

Two baby cousins were badly burned by scalding water when they accidentally pulled two pots of boiling vegetables on top of them while they played in the kitchen of their home Monday night about 6:30.

The two children are cousins. The youngest, 19 month old Bruce Oakley, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Oakley, 759 New Romaine St. His older cousin is Maureen Oakley, 21 month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Oakley who live in the same house.

Hospital officials said this morning the children's condition was "satisfactory." Mrs. Bruce Oakley, who had waited at the hospital until 3 a.m. told how the accident is believed to have happened.

All the adults were out of the kitchen where the children were playing. Potatoes and carrots were boiling on a small stove whose electric cord was strung across to an outlet plug. Normally the children raise the cord over their heads and walk underneath.

Stove, Kettles Overturned

The Oakleys think the children were wrestling together and caught the cord, bringing the stove, kettles and boiling water down on top of them.

Bruce was burned from the neck down. Young Maureen was scalded on the back and legs and one arm. They were both suffering shock when rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital by their fathers who had just come in from work. They have both recovered from the shock, officials said, and the treatment for the burns is continuing.

PRACTISE AT EXHIBITION

On these warm days city firemen are not just taking it easy when they are on shift. Two or three times a week a run is made to the Exhibition Grounds and they practise climbing and manipulating the aerial ladder as well as directing the stream of water where desired. When an important fire breaks out the extra skill acquired in these exercises is expected to save precious minutes and reduce the risk of life and property.

QUESTION: I would deem it a great favor if you would send me any recipes you may have for using black walnuts—especially do I want one for pickling them.

I find your recipes and hints very helpful and trust this request will not be too much trouble.—M. B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:

Pickled Walnuts

Prick the washed walnuts very well with a very large darning needle; put them in an earthenware or enamel pan, cover with brine previously made by boiling the required amount of brine to cover them in proportions of 4 oz. salt to each quart water. This brine should be cold when poured over the walnuts. Stir the walnuts 2 or 3 times per day for 6 days, then drain them and cover with fresh brine. Let stand for 3 days, and drain. Spread them on large platters and place in the sun until quite black. Have ready some wide-necked bottles or earthen crocks, and three-quarters fill these with the walnuts. Boil enough vinegar to cover them with 1 oz. peppercorns, 1 oz. allspice, 1 teaspoon salt for each quart vinegar used, for 15 minutes. When cold pour this mixture over the walnuts, leaving the whole spices in it. Cover and store in cold place and these will keep for months.

Walnut Ketchup

Bruise 100 young and tender washed green walnuts, and put them into a crock with 2 quarts good vinegar and 3 ounces salt, and let them stand 8 days, stirring them daily. Drain the liquid from them into a large saucepan and add to it 4 oz. mashed anchovies, 12 finely chopped shallots, 1 grated horseradish root, ½ teaspoon each mace, nutmeg, ground ginger, ground cloves and pepper, ½ pint port; simmer these very gently 40 minutes; chill; strain into small bottles, cork, cover with melted wax and seal.

Widower Wants to Remarry Breaks Sepulchral Promise

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I was a man of 45 when my wife died, leaving me with four small children. We had promised each other we would never bring a stepmother or a stepfather to rule over our little ones. I have kept that promise, but now my children are all grown and married, with homes of their own. I am alone and beginning to feel the need of a congenial companion to care for me in my declining years, but when I think of marrying, I feel bound by the sacred pledge I gave my wife so many years ago. What do you think about this problem?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I think, in the first place, that no husband or wife has the right to extract from the other a promise not to marry if the other one should die, and, when such promises are given, they are better broken than kept.

It is only the selfish, fleshly jealousy that makes men and women feel that they cannot endure to think of another filling their places in the hearts and homes of those they love, but all of this carnal weakness we slough off in the grave. Whether those who have passed through the doors of death know what is going on in the world or not, we do not know.

Certainly purgatory could have no worse tortures than it would hold for a man who had tenderly protected his wife and saved her from every hardship, if he saw her poor and worn and shabby and torn with anxiety about where the next meal was to come from, and he knew that the promise he had wrung from her had kept her from marrying some good man who would have given her every comfort and luxury. Nor can you imagine it pleasing to any saint in glory to look down upon her feeble, neglected, lonely old husband and know that the pledge she had forced him to give her had kept him from having to comfort him and take care of him and rub his rheumatism.

In your case, you have kept the promise you made your wife. You have waited until your children were grown and settled and beyond the reach of anything a stepmother could do to hurt them, so now you are absolved from your pledge. Marry some woman of a suitable age and may your last days be your happiest.

✧ ✧ ✧

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband and I have been married four years. Our salary is less than $200 a month. On this we maintain our home and that of his mother, who is entirely dependent on us for support. Besides this, we help his sisters and occasionally my folks. My problem is I am simply crazy for a baby and my husband thinks I am unreasonable for wanting one under the circumstances, but as far as I can see we have the above responsibilities for good. I am not complaining of that, but I don't think I should be deprived of having the enjoyment of a child. I see the stork stopping at other people's doors.

MRS. X. Y. Z.

ANSWER: Well, it seems to me that any one who is miracle worker enough to support three people and help a bunch of relatives on less than $200 a month must have some sort of a conjure that would enable her even to afford twins. Certainly you must possess some magic that makes a dollar go ten times as far as other people's, or you would not dream of a baby, which, as you well know, is about as expensive a luxury as one can indulge oneself in.

Prudence would suggest that you possess your soul in patience until your husband is earning more money when having one more mouth to feed and one more back to clothe will not be such a burden to him. Also, it seems hardly fair to a child to thrust life upon it when you are not even sure of being able to give it anything except the hardest possible conditions of existence.

But, on the other hand, it is undoubtedly true that many children born in poverty, who had none of the so-called advantages of life, have blessed the world with their genius and brought honor and glory to their parents. So it is up to your conscience whether you make a nest in your house for the stork or shoo it away from your door for the time being.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: What value has an education for a girl? My parents think that when a girl is 16 she should leave school and go to work.

ONLY SIXTEEN

ANSWER: The value of an education to a girl is just what it is to a boy. It broadens her viewpoint, enriches her life and gives her a greater earning capacity. No matter whether a girl marries or not, the better educated she is, the better fitted she is to do her task in the world.

Tell your father and mother that the very first thing a prospective employer will ask you is whether you finished high school or not. Not only your chances of getting a job, but the pay you get will depend upon your answer. Many occupations are barred entirely to girls who have quit school at 16. Perhaps, when they realize that you can capitalize in education in dollars and cents, your parents will not deny you one.

For Fall, Milady Chooses What Her Hairdo Shall Be

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—(CP)—Two of Mayfair's fanciest hairdressers are at odds over whether milady's hair shall be worn long or short.

"Short," says Raymond emphatically.

"Long," is Steiner's edict. "At least two inches longer by the end of summer."

The battle is on. But women will decide the victor.

For the short of it, Raymond prescribes: "'No curls, no waves, no fluffiness, sleek forward movements, shorn necks."

His summer special is the old shingle with a difference; a monk's cowl brushed up from a circular crown at the back, Wellington burns on the cheeks.

Feminine Angle

To this Steiner retorts: "'The tonsorial art is in the waving and curling, not the cutting. Short hair is not feminine."

Steiner uses soft casual curls, opswept curls, asymmetrical styles, curls fluffed up on one side or marching boldly down the back, curls in a bang, curls on either side of a V parting—all showing early Victorian influence.

A teen-age style by Steiner gives a short appearance without actually cutting the hair very short. The side hair is set into loose curls which cover most of the ears, the back is smooth from the crown with soft curls at the bottom.

"The hairline is beautiful," says Steiner. "'Why hide it with fringes and forward movements? Sweep the hair back, clear the brow."

Mary Turner Is Married At Parents' Country Home

A lovely summer wedding took place Saturday at the home of Mr. and Trevor Turner, Mather's Corner, Otonabee, of their youngest daughter, Mary Irene Yvonne, to John Albert Ross McCarrell, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. McCarrell of Peterborough.

The Rev. George Murray of Keene United Church performed the ceremony and Mrs. Murray played the wedding march and a piano selection at the signing of the register. The setting was charming with summer flowers in shades of pink and white and streamers in the same colors forming an arch, centred with white bells.

The bride's dress was of white shantung with silk embroidered eyelet in a point design trimming the fitted bodice and skirt. Her headdress was a tiara with a heart-shaped centre, hand beaded with tiny seed pearls, and this held her shoulder veil of tulle illusion. She carried a nosegay of pink and white roses and pink sweet peas. Mr. Turner gave his daughter in marriage and she was attended by Miss Marie Wood, as maid of honor. The latter wore an identically styled dress of pink shantung and eyelet and a veil of pink illusion caught to her headpiece with pink velvet flowers, and her corsage was of pink rosebuds. Little flower girl Francis Turner, niece of the bride, was prettily dressed in yellow silk and she carried a muff of matching silk and a wreath of blue cornflowers and had cornflowers in her hair.

The groom's attendant was his brother, Mr. Kenneth McCarrell.

After the ceremony Mrs. Turner welcomed her guests, wearing a gown of black crepe with petit point embroidery and a large picture hat of black Sicol with taffeta trim, and tiny mauve flowers to match the embroidery on her dress. Her corsage was of Bettertime roses with maidenhair fern. The groom's mother, who also received was wearing a black crepe dress with flower embroidery and the yoke and hemline border were of sheer black lace. Her picture hat of black mohair was trimmed with white daisies and she wore a corsage of red roses.

The wedding cake was made by the bride's mother. Those who assisted in serving were Misses Marie Wood, Margaret Forbes, Barbara Hoey, Clarabelle McCarrell, Mrs. Chas. Kindred, Mrs. Frank Turner, Mrs. Armar Wood, Mrs. Jessie Lavall and Mrs. Jas. McFarlane.

For a trip to the United States the bride donned a suit of mulburry wine gabardine with covered button trim, a white straw hat trimmed with flowers and veiling and white accesories. On return the couple will live at 533 Sherbourne St.

Pieces Of Old Plywood Said Plane Wreckage

WATERTOWN, N.Y., July 26 (AP)—Three pieces of yellow-painted plywood found on the Lake Ontario shore at nearby Hayes Point were tentatively identified Monday night by Sheriff Brayton E. Peck as wreckage from a R.C.A.F. training plane that disappeared over northern New York January 9, 1942.

Peck said that pieces of plywood appeared to bear green numerals or letters. They were similar to wreckage washed ashore in the spring of 1942, which was identified as parts of the missing plane, the Sheriff added.

The plane disappeared with its four occupants, three members of the R.C.A.F. and a civilian, while on a training flight. The first bits of wreckage were found April 6, 1942, Peck said.

Bodies of the four occupants have not been found, the Sheriff stated.

LaFleche Back Home

QUEBEC, July 26 (CP)—Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche former Canadian ambassador to Greece, arrived in Canada aboard the Empress of Canada which docked here late Monday. Maj.-Gen. LaFleche has been representing Canada in Greece for the last four years. After a brief stop-over at Montreal and Ottawa, he will proceed to Australia to assume the post of Canadian high commissioner there.

Canadian Children Get Marks On Poise

VANCOUVER, July 26. (CP)—Canadian educational standards are about midway between those in England and the United States but lean slightly toward the latter.

That's the opinion of Mrs. Francis Williams, English child psychologist here on a visit.

"In most cases English children are slightly ahead in their studies but they do not have nearly the poise Canadian and American youngsters possess," she says.

Hottest Day of Year

LONDON, July 25 (Reuters) — Monday was Britain's hottest day of the year, with a top of 89 degrees recorded at Kensington Palace.

Streams On Rampage

PLEASANTON, Tex., July 26 (AP)—A nine-inch cloudburst sent two normally docile streams boiling into this little South Texas town Monday. Damage was estimated at $1,000,000. The downpour swelled the Atascosa River and its tributary, Bonita Creek, 20 feet above normal. Flash flood waters rolled into the business district.

Veteran Bosses $100,000 Job

LEAMINGTON, Ont., July 26 (CP)—Wally Newland takes his job seriously but doesn't particularly care if it rains or not. He bosses a $100,000 a year business—backed up by his own irrigation system.

The 26-year-old air force veteran recently took over 15 acres of good, sandy soil on the Lake Erie Shore near here—including six greenhouses—and maintains numerous men in his market gardening venture.

Supervising the work, along with his father, Wally recently invested $8,000 in a home-made irrigation system that eliminates some 20 per cent of garden uncertainty.

He bought a United States war surplus pump and motor for $540 and then rigged up a six-inch main feeding from the lake. He said he can pipe some 40,000 gallons an hour anywhere on his land.

Results of the system? He figures he can market his cucumbers, lettuce, peppers, tomatoes, etc., several weeks ahead of the average time—bringing better prices. He also produces 1,500,000 seedling tomato plants a year for canning purposes.

U.S. Engineers Visit Seaway Plan Points

CORNWALL, July 26 (CP) — Representatives of the United States State Department and the U. S. Corps of Engineers arrived in Cornwall Monday on a tour of points of interest in connection with the proposed St. Lawrence seaway and power project.

The party arrived at nearby Massena, N. Y., by air from Washington and crossed the border on government limousines. They were met by G. A. Lindsay, Chief Engineer, Canadian Department of Transport.

A spokesman said the visit was an informal one during which a tour will be made of proposed seaway and power installations in this area. Monday the group inspected the Long Sault Rapids off Sheek Island, site of a proposed power dam.

Find British Peers Help Wives Do Dishes

LONDON, July 25 (Reuters) — Some British Peers go home early from parliamentary debates to help their wives with the dishes, the House of Lords was told yesterday.

Lord Pethick-Lawrence, former labor secretary of state for India, said:

"I have heard it said in jest that your Lordships go home earlier than they would otherwise because Peers have to help their wives with their washing up.

"From inquiries I have made among my fellow peers, there as a good deal of truth in that.

"While we do not neglect our duties, we, in common with large proportions of men throughout the country, find that we cannot expect our women folk to cater for all our needs and that they require some help from us. That is true I believe, of all classes of the community."

He was speaking about married women at work, in a debate on Britain's economic position.

German Unity Not Possible Until Reds Out

There can be no united Germany until "we get rid of the Red terror," Peterborough Rotarians were told Monday at their weekly luncheon in the Empress Hotel by Dr. Owen Davies, New Zealand world traveller and lecturer, who was attached to the US zone headquarters in Munich during 1945 and 1946 as an UNRRA aide. Dr. Davies said it was his firm belief that if he had set foot in the Russian Zone during his stay in Germany he would never have been able to get out again. He warned that "the Reds should be watched closely" in respect to solution of the problem of German unity, which he held to be a vital necessity if world peace is to be achieved.

Dr. Davies, who was introduced by Harold Deeth, chairman of the Club's International Service Committee, recently completed a tour of many European countries and has addressed Rotary Clubs in Europe, Canada and United States.

Should Have Executed Hess

Dr. Davies was an observer at the sessions of the International War Crimes Tribuntal in Neurnburg. He said that he agreed with the Russians in their lone exception to the sentences imposed, that handed out in the case of Rudolph Hess. Dr. Davies stated that Hess should have been put to death along with the other chief Nazi war criminals, as the Russians demanded. Hess is "one of the world's greatest actors," said the speaker, who claimed that he has been feigning insanity ever since he was brought to trial and was "still acting a part." He added that "one of these days Hess will come out of jail a free man."

The speaker declared that another angle of the German situation which was disturbing the instability of the German mark, which "will be a menace to world markets until it is stabilized." He said the same danger will develop in due course in the case of Japan, if steps are not taken to guard against it.

Japs Are Actors

In a glance at the Pacific situation, the speaker asserted that, like Hess, the Japanese are also "very good actors" and that while they may appear trustworthy on the surface, no one knows what plots may be lurking in their minds. "You can't trust them; they are just as likely as not to stab you in the back tomorrow."

Dr. Davies declared that Australia and New Zealand were fully justified in restricting immigration to whites, in view of the past treachery of the Japanese and the inroads being made by Communism in Asia.

"The world needs a common understanding between all men and Rotary with its ideals of goodwill and brotherhood can play a large part in bringing this about," said the speaker.

Charles Cummer thanked the speaker for his address.

London Paper Says Sub-Killer For Britain

LONDON, July 26 (CP)—The Daily Express says Monday in a newspaper story that at least one of three high-speed anti-submarine vessels under construction in Canada is intended for Britain.

The newspaper says construction began in Canada because at £2,000,000 ($8,000,000) each, Britain could not afford them. Canada recently announced particulars of a new type of "submarine killer" she is building with sleek flush-deck lines, low bridge and a short, streamlined superstructure of aluminum instead of steel. The craft, the Daily Express describes is similar.

Britain's ace naval designer, constructor Capt. Roland Baker, is said to be on loan to the Royal Canadian Navy as constructor in chief. He is said to be the new ship's designer.

Predicts Action On Seaway Early In The New Year

By GEORGE RONALD,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, July 26 (CP) —Hope has all but faded that 1949 is the year for the St. Lawrence seaway and hydro project.

One of its most ardent supporters said recently there is virtually no possibility of a decision by the Senate before it recesses in Au-August.

But, said Senator George A. Aiken (Rep. Vt.), the St. Lawrence issue should clear the hurdle of the Senate foreign relations committee within a month. He predicted it will be out of committee and on the Senate calendar for action next January or February, after Congress reconvenes.

been set for the vast undertaking which Canada and the United

Thus a new target-year has States started talking about almost a half-century ago. The $1,000,000,000 project would enable sea-going vessels to sail to the Head of the Lakes; it also provides for a 2,200,000 horsepower hydro-electric development at the international rapids near Cornwall, Ont.

Senate backers of the plan insist that this year's delay is not another of the long series of defeats the project has taken in Congress. Aiken is among those who contend "real progress" has been made this year.

He cited Senator Robert A. Taft (Rep. O.) as typical of "several" former opponents of the seaway who this year have said they now favor it.

"Substantial Gains"

"We have made very substantial gains this year," Aiken said in an interview. "I think we'd have a 50-50 chance of getting it approved right now. By next January or February the chances will be even better."

Aiken, one of 20 sponsors of a bill to authorize the project on a self-supporting basis, said he expects it will be studied by a foreign relations sub-committee very soon.

The agreement the bill would put into effect was signed by the Canadian and United States governments in 1941. Canada has adopted a wait and see attitude but it is believed here tht Canadian ratification would follow close on the heels of the United States approval.

A decision would be particularly welcome in Canada because of the serious hydro shortage, especially in Ontario. This need for more electric power also is evident in New York and some of the New England states.

The seaway, say its backers, would contribute, too, to development of newly-discovered iron ore deposits in Labrador.

Despite the "real progress" mentioned by Aiken and other seaway proponents, the fact remains that, with the matter far from the vote stage, opponents have not massed their full strength this year.

If the Senate bill does not clear the committee, both sides can be counted on to wage a no holds barred battle for advantage during the Senate recess.

Montreal Expects To Have New Legitimate Theatre

MONTREAL, July 26. (CP) — The long-frustrated dream of English-speaking Montreal drama lovers soon may be realized — a modern, legitimate theatre in this city.

For years, enthusiasts of Shakespeare and Shaw, O'Neill and Sartre, have been complaining about the lack of up-to-date theatre facilities in Canada's largest city. Now, if the plans of G. W. McGregor of New York go through, Montreal will have its new playhouse by September, 1950.

Time was when every Canadian town bigger than a whistle-stop had its legitimate house. Those were the days when road shows were as important as Broadway and small-town folk had a chance to see Duse, Bernhardt, Jo Jefferson and the Barrymores.

Then came the movies and the theatre fell upon evil times.

But in recent years, a renaissance has occurred in Canada.

Sparked by the outstanding work of the Little Theatre movement, especially in London, Ont., and Ottawa, Canadians have demanded more and more live shows.

Montreal, however, has faced a serious problem. Its only legitimate English-language house is the old His Majesty's on Guy St., which doesn't possess facilities to deal either with modern stage techniques or the scale of spectacle demanded by modern opera and ballet.

Montreal Left Out

Consequently, Montreals have seen comparatively few legitimate stage plays in recent years. Montreal just wasn't on the major road show wheel.

That's where Mr. McGregor comes in. A theatre man of many years experience, he will erect his new, air-conditioned theatre just up the street from His Majesty's. The stage will be 70 feet deep and 85 feet wide and seating capacity will be 1,500, without a balcony.

S. Morgan Powell, drama critic of the Montreal Star, says that while the accommodation is relatively small, longer runs will be featured. He said New York's Metropolitan Opera Company will play a two-week season here in 1951.

"With the completion of this theatre, the stigma will at last be removed from Montreal of being the only city of comparable size in the whole of North America that is without a modern legitimate theatre," the drama critic concludes.

Need To Learn Customers Likes To Solve Crisis

By FORBES RHUDE,
Canadian Press Business Editor.

It is commonplace to think of the trade barriers between the dollar and sterling areas as developments of the last few years.

Actually, they have been building for a long time and they are made up of things as difficult of compromise as two ways of life.

It is an oddity that while the world through communication has been getting smaller and smaller, the ways of life of its two leading parts—Western Europe and North America—have been drifting apart.

It is an oddity, but understandable, North America, through mass production and advertising, has become more and more self-contained, and has developed tastes peculiar to the continent.

Europe, at the same time, has developed along lines peculiar to its physical and traditional background.

Even the simplest gadgets of one often seem awkward or silly to the other.

Must Learn Tastes

If the present trading difficulties are to be overcome, it will involve each learning a great deal more about the every-day likes and tastes of the other.

British motor cars illustrate the situation. There was a time when a British car was an oddity on a Canadian or American street. Came the post-war car scarcity and the overseas car came in and still is coming until it no longer attracts attention.

This doesn't necessarily mean that the average Canadian rates a British car with one of Canadian or American manufacture. But it does mean that his prejudices have been largely knocked down and he will consider the overseas import on its merits.

Given that, the British manufacturer has a chance to appeal to him, and his tastes have a chance of influencing the British manufacturer.

Carry this on through hundreds and thousands of products and there is a good chance of our really exchanging goods.

Chicago Yawl Wins Biggest Race Honor

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., July 26 (AP)—Onkahya, a glistening white yawl from Chicago, Monday won the biggest honor in the Port Huron-to-Mackinac sailing race.

It was the fastest voyage since the event began 25 years ago. Each of the first five boats over the finish line Sunday evening cracked the record for elapsed time on the 242 miles.

Onkahya, owned by contractor George Sollitt, finished fourth but had the best corrected time in the entire cruising division made up of 45 craft.

She made the trip in 29 hours, 36 minutes and 17 seconds. She received a time allowance of 2.17:49 and placed first with a corrected time of 27.18:28. This put her in 10 minutes in front of Blitzen of Detroit and 15 minutes ahead of Royono of Detroit.

Moucks said he was receiving a blind pension and Crown Attorney John Bradshaw said he intended writing to the Institute of the Blind.

"Tokyo Rose" Denies Treason

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26 (AP)—"Tokyo Rose" told a Federal Bureau of Investigation man in 1946 that she did not feel her wartime broadcasts from radio Tokyo were against the interests of the United States.

The jury hearing the treason trial of Iva Toguri D'Aquino yesterday heard a 12-page report of a statement she gave FBI agent Frederick Tillman at Tokyo's Sugamo Prison, April 30, 1946.

In it, the 33 year old native of Los Angeles acknowledged that she knew her program was aimed at lowering morale of allied troops however she said it showed Japanese sportsmanship by sending messages from allied war prisoners.

Two captured officers, an Australian and an American, took her into their confidence, she said, and told her they were trying to make the program one of entertainment rather than propaganda. However, she continued, "they never directly or positively told me they were trying to defeat the Japanese purpose of the program.

The two officers were Maj. Charles Cousens of Australia and Maj. Wallace Ince of the United States. The defence contends Miss Toguri and these two conspired to sabotage the Japanese propaganda program.

Five Champions Bow First Day

OTTAWA, July 26 (CP)—Competition tightened today as the Canadian Junior Tennis Championships went into their second day after a hard session of early eliminations Monday.

Five provincial champions were beaten in early rounds of the contest which featured players from seven of the 10 provinces—all but Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island and Saskatchewan.

Peter Stewart of Toronto, seeded fourth in the tournament, bowed to a dark horse from Montreal, Pete Constable, who made it in straight sets, 7-5, 6-3.

Sally Roper of Halifax, Nova Scotia's hope, was ousted by a blonde Torontonian, Vonnie Davis who is still in the under-15 class. While sailing through her girl's singles matches, Vonnie stroked past Sally's defences with an 8-6, 6-4 score.

The Winnipeg men's singles champ, Jack Thomas, who was seeded seventh in men's singles competition, bowed in the first round to Ottawa's Des McBride by a score of 3-6, 6-4, 6-1. McBride later was trounced 6-3, 7-9, 7-5, by a determined Montrealer, Paul Lafrancois.

Barb Stephenson of Toronto had taken the junior women's singles in the Ontario open easily, but went down 6-0, 6-1 before Diana Lowe, sister of Pat Lowe, Ottawa's Canadian champion for the last two years. Pat had to sit out Monday's play with a minor foot infection but was expected to play today.

Another Ottawa product, Mary Jane Ferrier, downed New Brunswick's Joene Mooers in the opening round with a convincing 6-2, 6-2 score.

In Monday's play, Ontario ran up 171 runs all out.

The Alberta All-Stars went to work with determination in their innings and had scored 111 for nine wickets when the time limit was reached, resulting in a drawn match.

Charge Warship Sinks Jap Boat

TOKYO, July 26—(AP)—Four Japanese fishermen came home today and told how an unidentified warship shelled their 75-ton boat in the East China Sea, killing four of the crew. Four others died later.

In a dispatch from Shimonoseki, Kyodo News Agency quoted the survivors as saying other fishing craft in the same area may have met a similar fate. They gave no reason for being attacked, and said they were in a legal fishing area.

Kyodo reported that the warship took the fishing boat, Akashi Maru, in tow June 10. The next day it sank the captive craft with gunfire.

The eight survivors built a raft from the wreckage. Sharks gathered and only four men managed to climb on the raft. After 10 hours adrift, they were picked up by the Panama ship Cristobal.

The story gave no hint as to the nationality of the warship.

Do You Know...

what WHITE COAL is?

'White Coal' is a term commonly used to describe falling water that can be converted into electrical power. Originally used in France 'White Coal' is a translation from the French 'houille blanche', suggested by the fact that falling water, because it is filled with frothy air bubbles, appears clean and white.

Do You Know . . . that 'White Coal' is the greatest single contributing factor to the remarkable industrial development of Quebec Province? Because of its mighty resources of 'White Coal' Quebec has been transformed from a once wholly agricultural area into a vital centre of light and heavy industry!

Fire Department Work Criticized

HAMILTON, July 26 (CP)—"It is our feeling that if the fire department were efficiently organized and run, criticism such as has been voiced over the past few weeks of the actions of the fire department at certain fires, would never have been raised by the citizens in general," Hamilton Chamber of Commrce said Monday in a letter to the Board of Control.

The chamber said the department is "greatly under-manned," that it needs more equipment as well as the replacement of some pieces of apparatus which are about 25 years old.

Fire losses in Hamilton do not stand well with the rest of the larger cities in Canada," the letter said.

Figures prepared by the Dominion Fire Commissioner's office at Ottawa showed that Hamilton was at the top of the per capita loss lists in 1947, 1946, and on a five year's average from 1941 to 1945.

An inquiry into a fire at New Westminster Church is to be resumed shortly for the hearing of evidence from fire and police department officers.

Writes Book In Spare Time Wins High French Award

By RICHARD DAIGNAULT

QUEBEC, July 26.— (CP). — Andre Giroux, provincial government employee who published a book last year about high Quebec society's reaction to a sordid sex-murder, has been awarded a prize by the French Academy, France's highest literary body.

For Giroux, a quiet self-respecting young man of 32, whose book is slowly taking best-selling proportions in the province, the honor of a French award in a contest open to all French writers was a stunning event.

The "Prix Montyon" he received for his novel has rarely gone abroad before.

The wining book is a tightly-written study of Bourgeois Quebec city types reacting to a murder committed in a hotel room by the young son of one of their own class. The title of it is "Au Dela Des Visages" ,(Beyond the Face).

Well Developed

Young Jacques Langlet comes to life bit by bit, through the pages of the novel, as a timid, polite young Quebecer who aspired to a high religious ideal of chastity. When suddenly, on an impise that baffles him, he takes a woman to a hotel room, he finds himself overcome with disgust and rage. He kills the woman.

The novel was written by Giroux, as an experiment, over a two-year period during his off-work hours.

When he finally showed the manuscript to a publisher he felt there was little chance of publication. What happened was that the publisher listened for four hours while Giroux read the manuscript to him. It was accepted on the spot.

The book now is in its third printing and some 10,000 copies have been sold. As French Quebec book-selling figures go this is in the best-selling bracket.

Giroux, like Quebec's other talented novelist Roger Lemelin (The Town Below), is largely self-educated. He went to work for $16-a-week at the Quebec legislature in 1936 after his father died suddenly.

He had been brought up in an atmosphere of ardent love of Canadian letters. His father had amassed a collection of 20,000 volumes by Canadian authors or on Canadian subjects during his lifetime.

During the years preceding his book, Giroux wrote for magazines. He married a Quebec girl in 1946.

Says Film Stars No Longer Big Spendthrifts

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 26—(AP)—Don't underestimate the intelligence of movie stars, says Dana Andrews.

This viewpoint came out as we discussed on the "My Foolish Heart" set the public's conception of stars.

"The public seems to think of film actors as a bunch of high-living spendthrifts without a thought in their heads," he remarked. "Well, that might have been true in the old days, but things have changed.

"The past five or six years has seen a new type of screen personality. There's no more of the pretty boy and matinee idol. Even the method of glamorizing women stars has changed.

Higher Intelligence

I wouldn't say that all movie stars are intelligent; but I think the average intelligence is much higher than it used to be. By the nature of their work, actors have move diversified interests than any other profession."

"Actors now are being recognized as respected members of the community," he said. "More so here than in England, and considerably more so than in France, where they are considered apart from ordinary society."

He agreed that this new type of film star has resulted in greater political activity among Hollywood's famous in recent campaigns.

"I get all kinds of fan mail concerning my political work, much of it on the screwball side," he said. "But it boils down to this: Why shouldn't an actor be able to take part in politics, the same as any other citizen?"

Not only have stars changed, but the public has, too, added Andrews.

"That's why the movie industry hasn't been doing good business," he said. "I think pictures are as good as they ever were, but the public is tired of seeing the same thing."

Underground Room Made 2000 BC

MARGATE, Kent, England, July 26—(CP)—A subterranean chamber, for more than a century regarded merely as a show place for holidaymakers, now is believed to be the work of craftsmen who came here in 2,000 BC.

In 1935 a workman digging at Dane Hill, Margate, dropped his spade down what he thought was a disused well. A boy who was lowered down to recover the spade found himself in an "Aladdin's cave" made up of millions of sea shells in all kinds of intricate designs.

Many antiquarians tried unsuccessfully to solve the riddle of the shells and decided eventually that it was not a genuine antiquity.

However, antiquarian Harper Cory used photographs from which the background had been blocked out to reveal the shell symbols.

"I believe these are the work of travellers who left Mediterranean shores at least 1,800 years before the birth of Christ," Cory said.

"The symbols prove that the chamber, 68 feet in length, is a Mastaba or ancient Egyptian tomb. This may change the whole picture of early English history."

Try Best Brains On China Policy

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson was reported Monday to have ordered the "best brains" available in and out of government to work on China policy. A full-scale effort is afoot to create a new pattern for United States diplomacy in the Far East.

Philip C. Jessup, Ambassador-at-Large, has been assigned to spark an intensive study of the Far Eastern situation. It will be made by half a dozen non-governmental experts of that area of the world.

Jessup is directing preparation of a forthcoming "white paper" on past American policies toward China. It is supposed to clear the way for a new policy.

Senator William Knowland (Rep. Calif.) said the white paper may signal a new drive in Congress to get aid to Nationalist China.

Knowland told reporters he has learned that more than $80,000,000 in economic co-operation administration money remains available to help the Nationalists.

He said that this money will be available until next February. If the State Department agrees to use it, he said it may not be necessary to seek new legislation in this session of Congress.

$30,000 Cheque Traps Kingston Convict Six Months After Escape

International Swindler Arrested Year Ago In Port Hope District; Don Keller Flees Hospital In January

OMAHA, Neb., July 27—(CP)—An attempt to cash a $30,000 cheque at an Omaha implement firm led to the arrest of an escaped prisoner from Portsmouth Penitentiary, Kingston, Ont., The prison escaper, Daniel M. Keller of Toronto, is being held here pending deportation. (In Emerson, Man., a detachment of RCMP today were reported waiting to pick up Keller, who escaped from the penitentiary last Jan. 24).

Omaha police said Keller was arrested at a hotel after the Miller-Hasselbach Company reported that he had attempted to cash a $30,000 cheque at their office. Police said Keller, posing as a large implement buyer, had given the company a $30,000 cheque and then went back the following day and replaced it with another, saying the first one was no good. Investigation showed the second was spurious also.

Police said Keller did not realize any cash, and no charges were filed against him here. However, he was turned over to immigration authorities.

Skipped Hospital

Keller had been serving a three-year penitentiary term on six charges of false pretenses and three charges of theft. He escaped while on a temporary ticket-of-leave to undergo medical treatment at Kingston General Hospital. Keller was born in the United States ,but is a naturalized Canadian citizen.

The short, squat, 52-year-old former Toronto boxing promoter, was arrested at Port Hope last August after two years of international living in Europe in the grand style.

He was sentenced in Toronto last fall for having obtained more than $28,000 by theft and false pretenses. An additional 19 charges, involving about $76,000, still face Keller in the United States.

At the time of his escape, he was recovering from an operation in the veterans' ward of the Kingston General Hospital. Hospital orderlies discovered his disappearance when they made a routine check of his room, which he occupied by himself.

Britain Beats Canada On Jet Plane

HATFIELD, England, July 27 (Reuters)—Britain's latest "top secret" airliner, the four-engined all-jet De Havilland Comet, flew for the first time today during trials here.

Group Captain John Cunningham, chief test pilot of the company, lifted the machine for a 500-yard hop six feet above the ground. After checking braking, nose-wheel steering and ground handling, he reported the first trials were "very promising."

The Comet, a low-wing monoplane, is the prototype for a series of jet passenger planes ordered by the Ministry of Supply and British Overseas Airways. She will carry 36 passengers and a crew of four at 500 miles an hour above the weather at 40,000 feet.

The cabin will be pressurized and air conditions will completely change the air every three minutes.

Built behind locked doors, the aircraft is having its first tests this week. It is not likely to be in commercial use before 1952.

Still Working

At Toronto's suburban Malton, pre-flights tests are still being made on Canada's bid for the new field of air transport, the Avro Canada 40-passenger C-102 jetliner. The sleek silver machine is expected to go aloft in late August.

The race to test-fly the world's first pure-jet civil airliner has been waged between England and Canada for three years. Work on both sides of the ocean has been obscured by the closest commercial secrecy.

Police Demand Executive Quit

WINDSOR, July 27 (CP) — The executive of the Windsor Police Association has been asked to resign by the membership which charges it with failure to give adequate backing to individual members of the police force.

The action was taken at a special meeting Tuesday attended by nearly half the police force.

Earlier this month, three members of the six-man executive handed in their resignations in protest of a decision given Constable George Ishanko as a result of an accident July 10 in which a police cruiser was damaged.

Deputy Chief W. H. Neale, after receiving the report of a three-man fact finding committee, told Lishanko he would likely have to bear the cost of the accident, $60, and would be "grounded" from scout car duties.

LONDON, July 27 (CP)—The press today broke an old parliamentary tradition.

Mayor Huot's move followed receipt of a telegram from Mr. Dunbar Tuesday night. The telegram asked: "Is there anything that I can do for Mattawa situation?"

Ottawa Hospital Asks City Support Demand

A despatch from Ottawa carried by CP states that Ottawa's board of control seeks the support of four Ontario municipalities, including Peterborough, for a concerted demand to the Ontario government to increase provincial hospital grants for the care of indigent patients.

Letters ,it was decided at the Ottawa board meeting Tuesday, will be sent to Hamilton, Windsor, London and Peterborough, asking if they will join with Ottawa in sending a delegation to meet the Ontario cabinet in Toronto.

The board noted that previous attempts by Ottawa's civic hospital to obtain higher provincial payments had failed. Hospital trustees said the actual cost of caring for indigent patients was $9.73 a day. Total grants produce only $4.20, leaving a daily loss of $5.53 on each patient.

J. R. Marshall Statement

"This question of increased grant for the hospital care of indigent patients has been referred twice this year to the provincial government by the Ontario Hospital Association," said Mr. John R. Marshall, its vice-president, today. 'I think the only reason that we have not heard anything definite is that the Minister of Health, Hon. Russell Kelley has been ill. However, he is now back in his office. It may be that the Ottawa proposal is intended to emphasize the situation and to quicken action by the government in providing hte relief hospitals undoubtedly need.

I think it is of interest to recall that at our last meeting with government representatives, Premier Leslie Frost, then provincial treasurer, was present with Hon. Mr. Kelley.

"Hon. Mr. Frost said that as treasury representative he was deeply interested from a financial point of view. He told us that several months previously the government had agreed that hospitals needed more assistance for indigent patients.

On Basis of Wards

"As I recall it," he said "the government feels that we should have a broader policy that would extend our grants on the basis of all public ward beds, instead of just to indigent patients. Some of the public ward patients can pay for their cars, others can pay part of the cost then there are some who find that hospital costs are a difficult matter o them."

"The governmetn believes that assistance should be broadened for the benefit of all those patients, and that a grant should be made on the basis of public ward beds. It would result in helping to keep down the cost to

Find Body Of Steward At Boardwalk

Hear Call For Help But No One Goes To Investigate

TORONTO, July 27 (CP)—The body of a man, tentatively identified as Leonard Hearn of Toronto, a railway dining-car steward, was found early today under the boardwalk of Toronto's eastern beach, and police said he had been beaten about the head and body.

The dead man was dressed only in a shirt. A pair of trousers and a bathing suit were found nearby.

Alfred Davis, park attendant in the beaches area, said he heard a park about 2 a.m., the time police call for help coming from the said the slaying took place. Davis said he "heard a man's voice calling."

"It sounded like a cry for help at first, then it became a moan. I think I heard the noise again, then everything was quiet."

About 200 yards from the beach boardwalk, police found a new model car owned by Hearn. The driver's window was smashed.

Killed In Car

Police said they also found a 25-cent piece on the grass near the car: Investigators believe Hearn was killed or knocked unconscious in the auto and then dragged to the beach. They said the broken car window indicated there had been a struggle.

Two men and a woman, who said they came from Montreal, discovered the body and were taken to headquarters for questioning, police said. The trio told officers they had no money and were sleeping on the beach.

About midnight, they said, they saw a man lying near the board walk but thought he was sleeping or drunk. A few hours later, they left the beach for a while, and when they returned the man was still there. Investigating, they found the man was dead.

Train Steward

Police said they telephoned Hearn's mother and told her "your son's car had been broken into and its contents stolen" but gave no more details.

Mrs. Hearn said her son, employed by the CPR as a steward and waiter on trains to Sudbury and the west coast, was home on a three-day holiday.

Discovery of the body touched off the largest murder investigation in Toronto's east end since 1945 when police hunted John Alexander Taylor for the ax murder of his mother. Taylor was captured after a three-day manhunt which extended throughout Ontario. He is serving a 10-year sentence for manslaughter.

Order Red Army Take Canton Before Aug. 15

NANKING, July 27 (AP)—The Chinese Communist High Command has ordered its armies to capture the Nationalist provisional capital of Canton before Aug. 15, it was reported authoratatively today.

A general Red offensive in South China is rolling forward despite widespread floods which are hampering the advance. Red forces are driving through the rich "rice bowl" province of Hunan. Through it runs the main line railway from Red-held Hankow to Canton.

Nationalist garrison headquarters in Canton meanwhile proclaimed martial law in the refugee capital effective Wednesday. The proclamation, along with a strict midnight-to-5 a.m. curfew, came as the government military situation in Hunan was admitted deteriorating.

Changsha, Hunan capital, still is in the Nationalists' possession, it was reported from Canton, but strategically it is already lost. Chuchow, 25 miles south on the Canton-Hankow rail line, is reported in Communist hands. The Reds are expected to launch an assault on the big rail-junction city of Hengyang, only 265 miles north of Canton, at any time.

Communist leaders here are delaying organization of a new national government pending occupation of Canton. A political consultative conference is scheduled to be called into plenary session shortly after the provisional capital falls.

The Communists hope to organize their national government within 60 days after the conference. This will make possible for the first time diplomatic recognition of the Communist regime. Until that time the nationalist government will continue to have the only legal claim to recognition.

Alexander Leads Regt. As Colors Presented

LONDON, July 27 (CP).—The King today presented new colors to the 1st Battalion of the Irish Guards in a ceremony on the lawn of Buckingham Palace.

Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, who flew across the Atlantic for the occasion, led the regiment of which he is colonel.

His Majesty told the battalion: "It is most welcome to me to see your colonel standing at the head of his regiment for the first time . . .

"Lord Alexander has flown here from Canada, which will remind you of the great changes which have come about since 1927 when my father presented you with your old colors in this garden.

"On that occasion, such a flight would have been unthinkable."

Plane Spots Prisoner Captured On CNR Tracks

PORT ARTHUR, July 27—(CP)—James McGrath, 25, who Monday escaped from jail at Geraldton, Ont., less than 24 hours after he was arrested on an armed robbery charge, was taken into custody near Long Lac, Tuesday night. Spotted from a plane pressed into the extensive police search of the Geraldton district, McGrath put up no resistance when three policemen closed in on him. At the time of his arrest on the C.N.R. main line near Long Lac, about 20 miles east of Geraldton, McGrath was wearing clothing stolen from the living quarters of Cpl. Les. Heaney, Provincial policeman residing at the jail at Geraldton.

Distrct Inspector Percy Hake, of the Provincial Police, said McGrath, who was not armed when taken into custody, will be brought to Port Arthur.

Held Up Trio

First arrested Friday while hitch-hiking along the Hearst-Geraldton Highway, McGrath, from Ansonville, Ont., allegedly held a farm wife and her two sons at gunpoint in their home before escaping with clothes taken from the house.

Placed in the Geraldton lockup, McGrath is believed to have managed his escape through a door connecting his cell with an uncompleted cell. It is thought he removed part of the wall near plumbing fixtures, then made his way to the basement of the building.

Before leaving the building he evidently entered the quarters of Cpl. Heaney and took a blue suit coat, blue dress shirt, a new pair of shorts, a diamond stickpin and a camera.

He told a group of German and Austrian editors and publishers that the United States has a "great many wonderful newspapers." Truman did not name any he had in mind.

Judge Shoots Former Partner

ATLANTA, July 27 (AP)—An Atlanta judge early today shot down a lawyer, his opponent in a tangle of divorce suits and other legal actions.

At about 2.30 a.m., police reported, Judge Robert Carpenter, 44, pulled his car alongside one driven by Lawyer John Lockwood, 53, and fired at him five times with a pistol.

One shot wounded the lawyer in the face. He ran from the car and tumbled into a muddy, 40-foot hole. A hospital later reported his condition was fair.

Carpenter and Lockwood were former business associates, but in recent months had become bitter opponents in nine court actions.

The judge was sued for divorce by his wife, Mrs. Helen Carpenter, who charged cruelty. She also filed a $100,000 alienation of affections suit against Mrs. Estelle G. Manful, alleging the judge was in love with her.

Carpenter in turn filed a divorce action against Mrs. Carpenter. In it he alleged Lockwood had joined with Mrs. Carpenter in an effort to defraud him of control of a hotel. He also charged that Lockwood, whom he described as one of his best friends, and his wife planned to be married themselves.

Visitor Shot At Nursing Home Party

Hold Brother-in-Law In Slaying; Celebrating Birthday

TORONTO, July 27 (CP)—Arthur Wickert, 38-year-old department store employee, was shot to death today in a basement apartment of a Walmer Road nursing home in central Toronto.

Philip Gendron, 29, Wickert's brother-in-law, arrested on a charge of murder, was remanded until August 4.

Police said the shooting occurred after an all-night drinking party in the Walmer Road nursing home, near Bloor Street, of which Gendron's wife, Edith, is part owner. The party was to celebrate Mrs. Gendron's birthday.

Wickert's body was found early this morning by an undertaker summoned to the home by Mrs. Gendron, who reported a "sudden death in the home." He reported the shooting to police.

Police said that Gendron had Wickert were married to sisters who were left interests in two rest homes in the city, by their mother. One of these rest homes was the scene of the shooting.

Police believe the two men were quarrelling over Mrs. Gendron and that Gendron fired one shot from a 7.65 millimetre German automatic. The bulle. entered the left eye of Wickert and pierced the brain. It came out the base of the skull and was imbedded in a mattress .

Wickert's fully-clothed body was was sprawled crosswise ona bed, police said. The weapon was found on the floor beside Wickert's body.

Attacked Baby 4 Boys Arrested

OTTAWA, July 27. —(CP).— Four young boys—the oldest 12, the youngest eight—tday go on trial for what Ottawa police have called the most brutal sex crime in the capital's history.

They are charged with indicent assault, in connection with the attack on 26-months-old Marie Giselle Lachance July 11.

Ravished, naked and half-strangled, the little girl was found hanging from the beams of an old shed on Brutere St., in Ottawa's lower town district, just west of the Parliament tBuildings.

Three of the boys are brothers. All of them live within a few doors of the Bruyere St. apartment of the little girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Telesphore Lachance.

Police said all four boys are known as "trouble makers" in the thickly-populated district.

The brothers are eight, 10 and 12 years old. A nine-year-old companion was arrested with them.

The four laughed and joked Tuesday night as they were booked at police headquarters. Their mothers, worn and haggard, were with them.

US Talking of Deep Arctic Air Bases

Could Refuel Bombers For Strikes Anywhere Across World

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP) —The United States Air Force is talking about forward air bases deep in the arctic at which bombers could refuel on stikes across the Polar Cap.

A cautious official reference to this hitherto secret plan for strengthening the reach of bombers operating from airfields within the United States came to light today. In a report on plans and money needs for the new bomber base at Limestone, Me., the Air Force says:

"A typical Polar operation might involve aircraft taking off from United States air bases. The staging or topping off of these aircraft at forward bases in Northern Canada, Greenland, or even the Polar Ice Cap."

This project may explain how the U.S.A.F. can make good its clai mthat the huge B-36 bomber can strike virtually all "significant military targets on the earth from bases in the Western hemis phere."

New Strategy

The new strategy suggested in the report indicates that the missions would operate like this:

A B-36, whose home field was Limestone or some other airdrome in the United States, would load up with bombs—and a comparatively light load of fuel. It would fly two or three thousand miles to a staging base of the North American Continent, in Greenland or elsewhere in the far north. There the bomber would "top off" its fuel tanks (fill them to capacity). That would carry the intercontinental bomber to the target and back to the staging base or to friendly territory beyond enemy territory.

Strategists say the advantages of such arctic staging bases would include:

A. Operation of forward airfields with a minimum of personnel and equipment. On refuelling equipment would be needed. There would be no hangar or major repair facilities. The number of men required would be small.

B. At no time would there be concentration of big bombers at the forward fields (as there would be if they were major airdromes) to present a profitable target for an enemy air raid.

C. The striking reach of the smaller B-29s and B-50s, as well as the B-36, could be extended.

Australian Coal Miners Ready To Halt Strike

SYDNEY, Australia, July 27 (CP)—The Council of Australian Coal Mining Unions today decided to call aggregate meetings of miners to discuss a return to work and an end of the general coal strike which began exactly a month ago.

Simultaneously it was decided at a meeting of Federal and New South Wales ministers to move all available troops into the coalfields immediately to begin working open-cut mines not later than August 2. The meeting, held in Sydney, was presided over by Prime Minister J. B. Chifley and attended by union leaders.

The aggregate meetings of miners probably will be held Monday. If it is decided at these meetings to call off the strike then it is certain the government will not put troops into the mines. Thus there is every indication that the strike will end within a week on the government's terms.

These terms were for the miners to return to work unconditionally and to place their demands for a 35-hour week, a pay increase of 30 shillings ($4.80) a week and long-service leave in the hands of the coal tribunal. The tribunal was hearing these claims when the miners decided they would not await the outcome and called the strike. The miners now work a 40-hour week.

The month-long strike has crippled Australian industry and caused drastic rationing of coal, electricity and illuminating gas. Coming in the middle of the Australian winter it has meant considerable discomfort for the people of this country, especially in New South Wales, the principal coal-producing state.

Latest estimates show that more than 500,000 persons were made idle as a result of the strike and of the industrial shutdowns.

Labor Party Expels Lester Hutchinson

LONDON, July 27 (Reuters)— Lester Hutchinson, Labor Member of Parliament for Rusholme, Manchester, has been expelled from the Labor Party, it was learned today from a usually reliable source.

Hutchinson, considered a left-wing member of the party, won the seat in the 1945 general election by only a 10-vote margin over Maj. F. W. Cundiff. Maj. Cundiff, Conservative, held the seat after a by-election the year before.

A journalist and author- Hutchinson spent many years in India where he was a trade union organizer.

Hutchinson had offended party leadership by his attacks on British foreign policy. He also assailed the Atlantic pact while on a recent tour of the United States.

Federation Of Agriculture Given Leave To Appeal Judgment On Margarine

Expect Appeal Will Be Heard In Autumn Privy Council Officials Say; Difference of Opinion Among Justices Basis

LONDON, July 27—(CP)—The Canadian Federation of Agriculture today was granted leave by the judicial committee of the Privy Council to appeal from a judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada that the Parliament of Canada has no power to prohibit manufacture of butter substitutes. Lord Porter, announcing the decision, said the law lords were of the opinion that the appeal should go forward "expeditiously."

A Privy Council official said later the appeal probably will be heard during the autumn.

The Federation's application for leave to appeal from the Supreme Court judgment was made by Frank Gahan, formerly of London, Ont. It was opposed by B. McKenna for the Attorney-General of Quebec and by Miss M. J. Hyndman of Toronto, for the Canadian Association of Consumers.

Gahan contended there was ground for appeal in the fact that there was "much difference of opinion" among the justices of the Supreme Court regarding the validity of Section 5-A of the Dairy Industry Act.

Despite these differences, the Supreme Court had upheld the section insofar as it prohibited the importation into Canada of oleomargarine, margarine, butterine or other butter substitutes.

The court found, however, that the section went beyond the power of the Dominion Parliament in prohibiting the manufacture of such substitutes.

There is no sign of relief from the sweltering current heat wave which affects not only Ontario but also the Central and Eastern States. By way of contrast to this sticky weather, an Arctic weather station reported snowflurries Tuesday night.

Although slightly cooler air has moved into Northern Ontario, and gave lower minimum temperatures Tuesday night it will have little if any effect on daytime temperatures.

It is likely that Tuesday night's isolated thunderstorm activity will be repeated tonight and again Thursday evening.

Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Ontario, Niagara, Georgian Bay, Haliburton regions: Sunny most of today and Thursday, with isolated thundershowers tonight and again Thursday evening. Paving Bylaw Passes Council

Although part of the paving job is done, authority for the signing of the contract was not given by the board of works until Monday night in a motion by Ald. Herbert Young and Ald. Grant Miller.

This motion actually directed that the paving bylaw be given its third reading, with the deletion of the Burnham and Romaine St. sections which were previously included in this season's program.

Estimated cost of the Burnham St. stretch was $29,477, and Romaine St. $38,179.

On such works, the council is required to submit its construction and expenditure bylaws to the Ontario Municipal Board. That was done in this instance, and the Board bowed to the protests of the Burnham and Romaine St. ratepayers. Paving on the other listed streets was approved.

Cannot Ignore Opposition

In its decision the Municipal Board comment was: "While these pavements (Romaine and Burnham) are or shortly will be replaced, the opposition of the ratepayers is too great to be ignored."

A concluding sentence reminded the council to forward the usual fee of $25.

Third reading of the bylaw on Tuesday night next will be the council's authority for the signing of the contract with Warren Bituminous by Mayor Swanston and City Clerk Outram.

Hint Arsonist Causes Two Forest Fires

L'ASSOMPTION, Que., July 27 (CP)—Provincial police Tuesday probed a 10 square mile devastated woods area here in an attempt to find proof that two separate spectacular forest fires which broke out within 24 hours were the work of an arsonist.

L'Assomption is a town of 3,000 residents, 27 miles northeast of Montreal.

The second outbreak was reported well under control.

This latest outbreak came less than 24 hours after 30 weary voluntary firefighters and two bulldozer crews had succeeded in checking a fire which levelled more than five square miles of spruce and pine trees.

Glass In Garbage Ruins Incinerator

Householders who put glass in garbage are "ruining" the firebrick lining of the incinerator, City Engineer Chalmers reported to the board of works Monday.

Molten glass in the furnace sticks to the brick. "Fuses" was Mr. Chalmers' word for it. Sometimes it accumulates in a quantity of 100 to 150 pounds. And, eventually in falling does damage to the lining, requiring repairs and replacement.

A brick renewing job should be done now, Mr. Chalmers said. He was authorized in a motion by Ald. Dick Raine to have it done. It may be carried on during the holiday week-end, and at other week-ends with the summer Saturdays providing time for cooling the furnaces.

By that means, if it can be arranged, the sanitary department will not have to burn garbage temporarily on some outdoor dump.

French Assembly Approves Atlantic Pact

PARIS, July 27 (AP) — The French National Assembly today approved ratification of the North Atlantic Pact by a 398-187 vote.

The Assembly voted for the charter after an all-night session marked by fist fights between Communists and Rightists.

The Pact now will go to the Council of the Republic—the Upper House of France's legislature—which is expected to give speedy approval.

The vote was preceded by stormy debate which brought tempers to the boiling point. At one stage the legislators became so uproarious it was necessary to recess.

Proponents of the Pact contended that it is a defensive alliance intended to protect member countries from aggression.

The Communists charged it is a pact of aggression aimed against Russia and that in signing it, France would be led into war.

Want Immediate Aid

Most of the criticism, apart from Red sniping, came because no express provision was made for the United States to supply military aid to European countries immediately.

Some speakers complained there were no provisions to assure that Germany would not be rearmed and again become a military menace to France.

One of the last speakers was Jacques Duclos, assembly spokesman for the Communists who said:

"A pact of war, a pact of reaction, such is the Atlantic Pact," Duclos said.

The fights started as a result of slighting references to the role of Edouard Michelet, Independent Republican, during resistance days. Michelet and Yves Perron, a Communist, started throwing punches and had to be separated by ushers.

After One Month

When not engaged in doing something for one of his constitutents Mr. Fraser finds plenty to do about his home near Burleigh Falls on Stony Lake. There are improvements and repairs about the property, the flower gardens have to be looked after, the hay put in the barn, and at the moment he is engaged in some cement work.

A vacation? Well, sometime in August he hopes to get away for a couple of weeks. His first since before the election campaign.

"Through the grapevine" he has heard that the next Parliament will have a full 65-day session and if so it will have to open not much later than September 15. Any holidaying will have to be finished before that long session begins.

"Dit" Busy

Dit Clapper has been unable to get away from his sporting goods store on George St., except for the odd week-end.

"We're very busy in the store," he said, "and I won't be able to get away until next month."

At that time he is going to take a trip to Boston.

The Liberal candidate who gave Mr. Fraser such a close run for the local federal seat explained that the tourist influx this year was particularly heavy, and so was business.

No Miles Holiday

Mr. Miles is also busy in his auctioneering business and has had ta postpone any idea of a vacation to sometime in August.

"No, I haven't had a holiday yet," he told the Examiner. "I'm building a house on the Chemong Highway, just outside the city and that's taking up most of my spare time."

Referring to the aftermath of the election campaign, he said he had not had much chance to get rested.

"But I'm still going strong," he added.

Find Prisoners After 8 Hours

WINNIPEG, July 27.—(CP)—Two prisoners are back in police custody today after their bid for freedom was cut short eight hours after they broke out of Stony Mountain penitentiary, 18 miles northwest of here, Tuesday.

A concentrated search of underworld haunts paid off for combined forces of RCMP and city police. Two convicts, John Krywiarkchuk, alias Holland, 41, and Peter Stepanoff, 30, were arrested hiding under a bed in a home in the northern section of the city.

Both were still wearing prison pants and undershirts. They discarded their prison shirts before they left the automobile in which they had made their escape bid. Police found the shirts along with the automobile about two hours before they caught the two.

Neither put up any resistance to police who converged on the house with drawn revolvers.

all public ward patients. That is the policy we are aiming at, and we know it would cost the government more than if grants were confined to indigent patients. We feel that we should try to help all the patients in public wards, although many are not indigents, but hospital costs become a serious matter to them."

Mr. Marshall said that subsequently he was inclined to agree with Premier Frost, and that from the standpoint of the hospital the proposed expansion of government policy of assistance was preferable to the more limited plan of grants only for indigent patient maintenance.

6-Fold Grant Increase

"If the government carries out that policy, it would be a substantial assistance, and I hardly think we could expect them to do much more. Ontario government grants in the las six years have increased three-fold, from around $1,000,000 to more than $3,000,000, that is only for the care of patients and has nothing to do with maintenance in construction."

Mr. John Hornal, superintendent of Civic Hospital said from his home at noon hour today, that Peterborough's experience in the maintenance cost of indigent pasame as that of Ottawa. He said tients was approximately the the margin of deficit quoted by Ottawa at $5.53 was probably somewhat less here, the exact amount would have to be obtained from a book-keeping analysis.

Outlaw Poll Tax

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—After an angry debate, the United States House of Representatives Tuesday passed an anti-poll-tax bill, 273 to 116. It would outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in primaries and elections in which federal office-holders are chosen. The measure, the first item of President Truman's civil rights program to be acted on at this session of congress, now goes to the senate.

Union Chief Fired; Call Strike

4,500 Workers Out At Massey-Harris Over Dismissal Row

TORONTO, July 27—(CP)—Picketing continues at the farm implements plant of Massey-Harris where some 4,500 production workers walked out over dismissal of their union president.

The men, members of Local 439 of the United Auto Workers (C.I.O.), left their jobs late yesterday. A mass meeting of workers voted to remain away from work until a management-labor bargaining committee meets and until Steve Anco is reinstated as president of the local.

Picket lines were thrown around the three entrances of the big west-end factory on King Street West. Some of the pickets carried placards reading "no president, no work."

C. Norman Appleton, Massey-Harris vice-president, said in a statement that Anco was discharged "because of repeated and flagrant infractions of the rules laid down in the Union contract."

He added: "To meet the urgent demands for the shipping of combines to western Canada, it was necessary to complete the loading and packing of these machines on the night shift. The men assigned to this work were instructed by Mr. Anco, on his own admision, not to proceed with it."

Union spokesmen claimed it was a violation of the management-union contract to change workers' shifts without agreement of the two groups.

U.S. Economy Showing Pick-up Signs

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

What of the so-called United States recession?

If you can predict what the situation across the border will be six months or a year from now, you will have a fair idea of the prospects for the western trading world in general.

There has been a lot of gloomy talk about the first post-war readjustment to take place in the big republic. In fact one Canadian businessman said a while ago that he had to give up reading American views. His own American subsidiary was doing better than ever, but if he read American comment he would be sure of a depression.

Recently there are some encouraging signs. The Wall Street Journal, for instance, asks the meaning of recent increases in base metal prices and concludes that there is reason for "guarded and partial optimism." It outlines:

"Lead has bounced back to 14½ cents a pound, recovering more than 23 per cent of the 9½ cent nosedive it suffered between March 8 and May 26.... Zinc has rebounded to a dime a pound, regaining nearly 12 per cent of the 8½-cent tumble it took between March 23 and June 15.... Copper has been holding steady for a fortnight at 17⅝ cents a pound after recovering more than 21 per cent of its 17½ cent collapse suffered between March 29 and June 17."

Temporary Thing?

The Journal adds:

"The big question, of course, is whether the metals-buying flurry is a temporary thing, occurring as inventories of myriad consuming industries hit rock bottom. Or is it much more—an indication of a real pick-up in United States business?"

What is happening to base metals may be an indication of the state of the whole economy.

Many observers stated, when base metals were falling, that buyers were simply holding off to see where they would settle, and that sooner or later they would be forced back into the market.

That seems to be happening, and there is fair indication that it will happen in other things. The backlog of effective demand still seems too great to allow any severe settling back in industries which supply necessary items.

If, occasionally, demand slows up, there is probably no better way to create a new buying spurt than a moderate drop in prices. It can be remembered, too, that American retail business is quick to take its losses. This, in the last months, has resulted in cut-prices which suggested distress selling. There probably was some distress in it, but on the whole it looks more like a clearing out of lines and getting ready for new business if the buying-power still is there.

Indications are that the buying power is still there. If, as some observers predict, American business makes a real pick-up in the fall, we may be worrying about inflation rather than the opposite.

Woman Meets Bear While Berry Picking

BONARLAW, July 27 (ENS)—Mrs. Clarence Reynolds, of Marmora, had an exciting experience on Friday while picking raspberries on the farm of Alex McFaul, two miles east of Bonarlaw. Mrs. Reynolds saw a dark object and, thinking it to be another woman, kept on picking.

All at once she realized it was too dark in color for a dress. She called out and then a huge black bear rose up on its hind feet and looked right at her.

She was so frozen with fear at first that she couldn't speak. However, she moved slowly toward the other berry pickers and told them.

They all hurried home, their berry picking expedition considerably cut short.

Six Polio Cases Reported In Two Counties

COBOURG, July 27 (ENS)—Six cases of polio have been recorded in the past ten days by the Northumberland and Durham Counties Health Unit. Of these, two are residents of the counties' health unit area while the remaining four were visitors to the unit area.

Of the district residents, a man aged 24 from Brighton Township was admitted to a Toronto hospital with polio and died after admission. The second resident case is a two-year-old child from Murray Township, who has been admitted to a hospital in Toronto.

In connection with the non-resident cases, four who had been visiting in Northumberland and Durham Counties were taken to a Toronto hospital with polio. The immediate family contacts of these cases returned with the cases to their normal residences outside the health unit area. Any more of the remote contacts in this area are being kept under observation by the Health Unit staff and the family doctors.

The polio patients had been visiting in four areas, according to the health unit report: a farm north of Grafton; the Lakeshore Pentecostal Camp, east of Cobourg; a summer camp at Pontypool and the town of Bowmanville.

Is There An Anti-Litter League In Canada?

During the past few weeks we have travelled about this district, and sometimes farther afield, visiting the attractive waterside and woodland places which make Eastern Ontario so pleasant a summer resort. Time after time we have regretted the litter of paper, discarded boxes and picnic remnants which defaced all the most frequented places and many of the more sequestered ones. We should like to see some move to check this sort of vandalism. So far as we know, there is no Anti-Litter League in Canada, as there is in many other English-speaking countries; we feel that such a League could do good work, and we would support it strongly.

* * *

It is not necessary to make a mess whenever one goes into the countryside, and we do not think that anyone does so on purpose. People litter the ground with paper and odds and ends of food because it has never been suggested to them strongly enough, or often enough, that such conduct is unsocial. But it is easy not to make a mess at a picnic; the food is usually brought in paper bags or containers of some sort; when the food is eaten it is a simple matter to put the rubbish back in the bag, or the box, put it in the car, and drop it in the garbage on reaching home. Snacks such as chocolate bars and packets of nuts can be unwrapped and the wrapping carried in the pocket until there is a chance to throw it in a proper receptacle. It is very easy not to make a mess, and to leave the riverside, the beach or the picnic ground clean and ready for the next comers.

* * *

We feel that the Canadian people would respond well to a general appeal to keep the countryside—and the towns and cities—clean by taking a little care and dumping rubbish only in the proper places. We are not really a dirty people; we are merely a careless people. We could quickly train ourselves to be as tidy in this respect as any nation anywhere in the world. It is worth doing.

"The Church of England in Canada"

For some time there has been discussion about the name given to the Church of the Anglican Communion in this country, and we now learn that there will be a proposal at the general synod in Halifax in the autumn to change it from "The Church of England in Canada" to something else. "The Episcopal Church of Canada", "The Canadian Church" and "The Anglican Church of Canada" are some of the alternative names which have been suggested.

It is no business of ours; as a newspaper, what change of name takes place. If the synod decides that a new name is desirable we shall record the name and use it in future. Nevertheless, we rather hope that the synod will not decide upon a change. The Church of England in Canada is a name which appeals to us, and we would be sorry if it ceased to be.

No doubt some readers will say: "Sentimentality can be carried too far; the Canadian Anglican Church runs its own affairs and it deserves a distinctive name of its own; the old name implies a degree of dependence on English thought and English ways which has no place in our country". There is a measure of reason in this line of argument.

We feel, all the same, that there is an even greater degree of independence in avoiding any brash show of Canadianism for its own sake. Canada is a secure country; nobody who knows anything about it now imagines that we are slavishly dependent on Britain for anything; we do not have to show our independence by following the example of Eire, and finding new names for everything, just to show that we can. And really big nations can acknowledge a debt to another country without losing face.

The tradition of the Church of England in Canada comes from England; the succession of its priests and its ritual, canon law and tradition are derived from historic English sources. Canadian Anglicans have made these things their own, while remaining conscious of the source from which they sprang. A change of name would alter nothing, but it would show a curious eagerness to stand alone in a field in which we are assured that we are all members, one of another.

Operation Illusion

War, no less than politics, makes strange bedfellows. The last man that we should expect to find in company with solemn War Office types is a professional conjuror. Nevertheless, we now know that during the last war the British War office made considerable use of Mr. Jasper Maskelyne, who is on of the most celebrated conjurors and illusionists in the world. Mr. Maskeyne was empowered to create illusions which would hoax the enemy. Perhaps the full details of his work will never be known; it is not the nature of conjurors to reveal their professional secrets.

Mr. Maskelyne is at least the third generation of a famous family of magicians. We do not know whether he is connected with the family of the famous Astronomer Royal of that name who was the deviser of the invaluable Nautical Almanac. Certainly he is a grandson, or perhaps a great-grandson of John Nevil Maskelyne, who was born in 1831, and who astounded the Victorians with a wounderful series of automata and some striking new inventions in sleight-of-hand and stage illusions. This gentleman, in partnership with David Devant, provided entertainment in London at St. George's Hall for several decades; it was reputedly the only theatre in the world which was devoted entirely to magic.

The present Nevil Maskelyne says that magic can be applied to warfare in two ways, (a) by persuading the enemy that he sees forces which are not there, and (b) by persuading him that he does not see forces which are in fact there. Mr. Maskelyne, who does this sort of thing on the stage all the time, apparently also did it before the battle of Britain, and when Hitler and his commanders peered across the English Channel they certainly saw forces which were Maskelyne fakes. Mr. Maskelyne later produced illusions in the Western Desert, and provided large-scale bluffs for use in the invasion of Europe.

Wars are not won by bluff alone. Bluff is an important part of any large-scale operation, however, and no one can precisely calculate its psychological effect, for even though the enemy knows that he is being bluffed part of the time he can never be sure just what is real and what is illusion. Certainly the employment of Mr. Maskelyne to provide bluff on a large scale was a fine imaginative stroke.

We wonder, however, whether a magician who has performed successfully in the theatre of war can ever be content to confine himself to a lesser stage again.

Marooned In The Antarctic

There are at present eleven men marooned at Stonington Island, Marguerite Bay, South-West Graham Land; they are members of the Falkland Islands Dependencies Survey. They are not in want of food or shelter, or such comforts as are possible to Antarctic explorers, but they were unable to get away from their base last March, when the survey vessel John Biscoe could not get through the ice-pack to relieve them; they will have to stay where they are for another eight or nine months.

They have covered 940 miles, in order to map 250 miles of coastline, and they have discovered more than thirty small islands. They have been as far south as 71 35', which is about 305 miles south of the Antarctic Circle. They have done some valuable geological work, and they have discovered several snow-free mountains, melted streams and open lakes in that strange and otherwise frozen land. They are not looking for the South Pole; they are intent only on adding to our knowledge of a land which may be incredibly rich.

They will be at their present base until the ship can break through to them. Meanwhile it is interesting to know that the British Broadcasting Corporation has arranged a series of special programs for them. Each man's family will have a chance to talk to him, and he will be able to hear a few favourite gramophone records, and some of the sounds of home. This is certainly an improvement on Antarctic exploration as it used to be, but we doubt if even the luxury of a private radio program will ever make the pursuit a popular one.

A London Letter from Conrad Frost

FIFTEEN hundred years after the historical event, a crew of fifty "Vikings" is rowing the thousand odd miles from Denmark to invade us again. As oarsmen they are getting rather more publicity than the Oxford and Cambridge boat crews usually do. As invaders, they'll find they'll need ration books, unless they paddle back home within 50 days. It was so different in the time of Hengist and Horsa!

◇ ◇ ◇

ANYWAY, the British look Westwards for their invaders now—and welcome them with open arms. This week seventeen liners and 114 airliners are pulsing across or over the Atlantic bringing a dollar trade worth more than £6,000,000 already this year. The racing at Goodwood, the yachting at Cowes, the golf in Scotland and the Festival at Stratford are the magnets that lure the tourist trade. And the London scars of battle!

◇ ◇ ◇

BACK in the days when it would have been social suicide to head an August dated letter "London," the genteel folk were now drawing down their blinds and pretending they were out-of-town for the season. The clubs were closing for redecoration. The shop-keepers laid off the hired help. Now, in this post war year, Austerity 1949, Oxford Street is busier than the prom at Brighton, Piccadilly is as packed at the Blackpool piers. Even Producer Cochran, who never misses a trick, or a tide in theatrical fortunes, deciles that this is the moment to put on a lavish new show, "Tough At the Top." The fact that the stage director was taken ill a few hours before curtain up, and his place was taken on the first night by a 28 year old girl, Joan Craft, first woman ever to direct a big West End musical, made no odds. C. B. has another two year hit in the bag.

◇ ◇ ◇

MEANWHILE the political "cold war" is in the process of warming up. Every week the inevitable election gets nearer and the doomed Socialists do their utmost to see a silver lining. They have put sweets back on the ration and thereby demonstrated and confessed to an inability to assess public demand. This move, after weeks of dithering, was a trick thrown away by the Tories. Everybody knew, except the Government that the rush for sweets had slackened, that the queues were shorter and the candy bottles filling up again.

◇ ◇ ◇

NOW they are beginning to worry about the energy with which their opponents are raising funds and canvassing voters. They are claiming wildly that the Conservative Party is blackmailing business men into giving subscriptions. "These business people have to pay, otherwise they know their businesses may suffer," cries Labour-M.P. George Wigg in Parliament. Any businessman with his business left, and money still in his pocket after five years of Socialist rule, counts himself lucky.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE blue-bloods of the future—blue roses. The first one grown is in London now, but it will be 1950 before you can order "a dozen blue roses." They'll cost the earth, too! There will only be a dozen blooms . . . How my neighbor, film star Robert Montgomery (he's making a picture at the Riverside Studio right across the lawns from me) got his walk-in pass for the murder trial of the year, the Haigh case. He had his pass on special applications to absorb colour for the picture he's making!

◇ ◇ ◇

CELEBRITY of the Dock strike, still festering in the Port of London, is Lady Tedder, wife of the Chief of the Air Staff. Blue bereted, driving her own van, she has organized a fleet of mobile canteens for the R.A.F. and Army men who are busy handling the cargoes and bursting the Communist dream of chaos. Catering for Cripps, today airbound for a Zurich nursing home, the airway folk put up a luncheon basket containing grated carrot, lettuce, peas and celery. They'll be as strict at the home with Sir Stafford as he' been with the taxpayer. Any patient caught smoking, drinking or eating unauthorized food is asked to leave.

HEROINE of the week is pretty film star Honor Blackman, who stayed put in University College Hospital when 250 other patients were moved, all roads closed, and underground trains stopped for the tricky job of disposing of a 2,500-lb. unexploded bomb just back of the hospital. Honor had had her appendix out. "I'm not risking breaking my stitches by an ambulance journey," she said. The operation—the bomb's not Honor's—was conducted with the aid of X-ray appartus. No explosion.

And one Londoner got into the news—17 year old cadet A. Smith of Highgate—by building a television set for £12. A sixth former at his school, he looks forward to lessons by television in London Schools. It could happen—and soon. More than half the schools in Britain—15,000—are registered listeners to B.B.C. Schools Broadcasts on sound radio.

THE B.B.C. put out 10 hours a week for the Schools, some 2,000 broadcasts a year. Today the B.B.C. slipped me a little secret from their 1950 handbook material, now being prepared. They have stepped up their foreign languages broadcasts to 49.15 hours daily, plus 13.50 hours of extra weekly programmes. They babel in 42 languages, no less.

Meanwhile the Television boys have this week started an interchange of newsreel material with the French Television Service. First Vision offering from France was the home screen's most exciting moment. The Television Camerman went aloft in a balloon—which crashed with him and camera, and went on fire.

◇ ◇ ◇

MAYBE this has something to do with the adverse balance of trade. Mr. Harold Wilson, President of the Board of Trade, has taken to signing his letters in red ink . . . Right on the mark, a London Airway's officer who called at exactly 12.01 p.m., answered cheerfully: "Good afternoon." . . . Odd choice of title goes to the first of a series of unbreakable gramophone records:

CASTING OFF

Letter To The Editor

NO ROYAL ROAD TO LEARNING

Sir,—

The subject of your Friday's leader
Did much to mollify this reader.
I'm pleased to have a layman mention
That learning has a fourth dimension.

Condemn the teachers and their pedagogy
As antique, moribund, and stodgy;
Bemoan the exams—too stiff their marking—
But never hint the kids were larking.

For this, dear sir, alas, 'tis so,
Is adolescent's age, you know.
One must not blight their precious egos
By setting standards, oh dear me no!

Teach to the level of the mediocre
And pass them all, or—here's the joker—
The Board will say the teacher's shirking
Because the pupils were not working.

'Tis smart, you see, to do the minimum,
But that won't learn the binomial theorem,
And Latin roots and French vocabulary
Are not retained by pupils dilatory.

And so, kind sir, your editorial,
So neatly phrased and non-censorial
Has earned my gratitude and praise
For pointing out this fourth sad phrase;

No matter how the teacher works
He canot help the lad who shirks,
And parents who condone the skipping
Have now no cause to be so ripping.

Not length of term or supplication
Will substitute for application.
'Twill bring the passes now they're yearning,
"There is no royal road to learning."

Your heresy, sir, although profound
And bound to shake the very ground
On which the modern school is based,
May make this horrid truth be faced.

For your kind words I now salute you.
Watch out the parents do not shoot you!
I will not say, "Beware the Board,"
But close instead with sweet concord.

MAGISTRA.

"Ten Commandments to Married Bliss." . . . Most unusual advertisement in The Times. Somebody in Communist Moscow advertising for a butler! Further enquiries revealed that the Kremlin isn't going aristocratic. Just the British Embassy a little short on staff. . . . Tail end of the salary list for the hospitals under Nationalization: Porter £260 a year; Cook £226; Kitchen maid, £195; Cleaner £195; Biochemist, £80.

THIS columnist writes from London, because that's worse where he likes to be. Here's life, colour, humour and not a little of the milk of kindliness. The rush hour down into the Tubes, the cockney bus conductor packing 'em in despite regulations on a wet night, the barrow boy with his wealth of banter, the pretty nonentity girls and the glamorous celebrities—these make London life a fascinating tapestry.

But there's another viewpoint. Britain's first air reporter, Harry Harper, given the job by Lord Northcliffe in 1906, thinks London 'so dreary,' he hasn't budged from his home town, Epsom, for a couple of years.

Asked by the B.B.C. to come up for a July 25th programme commemorating the historic Bleriot Channel flight of 40 years ago Hrarper, who 'covered' the event, wouldn't be tempted.

One of those nice big B.B.C. recording vans—B.B.C., that's also the new political catchword, meaning Bring Back Churchill—had to go down to Epsom to get a recording.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering; forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any; even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye. (Col. 3:12,13).

◇ ◇ ◇

Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times; but, Until seventy times seven. Matt. 18:21,22).

◇ ◇ ◇

And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others; two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.

I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other; for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted. (Luke 18:9-14).

An Old Man's Game?

There are a lot of people who still claim that golf is an old man's pastime, even though most of the great players are men under 40 and even though Bobby Jones retired from the game at the ripe old age of 28 after winning the "Grand Slam" of golf in 1930. Actually, of course, it is a game which anyone can play, whether he be 12 or 80.

The above belief is strengthened when one recalls the late P. D. Ross, that great journalist who passed away recently in Ottawa. Always an exceptionaly good athlete, Mr. Ross played golf until he was over 90 years of age. And he was good, too. On his 81st birthday, for instance, he shot a 78 on the difficult Royal Ottawa golf course. And thereby proved that golf is an old man's pastime as well as being, of course, a young man's game.

Breach Of Promise

Washington Post

A movement to end what is called the "obsolete" practice of jilted women bringing breach of promise suits has started in Britain and has received much approval here from club leaders and women lawyers. They feel that these suits are a reflection on their sex.

Women members of Britain's Conservative Party, who are trying to repeal the law that permits such suits, maintain the practice is outdated, reflects on women, and is usually a form of blackmail.

Another setback to the breach of promise business occurred recently in Britain when a 59-year-old divorcee lost her suit against a 74-year-old member of Parliament—and had to pay court costs.

Coaxes Doggie Find It's Bear

ANSONVILLE, Ont., July 27 (CP)—Anything that has four feet and fur is a "doggie" to 15-months-old Donna Powers.

That's why she tried to coax a 175-pound bear to come to her while she was holidaying at the family summer camp in this northern Ontario community, 35 miles northeast of Timmins.

Walking along a trail with her mother and friends, the child suddenly stopped and called: "Doggie, Mamma, doggie." Her mother looked around and saw a bear just 15 feet away amid a clump of poplar trees. Screaming hysterically the group ran to the summer cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Cutten, while little Donna kept calling to the "Doggie."

The bear approached the cabin and scratched at the door. Mrs. Cutten, an amateur photographer, snapped several pictures.

Mustering her courage, Mrs. Powers ran to call her husband, Edward, who was cutting a trail nearby. Powers returned and killed the bear with one shot.

Millbrook News

RICH MARRIAGE GIFT

Bombay, province, India, acquired by Portugal in 1530, was given to Charles II of England as part of the dowry of his bride, Catherine of Braganza.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE? DON'T BE ALARMED!

IS high blood pressure necessarily bad, damaging to the heart? If you have it, does it matter whether your pressure's up a little or a lot? SHOULD your pressure be "age plus 100?" In August Reader's Digest, now on newsstands, there's a wealth of reassuring, little-known facts for the millions who have hypertension. Don't miss this important article!

Also in Reader's Digest

The sexual relationship in marriage. The physical being of love calls for a shared experience, in contrast to mere animal sex satisfaction, says Frederick Harris. This mutuality in the sexual relationship—achieved through utter frankness on the part of both partners—can keep romantic tenderness blooming far beyond middle age.

17-page condensation from "City of the Bees." Fascinating story of a colony of wild bees . . . building of their city; the sinister yet beautiful wedding of their queen; their battles against invaders (even embalming a defeated mouse they couldn't drag away!). A delightful fantasy filled with bee lore, exciting and at times bloodthirsty.

The Aga, the Aly and Rita. IS the Aga Khan's bath water bottled and sold to followers? What DOES he do with the money he gets from being weighed in diamonds? How did he feel (as spiritual leader of 5 million) about his son's antics with Rita Hayworth? Facts and myths about a fabulous trio.

Coaxes Doggie Find It's Bear

ANSONVILLE, Ont., July 27 (CP)—Anything that has four feet and fur is a "doggie" to 15-months-old Donna Powers.

That's why she tried to coax a 175-pound bear to come to her while she was holidaying at the family summer camp in this northern Ontario community, 35 miles northeast of Timmins.

Walking along a trail with her mother and friends, the child suddenly stopped and called: "Doggie, Mamma, doggie." Her mother looked around and saw a bear just 15 feet away amid a clump of poplar trees. Screaming hysterically the group ran to the summer cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Cutten, while little Donna kept calling to the "Doggie."

The bear approached the cabin and scratched at the door. Mrs. Cutten, an amateur photographer, snapped several pictures.

Mustering her courage, Mrs. Powers ran to call her husband, Edward, who was cutting a trail nearby. Powers returned and killed the bear with one shot.

Bisons Take Doubleheader From Orioles

By The Associated Press

Luis Aloma, 26-year-old right-hander, is one of the unsung pitchers in Buffalo Bisons' bid for the International League pennant.

Aloma, obtained from Havana of the Florida International League after he won 19 games and led the league in shutouts last year, has an 8-6 record for the Bisons.

Aloma aided the Bisons in increasing their lead to 3½ games over the pursuing Rochester Red Wings Tuesday night with two nifty relief jobs.

The Bisons, who had won only one of their previous seven starts, took a doubleheader from Baltimore Orioles, 8-5 and 5-4.

Trailing 5-0 going into the sixth inning of the opener, the Bisons staged an eight-run rally that Billy De Mars featured with a three-run homer.

Aloma pitched the last two innings, blanking the Orioles on three hits and fanning three to protect Bob Hooper's 12th victory. Hooper allowed nine hits in five innings including homers by Butch Woyt and Glen McQuillen.

The Bisons also were behind in the second game, 4-2, going into the seventh. Coaker Triplett then homered with two on, his second homer of the night, to give the Bisons the lead. Aloma took over in the bottom half after Luman Harris faltered and blanked the Orioles on one hit the rest of the way to save the decision for Harris.

Gene Markland also homered for Buffalo while McQuillen and Frank Mancuso performed the feat for the Orioles.

Bears Edge Wings

Rochester dropped a 5-4 decision to the last-place Newark Bears on Pat Seerey's two-run, seventh-inning homer. Cloyd Boyer went the route for Rochester and Earl Harrist for the Bears.

Montreal Royals snapped their six-game losing streak, beating Syracuse Chiefs 6-2 behind the eight-hit pitching of Pat McGlothin. McGlothin blanked the Chiefs after the second inning and posted his ninth victory.

Rookie outfielder Bob Wakefield poled his third homer in two days for the Royals.

Toronto and Jersey City were idle.

Canadian Henley Opens

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The league-leading Brampton Excelsiors took a firmer hold atop the Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior A series when they defeated Owen Sound Crescents 14-12 in overtime at Owen Sound Tuesday.

Trailing by three goals with just over three minutes to play, Excelsiors took advantage of a major penalty to Don Ashbee of Owen Sound to tie the count.

At Manchester, England, and New Zealand drew Tuesday in the third match of their five-match test series. The first two matches also were drawn.

New Zealand collected 348 runs for seven wickets in their second innings after England ran its first-innings' total to 440 for nine before declaring. The visitors had 283 in their first innings.

Mrs. Willy Croes Van Rijsel, 31-year-old Netherlands housewife, failed Tuesday in her bid to swim the English Channel after being in the water 14½ hours.

At Philadelphia the Milano Club soccer team scored a pair of quick goals in the closing minutes to defeat a picked combination of Philadelphia National and American League players 4-2. The current kingpins of soccer in Italy thus closed out a North American tour without defeat. A crowd of 3,500 saw the match.

Edmonton Legion won the Alberta-Saskatchewan soccer championship Tuesday by defeating Saskatoon Ahepas 5-3 in the third game of a best of three series.

Legion won the opening contest 3-0 Saturday and the teams played to a 1-1 tie Monday. Edmonton now will meet the British Columbia champions for the right to advance into the finals for the Dominion Football Association title.

The other finalist will be decided when the winner of the current Montreal Stelcos-Hamilton Westinghouse series meets Winnipeg Scottish.

Marines Tie Giants 5-5 In 10 Innings

Philadelphia Colored Giants and Ed Murphy's senior Marine baseball squad battled to a 5-5 draw in 10 innings at Riverside last evening, to the delight of the largest crowd of the month.

It was a fine game, with the visiting negro boys showing great all-round baseball skill, particularly afield. Save for one bobble by Collins, the infield played faultlessly.

Peterborough took an early lead in the second on Stewart's single, Murphy's fielder's choice, Estlick's sacrifice, a walk to Plunkett, Dalton's single to left, Garvey's long fly to centre and Foley's rap to short on which Collins erred—to net four tallies.

Norm Brown, popular new shortstop for the locals from Buffalo, increased Marine's margin to five as he drove a 350 ft. smash over the left field fence just inside the pole high over the 297 ft. marker to open the third.

Recoup in 4th

Giants came back strong in the fourth, however, to whittle down Petes' lead to two by scoring three. Hits by Boatwright and Coefield, Banks' fielder's choice and four successive walks did the trick as Lefty Dadson took over for the home squad and Randolph skied to Murphy.

Plunkett had hurled a masterful game to this point and his temporary loss of control was unfortunate.

Dadson twirled well until the ninth when Giants scored twice to tie on three successive hits, a fielder's choice and an error.

Peterborough failed to score in the bottom half and with no score by either crew in the 10th, Umpire Whatley called the game with darkness falling.

Fielding features were supplied by Chestine of the visitors with a remarkable catch of a possible homer by Dadson in the eight, leaping high in the air after a run back; also a fine catch by Boatwright off Stewart in the third. The latter fielded well for the locals, having one sensational catch back of first off Boatwright, in the eighth. Garvey, Dalton and Brown led the local hitters, while Collins, Jordan and Coefield led for the Giants.

Marines may also play Saturday at Riverside in another exhibition. Watch for announcement later.

Great Cricket Record

Len Hutton, opening batsman for Yorkshire and England, has set a cricket record that will take a lot of beating.

He rattled up 1,294 runs in June—13 more than the previous record for a single month of first-class play, set in August, 1936, by Wally Hammond of Gloucestershire and England.

Hutton's 16 innings, including two not out, netted him an average of 92.42. They included six centuries and a double century and—amazingly enough — three consecutive ducks.

He reached his 1,000 runs for the month on his 33rd birthday, June 23.

Zaduk Beats Dugan In Split Decision

By The Canadian Press

Belting Pete Zaduk of Guelph fought to a 10-round split decision over Jackie Dugan of Toronto in the main event of a professional boxing card at Toronto Tuesday. Zaduk weighed 159 pounds, Dugan 160.

Referee Bobby Laurence and Tony Canzano cast overwhelming ballots for Zaduk. Johnny Palmer, making his debut as an OAC judge, voted for Dugan. It wasn't a good fight as main events go. Had Dugan been keen enough to follow three or four right hands to the chin he landed on the aggressive Pete, things might have been different. But his self-confidence was a gross overlay on his part. Zaduk shook off the drives easily and kept boring in.

Apart from the sixth, seventh and 10th rounds, observers claimed Dugan didn't fight enough to work up a sweat in the 90-degree heat, while Zaduk, essentially a counter-puncher, gave one of the best efforts of his career.

Red Sox Chop Up Chicago As Cards Thump Phils 9-5

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The biggest break the Boston Red Sox got this season was when Maurice (Lefty) McDermott swallowed his pride and consented to return to the minors for more seasoning.

Because of that decision, the Red Sox today own the brighest young pitching star in the American League.

Last April, when manager Joe McCarthy farmed him out to Louisville, the 20-year-old lefthander was so incensed that for a while he was ready to return to his home in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Not long after McDermott set an American Association record by striking out 20 St. Paul players in a single game, lefty was recalled by the Red Sox. That was June 12. Since then he's made six starts and won four of them. His two defeats were by 1-0 and 5-4 scores.

The cocky youngster, now in his fifth professional season although not yet of voting age, pitched another beauty last night as the Red Sox chopped up the Chicago White Sox 11-2. In going the route for the fifth straight time, the lanky fireballer, allowed six hits, walked six and struck out seven. In 52 innings, he's allowed only 31 hits, walked 32 and fanned 38. Eight is the most hits he's given up in a game.

25th Home Run

Vern Stephens was the big gun lashing out a double and his 25th home run to give him five runs batted in for the night and 102 for the year. Boston Dom DiMaggio singled in the eighth to extend his consecutive hitting streak through 21 games.

The victory enabled the third-place Red Sox to move within 7½ games of the pace-setting New York Yankees. The Yankees and runner-up Cleveland Indians were idle.

St. Louis Cardinals increased their National League lead to 1½ games over Brooklyn, the Redbirds walloping the Philadelphia Phils 9-5 after Chicago Cubs had shut out the Dodgers 6-0.

Harry Brecheen pitched a so-so game but was aided by a 16-hit barrage by his mates to earn his eighth victory. Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter each rapped a pair of doubles and a single. Red Schoendienst cracked three singles and a double.

Johnny Schmitz, an old Brooklyn nemesis, blanked the Dodgers with seven hits. It was the Brooks' fourth straight setback.

Shortstop Roy Smalley, with a double, triple and single, and two runs batted in, led the Cubs' attack.

Sam Chapman's single with two out in the 10th inning scored Eddie Joost with the run that gave Philadelphia Athletics a 5-4 victory over St. Louis Browns. Alex Kellner went the route for his 14th victory of the year and his fifth over the Browns.

Wally Moses, veteran Philadelphia outfielder, singled in the fifth for the 2,000th hit of his major league career. He became the third active player to accomplish the feat, and the 86th in baseball history. Luke Appling of the White Sox and Daxie Walker of Pittsburgh are the others still playing to hit 2,000.

Detroit Tigers handed Washington Senators their 11th successive defeat as young Ted Gray spun a five-hit 6-2 victory for the Bengals.

Dino Restelli backed Ernie Bonham's six-hit pitching with a two-run homer to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-1 triumph over the New York Giants. The victory enabled the Bucs to move within a half-game of the fifth-place Giants.

Cincinnati Reds knocked out Johnny Antonelli in the second inning and went on to whip Boston Braves 6-3. Ken Peterson went all the way for his third victory, giving up six hits.

WHERE EPIDEMIC STRUCK — This is the main street of Mattawa, Ont., centre of the area in which 12 children died in a three-week epidemic of dysentery. Health officials are at a loss to determine the sources of the disease but residents blame the use of river water and wells close to cesspools.

POSSIBLE SOURCE—Water from Mattawa and Ottawa rivers and wells may have been the cause of the epidemic of dysentery, in Mattawa, Ont., where 12 children died of the intestinal disease in three weeks. Here Alice Baptiste, 7, hauls drinking water from a well, typical of those in the district, on the banks of the Ottawa. Last Wednesday her tiny brother was buried after succumbing to the disease.

Quebec Amateur Pulls Surprise Golf Victory

By W. R. WHEATLEY

RIVERSIDE GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB, Saint John, N.B., July 27 (CP)—The Canadian Amateur Golf Championship moved into its third round today, an enthusiastic gallery paying homage to defending champion Frank Stranahan but failing to see one of the greatest upsets in the 45-year history of the tournament.

The gallery of 600 followed Stranahan in Tuesday's second round as he staged a glamorous walk to an 8 and 7 win over grey-haired R. L. Davison, of Amherst, N.S., then the fans followed the Toledo, O., strong man to the club house—and thus missed the sepectacle of R. H. (Sparky) Graham of Royal Quebec coming down 18th fairway to plaster a one-up victory over Canada's No. 1 ranking amateur, Walter McElroy, of Vancouver.

The hard-won victories of 27 other Canadians, although expected, were eclipsed by Graham's swift blow. Five Americans, led by a sterling performance of Dick Chapman, of Osterville, Mass., were still left.

Tommy Riddell, of Montreal Beaconsfield, scored a two-up victory over Bill Hamilton, of Toronto Mississauga, the Quebec amateur champion leading all the way.

Squeezes Out Win

Jerry Kesselring, Ontario amateur champion, suddenly found himself in an unexpected "survive or bust" struggle with Hal Brynjolfson of the Saint John Home Club and had all he could do to squeeze out a 2 and 1 victory.

Phil Farley of Toronto Scarboro, a competitor and close finisher in many amateur tournaments, toyed along with young Lorne Smith of Dartmouth, N. S., to win 6 and 5.

The American contingent behind Chapman was bolstered by Buddy Lutz of Reading, Pa., who found himself down a hole on making the turn but overcame a tendency to overshoot greens and won 4 and 3.

John Kraft of Denver won easily over G. B. Fairbrother of Toronto Summit 6 and 5 and Ollie Kay, Stranahan's protege from Toledo, was down to E. H. Colter of Dartmouth, N. S., before pulling out to a 2 and 1 win.

Canada's remaining strength was shown in the strong representation still left in the tournament from the four man teams in the Willingdon Cup competition won last Saturday by Ontario.

The Ontario team was still intact with Farley, Kesselring, George Eluck of Windsor and Don Varey of Brantford. They also had the support of Bruce Castator of Toronto Summit.

Only one player of the Quebec team was missing, Mike Pyke of the Montreal Country Club who was missing, Mike Pyke of the Montreal Country Club who was eliminated in Monday's first round.

Tennis Stars Get New Deal

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP)—The Canadian Junior Tennis Championship being run off this week at the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club in suburban Overbrook, is giving the stars of tomorrow a better deal.

And the competitors are doing a lot of the work in the big tournament that attracted more than 150 enries from seven provinces—all but Newfoundland, Saskatchewan and Prince Edward Island.

They reached the quarter finals of the Junior Men's Singles yesterday and the biggest gallery so far this week crowded around to watch yanky Don Fontana of Toronto defeat James Scriven of Halifax 6-4, 6-8, 6-4.

Another fourth-round men's singles match that attracted attention was a morning contest between Robert Bedard and Peter Constable, both Montrealers. Bedard took the match, 1-6, 7-5, 6-3.

In other singles matches, Raymond Page of Montreal, seeded No. 1, disposed of Michael Armstrong of Toronto, 6-1, 6-1, while the No. 2 man of the tournament, Paul Willey of Vancouver, stopped Ottawa's Ned Rainboth, 6-1, 6-3.

One of the day's hardest matches was a quarter-final in the girls'—under 15—class in which Mariette Laframboise of Montreal defeated Vonnie Davis of Toronto, 3-6, 10-8, 6-4.

Alberta Team Heads Cricket Title Race

EDMONTON, July 27 (CP) — Undefeated in three games here, Alberta's all-star cricket team is leading the race for the Dominion Cricket Championship as the teams move today to Calgary to continue the round-robin tournament.

Point standing is Alberta 12, British Columbia 10, Ontario and Manitoba 0. The Ontario team won the title last year.

A win is worth five, a tie 2½ and a draw 2. A draw is declared when one team is trailing and the time limit runs out. Three more one-day, one-inning games will be played at Calgary by each team.

Alberta took the lead late Tuesday when George Pain, veteran Calgary batsman, batted the ball out of the grounds as the limit was running out and Alberta needed two runs to win. The hit was good for four. The final score was British Columbia 107, all out; Alberta 110, for eight wickets.

Relieved Of Duties

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 27 (CP) — Stamford Township council Monday night stripped Councilman Arthur G. Bridge, 75, of all committee powers after it was alleged that he had overstepped his powers in authorizing a contractor to proceed with a sewer job without a municipal permit. Councilman Bridge was relieved of his duties as chairman of sewers, sidewalks and property.

Dimma, C.L.U., of Peterborough are members of the Leaders' Century Club.

Qualification for club membership requires not only the underwriting of a large volume of protection, but, more important, the writing from year to year of "quality" business, that is, life insurance that is continued in force. Book Closed On Death March

HAMILTON, July 27 (CP) — The Ontario Society of the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Tuesday closed its books on the alleged "death march" of horses in Northern Ontario last spring and termed the incident "an unfortunate experience."

Romeo Tessier, of Sudbury, owner of the horses, was acquitted last month of cruelty charges involving the use of horses in logging operations near Thessalon, 48 miles southeast of Sault Ste. Marie. Evidence showed he had rented the horses to a Quebec concern operating in Ontario.

S.P.C.A. Inspector C. W. Morris, who investigated the incident, said in a staement Tuesday that "there is no doubt from the evidence submitted that horses deteriorated" between January and April in logging operations between Rocky Island Lake and Thessalon. He said this was due to "negligence on the part of the Quebec company of the grossest type."

"Successful prosecution of the malefactors at this time is an utter impossibility," his report stated.

Although 181 horses were used in the logging operations, only 45 were in the alleged "death march," he said. A number of the horses died and several more were disposed of.

AMBITIOUS HOBBYIST—A solid piece of mahogany, three feet long, became this attractively carved covered wagon with horses struggling to pull it, after hours of painstaking work by Mrs. Eva Leat of Markham, Ont. Displayed at the recent National Hobby Exhibition, the entry received the highest award of the show. Mrs. Leat, who has been carving wood only three years, entered six other pieces, all on western themes.

Jones, formerly of the London Daily Telegraph, a foreign office spokesman said Tuesday. Jones succeeds Archibald Johnstone, who renounced British nationality last April and resigned because of disagreement with the periodical's oplicy, which he called "anti-Soviet."

CCF Out To Build Stronger Opposition

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP)—The CCF — its parliamentary ranks slashed by the Liberal landslide in the June 27 election—is building to become the alternative to the Liberals in the next election.

David Lewis, national secretary, said Tuesday the ways and means of accomplishing this aim would be discussed at the party's national executive meeting next weekend.

"We will make every effort to build the CCF into an alternative to the Liberals in the next election," he said in an interview, adding:

"The reason for Liberal victories in the last few elections is that there has been no alternative because the CCF was not coming up fast enough and the Conservatives were on the way down."

The executive meeting which will be held at Woodsworth House during the week-end will map out a three-year plan of stepped up organization and education activity, Mr. Lewis said.

Captain Finch-Noyes will succeed Commander (P) Alexander B. Fraser-Harris, DSC and Bar, RCN, 32, of Halifax, who will shortly begin a naval staff course. Commander Fraser-Harris was named commanding officer of the Naval Air Section at Dartmouth on July 1, 1948, and when the Dartmouth station was transferred from the RCAF to the RCN in December, 1948, and commissioned as HMCS "Shearwater", he was appointed in command with the acting rank of Captain.

CANADA NEEDS HEALTHY RAILWAYS TO SERVE HER PEOPLE

THE OIL INDUSTRY relies on the railways to move

THREE MILLION TONS OF GASOLINE...

And that's only part of the story. The total handling job which these mighty carriers do for the oil industry alone totals well over six million tons a year.

BOTH as producers and consumers, Canadians look to the railways to perform the heavy hauling on which their very lives depend. They must transport, for every Canadian every year, an average of about twelve tons of freight a distance of 400 miles.

And the railways are at it, twenty-four hours a day. That faraway whistle in the quiet night means a heavily-loaded freight is rushing goods to the morning market—moving materials to a waiting factory—carrying food to a distant seaport for shipment overseas. In this land of great distances, our existence depends on railways—railways which are efficient and adequate to our needs.

The Railways are Big Oil BUYERS, too

Fuel oil for locomotives, gasoline for trucks, lubricating oils—they all add up to a healthy sum . . . many, many millions last year. The railways are major users of the products of Canada's farms and forests, factories and mines—in fact their purchases cover over 70,000 items. They are the country's biggest buyers.

This advertisement is one of a series pointing out the railways' key place in Canada's economy. As Canada's largest builders of railway rolling stock and equipment, this company and its employees are directly concerned with the railway industry. Canadian Car & Foundry, operating eight modern plants, turns out thousands of railway cars of every type. The company is fully equipped to supply Canada's railways with the latest type passenger and freight cars to meet the growing needs of our expanding economy.

Modern Hospital For Indians At James Bay

OTTAWA, July 27—(CP)—A modern, 120-bed hospital to serve the Indian population around James Bay will be completed and ready for use next spring.

A Health Department official said the hospital, being built at Moose Factory at a cost of $1,500,000 will be used as the centre of a health program for the whole area.

One part of the building has already been roofed and exterior construction is expected to be finished before the fall freeze-up. During the winter months interior work will go on and the hospital is scheduled to be opened next spring.

The up-to-date institution will have three floors, one of them half below and half above the ground. There will be accommodation for a staff of 25.

It will have its own power plant, laundry and sewage disposal facilities.

See American Plot

GENEVA, July 27 (AP) —Russia charged Tuesday that United States sponsorship of United Nations aid to undeveloped areas is part of an American plot to gain control of the world's colonies. Amasasp Arutiunian, Soviet delegate to the United Nations Economic and Social Council, told the Council sarcastically that the United States is trying to take over "the white man's burden." The Council is discussing an expanded program of technical assistance to under-developed countries.

Divorce Comes With Union To Newfoundland

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 27 (CP)—Divorce was one of the things that came to Newfoundland with confederation.

Although the new province has no divorce law of its own, applicants may petition the Federal government in the same manner as is done in Quebec. Previously, it was impossible to obtain a divorce in Newfoundland.

At least one notice of application already has appeared in St. John's newspapers. The application—like others of its kind—will be considered first by the Canadian Senate and, if approved, referred to the House of Commons. There divorces are granted by acts of Parliament.

All provinces except Quebec and Newfoundland have their own divorce mechanism, varying in different places.

Hotly Debated

The issue was hotly debated in the National convention, leading up to consideration of and eventual union between this island and Canada.

Premier Smallwood said there is no possibility whatever that divorce legislation will be introduced at the current session of the Newfoundland legislature.

At present there were only about 12 divorced couples in this island of some 325,000. They had broken their bonds in other countries before confederation.

Another authority said the factor of religion likely would go far to weaken the cause of any move for local untying of the knot. This city—with nearly one-fifth of the total population—is approximately two-thirds Roman Catholic and likely would frown on any such suggestion, in line with the tenets of the church.

ALC Job-Making Proposals Shelved By City Council, Not Enough Builders Now

"We haven't enough bricklayers and carpenters for the work that is going on here now,' was a comment at the finance committee meeting Monday night at the city hall relating to an Allied Labor Council proposal that the federal government be asked to begin work on the long deferred postal-customs building. "Contractors are reported to be bringing in bricklayers and other builders because they can't get enough men here."

The government work would be in opposition to other jobs now in progress already with a scarcity of help.

A.L.C. has written similar letters to Senator Duffus and G. K. Fraser, M.P., but the finance committee decided not to support this labor proposal because it was inopportune and the conditions in the building trades did not warrant it.

City Clerk Outram was instructed to write the ALC outlining the change in the industrial committee of the council which now includes members from outside the elected group and is virtually a commission.

No Low Cost Houses

Another letter from Allied Labor Council urged the city to launch some of the works projects that have been hanging fire. In that connection they suggested that the city should undertake a building program of 1,000 low cost houses.

"There are no low cost houses today, anywhere," was a comment on that letter which, it was said, seemed to be unaware of the levels of the cost of labor and materials today.

City Clerk Outram submitted to the committee a summary of information received from the unemployment insurance office "as of July 19." On that date, according to the official record, there were as applicants or actual recipients of unemployment insurance 193 men and 193 women, residents of the city.

Statement was analyzed in the detail of age groups as follows:

	Men	Women
18 and under	17	14
19-21 inclusive	13	30
22-30 inclusive	46	75
31-45 inclusive	36	57
46-55 inclusive	17	12
56-65 inclusive	18	4
Over 65	46	1
	193	193

"We have no authority to go into building low cost houses,"-was the comment of Ald. Hugh Waddell, chairman.

Municipal Housing Hazard

City Clerk Outram said the experience of municipalities in such building projects was most discouraging. He said he could name a score of them that by experience in municipal housing had learned of their hazards.

Attitude of the committee was that the city is engaged in construction work that the sewage disposal job will be undertaken as planned, and that generally Peterborough was active in a substantial building program.

Labor Council renewed its quest for a directed trip through the new area south of Lansdowne St. by a delegation of its members accompanied by an official of the fire department.

ALC say they wish to inform themselves about the provisions of fire fighting equipment and other facilities in that area.

Satisfied With Protection

The reply of the finance committee will be to the effect that the Fire Marshall's Department, the insurance underwriters, and home owners were all manifestly satisfied with the city's extension of its fire fighting front.

It was recalled that when that south area came into the city the insurance rates on the former township properties dropped to the city level. Improvements in the department were not only physical but were also financial and social in the various betterments which had been agreed upon by the council and the Peterborough branch of the Fire Fighters' Union.

After One Month 3 Candidates Still Hustling

Exactly one month ago today the hectic election campaign had reached its climax and voters were filing to polling stations to cast ballots according to their choice.

Here in Peterborough West the three-way contest among the candidates was at no time bitter nor were personalities resorted to, but the campaigning was hot just the same. The party standard bearers—Gordon K. Fraser, PC; Aubrey (Dit) Clapper, Liberal, and J. Howard Miles, CCF — stumped the riding vigorously championing their respective party platforms. As the election date approached even greater demands were made on them in order to fulfil a heavy calendar of speaking engagements.

After the gruelling campaign all three, victor and the two vanquished, might be excused if they wanted to get away from it all and spend the next month just fishing, not electioneering; listening to the croaks of solitary frogs rather than the raucous yells of hecklers.

No Vacations

That is perhaps what they would like, but a check made today by the Examiner reveals that all three are hard at it; a vacation is still a "distant field" to all three, and an attractive one at that.

Mr. Fraser, who squeezed to victory over Dit Clapper and was thus returned as the member for Peterborough West for the third consecutitve time, is up to his neck in constituency business and domestic work.

"Taking it easy?" he said, repeating the question incredulously, "Far from it."

Heavy Fraser Mail

"My mail has been heavier since the election than before," he stated. 'In a number of cases they are letters on immigration, passports, veterans' affairs, pensions, war veterans' widows' allowance, as well as other matters."

This correspondence dealing with departmental business takes up anywhere from two to two-and-a-half hours of his time every day.

Tragedy At Wartime Home One of Scalded Babies Dies

Nineteen-month-old Bruce Oakley died last evening at 6.30 in St. Joseph's Hospital from burns just 24 hours after he and his infant cousin had pulled two pots of boiling water down on top of them while playing in the kitchen of their home at 759 New Romaine St. The child was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Oakley.

His older cousin, 21 month old Maureen Oakley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Oakley who live in the same house, is still in hospital. Her condition is reported as "unchanged."

Mrs. Bruce Oakley, mother of young Bruce, had just returned from hospital recovering from an appendicitis operation. The family is concerned about her health because she has been unable to eat anything since the accident.

Percival Oakley, grandfather of the two infants, came here from his home in London when he heard of the accident.

Playing in Kitchen

The infant Bruce was burned from the neck down. Maureen was burned on her neck, her legs, and one arm. They were playing together in the kitchen just before supper Monday night when they apparently became entangled in the cord to a small stove on which potatoes and carrots were boiling. Everything came down on top of them. Their parents were out of the room at the time.

Their fathers, who had just returned from work, rushed them to the hospital. Since then none of the parents have had much sleep.

Both families live in the same neat well-kept home which is one of the wartime houses.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Oakley have another baby daughter, about nine months old.

The funeral service for Bruce will be held at the Comstock Funeral Home Thursday at 2 p.m., Rev. F. W. Craik officiating. Interment will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

MELCHIOR TO COME

Lauritz Melchior, world-famous tenor of the Metropolitan opera and star of many movies will be brought to Peterborough October 21 for a concert by Walter Homburger, successful Toronto impresario, of International Artists.

Scalded Child Of Gooderham Rushed To Civic

Scalded when she backed into a pan of hot water in her Gooderham home Saturday, two-year-old Norma Hayward was brought to the Peterborough Civic Hospital Monday night. Officials described her condtioin as "fair."

The child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hayward, was burned on the back. She was rushed to a doctor in Kinmount 18 miles away, for treatment. Monday she was taken to Bobcaygeon for further treatment, but a doctor there suggested the child be brought to the Civic Hospital in Peterborough.

Two Bailiffs

In order to clear up any misunderstanding about bailiffs, it can be stated that there are two. The bailiff for Peterborough County is Mr. W. J. G. McNabb. He is the Deputy Sheriff and Bailiff of the First Divisional Court, and is appointed by the provincial government. Mr. E. C. Everitt, who is appointed by Judge Sheldon Smoke, is not a court bailiff, but holds his position for the convenience of individuals and finance corporations wishing to make repossessions.

A third man has made application to become a bailiff in the city, but his request has been tabled until further notice.

BRUCE OAKLEY, 19 MONTH'S OLD only son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Oakley, who died as a result of burns suffered when he and his baby cousin, Maureen Oakley, 21 months, accidentally pulled a small stove with two pots of boiling water and vegetables down on top of them, is shown in a photograph taken when he was one year old. Maureen's condition is reported "unchanged" by officials at St. Joseph's Hospital. Pictured at top are the parents of the two children On the left are the mother and father of Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Oakley. On the right, are Mr. and Mrs. Allan Oakley, parents of Maureen.

It's Not The Heat, Oh No It's The Humidity They Say

The superheated populace of Peterborough Tuesday will be just about unanimous that the official high temperature of 85 degrees (F) was just about the hottest 85 in the longest memory of summer peaks of perspiration.

This is not a criticism of James Harrison, popularly regarded as the weather man, and the sensitiveness of his column of mercury at the filtration plant. But, the Examiner's instrument which is not a notions store product stood at 91 degrees (in the shade) at 2 p.m.

The hundreds or people who take a daily look at the Examiner's thermal register would be more inclined to accept its torrid 91 than the official and moderate 85.

However, there is an advantage in the Harrison record. Peterboro must be gradually acquiring a reputation as one of the cooler spots in this district, comparable with Cobourg out on its windy promontory of Lake Ontario. Natives know that it is not a reputation we deserve down here in the basin of Otonabee River with the range of minor hills to the north, west and east, but it is good Chamber of Commerce come-on, authentically backed by the official recordings as they are relayed to the government's metereological department.

A Mere 82

Today's reports? At nine this morning the official temperature was 76, at noon a mere 82. Nobody has yet come out and flatly stated that Peterborough can vie with places in Nevada which have been sweltering in the 100's and 110's.

And what is this humidity everybody talks about? Our dictionary reads "Humidity: The quality of being humid; moistness, dampness." Things and people are moist enough despite spasms of rain, but perhaps fortunately for citizens' peace of mind, there is no gadget in town which is measuring the humidity. Everybody does it by the sweat of his own brow. Lucky the lucky people who are on holidays, away from Main Street!

No Unemployment Wave Local Plants Tightening To Normal Buying Levels

Increased consumer resistance to continued high prices of most commodities, together with prolonged shortages of certain materials, are causing moderate layoffs and reductions of work weeks in a number of industries in Peterborough, Campbellford, and other adjacent industrial centres. The situation is not considered to be alarming, however, and is no more serious hereabouts than the general average obtaining the continent as a whole. Most managers interviewed by The Examiner expressed the view that the present dislocations were purely temporary in nature and would largely disappear by late September or early October.

In at least two instances, Canadian General Electric and Outboard Marine, layoffs or reduction in working hours are due partly at least to plant renovations. In the former case some workmen have been laid off due to a decision to shift certain workmen from one department to another, and in the latter between 300 and 400 workers will go on four days a week until completion of the addition now being constructed to the plant.

Customers Inventory Conscious

Another industry which has put some workers on short time is the local plant of Canadian Raybestos Co. Ltd., manufacturers of break linings. The manager, Robert Abbott, said his customers were much more "inventory conscious" now than formerly and were concentrating to a large extent on clearing out accumulated stocks before placing new orders. This was having an adverse, though temporary effect, on the Peterborough plant.

Mr. Abbott said his company preferred putting some workers on short time to laying any number off completely. He declared that consumers are definitely price conscious at present, there being a tendency for them to hold off until they find exactly the article they wanted at the price they wanted.

Tightened Buying

Ian MacRae, works manager of CGE, declared hat "we are now going through a very serious period of tightening up in consumer buying." He added that there is a noticeable trend among buyers of the company's products to hold off in anticipation of an early lowering of prices.

Mr. MacRae said that some workers had been laid off just prior to the present general vacation shutdown. He foresaw the possibility of a few more layoffs after the vacation period ends unless this consumer attitude changes quickly, but every effort would be made to keep further layoffs to the lowest possible minimum. Mr. MacRae said that readjustments made necessary by shifting of some workers from one department to another might cause a few additional layoffs, but that he was still hoping that all employees of both departments may yet be absorbed in the new set-up.

Unemployment Figures

It was learned from the district office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission that there are now several hundred persons drawing benefits for part-time unemployment, many of them on the payrolls of various local industries, the number being considerably higher than is normally the case. The total number of fully unemployed workers now stands as slightly over 200, as compared to 162 at the same period last year. This increase is not considered ominious.

There are some notable exceptions to this prevailing trend. Managers of several other plants called by The Examiner said that they had laid off no workers and did not contemplate doing so in the forseeable future. These include: Western Clock Company, DeLaval, and Dominion Woollens and Worsteds.

Campbellford Slow-downs

In Campbellford it is understood that approximately 50 employees of the Campbellford Cloth Company have been laid off recently, but that the plant, at present closed for vacations, is still being operated on a two-shift (day and nigh) basis. The Gair pulp mill, which has three shifts daily, was being operated on a four-day per week basis for a time, but is now back on full time. The Breithaupt Leather Company also laid off a few workers before the present vacation period began.

From Toronto comes the report that layoffs are also pending in plants at Kingston and Brantford, with 30 affected in the latter case and 150 in the former. The Brantford workers are employed by Cockshutt Plow Co. and the Kingston men by Aluminum Co. of Canada. M. N. Hay, works manager of the aluminum plant, said: "business conditions were returning to something more like normal, and this is causing business dislocations."

Girl Assaulted, Truck Driver Faces Charges

While walking along No. 7 highway Tuesday evening Gwen Martin, RR 2, Peterborough, was offered a lift by a truck driver. When she refused the man endeavored to force her into the truck and struck her with a stone causing head injuries.

Miss Martin ran to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Roland Scott, and was taken to Civic Hospital for treatment.

When the incident was reported to Peterborough headquarters of the Provincial Police, Constables H. E. Bonisteel and Ray Pope took the police cruiser along the highway. Later in the evening they arrested Joseph Harvey, driver of a truck which was proceeding along the highway.

In city police court today Harvey was charged by Vincent Eastwood, JP, with assaulting Miss Martin and causing bodily harm.

Harvey was remanded without plea with bail set at $2,000.

Miss Martin was stopped while on her way to the Central Smith Creamery where she works.

Trees Cut Down Charlotte St. To Bare Way

Two maple trees on the north side of Charlotte St. between Rubidge and Reid Stareets, were being cut down this morning. The process was from the top, in easy stages.

Permission for their removal was given by the board of works Monday night, leaving the verdict to Ald. Herbert Young and Armar Butcher. It was said that Harry Millard had recently set up a $500 Neon sign in front of his store, and the two trees were standing in its light.

That was one of the board's decisions that brought quick action. Removal of the Charlotte St. trees between Park and Aylmer Sts. is part of an expansion job on the board's list.

Members of the council are convinced that the Charlotte St. curb should be withdrawn to the sidewalk, eliminating the narrow boulevard, and its remnant trees. It will also have the effect of letting more sunshine into that section of the street, as east of Aylmer St., sunny and bright and bare. Members have the notion that the lifting of the boulevard strips will provide sufficient additional width of paved road to increase traffic accommodation.

The proposed widening of the street five feet on each side fell through, thereby closing the main door of broadening the traffic lines, but there still is the boulevard in which members of council have hopes.

STRAW HAT QUASH

A small crowd gathered Tuesday afternoon on George St. to listen to one of the finest tongue-lashings any person would ever want to hear. The lasher was an elderly woman sitting in the back seat of an American car, and the receiver was a small boy, also in the back seat. The boy sat with his eyes downcast, but with just a suggestion of a smile in the corners of his mouth. The reason for the session? Apparently the young fellow had made the unpardonable mistake of sitting square on top of a sweet little white straw hat that will never be the same again. J. B.

Declares Nfld Fishermen Very Close To Slavery

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 27 (CP)—Conditions "not far from slavery" among fishermen were described in the Newfoundland legislature Tuesday by Patrick Canning, Liberal member for Placentia West.

Mr. Canning, a navy veteran and former fisherman, declared that Newfoundlanders in the outposts voted for confederation because "we knew Canada—we were near it."

For 30 years or more the fishermen had been observing the more adequate equipment and clothing of "their bluenose brothers." Besides, "for the first time we know what is going on."

Proceedings at the national convention preceding confederation were broadcast throughout the island and fishermen put their faith in Joseph Smallwood, now premier.

Premier Smallwood announced the government's intention to split the session into two sittings. The house would adjourn early in August to resume sittings in the fall, probably in late September.

This would enable the preparation of legislation and revison of estimates handed down by the commission government, which dissolved at confederation.

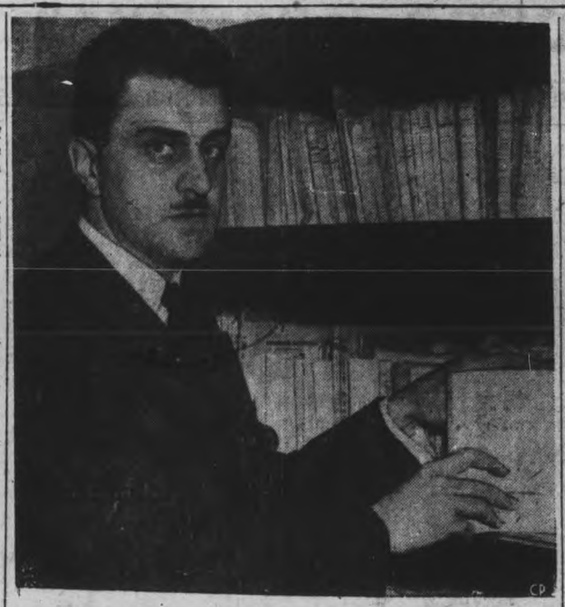
Mr. Canning outlined a dawn-to-dark day in the life of inshore and banker fishermen and said he was happy the government plans measures to assist them.

Drowns In Canal

HOLLEY, N.Y., July 27 (AP)—Herman Durie, 20, of Toronto, was drowned Tuesday while swimming in the barge canal. Sheriff Carl G. Kelindienst said Durie, who had interrupted a motor trip from Syracuse to Toronto for the swim, sank suddenly and his companions were unable to save him.

Winnipeg Lawyer Dies

WINNIPEG July 27 (CP) —Albert E. Bowles, 76, prominent Winnipeg barrister, died in hospital Monday. Born near Brampton, he graduated from Osgoode Hall law school. As a young man he was associated with various lacrosse teams in Ontario.



TAKES FRENCH HONOR—The French Academy has awarded its "Prix Montyos" to a Quebecer, 32-year-old Andre Giroux, for his novel "Au dela des Visages," written last year. The author told a story about life in Quebec City where he is an employee of the provincial government.

Aussies Expect Another 25% Cut In Imports

SYDNEY, Australia, July 27—(CP)—Australia now in the fifth week of the worst coal strike in the country's history, is in such industrial chaos that full implications of the latest dollar crisis are not yet realized.

But with the return this week from the Commonwealth Finance Ministers' talks in London of Defence Minister John Dedman, who represented Prime Minister Joseph Chifley, also Australia's Finance Minister, many feel there will be another 25 per cent cut in dollar imports announced.

Until the government discusses the London proposals with Dedman, Australians will not know just how severe the dollar cuts will be. But some Canberra circles express fears that they will mark a close step towards a post-war depression.

Dollar imports now are cut to the bone. About the only contact most people have with United States goods are gasolene, films and tobacco.

It is certain that Dedman, an austerity-loving Socialist, will have to meet the suggestions of Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, half way.

So far most of Australia's emphasis in helping solve the Sterling area's dollar problem has been on cutting imports rather than earning more dollars.

Chifley has warned that exports to the United States will drop heavily this year and there is no chance of earning enough dollars to meet present needs.

Think Bank Ruling BlowAtNationalization

SYDNEY, Australia, July 27 —(CP)—The ruling of the judicial committee of the Privy Council in London that the Australia government's act to nationalize the banks is invalid, is regarded as a major setback to the Labor government's nationalization plans.

The Canberra correspondent of the Sydney Morning Herald says today the decision strikes at the whole fabric of nationalization because it means that many forms of public ownership and control will be removed from the sphere of federal legislation permissible under the Australian constitution.

Whether the government will try to circumvent the ruling by seeking to control the banks by means of other than compulsory acquisition remains to be seen. But the decision is taken in informed circles to mean that government plans for nationalization insurance, for one, will definitely be dropped.

B.C. Child Gets Medal At Special Parade

GUILDFORD, Surrey, England, July 27 (CP) — Eight-year-old Gillian Hoare of Revelstoke, B.C., is one of the most distinguished little girl in Britain today.

At a drumhead service at Stoughton Barracks, Guildford, she stood trim and erect on the parade ground while Gen. Sir George Giffard, colonel of the Queen's Royal Regiment, pinned the Defence Medal on her dress.

Members of the Queen's Royal —a sister regiment of the Queen's Own Rangers of Toronto—attended the ceremony.

Gillian received the medal in honor of her late father, Charles A. J. Hoare, a member of Britain's home guard who was killed by enemy action at Weybridge, Surrey, in September 1940. Hoare was working as an engineer at Vickers Armstrong's Works when a German bomb, exploding nearby, took his life.

British Papers Charge Strike Poorly Settled

LONDON, July 27 (CP)—Three London morning newspapers say in effect today that "the dock strike is over and the Beaverbrae has left—so what? We are still holding the baby."

The Independent Times, the Conservative Daily Telegraph and Daily Graphic all take the attitude that the strike was for nothing, to settle nohing and has not itself been settled.

The Telegraph says "this emergency is only technically and temporarily over. . .

"Those concerned with the strike, the Dock Labor Board, Trade Unions and Ministers, are discredited; but the strike leaders can claim long, successful and utterly-unpenalized defiance of all these authorities."

The newspaper says the strike ended only when the strike leaders on their own time chose to terminate it—"not because trust replaced mistrust."

"The same troublemakers may easily try the same game again either in this or other industries. What is to stop them? Nothing our present ministers have either said or done."

The Times says "the men have returned to work having neither secured any tangible concession by their stoppage nor given any undertaking to refrain from similar action in the future."

The Times also says it is up to union leaders to re-establish authority over rebellious followers. "The present weakness of their position has been most disquieting."

Housing Talks Soon Under Way

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP) — Housing talks between the Federal and Ontario governments were reliably reported in the formative stage Tuesday as Reconstruction Minister Winters headed back to Ottawa for the biggest siege of housing conferences since the election.

Fresh from a holiday in his native Nova Scotia, Mr. Winters is scheduled to meet the Toronto Board of Control here Thursday morning, Premier Johnson of British Columbia that afternoon and Labor Minister Greenlay of Manitoba Friday. Housing constitutes the major responsibility of his portfolio.

The talks follow election campaign statements by Prime Minister St. Laurent that the government is willing to do its share "vigorously" to solve the home shortage and by Mr. Winters that Ottawa is willing to give financial aid to acceptable provincial proposals.

In a letter sent to all provincial governments this spring and made public during the campaign, Mr. Winters invited provincial proposals.

Charge Dismissed

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP)—Because the Crown didn't prove the accused knew what was inside the cover, County Judge A. G. McDougall Tuesday dismissed a charge of distributing obscene literature against the National News Co. Ltd. The charge involved an nglish magazine called "Sunbathing For Health" which the Crown said included a variety of nude poses.

Hanged For Murder

FREDERICTON, July 27 (CP) —The ruthless hammer slaying of taxi-driver Norman P. Burgoyne here last January had its grim sequel early today when George Hamilton, 23, and his brother Rufus, 22, were hanged for his murder at 1.20 a.m. EDT. Their last hope of reprieve faded yesterday when defence counsel received notification that the Governor-General would not intervene.

Visiting Shoppers in City Buying Discriminatingly

American visitors to Peterborough have been doing less luxury shopping this summer than in recent holiday seasons, city store keepers are saying. Woollen clothing, always a favorite among Americans in Canada, have been the main attraction—they have been bought unsparingly—but U.S. tourists have been keeping a keen eye on their purses when visiting stores to make "luxury" purchases.

There have been a great many American window shoppers at china stores—especially where the popular English china is sold—but actual purchases have been made less readily than in recent years.

Some beautiful English china statues sell in Canada for little more than half the American price for the same article with the result that many visitors make these purchases while on holiday. Even China made in the States is sold in Canada at more or less the same price than on the home market and articles imported from Italy sell at a lower price here.

China Store Haven

Gift shops and china stores are, therefore, a haven to Americans who enjoy collecting high quality china and adornments for the home.

"They have been here in great numbers this summer" a store keeper said this week "but many have been window shopping only."
